COUNCIL MEETING

Adjourned Session of Common Council is Held

MUCH BUSINESS TRANSACTED

Assessments Filed, Petitions and Remonstrances Heard—Reports of Committees Read and Accepted—Resolutions and Ordinances Passed.

An adjourned meeting of the Common council was held last evening, Mayor Surprenant and all members of the council being present except Messrs. Beland and Kaboth.

Petition from Victor Carlson for a liquor license was referred to the police committee.

Petition from V. Boelling to improve Eighth street was referred to the street committee.

Remonstrance from V. Boelling and others against the improvement of Eighth street was placed on file.

The petition of Carl Knoblock to occupy a certain portion of Taylor avenue, referred to the street committee, reported against allowing the petition, and that it be filed. The report was adopted.

The board of assessors filed their assessment on Exchange street.

The committee on streets and public ways reported on bids opened for the improvement of Third street and the alley-way in Upper Astoria, recommending that the contract be awarded to Charles Johnson for Third street and to Birch & Johnson for the alley-way. The committee also reported on the bids opened yesterday, aggregating $8,682.70, which were adopted.

Ordinance authorizing the auditor and police judge to issue warrants for the collection of all assessments due upon streets improved and unpaid was passed.

Ordinance appropriating $4,263.90 for the benefit of Ferguson & Houston for extra work done on the City Hall was defeated, four of the councilmen voting no, as a part of the extra work charged for was not understood by the members.

Resolution to construct a sewer on Sixth street, running along Exchange to Fifth street, was adopted.

Resolution to construct a sewer on Thirty-fifth street from Franklin to Duane was adopted.

Resolution to improve Irving avenue from Thirty-third street to Thirty-fifth street to a width of 25 feet, through the center, was laid over.

Resolution to improve Irving avenue from Eighteenth to Thirtieth streets by clearing the same to a full width and grading the same to a width of 30 feet feet, and that the assessment be made and money collected before the contract is awarded for the improvement, was laid over until the next meeting.

An ordinance providing for the improvement of Eighth street was read the first and second time and laid over on account of a remonstrance having been filed against the improvement.

On motion the vote by which the ordinance to appropriate money to pay Ferguson & Houston for extra work on the new City Hall was lost, was reconsidered and the mayor appointed Stanglund and Hansen to meet with the public property committee and the mayor to examine the items charged in the bill.

There being no further business the council adjourned.

TO REMOVE WOODPILES.

Superintendent of Streets Will Serve Notice on Owners of Obstructions.

Several complaints have been made to Superintendent of Streets James F. Kearney of numerous woodpiles staked upon the business and residence streets, evidently with the intention of having the wood dry out before putting it under cover. So great has the nuisance become that yesterday Mr. Kearney commenced serving notices on the owners of the woodpiles to remove the same within 24 hours.

If he has overlooked any, or those notified refuse to comply with the ordinances, Mr. Kearney will swear out warrants for their arrest. The streets should be cleaned up in time for the regatta and this is the principle object of the crusade.

LABOR DAY BALL.

Monday, September 4, will be Labor day in Oregon and the event will be celebrated by Astoria Labor council by a grand ball at Foad & Stokes hall. This is the third ball given by this organization, all of which have proven a success.

AGGREGATE SALMON CATCH ONE HUNDRED TONS.

Tallant-Grant Company Receives Fish from Gillnetters and Seiners.

The large salmon run which started to come into the river Monday has continued ever since. Yesterday the Tallant-Grant Packing company received 47 tons from their seining grounds at Sand Island and a large amount from gillnetters and up-river seiners, bringing the total receipts for the day to 100 tons. The Taylor seining grounds above Tongue point sent down 14 tons.

All of the launches have been busy carrying salmon from the receiving stations to the various canneries. A number of the gillnetters came in with from one to two tons. Most of the canneries disposed of their supplies by noon yesterday, except the Tallant-Grant company which is still running to the fullest capacity. Fishermen believe the run will last until next Monday when it will begin to fall off.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Number of City's Thoroughfares Will Be Improved.

The committee on streets and public ways met yesterday afternoon at the auditor's office and opened bids for the improvement of several streets, as follows:

Duane street, between Tenth and Twelfth: C. G. Palmberg, $1,196; Birch & Johnson, $1,252; John Slotke, $1,056; W. A. Goodin, $1,118; L. Heggman, $1,200; Dul & Young, $1,160. The surveyor's estimate was $1,300. The contract was awarded to John Slotke.

Columbia avenue: John Slotke, $1,450; W. A. Goodin, $1,300; L. Heggman, $1,500; Wilson Bros., $1,356. The surveyor's estimate was $1,500. The contract was awarded to W. A. Goodin.

Commercial street, between Twentieth and Twenty-third: C. G. Palmberg, $1,780; Birch & Jacobson, $1,698; John Slotke, $1,586; Dill & Young, $1,485.20; W. A. Goodin, $1,525; L. Heggman, $1,850. The surveyor's estimate was $1,998. The contract was awarded to Dill & Young.

Fourteenth street, between Grand and Jerome: E. A. Gerding, $2,150. The surveyor's estimate was $2,179.10. The contract will be awarded to Mr. Gerding. All the contracts provide that the work must be completed by October 1.

OPPOSE IMPROVEMENT.

Seventh and Eighth Street Property Owners File Remonstrances.

Yesterday morning's Astorian contained an article relative to the improvement of Seventh and Eighth streets over to Youngs bay, in which it stated that there was still $1,700 due from the property-owners from the improvement made seven years ago. A number of property-owners petitioned for the improvement of the street, notwithstanding several of the petitioners were plaintiffs in a suit to enjoin the city from collecting the assessments.

Yesterday James Finlayson, V. Boelling and B. L. Ward filed a remonstrance in the auditor's office objecting to the proposed improvement, and notifying the Common council that they would fight the improvement by every means known to the law. The reasons given for objecting to the improvement, that the cost of improving the street to its full width would entail an unnecessary expense on the property-owners; that there were no sewers on the streets; no water or gas mains, and if the improvement is made as contemplated, the street will have to be torn up to put in gas and water mains and construct sewers.

The remonstrators have no objections to having the improvement made as contemplated and advertised by the council two months ago, which provided for a temporary improvement through the center of the street. The indications are that the improvement will be abandoned altogether.

EXIT NOM DE PLUME.

Death of John Doe Will Work Hardship on Future Prey of Police.

The veritable John Doe, who has figured in the police and justice courts for several years, is no more. He has gone to receive his final reward. Hereafter, when a man is arrested and does not want to give his true name, he will have to substitute some other name. County Judge Trenchard yesterday received official notification from Superintendent Calbraith of the state insane asylum that John Doe, committed from Clatsop county in February, 1889, on the complaint of I. N. Foster, had died on August 9.

In 1889, the aforesaid John Doe was found running at large in the Nehalem valley, annoying the settlers. He was religiously inclined and became such a nuisance that he was arrested and examined as to his sanity. He refused to divulge his name and, as usual, he was committed as John Doe.

Young Fellow Arrested at Hammond on Bunco Scheme.

Word was received in Astoria yesterday that a young man had been arrested at Hammond. He is taking orders for enlarged pictures, and a part of the duties of his employment is to secure small photographs and have them enlarged and furnishing a frame, for which his clients are to pay for.

Yesterday he was taking snap shots of several prominent women, and this caused his arrest. It is claimed by those who caused his arrest that he had no authority to take the pictures or enlarge the same, and the scheme is regarded as somewhat of a bunco game.

COME TO STAY.

The special sales which the Foad & Stokes Co. are running quite frequently have become a feature to the shopping public of this city, which has certainly come to stay. When the Astorian's representative looked in upon the special sale which this enterprising firm commenced yesterday he felt as if the regatta had already begun, judging from the crowd of interested buyers who thronged the store, all eager to obtain all they possibly could of the splendid bargains offered by Messrs. Foad & Stokes. If you have not been to this particular sale yet be sure and get there before it is over or you will regret your neglect for a long time to come.
