PAYS A VISIT TO THE FAIR

Mrs. Roosevelt Comes in for Her Share of Attention—Bit of Sentiment Calls for a Short Stop at Lexington—Will Visit Home of Mother—the Itinerary.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 19.—The ovation received by President Roosevelt during his journey through a portion of Virginia was continued today as he traveled through North Carolina, beginning with his arrival at Raleigh where he was greeted by cheering crowds en route, the demonstration in this city being a fitting farewell to the citizens of the old Tarheel state.

The feature of the day was a visit to the fair in progress at Raleigh. Here he delivered an address which dealt with the important questions of railroad ownership and the organization of capital and labor.

The speech was given close attention and frequently interrupted by hearty applause. He was accompanied to the grounds by Mrs. Roosevelt and she too received much attention.

At Durham, where a stop of ten minutes was made, the president devoted his remarks to the students of Trinity college, who gathered in force to meet him. A flat car had been converted into a gaily decorated stand and from this the president spoke.

A bit of sentiment was responsible for a short stop at Lexington, where the president was greeted by several hundred people, to whom he spoke briefly. Lexington is the county seat of Davidson county, the only county in North Carolina that gave Roosevelt a majority in the last presidential election.

Tomorrow the president will pay a visit to Roswell, Ga., the home of his mother. From there he will go to Atlanta, where most of the day will be spent. Mrs. Roosevelt will leave the president when the capital of Georgia is reached and return to Washington.

Will Protect the President.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Should President Roosevelt be bitten by a mosquito while in New Orleans, or anywhere else in the South, he will be subjected to the surgeon's knife. The surgeons will cut out the flesh around the place where the mosquito inserted his stinger.

Rear Admiral Rixey, surgeon general of the navy, will accompany the president on the southern trip. Rixey will co-operate with the federal and local health authorities throughout the journey, to afford every protection to the president.

In hotels the rooms of the president will be carefully screened and fumigated by the health authorities. Rixey and other surgeons will carefully inspect the rooms before the president is allowed to occupy them. The train windows will be carefully screened.

The party will start next Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. For a considerable time today the president was at work with Secretary Loeb in clearing his desk of an accumulation of business.

Allegation Made That Agreement Exists for Keeping up the Price of Lumber on Islands—Cattle and Meat Dealers Will Next Be Called to Account.

Honolulu, Oct. 19.—Acting under the instructions of the United States attorney general, District Attorney Breckens, has instituted the first of a number of suits for the purpose of breaking up the local trusts.

A suit was filed today against several lumber merchants asking that they be restrained from carrying out an alleged agreement for controlling the entire lumber business of the islands.

It is alleged that as a result of the combination, lumber is 175 per cent. higher than on the mainland.

The district attorney also reported that he is about to begin suits against cattle and meat dealers who, it is alleged, combined to control retail prices, agreeing to sell to only a single market in Honolulu.

DAUGHTER IS A PARRICIDE

Dora Jennings Charged With Awful Crime.

BROTHER TELLS STORY

Murder Mystery Cleared up by the Confession of Jasper Jennings.

STORY OF THE BOY BELIEVED

Crime was Committed at Granite Hill in September and Was a Most Revolting One—At First Was Thought to Be a Case of Suicide—Girl in Jail.

Grants Pass, Oct. 19.—One month in a dark cell, coaxing, cajoling and sweating have at last wrung from Jasper Jennings the awful secret that his sister is a parricide.

Dora Jennings is the slayer of N. N. Jennings, the miner, who was found dead in his cabin at Granite Hill, near the California border five weeks ago. Such is the burden of a confession gasped out by this mere lad after his limit of endurance had been reached.

"She hated father," explained the boy to Sheriff Lewis yesterday afternoon. "She couldn't bear him any longer."

"The night of the murder we were all up until 11:30. Then father went to bed and to sleep."

"A little after midnight Dora slipped away. She went out in the dark to a cabin some of us used close by and got a 30-30 rifle."

"Then she came back and put the rifle close to father while he lay there sleeping. She pulled the trigger and next morning he was found dead. Dora said she had been up late and slept soundly and didn't know anything about it."

"Then she hid the rifle in a thick mat of the house and went to sleep. She told a girl friend about it, and that's the way I found out. No, I hadn't a thing to do with it. I'm innocent. She didn't tell me anything about it for two weeks."

The boy's story is believed as far as it goes, but officers believe he was more deeply concerned in the crime himself than he admits, and think he is trying to throw the whole blame on the sister.

His confession, however, will lead to the solution of a mystery that for over a month has puzzled the prosecuting attorney and officers. Sheriff Lewis left today for Jacksonville, where the girl is confined in the Jackson county jail.

The murder of "Old Man" Jennings was a most revolting one. The murdered man was found in his cabin on the morning of September 8, the cabin at Granite Hill being spattered with the blood of the victim. The suicide theory that was at first advanced was soon abandoned in the light of later developments, as every evidence pointed to a brutal murder.

The peculiar feature of the crime which attracted much attention at the time was the statement of the children that they knew nothing of the murder or the struggle between their father and his assailant until they woke in the morning, and it was thought that they must have been drugged, as they slept in the same room.

AMERICAN MINISTER SAVES LIFE OF AN ARMENIAN

prominent Armenian merchant here on August 26th. Alfarian, another Armenian claiming American citizenship, was charged with implication in the plot to assassinate the sultan on July 21, when a bomb was exploded as the sultan was leaving the mosque, killing 40 persons, was sentenced to 15 years imprisonment.

Vartanian and Alfarian were sentenced to death for the crimes charged against them, but owing to intervention of the American minister, the sentence was quashed and a new trial was ordered.

HE BURNED $20,000

Canliffe Feared to Carry Big Bills With Him.

RECOVER EIGHTY THOUSAND

Newspaper Man Finds the Hiding Place of the Money Stolen From the Adams Express Company—Currency Secreted in a Suit Case—Bank to the Good.

Bristol, Conn., Oct. 19.—Nearly $80,000 of the money stolen by G. E. Canliffe from the Adams Express Company, in Pittsburg, was recovered tonight at the home of Joseph W. Boardman, Canliffe's brother-in-law. For just a week the fortune had lain hidden in an old suit case unknown to Boardman, who was holding the valise expecting an owner to call for it any day.

As a result of a statement made by Canliffe in Bridgeport tonight, that he sent $85,000 to his brother-in-law, a representative of the Associated Press called at Boardman's house. Boardman, who is agent for the Electric Express Company of Hartford, stated that he had not received any money, but had received an unmarked suit case. Supposing it had been sent to him as an agent, he had not opened it. He said he would call the police and they could break open the case.

In the presence of officers the case was broken and huge bundles of money tumbled out. No one was more surprised than Boardman.

Boardman says he had not heard from Canliffe for eighteen months and if he had known the fugitive had come this way he would have notified the police.

Destroyed the Money.

Bridgeport, Oct. 19.—Canliffe will be taken to New York tomorrow. After being told that $80,000 had been recovered. He was pressed to tell what had become of the rest of the money. He replied that he had destroyed it for fear that he would be detected. He said the bills were all of large denominations and issued by the Allegheny National bank and he knew that everybody would be looking for them. Canliffe said that rather than carry them around he burned them.

TAFT GOES TO PANAMA.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Secretary Taft will leave Washington October 27 and the next morning will board the cruiser Columbia at Hampton for Panama. It is expected that only officers of the army and navy will accompany him.

NO NOTION OF RESIGNING

McCurdy Will Stay With Mutual Life.

TERM EXPIRES IN JUNE

No Action Taken Regarding the Plunkett Episode Mentioned Yesterday.

ROBERT McCURDY EXAMINED

Testimony Yesterday Was of a Technical Nature and Although Important it Was Uninteresting to Spectators—Adjournment Taken Until Tuesday.

New York, Oct. 19.—President McCurdy of the Mutual Life made the statement today that he had no intention of resigning, that he was elected to serve until June next and nothing would drive him out. He also announced that no action would be taken regarding the Plunkett matter which was yesterday turned over to the district attorney by the insurance investigating committee.

McCurdy closed, with the exception of a few details, his testimony before the committee today.

The testimony today was very much of a technical nature, though of much value to the committee in its work. Following McCurdy, his son, Robert H. was examined regarding some traveling expenses in 1904, which appeared very large.

McCurdy was not able to give any reason for such large expenses, but promised to furnish the details later. After examining W. W. Richards, controller of the Mutual Life, regarding the acquisition of some properties by foreclosure, the committee adjourned until Tuesday.

Talks of Campaign Contributions.

New York, Oct. 19.—McCurdy, during his examination was asked if the Mutual ever contributed to the campaign fund of any candidate for judicial office in New York.

"No, I cannot conceive such a thing to be possible," replied McCurdy. He added that very likely he had been solicited by agents of political parties for campaign contributions, but could not remember whom.

"Were you solicited for campaign contributions in 1896 and by what party?" "My mind is a blank as to that. The talk about campaign contributions is vague and, if I might say so, in the air. I cannot remember if I contributed."

McCurdy said he was not present at any meeting of the people when campaign contributions were discussed.

JEROME DENOUNCES MURPHY

New York, Oct. 19.—W. T. Jerome tonight continued the vigorous independent campaign he is making for re-election to the office of district attorney. At Murray Hill lyceum, Jerome spoke to a large crowd. He denied Tammany Leader Murphy's charge that Jerome sought him in connection with the democratic nomination for district attorney.

He attacked the present democratic nomination and nominees and toward Murphy his language was scathing. He compared Murphy in a disparaging manner with Croker, whom he said was "a real man, a man with jaw, a man that stood up and never lied to a friend." He claimed Croker as his friend, though he fought him for twenty years.

ANDREWS AMONG BORROWERS

Papers and Notes Found That Bank Knew Nothing about—Cashier Fiscal Agent for Two Development Companies and Expected to Raise Money

Pittsburg, Oct. 19.—An investigation into the condition of the Enterprise National bank, closed by the controller of the currency yesterday, shows beyond a doubt that the institution was conducted in a manner entirely unknown to the directors.

Since the investigation began, papers and notes have been brought to their attention which they never saw before. Among these were two notes bearing the name of W. H. Andrews, who today stated positively that he had no papers in the bank. The statement made by the Santa Fe Central & Pennsylvania Development Companies in behalf of which the dead cashier was said to have negotiated loans seem to place all the blame on Clarke, who so far as known, left no statement of the bank's relations with the two companies.

Supplementary statements by the signers of the statement show that they take a position that Clark was fiscal agent of their company and as such, it was his duty to raise money whenever necessary.

Bank President Indicted.

Louisville, Oct. 19.—W. B. Smith, ex-president of the Western National bank of this city was indicted today on ten counts charging embezzlement, making false entries and misappropriating funds of the bank.

The total defalcation charged was almost $200,000. Smith is said to be in Porto Rico. It is alleged, a cablegram was received from him stating that he would return to Louisville October 29.

Smith was formerly prominent in church affairs and taught a class in the Broadway Methodist Sunday school of Paducah.
