Complete Market Reports Corrected Each Day Giving the Wholesale Prices of Commodities, Farm Produce and Vegetables.

PORTLAND, April 5.—Dressed calves have been coming in more freely than the commission merchants think advisable, and these men are finding it hard work to dispose of them.

"We want no calves; in fact, we have calves to sell you," is the answer retailers give wholesalers who are trying to work off the large number of calves that come in.

High price and poor condition governing other fresh meats have enabled dealers to work off their calves so far without a slump in price, but quotations today came down in spite of all that could be done to keep them up, and 7½¢ was considered the top notch.
