FILTHY BAKERIES

Chicago Bakeshops are in Unsanitary Condition.

NO CLEANLINESS OBSERVED

Investigation by Chicago Chief Sanitary Inspector Reveals Startling Condition of Affairs—Facilities Totally Lacking.

CHICAGO, July 3.—Men sleeping beside their ovens and pastry tables, toilet rooms ventilating into basement bakeries, lack of washing facilities and of signs warning the employes about cleanliness—these were some of the things found by Chief Sanitary Inspector Hedrick in an investigation which he has begun into the multitudinous bakeshops of Chicago.

While the work has only begun, the discoveries made by one inspector in two days spent exploring the bakeries on the northwest side promise a thorough shaking up for an industry that has nestled undisturbed in basements and too frequently it is claimed with insanitary and filthy surroundings rivaling those found in the packing houses.

At present the entire staff of the sanitary bureau, with the exception of one inspector is at work among the packing houses. Mr. Hedrick declared that he intended to put them upon the bakery over as soon as they completed their duties of inspection and supervision in the yards.

HEAT TOO MUCH FOR "OUR GEORGE"

PRIVATE SECRETARY WIRES FOR SON TO COME AND HE GOES IN AN AUTOMOBILE—NO CAUSE FOR ALARM—NEED'S SON'S CARE.

PORTLAND, July 3.—Reports that Governor George E. Chamberlain was critically ill, and that an automobile filled with doctors was rushing to his bedside at Salem from Portland, caused consternation among the Governor's friends this afternoon. W. E. Gatens, his secretary, stated over the long distance phone at 1:30 o'clock that there was no foundation for the rumors, and that His Excellency was in no danger.

Early this forenoon a message was received from George Gatens by Dr. Chamberlain, the Governor's son, requesting that he go to Salem and take care of the Executive, who was sick. The morning train had departed, so Dr. Chamberlain chartered an automobile and started at 11 o'clock on the 50-mile run down the Willamette Valley, with the thermometer standing in the 90s. The sudden departure of the doctor and the use of the automobile magnified the excitement until the rumor declared the Governor was dangerously ill. Shortly after the automobile left Mr. Gatens notified the Governor's family that he was better. Speaking over the telephone, Mr. Gatens said:

"Governor Chamberlain is in no danger. For the past two or three days he has not been feeling well, and the extreme heat of yesterday knocked him out. The people where the Governor boards are away from home, and as it was necessary for me to be at the executive office in the absence of the Governor I sent word to Dr. Chamberlain, suggesting that he come to Salem and keep his father company until the latter feels better. The Governor needs no medical assistance, but I do not like to have him left alone, and therefore notified his son."

Secretary Gatens was surprised when informed that Dr. Chamberlain was rushing to Salem in an automobile, and said the circumstances called for no such haste, since there was no occasion for alarm.

OBLIGING OFFICIAL.

B. F. Barnes of Mrs. Minor Morris Fame Known as Kindly Man.

WASHINGTON, July 3 (Special).—Now that Benjamin F. Barnes has been confirmed by the Senate as postmaster of Washington, and the "Mrs. Minor Morris" incident is thus officially closed, it perhaps is not amiss to say something to the credit of this young man, who has been the target for so much condemnation and abuse.

No attempt is made here to explain away the ejection from the White House of Mrs. Morris. That affair is shrouded in a peculiar and impenetrable mystery and no man outside the sacred confines has been able to get at the why and wherefores of it. It is not possible, though, for any one who knows Mr. Barnes to believe that he ordered, deliberately and in cold blood, any outrage on Mrs. Morris or on any other woman. It is much easier to believe that for a moment he lost his head, or that acting on orders from "higher up," force was used where it was repugnant to his personal inclinations.

However, that may be, for half a dozen years or more Mr. Barnes has enjoyed the reputation of being one of the kindest and most obliging officials who had any connection with the White House. He received his White House tutelage from George B. Cortelyou, and had much of Mr. Cortelyou's charming courtesy and engaging frankness. When Mr. Cortelyou left the White House, Mr. popularity, Mr. Loeb, who succeeded Barnes fell heir to much of the former's popularity. Mr. Loeb, who succeeded Mr. Cortelyou as secretary to the President, has not been popular, especially with newspaper men, and visitors to the White House whenever it was possible, have preferred to transact their business with Mr. Barnes.

The steamer Despatch went to sea and San Francisco at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

WORKING FAST.

CHICAGO, June 3.—Gangs of workmen worked at a feverish pace all of last night erecting trolley poles in the downtown streets. Preparations for the installation of the trolley lines in State and Dearborn streets and Wabash avenue practically were completed with the exception of the stringing of the wires.

NEGRO'S DESPERATE ATTEMPT.

NEW ORLEANS, July 3.—"Black Diamond" Rigby, a negro under sentence to be hanged, was killed while making a desperate attempt to escape from a deputy while being taken from here to Plaquemine, La., with his partner in crime, also under death sentence. Rigby shot the deputy and was himself killed by a passenger on the train.

WORKMEN BLAST

INTO NUGGET BED

Single Shot Brings Up $5000 Worth of Gold in Southern Wyoming.

ALFON, Wyo., July 3.—While working on an irrigation ditch near Thane, yesterday, workmen struck a cement bed, which it was found necessary to blast in order to get through. In clearing away the dirt after the explosion, the men picked up nuggets of gold, some being as large as wheat kernels. Hundreds of nuggets were found, and considerable excitement prevails, because of the belief that a rich gold deposit has been found. It is estimated that the one blast brought forth gold to the amount of $5000.

RESTRICT NUMBER OF SALOONS.

CHICAGO, July 3.—The ordinance limiting the number of saloons to one for every 500 persons, became a law without Mayor Dunne's signature at the adjournment of the city council last night. By the terms of the measure no new saloon licenses will be issued after July 31. Licenses which are in force on that date may be renewed or released.

GIVES UP WILSON RIVER ROUTE

GRADE IS FOUND TO BE IMPRACTICABLE AND RAILROAD WILL RUN FURTHER NORTH—BUILD FORTY MILES OF TRACK.

PORTLAND, July 3.—Railroad builders who desire to eliminate grades in reaching the Tillamook country from the Willamette Valley will not select the long-talked-of Wilson river route. After being placed at considerable expense, the Pacific Railway & Navigation Company has abandoned the proposed line along that stream as it has been found to be impracticable, the grade being fully 34 per cent.

Instead, the road from a point 20 miles northwest of Hillsboro, is to strike the divide and cross the summit on easier grades, the greatest against traffic, or coming eastward, being 14 per cent and 24 per cent in the opposite direction. Nearly every road that has been projected to the coast through that district has been planned to follow Wilson River, but the work would be difficult even if the grade were favorable. No survey was made previous to that finished by the P. R. & N., so the actual conditions were not ascertained until recently.

Tracklaying was resumed today on the line, and it is thought that by July 12 about 17 miles northwest from Hillsboro will be in operation. It has been decided after the experience had during the early spring, that as soon as the winter season opens construction work will be discontinued. It is hoped between now and that time to have at least 40 miles of road completed, which will be about half-way to the coast, as the distance the road will travel is 81 miles. One of the chief delays encountered beside that of working during rainy weather, is to secure material. Steel has been arriving with fair regularity, but small stuff such as bolts, spikes and fish plates, have been held up in transit. One order for bolts has been on the way since March and has not been delivered owing to the great rush of work at the mills.

The company has not taken up right of way in some sections, particularly on the coast end of the road, because it was not deemed best to proceed with such operations until the line had been definitely located. Several surveys have been run in places as a means of determining the most desirable route, and not until the final location has been authorized will the land be secured.

FEAR FOR AMERICA.

Apprehension Felt For Safety of Fabre Line Steamer, Long Overdue.

NEW YORK, July 3.—No news of any kind is received from the Fabre line steamer America which sailed from Marseilles, June 3, for New York, carrying 110 passengers and a crew of 40 men. Apprehension for the safety of the steamer was expressed in shipping circles today, but the agents explain that she probably is disabled by broken-down machinery or the loss of her propeller.

The anxiety was increased when it was learned from the hydrographic bureau that a derelict for sometime has been directly in the path the America should have taken from the Azores, from which she sailed on June 11.
