Phonographic Speeches Entertain the Voters in the Rural Districts—Consumption of Food Products in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The eclipse of the political spellbinder of the cart-tail variety is foreshadowed by the adoption by the political parties of the present campaign, of the biograph and phonograph to embue voters with patriotic enthusiasm. This step supplies what, ever of comedy was lacking in the campaign. William R. Hearst first resorted to this device by talking into a phonograph and posing before a biograph machine. This was found by his managers to be such a fetching novelty that the Hughes campaign managers decided to follow suit and for the last week scores of cart-tail speakers of both sides, chosen with a view to the volume of their voices, have been shouting day after day into phonograph cylinders which have been distributed throughout the state for the delectation and education of the rural voters who will cast the deciding ballots up the state. When the first announcement of the adoption of the phonograph speech over the first-hand oration, hot from the lips of the spell-binder, lay in the imminence of the machine from defeat in controversy. However true this observation may be it applies to one side as well as to the other. The next development we may look for is the organization of the Political Cart-Tail Mutual Protective Association, with the Hon. Bourke Cochran as president.

According to the figures compiled by the agricultural department of Cornell University, New York consumes 3,990,000 eggs per day. At the rate of eleven dozen eggs a year for each hen, it would require ten million hens to supply the annual consumption of eggs alone. The herd of 85,000 high-grade cows necessary to supply the 333,680 gallons of milk and 15,060 gallons of cream consumed in New York per day would require a pasture equal in size to the Borough of Brooklyn. The Borough of the Bronx, which comprises forty square miles, would, if farmed, grow only about half of the 10,000,000 bushels of potatoes and onions necessary to supply New York's demand in that line. Central Park would have to be turned into an immense corn field to produce one ear of roasting corn per day for every man woman and child in New York, for a period of twelve weeks.

CURE BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I will gladly give you all the information concerning my case. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment for a diseased scalp, dandruff, and constant falling of hair. Finally I had to cut my hair to save any at all. Just at that time I read about the Cuticura Remedies. Once every week I shampooed my hair with the Cuticura Soap, and I used the Ointment twice a week. In two months' time my hair was long enough to do up in French twist. That is now five years ago, and I have a lovely head of hair. The length is six inches below my waist line, my scalp is in very good condition, and no more dandruff or itching of the scalp. I used other remedies that were recommended to me as good, but with no results. If you wish to publish any of what I have written you, you are welcome to do so. I am, respectfully, Mrs. W. F. Griess, Clay Center, Neb., Oct. 23, 1905."

FROM THE HOUR OF BIRTH Mothers Should Use Cuticura Soap, the World's Favorite

Mothers are assured of the absolute purity and unfailing efficacy of Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, in the preservation and purification of the skin, scalp, hair, and hands of infants and children. For baby eczemas, rashes, itchings and chafings, as well as for annoying irritations and ulcerative weaknesses, and many sanative antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to mothers, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are priceless.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Soap, Ointment, etc., Reservoir, etc. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, etc. per vial of 50), may be had of all druggists, Foster Young and Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. See "Mailed Free," "The Great Cuticura Skin Cure."

each year. Governor's Island, which has about sixty acres of unused land, would serve only to supply cucumbers to the city. This would leave the Borough of Queens, which has a total of 124 square miles, and a probable waste area of 70,400 acres of unimproved land, to furnish the wheat and corn. The statisticians find that nearly three times this amount of land would be necessary to supply the metropolis with breadstuffs. For butter, of which there is an enormous daily consumption in New York, as much land as the total of New York's unimproved areas would be necessary for the pasturing of the cows to fill this need. One impressive fact shown by the figures is that New York could not subsist comfortably for more than forty-eight hours if, by some catastrophe, the city were to be cut off from the rest of the country.

One of the most important pieces of news to the pleasure-loving public of this country is the announcement made this week that a company has been formed and will begin at once the construction of a private automobile course on Long Island for the continuation of the Vanderbilt cup races. The course will be approximately of the same length as the public course used in the three previous Vanderbilt races but will run over private property. It will be a wide, carefully constructed roadway, which throughout the entire year except during the period of the race and the preliminary trials, will be maintained for public use as a toll road. The plans of the company, of which W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., is an active member, provide for the building of a number of inns along the course, which will be run as clubs and will provide shelter and refreshments for holders of tickets. The public mind at present demands that in order for the proposed course to provide the greatest amount of pleasure to the greatest number, club privileges at the inns be sold with the toll tickets.

In spite of the discouraging experiences with its first municipal ferry, which was said to be losing money for a long time at the rate of several hundred dollars a day, the city has purchased another water transportation line during the past week. This time it is the 39th street ferry between the Boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn which has been acquired. Since the building of the bridges between the two ferries of the greater city, the ferry business has steadily declined and the prospect of the early completion of several connecting tunnels has indicated their business would fall off still further in the near future. The company operating the ferry which has just been turned over to the city is known to have been carrying on a losing business for some time, and in fact it is generally reported that it would have gone into the hands of a receiver except for the timely appearance of the city as a complaisant buyer. Three-quarters of million dollars is the price the city pays for the acquisition of what is likely to prove a municipal white elephant. In spite of the failure of municipal ownership in other projects it is pointed as being a complete success in enabling the owners of unprofitable enterprises to unload them upon the taxpayers.

An act of signal bravery, for which no award of the Carnegie medal is expected, was performed last week by a magistrate in the Long Island City Police Court, who, when his own cook was arraigned before him for intoxication and disorderly conduct sent her to prison for ten days to think it over. The cook, who is said to be petite and pretty, became excited after a convivial hour spent on her afternoon off in a neighboring beer garden, and was found by the magistrate standing on his front stoop delivering an impassioned political harangue to a group of admiring street children. When she was arraigned, the magistrate, with an eye to the preservation of his domestic welfare, first suspended sentence. The girl, overjoyed at her good fortune, stowed at a saloon on her way home to celebrate her release. After her trying ordeal in court she became so filled with enthusiasm that she resumed her speech-making, and within an hour was haled before her employer a second time. The patience of the magistrate had been exhausted however, and her commitment to the workhouse ensued.

The potato growers of New York State, whose crops supply nearly all of New York City's annual consumption of potatoes, are threatened with unexpected competition by the potato growers of Aroostook County, Maine. The completion of this spur of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad to tide water at Stockton Springs, Maine, has resulted in the establishment by the Great Northern Paper Company of a water freight line between Stockton Springs and New York, which will furnish to the Aroostook county potato growers direct freight connection with the metropolis. Freight rates will be adjusted to enable the Aroostook potato growers to compete successfully against the potato growers of the Empire State as a result of which there will probably be a fall in the price of tubers.

Public opinion has again been aroused against the quarrymen of the Hudson River section of this state by the recent incorporation at Albany of a company to blast trap rock from the side of Storm King Mountain. The forming of this new company is due to the successful efforts of the Interstate Palisade Park Commission in ousting the quarrymen from Hook Mountain, which has already been irreparably defaced. The quarrymen are evidently determined to continue the vandalism by which the Hudson River scenery has already been greatly injured, but in their last move they will probably be checkmated by the state engineer, whose plans provide for a spur of the system of state roads to follow the river line of the Storm King and Crow's Nest Mountains. These two peaks are outside the jurisdiction of the Palisade Park Commission, and unless the state engine can put a stop to this new blasting project, the public spirited citizens of New York and New Jersey, who have already made possible the Interstate Palisade Park, will have to take further steps and appeal to the Legislature to preserve Storm King and its sister mountain Crow's Nest.

THE PERFECT WAY.

Scores of Astoria Citizens Have Learned It. If you suffer from backache, There is only one way to cure it. The perfect way is to cure the kidneys.

Neglect it, urinary troubles follow. Doan's Kidney Pills are made for kidneys only. Mrs. J. W. Painter, of 310 East Seventh St., Portland, Ore., says: "I have not lost any of my faith in Doan's Kidney Pills since I publicly recommended the remedy in February, 1903. As I stated at that time, a severe spell of sickness early in my life left me with weak kidneys, and as time went on I suffered more and more with spells of backache. The pain through the kidneys was torture and often I could not find a comfortable position to lie in. When able to be up and around I was troubled with headaches and dizziness and could not stoop or lift anything. I doctored and used various treatments, but nothing seemed to help me any until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The use of this remedy was very satisfactory. It gave me so much relief that I cannot hesitate to recommend it, and will put in a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills whenever I find an opportunity." Plenty more proof like this from Astoria people. # WOMAN

"Woman" is the name of a new magazine for women. The first number is just issued. Your newsdealer has it. You can get it from him, and it is worth your while getting it. There is nothing startling about this magazine. There should be nothing startling about a decent magazine for women and the home. But this particular magazine is unique among all the so-called publications for women. You might not like it a little bit, and then, again, it might hit your fancy good and hard.

If you like fiction—good, wide-awake, snappy stories—both serials and short stories—you will like "Woman." In fact, fiction is the big feature of the magazine.

All the other magazines for women are cast on the same model—a little bit of fiction, a few articles, more or less chit chat, some wise advice, a fashion department and a smattering of general miscellany. "WOMAN" doesn't look any more like this conventional model than a yellow dog looks like a race horse. It is built on new lines for a strictly woman's publication. To know what it is like you will have to get a copy of it. It would cost too much to tell you all about it in this advertisement.

The price of "WOMAN" is TEN CENTS A COPY, and the magazine is a very big one—192 pages.

By the way, two rattling good serial stories begin in this first number and it contains a big lot of other good things. You would do well to ask your dealer for it before his supply is exhausted.
