NOT UNDER SUSPICION.

Senator Fulton Not Implicated in Umatilla Reservation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—From Land Office sources it is learned today that the investigations of the Umatilla Indian Reservation were initiated to ascertain the connection of J. H. Raley and other Oregonians with the wholesale entry of large areas in the ceded strip of the reservation.

The senator's name was brought into the case by reason of his having introduced a bill to validate the title of a large number of entries now believed to have been made in the interest of Raley and others.

From this same source it is learned that Senator Fulton was misled, at the time the bill was introduced, and this explains his testimony before the committee.

PANIC ANTICIPATED.

Secretary Shaw Refuses New York Gamblers More Money.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw today reiterated his determination to let the Wall street speculators stew in their own grease, and not again rush federal assistance from the treasury.

Bankers say that unless something is done a million dollar stock pool will have to be unloaded. Drastic liquidation would mean a big fall in prices before normal conditions were restored.

Several times already this fall Shaw has gone to the relief of the stock market with large sums, but it is believed that the insatiable clamor for more funds has at length wearied him, as each occasion of assistance in the past has been but the furnishing of additional sinews for reckless speculation.

TRIED FOR MURDER

Chester E. Gillette Being Tried for Killing Sweetheart.

SUICIDE WILL BE THE DEFENCE

District Attorney Proposes to Have the Whole Story of the Romance Produced in Court to Establish the Crime.

HERKIMER, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Much better progress in selecting a jury to try Chester E. Gillette, the young man accused of the murder of his sweetheart, Grace Brown, was made yesterday than had been generally expected. Nine men, most of them farmers, were chosen.

Gillette, who is only 22 years of age, evinced no sign of anxiety as he sat in court Monday. He sprawled out comfortably in a chair and chewed gum, smiling broadly at times at the answers given by some of the talesmen called to qualify as jurors.

The prisoner has many relatives, some of them wealthy, and of social prominence, but none of them was in court yesterday. Gillette's lawyers were appointed to defend him by the county.

Nothing developed during the session to indicate what the defense would be. The theory in the court room seemed to be that the claim that Grace Brown committed suicide would prove to be the defense.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, parents of Grace, and three sisters of the dead girl are in Herkimer. They did not go near the courthouse, but newspaper men saw them. Mrs. Brown is bitter against the prisoner. She scolds the idea that her daughter committed suicide.

District Attorney Ward proposed to have the whole story of Grace Brown's romance with Gillette recounted from the time of their first meeting. For this many witnesses will be called and they will tell a connected story of the pair's acquaintance.

TEACHERS ON A STRIKE.

White Salmon Teachers Quit and Principal Asked to Resign.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Nov. 13.—White Salmon furnished considerable of a sensation yesterday when it became known that the new schoolhouse which has been opened but two weeks, and which is the pride of the residents there, had to be closed on account of a strike by the teachers. An addition was made to the building this fall, in order to accommodate the increasing number of pupils and the school directors found it necessary to employ three teachers and a principal. The principal was a woman, but married, and the other ladies are not, and this is said to be the cause of the trouble.

The teachers are young and pretty and the townspeople there say they were much sought after by the young men of White Salmon, who were wont to bask in their smiles to such an extent that their superior, in teaching the young idea how to shoot, objected. The young ladies were strangers to White Salmon, coming from various places in the state, and set up a bachelor maids' establishment where they lived together and entertained their friends. This is said to have been considered too unconventional by the principal, who reprimanded one of the young ladies so severely that she resigned her position and the other teachers being in sympathy with her, laid down the rod and made a complete walkout.

This action coming to the ears of the board of directors, a meeting was called and after hearing the facts in the case they decided to make a clean sweep in the matter and requested the resignation of the principal which was promptly forthcoming.

The young ladies have left for their homes, likewise the principal, and there is no school in White Salmon's new, big white school house, which is the pride of the town. The school directors, however, are making an effort to secure new teachers, but as most of them have been engaged for the winter's season, they anticipate they will experience considerable difficulty in getting them.
