Steamer Telegraph Resumes Her Run Tomorrow.

ROANOKE RESTING FOR REPAIR

Czarina Arrives from San Francisco—Alliance Due Down This Morning—Costa Rica Out and Columbia Due In.

nial plunger would make romance se The steamship Roanoke, according to a dispatch received at the office of the Callender Navigation Company yesterday morning, will not be here for some little time to come, as the federal inspectors at San Francisco refuse to let her go to sea until her steam pipes have been thoroughly overhauled. She may be out of commission for two weeks. The Geo. W. Elder will attend to the Roanoke's business in the interim.

Tomorrow at the old hour of 1:30 p. m., the fleet little passenger steamer Telegraph will touch at the Callender pier here from Portland and continue to do so for the season. She is a popular boat here and many will be glad to see her back in service.

The steamer Alliance is due down from Portland this morning on her way to Coos Bay Points. The fire in her hold did not injure her very much the other night in Portland.

The grain carriers, Ville de Mulhouse and the Allerton, both bound for Europe, left out yesterday and should do a pretty sailing match to the old country.

The steamship Costa Rica left the O. R. & N. pier yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock for sea and San Francisco with ninety-four passengers on board.

The British steamship Fulham, lumber laden for the Orient, departed over the Columbia river bar yesterday morning at 8 o'clock.

The steamship Columbia is due to arrive in from San Francisco this morning some time.

The American barkentine Pa'amita left out for San Francisco yesterday morning.

IN THE CITY THEATERS.

At the Star Theater "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," the three act comedy running at present, continues to draw good houses and pleases its patrons. Commencing with Sunday matinee there will be a change of bill, the company presenting the four act New England comedy drama entitled "A Country Girl." Don't confuse this play with the one presented a short time ago at the Star entitled, "Only a Country Girl." They differ in every particular. The story deals with a simple country girl (Mercy Baxter) and an aristocratic young man from the city (Jack Henderson) who falls in love and marries her, but soon becomes tired of his rustic beauty and her uncouth ways. Mercy learns of this and resolves to leave his roof to get an education and become a lady. In after years she returns to the Henderson home under an assumed name. Jack recognizes her and they become reconciled. Manager Gevurtz will present a souvenir photo of Miss Fisher to every one in attendance at the matinee. Don't fail to come; you will be pleased with the play.

Signed Warrants—Mayor Herman Wise yesterday affixed his signature to all warrants drawn at the council meeting Monday night and they are ready for distribution. Among the warrants were the claims of the judges and clerks of the primary election, $3 each, which they can receive by calling at the auditor's office.

CURRENT SOCIAL EVENTS

Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Hilda A. Olin and Mr. M. Walter Matson, on Sunday next, December 2, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon at the home of Andrew Asp, in this city.

The Clover club was handsomely entertained at the home of Mrs. Chas. Burlingame on Tuesday last. A most enjoyable afternoon was spent, after which a dainty luncheon was served by the genial hostess.

Thanksgiving night, next Thursday, will be made memorable in Astoria by the splendid ball to be at Logan's hall, under the auspices of the Owl club. This group of young social representatives of Astoria never leaves anything undone to make their entertainments delightful, and this is to be no exception, unless it be in the manner of improvement over anything they have heretofore attempted. Much pleasure is anticipated by the club and its guests. The patronesses are: The Mesdames A. Dunbar, A. M. Smith, N. Troyer and G. W. Lounsbury.

The coming holiday week is to be brightened by the splendid masque ball to be given by the Red Men of Astoria, at their beautiful hall on Exchange street, on Thanksgiving eve. That it will be among the crowning social events of the season goes without saying. The prospects are for an immense attendance.

On Friday evening last the laity of Grace Episcopal church met with the rector, Rev. W. Seymour Short, and discussed the mode and manner of the church reception to be given the Right Rev. Charles Scadding, Bishop of Oregon, who will visit the parish on the 16th and 17th of next month.

Miss May Utzinger was the hostess of the D. M. C. D. club on Tuesday evening last, and this is guaranty for the success and pleasure of the hour.

The Friday afternoon Sewing club met with Mrs. Paul Badolett last week and an enjoyable time was had by all present. Refreshments were served and the session was both profitable and pleasant.

Among the happy affairs of the week just closed was the pretty home wedding of Miss Stella May Stephenson and Dr. W. Arthur Fishburn, which transpired at the home of the bride's parents, No. 102 Bond street. Rev. W. S. Gilbert was celebrant. The bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth Wolfe, of Portland, and Dr. A. T. Erwin, of Vancouver, did the honors for his friend, the groom. The decorations were profuse and very dainty and consisted of rose geraniums, ferns and autumn leaves. Twenty-eight guests were delighted witnesses to the gracious event and partakers in the wedding repast served at the conclusion of the ceremony. Dr. and Mrs. Fishburn left on the evening train for the Sound country on their honeymoon trip, and at its end will set up their new home at the metropolis.

The Ladies' Guild of Grace church are about to launch their annual sale of fancy articles and utilities, and will hold a fair for the purpose, in the Reed building, beginning on Thursday, December 6.

The social record of the week was brightened by the happy nuptials of Miss Irena C. Johnson and Mr. Archibald McLean on Wednesday afternoon, at the Franklin avenue home of the bride. Rev. W. Seymour Short, of Grace church, officiated. Robert McLean, a brother of the groom, acted as best man and the bride was attended by her sister, Miss A. Johnson. A delightful repast was served at the adjoining home of Captain and Mrs. W. H. Hobson, and the event is scheduled as one of the happiest of the season of Autumn weddings.

Tomorrow evening the hospitable doors of the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Kuetner, on Exchange street, will be thrown open to the membership of the Every Fortnight club, an assurance of delightful entertainment, that will not be overlooked by a single member who can possibly attend.

The Thursday Afternoon club gathered at the home of Miss Margaret Higgins last week and thoroughly enjoyed its session under her graceful oversight and hospitable interest.

Tim Corcoran and John McKeever returned to Jewell yesterday morning.

Chas. L. Houston has returned from an extensive visit in the east and south, and while away, visited Mexico.

Will Build Tunnel—L. M. Huggins of Deep River was in the city yesterday and states that the Pacific Logging Company of Deep River have awarded a contract to drive a four-hundred foot tunnel through Salmon Creek and Deep River divide. This is done in order to reduce the grade of the company's railroad and to prevent numerous slides which have occurred this winter, materially interfering with the logging operations. It is expected to have the tunnel completed by the first of February.

APPEARANCES

Often a person is sized up by his appearance; by the tone that surrounds him. And more often a business house is sized up by the stationary it uses. A cheap letter head or a poor bill head gives a mighty poor first impression and makes business harder to transact. Good printing costs no more than poor printing. The first impression is half the battle in business. You wouldn't employ a "sloppy" salesman; why put up with "sloppy" stationery, that gives a wrong impression of the importance of your business. Let us do your printing and help you to make that ten strike.
