

SCHMITZ FOR FOURTH TERM

Has Already Commenced Preliminary Work of the Campaign.

JUDGMENT ON MONDAY NEXT

Mayor Says He is Confident of Winning At Polls—Will Commence Mandamus Proceedings if Sentence is Not Passed Monday.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Mayor Schmitz, who is awaiting sentence under conviction of extortion, in an interview this evening, authorized the Associated Press to say he will be a candidate for re-election for a fourth term and he has already begun preliminary work in his campaign. He declared that he is confident of winning at the polls and nothing will prevent him from running except denial by the appellate courts of the appeals he is preparing to take for a new trial of the charge of which he now stands convicted in the superior court.

Another announcement made by the Mayor is that he will bring mandamus proceedings against Judge Dunne if his sentence is not forthcoming next Monday as promised. Until judgment is passed the Mayor cannot carry on his appeal to the higher courts and until he has appealed, he has little hope of gaining admittance to bail.

Schmitz says it is becoming plainer and plainer to the people that he is an object of political instead of moral prosecution. He declares he was convicted by a jury, ten of whom were pledged to convict and the other two of whom were cajoled into voting him guilty. He reiterates that he is innocent, and says he asks neither quarter nor mercy, only justice.

The Mayor asserts that the coming campaign will be fought out on past performances. Spreckels, he says won't win, "Glad handing" won't win. Chi-caneery won't carry the polls. Schmitz says Spreckels and Phelan have at least $20,000,000 worth of property to re-store. If they can depress the wage scale 10 per cent they will save $2,000,000; if they can depress it 33 1/2 per cent they will save $7,000,000. Isn't this worth fighting for?" asks the Mayor.

This, he says is in part their purpose in trying to discredit and oust the labor union administration and place themselves completely in control.

"Nobody knows better," the Mayor went on, "than the working people of San Francisco, that Rudolph Spreckels never did anything for the city of his birth except as a means of doing something for himself."

The Mayor reviewed the prosperity of his Mayoralty prior to the fire and addressing himself to the laboring people, asks "Do you want prosperity to continue or do you want to change back to the conditions that prevailed before you elected a labor union Mayor?"

The Mayor says he is confident of their answer. He says he won't have any fight to be elected at all, but predicts a thorny path for District Attorney Langdon, who Schmitz says is making the campaign of his life to be re-elected.

The company agrees to pave all streets through which it passes.

MARK TWAIN DOING LONDON.

LONDON, July 2.—Mark Twain will endeavor today to prove that the Saturday Review's recent designation of him as American Ambassador to Great Britain is founded on truth, for after luncheon at the house of Commons he will accompany Meniker Meaton, M. P., "The father of Imperial Penny postage," to the postmaster general to urge the establishment of penny postage between the United States and Great Britain. He said yesterday: "I am convinced that the present postal arrangements are absurd. If the post office is in the robbery business let it be on a decent scale."

Twain was photographed yesterday in the cap and gown of Oxford doctor of letters.

RUN OVER BY TRAIN

Chicago Baby Has a Novel Experience.

ESCAPES WITHOUT A SCRATCH

Engineer Saw It Lying Between Tracks and Thought It Was a Newspaper—When Train Was Stopped Baby Was Under Tender.

CHICAGO, July 2.—Somewhere in Winnetaka, a Northport suburb there is a baby which has the proud distinction of having been run over by a railroad train and emerging from under the wheels without a scratch.

Just after leaving the station yesterday, Engineer Duncan of a North Chicago & Northwestern express train, saw a white object lying between the rails in front of the train. At the first glance he spied it to be a newspaper and paid little attention to it. The next instant he threw on his airbrakes with a jolt that sent everyone on the train sprawling.

"Good heavens," he shouted, turning a white face to his fireman, "It's a baby."

By the time the train has come grinding to a stop, the baby lay under the tender of the engine.

Duncan and his fireman jumped to the ground and with a scared group of passengers rapidly gathering around drew the baby's body tenderly from the big engine. The baby which had been lying on its face, opened its eyes, stared at its rescuer for a moment and then burst into a hearty wail. The child was absolutely unharmed.

RAILROAD FIGHT.

Two Dollars An Hour For Fighting Men On Alaska Railroad.

SEATTLE, July 2.—A special to the Post Intelligencer from Valdez tells of preparations for an armed conflict between the forces of the Copper River & Northwestern Railway and the Alaska Pacific Railway & Terminal Company at Katalla. The Copper River road, which is known throughout Alaska as Guggenheim property, is aiming to tap the Copper River district, and is attempting to cross the right-of-way of the Alaska Pacific Company known as the Bruner line, which is aiming in the same direction.

The Bruner people have applied to Governor Hoggatt for the protection of United States troops alleging that the Guggenheim forces contemplate an armed attack on them. The authorities at Valdez admit the situation is serious. The launch pioneer which arrived at Valdez today from Katalla brings word that the Bruner road has erected a "Go devil" at the crossing which the Guggenheims are trying to take. The machine by means of a donkey engine, swings continually across the tracks making it impossible for the men to come within a radius of 50 feet of the Bruner line. The launch also brings a report that block houses of thick timber have been erected along the right-of-way by the Bruner people and the Guggenheim operators are paying $2 an hour to fighting men with a bonus of $100 to the first man who crosses the Bruner right-of-way. The Bruner road has had trouble since its start a few months ago, there being constant friction with the Guggenheim road. Several times the Guggenheim right-of-way has been dynamited when the Bruner engineers claimed they were crossing the Bruner right-of-way. An injunction recently asked for by the Bruner road against the Guggenheim road was denied.

GIANT POWDER EXPLODES.

Two Carloads Create Premature Fourth of July.

SALT LAKE, July 2.—Two carloads of giant powder standing on a side track of the Oregon Short Line at Beck's Hot Springs, five miles from here, exploded today jarring the heavy buildings in this city and causing considerable excitement for a time. No one was killed but two men were injured. The local passenger train on the Oregon Short Line was due about the time of the explosion and owes its escape from destruction to the presence of mind of the engineer who saw a burning car ahead. The engineer reversed his train and drove it backwards at full speed. He had gone a quarter of a mile when the explosion occurred and broke every window in the train and threw the passengers out of their seats. Telephone and telegraph communication to the north and west was cut off, as every pole in the neighborhood went down. The window panes in every house for two miles in every direction were smashed.

THE LAST DRINK.

PENDLETON, Or., July 2.—Will Kolb, about 35 years of age and an old inhabitant of this city, was found in a dying condition on the street here yesterday. He was taken to the home of his mother, where he died a few moments later. Before his death he made the statement that he was dying as the result of the effects of some whisky he had taken the evening before. Dr. C. J. Smith, who attended Kolb, pronounced it a case of delirium tremens caused by whisky and morphine. The mother believes that her son was poisoned.

JAPANESE OPINION

Ambassador Aoki Pronounces Judgment.

INCREASE OF FORCE HARMLESS

Japan's Representative to the United States Does Not Consider Increase of Pacific and Asiatic Naval Forces Inimical to International Good Feeling

WASHINGTON, July 2.—"No, Japan would not regard it as an unfriendly act if the American government saw fit to increase her naval representation in her territory upon the Pacific Coast or even if she sent additional men of war to the Asiatic station. She would not look upon it as a menace or regard it with regret."

These were the words of Japanese Ambassador Aoki whose attention was called today to the published reports that the General Board of the Navy had recommended to the President that American battle ships be sent to the Pacific Coast.

A DAY'S PRISON.

Helena Man Serves 24 Hours For Fencing Public Lands.

HELENA, July 2.—Joseph T. Carroll, manager of the Large Lumber Company, and one of the most prominent men in Montana tonight completed a term of 24 hours in the Lewis and Clark county jail. Carroll was convicted last spring for illegally fencing 2040 acres of public lands near Woodville. He says he could have avoided all but the most trifling prosecution had he chosen to step down and out instead of fighting.

ORCHARD'S STORY BEING DENIED

Three of Men Implicated in Mischief on the Witness Stand.

ORCHARD WILL BE RECALLED

Witness Swore Orchard Was Man That Suggested Inhuman Plot of Dynamiting Boarding House Full of Non-union Miners.

BOISE, July 2.—Max Malich, Joe Mehelich and Billy Aikman, three of the men variously implicated in alleged mischief at Globeville, Denver and Cripple Creek on the word of Harry Orchard, went on the stand today as witnesses for Haywood and denied Orchard's story. Mehelich swore Orchard and not he suggested the inhuman plot of dynamiting the boarding house full of non-union smeltersmen at Globeville and that Orchard originated the idea of killing William McDonald, one of Mehelich's business rivals. He said he had been burned by some mysterious acid, thrown into his house by an unknown hand, but denied this acid was really Pettibone dope that had been left in his room by Steve Adams. He also denied that Pettibone dope had been used in burning his store and testified he was at his ranch when the fire occurred. He also swore that Orchard told him but for Steunenberg he would be rich and he intended to kill Steunenberg. Mehelich on cross-examination also made positive and circumstantial denials to all things Orchard swore they did with him. Cross-examination of all three witnesses showed purpose on part of the state to further deal with testimony when case in rebuttal is reached. When re-called Orchard will be asked to give his version of the alleged use of Pettibone dope in burning Mehelich's store at Globeville.

Another unusual feature was contributed to this unusual case, by the appearance as witness for defense of W. H. McParland, brother of Detective McParland. This McParland is a shoemaker at Manitou, and he came to tell that while he was following his peaceful craft at Victor during the strike he was unceremoniously taken from his home by the militia, thrust into the "Bull Pen" and then deported. Eugene Englee, former attorney-general of Colorado, swore that Orchard told him of the loss of rich shares of the Hercules mine and of his intention to kill Steunenberg. Englee told at great length how the military authorities at Cripple Creek defied processes of civil court, how he himself was deported from Telluride where he went as counsel for the Federation and how he was later deported from Cripple Creek on the day the mob destroyed a union store at Goldfield. His entry into extended descriptions and minute details brought repeated objections from the prosecution and finally the Judge intervened and limited him to material facts to save time of court and jury.

The defense also produced Thomas C. Foster, now a bartender at Bisbee, Ariz., and who as a union miner, was tried and acquitted at Cripple Creek on the charge that he had attempted to wreck a train on Florence and Cripple Creek Railroad. Foster told of his experience in the "Bull Pen" and the attempt of Detectives Scott and Sterling to force a confession from him which was followed by 17 days of solitary confinement and his final flight from the district when he walked for 30 miles and fasted for 30 hours.

BUILDING COLLAPSES.

Fifty Men Have a Narrow Escape From Death From Falling Walls.

CINCINNATI, July 2.—Fifty men had a remarkable escape from death in the collapsing of the four-story building of Levi & White on Main street this afternoon. Ten persons were slightly injured. The accident was caused by the weakening of the foundation by an excavation being made for a ten-story building. The outer wall fell over onto nearly 40 workmen who were sitting around the excavation eating lunch. In the wrecked building were a dozen men, some of whom shot through the windows into the street. Not for two hours was it positively known that nobody was killed.

PAY IMMENSE DIVIDENDS.

New York Banks Will Pay Out Over $125,000,000.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The New York banks have begun the disbursement of July dividends and interest amounting to more than $125,000,000. This will be the largest sum that has ever been paid out this month in the city of New York. In preparation for these heavy payments the banks have been calling loans and shifting accounts to such an extent that the rates for call loans yesterday advanced to 15 per cent. This is the highest rate in months. The government today will begin to redeem 4 per cent bonds of 1907 of which about $36,000,000 are outstanding. It is said that between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 will be paid out in New York alone. Bankers say that the length of time to make the July payment will probably last ten days. It will be that time before the money paid out begins to return to the banks.

EVERYTHING QUIET.

PHOENIX, July 2.—It was reported that the government troops and the militia were in readiness to move on McDowell reservation if necessary, but the sheriff and his party returning about the same time, said everything was quiet. No later news was received. Captain Grinstead, the Indian school disciplinarian and a negro employee of the school are in charge temporarily. It is not believed further trouble will ensue. The better class of Indians defend Gill's conduct. The only fear is that some of the hot-headed natives may take advantage of the feverish condition to stir up the old tribal animosity against the whites.

The reservation is a small one and only a few score of Indians are there. Few whites are located nearer than Granite Reef, where the government has several hundred men employed. This town is ten miles away.

SLAYER ACQUITTED.

The Woman in Case Modifies Testimony and Prosecution Gives Up.

SEATTLE, July 2.—Albert Lipinski, who shot and killed E. G. Crueger, a wealthy mining man in a hotel on June 28, was today acquitted on the preliminary hearing. The prosecution abandoned the case because of lack of evidence to convict. Hazel Wells, the woman in the case, on whose testimony the prosecution relied to convict, has modified her story to the advantage of the defendant. Lipinski pleaded self-defense.

Troup, his attorney, is carried out. January 29, last, they agreed with Prosecutor David to have the oil king appear here as soon as wanted but prayed such course might be spared the old gentleman. As a guarantee of their good faith, as well as Rockefeller's, they executed a bond signed by Rockefeller, guaranteeing John D. Rockefeller would appear in court here from day to day until discharged.
