TERSE TALES OF THE TOWN

"A Deep Cerulian Blue"

Yesterday was an absolutely blank and blue day at Astoria's handsome city hall. There was practically nothing, doing there, except such routine business as arises day by day in municipal matters; the quietude of the day being chargeable to the rigidity of the prevalent Sunday law and the current stringency of the currency hereabout.

District Conference

The Portland District of the Columbia conference will hold meetings at the First Lutheran Church on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, November 12 and 13. Tuesday evening the meeting will be held in Swedish at 7:30. On Wednesday evening, at 7:30, the meeting will be conducted in the English and the public is cordially invited. There will be five visiting pastors here, and a good attendance is expected at these meetings.

Commends System

Miss H. J. Johnson, representing the Chapman Advertising Co., of Portland, through whom the Chamber of Commerce places its classified advertising, was in the city yesterday investigating the general advertising results in the interest of her company, and expressed herself as being very highly pleased, and strongly commended the excellent system which Mr. Whyte has inaugurated in handling his advertising.

Manager Whyte Will Speak

Manager Whyte of the Chamber of Commerce has accepted an invitation to address a gathering of the members of the Portland Commercial Club at Portland this evening, his subject being "How Astoria is Advertised." Astoria's particular part in the general publicity plan being set forth in Mr. Whyte's remarks. Mayor Wis, J. E. Gratke, and a number of other prominent citizens will accompany Mr. Whyte on this occasion.

Terse Tale

At a meeting of the gentlemen interested in the new Scandinavian-American Savings Bank of this city, the following board of directors was elected and each qualified: Gust Holmes, Andrew Young, John Mattson, J. M. Anderson, C. G. Palmberg, Erik Manula, August Danielson, of Astoria; Dr. Henry Coe, of Portland; C. F. Hendricksen, president of the Scandinavian-American Savings Bank of Portland. The officers of the bank were not elected last evening but probably will be today.

ASTORIA AT THE BIG FORE-WEEK RECORD OF DEATH

INAUGURAL EXHIBIT OF HUNT CLUB A SUCCESS—SOME OF ASTORIA'S BLUE-RIBBON WINNERS.

It is conceded by all who indulged in the spectacle that the first annual horse show of the Portland Hunt Club, last week, was the entertainment, par excellence, of the year 1907, in these latitudes.

The affair was splendidly handled, it was handsomely patronized by the cleverest people of three states, and was successful in every conceivable way. There was plenty to see and appreciation was unstinted. It was an inaugural show that has made all subsequent annuals of the sort preconceived triumphs.

Horse flesh and horse brains were at a premium there from start to finish and Astoria had up some distinctive features in the blue-ribbon class. In the light harness horse class Samuel Elmore, of this city, exhibited a winner in his brown mare Crystal, who took the blue ribbon from a bunch of 23 beauties all recorded as trotters over four years old and displayed at work with four-wheeled vehicles.

Crystal, with her carriage mate, Carma, took another cerulian string on Saturday evening, as the winners in a class of 10 teams, for trotting horses, four years old and over, shown to the proper vehicle, and on the preceding afternoon, she captured the third honor as a winning type of animal for cavalry purposes.

Mr. Elmore drove his beautiful team in the events and was assisted by his daughter, Miss Floretta Elmore, in the pleasant task of taking prizes away from magnificent competitors-in-harness.

Another Astoria exhibit was the fine hunter owned by R. H. Jenkins, the popular general passenger agent of the A. & C. Railway in this city. Mr. Jenkins did not take any of the prizes to which his animal was entitled by style and performance, but he rode to the gratification of the experts, took the hurdles without a flaw, and only missed the blue-ribbon by the finest possible hair of differentiation.

Trouble Over Refreshments

Nicholas Kazeppi, the well-known restaurateur, on Twelfth street between Bond and Commercial, was arrested on Sunday afternoon last for selling liquid refreshment of the malt sort in his cafe. The complaining witness is Chief Deputy Sheriff C. Knudson, to whom the beer was sold. Kazeppi was very much disinclined to accept the process of law and one or two of his friends took sides with him, whereupon, Mr. Knudson invoked the persuasive influence of his gun, and enlisted the aid of Sheriff Pomeroy in carrying out his program. The restaurant man was then taken to the court house and was later released on $50 bail. At the suggestion of Assistant District Attorney John McCue, the bail was reduced to $10, as the fine in the case ranges from $10 to $25. Justice Goodman will try out the matter, "after the holidays."

Off For Washington

Hon. Charles W. Fulton, United States Senator from Oregon, of this city, left for the national capital on Sunday evening's Portland express, and after transacting some business affairs at Portland, where he will be joined by Mrs. Fulton this morning and by his secretary, Mr. Halderman, will depart for the East on tomorrow's train.

A. & C. R. R. as Plaintiff

The circuit court for Tillamook county convened yesterday and on the docket are 83 cases, five of which are for divorce and 13 in which the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad is plaintiff against various people as defendants. These are condemnation suits and some of them have been settled out of court.

To All Brother Redmen

We, Neacarne Tribe No. 12, I. O. R. M., do hereby respectfully invite all Redmen in this Reservation to attend a grand initiation to be given on the evening of November 14, 1907, at Hammond, Oregon. J. Lechman, Sachem; George Bryant, C. of R. 11-12-2t.

Traversing Old Ground

The steamship City of Panama which docked here yesterday morning from San Francisco, landed an old Astoria citizen, Louis Schultz, who was in business here for a number of years. Mr. Schultz hails from Elko, Nevada, and returns for a brief visit with friends here. He reports that Mr. and Mrs. Auletti (the latter being his daughter), formerly of Astoria, are dwelling in that famous old mining camp of the Sage-brush State.

QUARTETTE OF ASTORIANS PASS THE INVISIBLE LINE IN A FEW SHORT HOURS—UNUSUAL LIST.

On Sunday afternoon last the dual funeral of the late Carl Sigfridson and his little son George, who were drowned in the Columbia River last Thursday, was held from the undertaking parlors of W. C. A. Pohl, and the service was listened to by a host of sympathizing friends of the family.

Word reached this city on Sunday last of the death, at Hammond, of Mrs. Mary E. Mattson, who succumbed to a long siege of stomach trouble which eventuated in cancer of that organ. She leaves a devoted husband and three children to mourn her loss. The arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.

Sunday morning's Portland express bore from this city Captain George Dunbar, of the government dredger Chinook, who received the sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. Dunbar, at their home in Maine, whither she had gone some months ago in the hope of regaining her shattered health. Interment will not be had until his arrival there. Yesterday morning death ended the suffering of Miss Fannie S. Granberg the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Granberg, of North Head, Washington. The young girl had been an invalid for some years and was a great sufferer. Her father is assistant keeper of the light station at that point and is well known in this city, where there is broad sympathy for his wife and himself. The arrangements for the funeral will be made known later.

PERSONAL MENTION

Benjamin Young, who has been seriously ill for several months, graced our streets with his cheerful countenance yesterday, this being the first time he has been about since his illness.

O. W. Whitman leaves this morning for Portland, Walla Walla and Upper Columbia points on a business trip.

Mr. E. J. Spink, who is connected with the Daily Press, an evening paper of Ashland, Wis., was in the city yesterday. Mr. Spink is on an extended pleasure trip through the western states and was very favorably impressed with our city.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Elmore and Miss Floretta Elmore returned from Portland last evening, where they have been in attendance at the horse show.

"GENTLEMAN BURGLAR"

Man Who Walked in Police Station Identified as Old Offender.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—"The Gentleman Burglar of Evanston" has been unmasked. "Anthony Kinty", who walked into a police station a few days ago and said he was the man who had robbed the residence of Levi Eliel, was identified yesterday as Arthur Kennedy, a man who had abandoned his wife and sunk from a respectable barber into a drunkard and a cocaine fiend.

So far as can be learned the "change of heart" which he says he experienced while attending one of the Torrey revival meetings—a conviction that led him to confess his crimes—has not warmed his heart toward the wife he deserted. It has not led him even to tell about it or to divulge his real name.

The identification of "Kinty" as a wife deserter instead of a courteous and knightly burglar, who was careful not to waken the babies and left watch fobs behind for sentimental reasons, was made by Louis Eckstein, a barber who worked with Kennedy at one time. Eckstein told the police he had recognized a newspaper picture of "Kinty" as his old friend Kennedy.

The picture was taken to Mrs. Kennedy and she said it was the same man, no question of that. But she did not want to see him again. Kennedy was taken to Evanston and the Eliel case against him will be prosecuted there. Impressed by the prisoner's seeming penitence, Eliel has betrayed a kindly feeling toward him, said he would not prosecute him and promised to get him a position.

BADLY INJURED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—Ralph Butler, a full back for California, in the intercollegiate game last Saturday, lies in a Berkeley hospital in a very serious condition. Two ribs are broken and his kidneys are dangerously affected as a result of a kick received during the game.

LATEST Millinery News AT THE BON-TON MILLINERY

The latest word from Paris is given expression in some magnificent hats that have just arrived. They illustrate in an authoritative way what is really right for mid-winter wear. Most of these hats are for dress wear; they're large of course. Much that is in the way of trimming is shown on them. This hint—you will be surprised at the amount of gold and silver used for trimming.
