Arguments Heard Today in Bradley Trial.

DEFENDANT IS RELIEVED

Government Experts Testify That the Defendant Shows no Insanity.

PASTOR TELLS CONVERSATION

Mrs. Bradley Told Him Brown Would Marry Her When a Gun Was Placed Before Him—Case Will go to the Jury Monday Evening.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—"Oh, I am so glad it's all over at last," exclaimed Mrs. Bradley as she was led smiling from the court to the prison van which was to take her back to jail today.

The presentation of the evidence had just been concluded and court had adjourned until tomorrow when the arguments will begin. Each side will occupy four hours. These will be completed Monday afternoon and the judge will at once give the charge to the jury. The testimony of two government experts, Drs. Brush of Baltimore and Jelliffe of New York, was the feature of today's proceedings, both of these declaring that nothing in the record of the case indicates Mrs. Bradley is insane. Counsel for the defense attempted to impeach their testimony by showing that they had been called by the government and as a matter of fact they were testifying for the government. Each repudiated this charge.

Dr. Utter, pastor of the Unitarian Church of Denver who in the former testimony has been referred to as a priest, also testified. He was Mrs. Bradley's pastor in 1905 and testified to the conversation with her in which he declares she told him Brown would marry her when a gun was placed before him, but the pastor stated he did not understand that she proposed to shoot him. He rather thought someone else would be found to undertake to force him to marry her. Mrs. Bradley was recalled and stated she had no recollection of such a conversation. Utter sat by her most of the day and appear to sympathize with her in her trouble.

EMBEZZLED FUNDS.

Chancellor of German Legation Under Arrest.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A special dispatch to the Herald from Havana Cuba, says:

Felix Daehne, chancellor of the German legation, who acted several times as charge d'affaires during the minister's absence, was arrested last night by a detective at the office of the legation following a request from the German minister to the state department.

Daehne is closely watched at police headquarters, for this morning he attempted to commit suicide, which was prevented by the timely interference of a detective.

The charge against Daehne is the alleged embezzlement of more than $1000 of the funds of the legation. He will be sent to Germany for trial, the alleged crime having been committed within the German legation.

ORIENTAL CASSIE.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 29.—Chan Chow Yut, an Oriental Cassie Chadwick and queen of finance, has disappeared from Chinatown with all the funds of the Chinese women's deposit syndicate, an institution of her creation, and every merchant of importance in the celestial quarter was heavily interested. The amount missing is not less than $30,000 and may reach $50,000. Chan Chow Yut, a beautiful woman of her race, came here about five years ago as the wife of Sul Hal, a cook. She ingratiated herself and originated a scheme whereby she collected large sums from leading Chinese women and loaned it at heavy interest, accumulating rapidly. Recently the merchants who put their money in found they were getting no returns, and an investigation disclosed that the fund and its cunning manipulator were gone. Much valuable gold and pearl jewelry, on which she made trifling loans, is also missing.

STOLE RIDE; LOSES LIFE.

REDDING, Cal., Nov. 29.—Alfred A. Miller, of Seattle, Wash., is the name and address of the man found murdered last Sunday in the outskirts of Redding. The identification was made in Red Bluff from pictures sent out by the sheriff.

Miller left Red Bluff November 5. He had $1200 in drafts drawn on a San Francisco bank by a Seattle bank. He could not get them cashed in Red Bluff and tried San Francisco, but to no purpose. He then decided to go back to Seattle to get the drafts cashed at the bank of issue. Although he had $300 in cash he tried to beat his way.

COVER WITH FIG LEAVES.

Ministers Believe That Nude in Art is Wrong.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—According to a special dispatch to the World from Trenton, N. J., the people of that town have become suddenly stricken with the idea that there is something wrong in the nude in art. As a result the visitors yesterday, to the statutory rooms in the Industrial School of Art found each of the time and smoke blackened casts adorned with a fresh, glaring white fig leaf. Many ridiculed the idea but the directors of the institution replied that they were only carrying out the wishes of the ministers and Sunday school workers of the city and that time would discolored the additions to the statues so that they would not appear so conspicuous as they did yesterday.

DEFENDS HIS COURSE

Foraker Explains Relation to Passage of Rate Bill.

WILL CONTEST DELEGATION

Ohio Senator Doesn't Propose to Let Taft Have a Walk-Over—Believes Railroads Should Not be Hampered at This Time by Unnecessary Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Senator Foraker made it clearly known today that he will contest the Ohio delegation to the Republican national convention with Taft. The decision is contained in a letter to Conrad J. Matter, vice-president of the Ohio Republican league who forwarded to Foraker a copy of the resolutions adopted by the advisory and executive committee of the league endorsing Foraker for the senatorship and for Presidential nomination. Foraker defends his course in relation to the passage of the railroad rate bill and insists the necessity of the railroads of the country to spend millions of dollars annually in increasing their facilities makes this a bad time to hamper the roads in any unnecessary way by legislation. Foraker says he is gratified at the endorsement of the committee at this time because it is a flat rebuke to the suggestion that the office of United States Senator is to be stripped of all real honor attached to it by making its incumbent a mere agent to register the decree of somebody else.

SPECIAL SESSION

Governor Being Urged to Call Legislature.

BUSINESS IS HINDERED

Amendment to Attachment Law is Desired Before Holidays End.

LEGISLATORS ARE DIVIDED

Business Men and Merchants Are in Favor of Extra Session But Bankers Have Not Made Request—Reorganization of Legislature Same as Last One.

PORTLAND, Nov. 29.—One more week of holidays will be proclaimed by Governor Chamberlain tomorrow for the further protection of banking and business interests from the evils of the existing unsettled condition of the country. During this week the governor will do some tall thinking in an effort to solve the problems of the future in order to determine whether or not he will continue these special proclamations, and if so for how long.

Over the state the holiday plan as a protective remedy is meeting with favor, but business men generally are deploring the necessity of keeping the strings on so tightly. Because of the various drawbacks and hindrances to the plan many people are continually urging Governor Chamberlain to think out some other remedy that will be effective in protecting business men and bankers and the people generally. A special session of the legislature for the amendment of the attachment law and for the amendment of the statute governing special and legal holidays is being urged and is being considered by the governor.

The Oregon law governing attachments in civil actions is one that is wide open. By it any one who is a creditor can sue out an attachment, no matter what the conditions.

An example of one way in which trouble may result without the amendment to the attachment law follows: A business house gave its order for holiday goods last spring ordered merchandise to the amount of $100,000. The banks promised to advance the money to the concern on delivery of the goods. With the goods delivered and the banks unable to keep their agreement, neither can the business house, and the eastern establishment can, under the present law, attach the local house. This is an instance which can be repeated many times over in Portland as well as the small cities and concerns which face such a situation are anxious to protect themselves from rapacious creditors.

Washington has an attachment law which protects the merchants, a law similar to that desired passed by a special session. Because of having such a statute and being free from the apprehension of attachment and foreclosure, the legal holidays are not needed in Washington.

Added to the requests of the merchants are those of the lawyers, who want to see the courts open. Not a solitary banker has suggested a special session to the governor.

Opinion among members of the Legislature is divided on the subject. A large number are in favor of the special session, while others contend that a session is a luxury. These latter are not convinced of the necessity of amending the attachment law, contending that there is no danger of foreclosure.

If the governor decides to call a special session he will get the members together as soon as possible after making up his mind. This will require but a few days.

Should the session be called, the old organization of last winter will still be in force. Frank Davey will be Speaker of the House and Senator Haines will be President of the Senate.

ENJOINS COMMISSION.

Washington Not Allowed to Enforce Joint Wheat Order.

SEATTLE, Nov. 29.—Judge Hanford in the federal court today enjoined the Washington state railroad commission from enforcing what is known as the "Joint wheat order" which requires the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Co., Northern Pacific and Great Northern to operate their roads as connecting lines in hauling wheat from all leading places in the state. The court holds the order was made to divert wheat from the territory tributary to Portland lying along the O. R. & N. to Puget Sound. The court held this encroaches on the power to regulate interstate-commerce.

BADLY WRECKED.

Norwegian Steamer Will be Repaired in Hawaii.

HONOLULU, Nov. 29.—Via San Francisco Nov. 29.—A board of survey has been appointed here for the Norwegian steamer Admiral Borreson, which was badly wrecked by a tidal wave on November 2, and came to this port in distress, by the representatives of Lloyds, and a survey is now being made. It will be necessary to discharge the deck load. The owners in Bergen, Norway, have cabled to make such repairs here as will enable the steamer to proceed with her cargo to Taku. These repairs, it is thought, will cost at least $10,000.

PLAN MEETS WITH FAVOR

Central Issue Bank Has Many Supporters.

SUBSCRIPTIONS CLOSED

Secretary Announces Final Closing of Allotment of Bonds.

OFFERS FOR CANAL BONDS

Amount Bid For Thought to Greatly Exceed Issue—Chicago Banks Contrary to Report Not Yet Ready to Resume Currency Payments.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—Secretary Cortelyou definitely announced the final closing of allotments of the 3 per cent one-year certificates today. He declared no allotments had been made or would be made after his announcement and no further subscriptions would be considered. Information is still withheld as to the amount of allotments to be made but such information as is obtainable indicates that the total will not materially exceed $25,000,000. Offers for Panama canal bonds are still reaching the Treasury in large numbers. They will remain unopened until tomorrow when the receipt of subscriptions closes. The number of bids closed approximates the number received for the loan of July, 1906, when the offer of $30,000,000 of bonds was subscribed to the amount of $446,000,000, or about 15 times the amount offered. Nothing is known yet as to the amount of the bids. It is hardly expected the premium obtained in 1906, which was $104.03, will be obtained but the expected offers will be of good price. The secretary continues to listen attentively to representations as to currency legislation but does not commit himself. The project of a central bank of issue seems to have many supporters among bankers and members of Congress arriving here and it is certain several bills on the subject will be introduced. The report is received here today that the Chicago banks will resume currency payments next Monday. In connection with this the Secretary stated that banks in nearly all the large centers are gradually increasing cash payments and getting back to a cash basis.

Later.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—President Mitchell of the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank and a member of the Chicago Clearing-House Committee said tonight that the announcement that banks would resume payments on a currency basis Monday is a bit premature. He says no formal date has been set for the resumption of specie payments. From other sources it was learned the clearing-house has started arrangements for the return to normal conditions in about ten days.

PRESENCE OF MIND.

Small Boy Loses Foot But Saves His Life.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—With his foot caught in a switch frog in the tracks of the Long Island Railroad at Winfield, L. I., yesterday, George Neuberger, an eight-year-old boy, had presence of mind enough to lean as far off the tracks as his imprisoned foot would allow when a train thundered down on him. His foot was completely severed but he was otherwise uninjured. The hospital surgeons say he will undoubtedly recover.

DENIES REPORT.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 29.—W. H. Bancroft denies he is to resign as vice-president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line.

FAINTED AT FEAST.

Starving Man Looks at Family Dining Then Faints.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Weak, emaciated, half starved, a ragged tattered man crept up to the window of a residence on Long Island last night and after gazing for a moment into the window, fell in a swoon to the floor. An hour later a policeman found him and discovering that he was ill, sent him to a hospital. There he was found to be starving. He recovered sufficiently to tell the surgeons that his name was Louis Fink, and that he had not eaten for three days. He was a longshoreman, he said, and left his job when a strike was declared six months ago. Since then he had not averaged four meals a week and for three days he had not eaten a morsel.

"When I looked in at the window," he said, "and saw a family at their Thanksgiving dinner, I must have fainted."

The doctors say that Fink's case is serious, but he may recover.

REFUSED LANDING.

OTTAWA, Can., Japanese Consul-General Nouse, has complained to the Immigration Department that a number of Japanese holding passports were not allowed to land at Victoria. It has hitherto been the practice to allow diseased immigrants to land at Victoria for treatment but this privilege has been abused and the Dominion government had decided to put a stop to the practice.

POSTPONES ACTION.

Habeas Corpus Writ in Kleinschmidt Case Taken Under Advisement.

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 29.—After hearing arguments in the Harry Kleinschmidt case today Judge Harris took the application under advisement until Tuesday. The grand jury will convene Monday when the District Attorney believes an indictment for the murder of Frank Bellows will be returned against Kleinschmidt. It was for this reason that Judge Harris postponed action until Tuesday, as the returning of an indictment will render unnecessary any further action on the habeas corpus matter.

OFFICIAL POISONED
