The Norwegian steamship Minerva which entered this port on Wednesday and went to Portland for cargo, has been ordered to Eureka, California, where she will load lumber for Melbourne, Australia. She will be down today and leave out on her new charter at once.

The British steamship Strathblane has arrived down from Portland with a huge load of lumber for Shanghai, and has gone to sea.

The steamer Cascades finished loading lumber at the Tongue Point mills yesterday and cleared for the Bay City at once. She carried 530,000 feet of stuff.

The steamer Alliance, Captain Oleson, crossed in yesterday afternoon and docked at the Callender. She brought 51 people, and plenty of freight, most of which she took on to Portland. She laid here just 15 minutes.

The motor schooner Della, Captain Jones, arrived in from the Nestucca yesterday morning at 2:15 o'clock, and unloaded 500 cases of cheese at the O. R. & N. piers.

The British bark Clan Buchanan came down the river on the tow lines of the Oklahama yesterday and is in the lower harbor awaiting despatch. She is headed for Europe with wheat.

The United Wireless people on Smith's Point picked up the armored cruisers California, Washington and Tennessee yesterday noon, as these fine American fighters passed the Columbia bar on their way to Bremerton navy yard. All were well on the vessels, and the squadron was in command of Rear Admiral Seebree.

The steamship Senator arrived at the O. R. & N. docks last night at midnight, and left out at 1 o'clock this morning for the Bay City.

The tug Geo. R. Vosburg will leave out for Nehalem tomorrow with 40 tons of merchandise for the merchants there. On her arrival down there she will be employed in towing lumber schooners in and out over the bar. Whenever the merchants down that way are in need of a special line of goods, the tug is dispatched for them. Of late few lumber drougthers have been visiting her home port, and her services have been but little in demand.

The steamer Eureka will leave out today on her first trip to Eureka stopping in at Coos Bay and hereafter will make a round trip every ten days. The Eureka carries a full cargo of general merchandise, which will measure about 500 tons. That she is going to prove a most valuable acquisition to the coast fleet is shown by the ease with which a cargo was picked up for her. The bulk of her shipment will go to merchants in Eureka, the southern terminus of the line. It is also said that she will have close to a full list of passengers. She has accommodations for 50 people. The craft is owned by the North Pacific Steamship Company.

RILEY GRANNIN DEAD.

RAWHIDE, April 3.—Riley Grannin died here today.

C. W. CARNAHAN DEAD

After An Illness of But Forty-Eight Hours.

UNDERWENT AN OPERATION

Never Recovered Consciousness and Complications Resulted Which Hastened His Demise—An Honorable Career.

Clark Wilson Carnahan is dead! All day, yesterday, his death was a mooted question throughout the city among hundreds of friends, who, knowing the deep stress to which he was reduced, were momentarily expecting either a relief from the strain, or confirmation of their worst fears. His death was due to complications arising from an operation, successfully performed on the evening of Wednesday, for abscess of the ear, and engendered by a stomach malady from which he has suffered for the past 15 years. He never recovered consciousness from the time of his operation until the final summons came; and though, for a while yesterday morning, his physicians cherished the hope that his strong constitution might carry him through the ordeal, the fact that he went into convulsions during the forenoon, dissipated the hope, and they but waited the end, which came at 6:15 o'clock last evening.

His aged mother, Mrs. Mary E. Carnahan, and his wife, Mrs. Mattie C. Carnahan, with several members of the immediate family, were with him when he died and had been close to him during the sad and uncertain hours preceding his death; and to them, as well as to the entire community, the dread circumstance was terribly sudden and beyond conceivable anticipation. He was at his desk, on the morning of Wednesday, at the custom house, and was then suffering from an aggravated phase of the ear trouble, which, increasing in violence during the day, urged him to meet a conference of physicians, that afternoon, to-wit, Drs. Fulton, Kinney and Henderson, who decided upon an immediate operation for the relief of the sufferer and as a check upon the further progress of that ailment, the graver complexities obtruding themselves later.

The remains of the late Collector of the Port were at once conveyed to the undertaking parlors of W. C. A. Pohl where they will be prepared for burial when the family shall have decided upon the time and place of the obsequies, which will probably take place on Sunday, tomorrow, though this is yet to be confirmed from the home of the deceased. Mr. Carnahan was scarcely 48 hours away from his business, his home, and usual haunts, before the news of his illness, danger, and death, had run their various lengths; and it is saying but little, indeed, to say that Astoria and Clatsop are grieved and shocked at his passing. He was not only one of the leading public men of the community, the chief representative of the government here, a son of one of the distinguished pioneer families of the county and State, an honorable citizen, active, progressive and reliable always, but to those whom he permitted to pass the close reserve in which he held himself, was known as a warm, dependable, loyal friend, a ready and kindly neighbor, and a very model in his home and home-life wherein he was held with the respect and tenderness that rewards the irreproachable husband and father.

Mr. Carnahan was born at the old family home on Clatsop Plains, on the 5th of June, 1858, and was, therefore in his 50th year; and was the son of Hiram and Mary E. Carnahan, his venerable mother still surviving and mourning him. He received his education in the schools of Clatsop, using the excellent basis they afforded upon which to construct the broader equipment that comes from devoted reading and study pursued later in life. His early life was given over to the acquisition of practical knowledge of machinery, and he served his apprenticeship in this behalf at some of the great shops in San Francisco, following the masterful trade thereafter for some years.

While in the metropolis of the Pacific he met, and married, Miss Mattie Cameron, and to them, in the happy years that have intervened have been born three daughters and a son, Mrs. Lex Dimond, of Clatsop Plains; Miss Virginia Carnahan (now at the family home, and who was to have been married today to Mr. Harry Bohannon); Miss Bertrude Carnahan, the youngest child; and the only son, Stewart H., aged 21 years, and just home from a course in business college at Portland. Two brothers and three sisters survive him, also; R. N. Carnahan, deputy assessor of this county; Frank C. Carnahan, who has logging interests and a home at Hoquiam, Washington; Mrs. E. A. Taylor, of this city; Miss Florence Carnahan, of Los Angeles, California, and Mrs. Nellie Mercer, now dwelling in Southern California.

Mr. Carnahan served his county for eight years as Assessor, and for one term represented her in the lower house of the Oregon Legislature (1902) and on the 3rd day of September, 1906, was appointed by President Roosevelt to be Collector of Customs for the Port of Astoria, a position which he has filled with scrupulous care and faithful concern, for exactly 19 months to a day. In all his public service he has won credit for his high official standards and devoted attention to business. Aside from that part of his career given over to public matters and interests, he has always been active in the establishment of progressive methods of farming and dairying, and for the last few years has been deeply interested in the reclamation of swamp lands; and in this connection was the leading spirit in the opening up of Cullaby Lake, in this county, whereby hundreds of fine and virgin soil were reclaimed to culture and profitable use. He was the owner of some very valuable properties in this section and was prosecuting distinct improvements upon nearly all of them.

Personally, he was one of the quietest of men; not cold nor repellant but of a dignified, retiring manner, reserved in all things until his definite interest was aroused when he became at once an engaging and fluent talker and genial companion. There is scarcely a home in all Clatsop county in which he was not known and thoroughly respected and in which there will not linger many a kindly memory of Clark W. Carnahan.

(Later—This office has been apprised of the plans of the family in the matter of Mr. Carnahan's funeral, and the same will be held in the old Presbyterian Church, at Clatsop Plains, at 1 o'clock tomorrow (Sunday); Rev. W. Seymour Short, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, of this city, officiating. Interment will be had in the family plot in the old Pioneer Cemetery there. The cortege will move from the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Taylor, at the corner of Franklin avenue and Sixteenth street, tomorrow, at 11:30 o'clock a. m.)

Allwins Are All Winners.

The Zapf Hardware & Furniture Company, of this city, has just put on the market the best and nicest baby go-cart for the money ever heard of in Astoria. It is the Allwin, and is to be had at the modest figure of $5.25. It is one of the easiest riders in carriages, and the baby that is indulged with one dimples all over every time it goes out. It runs smooth as silk and folds up till it is almost unrecognizable. Call and examine one before putting money into something not nearly so satisfactory. The Allwins are all winners, sure enough!

"Modern" Delights.
When a man passes under the hands of a barber he wants the best skilled treatment to be had in that line. In Astoria, the man in search of such manipulation, goes direct to Petersen's "Modern" shop, at 572 Commercial, and gets it in any of the six chairs maintained.

The Commercial.
One of the coziest and most popular resorts in the city is the Commercial. A new billiard room, a pleasant sitting room and handsome fixtures all go to make an agreeable meeting place for gentlemen, there to discuss the topics of the day, play a game of billiards and enjoy the fine refreshments served there. The best of goods are only handled, and this fact being so well known, a large business is done at the Commercial, on Commercial street, near Eleventh.

A Beautiful Sample.
A beautiful sample of handiwork is to be seen at the office of A. B. Cyrus, No. 424 Commercial street; and everyone purchasing $1. worth of phonograph records, will receive a number in the drawing for this elegant article.

The Clean Man.
The man who delights in personal cleanliness, and enjoys his shave, shampoo, haircut, and bath, in Astoria, always goes to the Occident barber shop for these things—and gets them at their best.

The very best board to be obtained in the city is at "The Occident Hotel." Rates very reasonable.

The Palace Restaurant.
The ever-increasing popularity of the Palace Restaurant is evidence of the good management, and the service, at this popular dining room. For a long time the reputation of the house has been of the best and it does not wane as time progresses. The system used, that of furnishing the finest the market affords, and all can be obtained, in season, is a plan that will always win, coupled as it is with the best of cooking and prompt service. A common saying nowadays is "Get the Palace habit."
