British S. S. Sheila in From Nanaimo, B. C.

S. F. LINERS ALL SOLD OUT

Celticburn Due Down en Route to Europe—Alliance in and up—F. S. Loop Arrives in—Moliere Goes to Sea—Odds and Ends.

The steamship Senator, outward bound for San Francisco, will leave these waters on her last trip, Saturday next, with every stateroom filled. Among the reservations made in behalf of Astorians are the following: Judge F. J. Taylor, Charles Heilborn, Mrs. Charles H. Haddix, J. Wilson, Charles Wright, A. V. Allen Jr. and J. M. Hawthorne, all bound to the Golden Gate to witness the gala reception of the great fleet.

The steamship Geo. W. Elder will be down from Portland tomorrow morning in time to leave out for California ports, at 6 o'clock. She is loaded to her complement with passengers and has a big manifest of freight, also.

The steamer Alliance was an afternoon arrival in this port yesterday from her Coos Bay ports, and she had plenty of business, stopping at the Callender long enough to put off a wad of freight, and then on to the metropolis.

The fine French bark Moliere, Captain Pennac, went to sea, and Queens-town, with her hold full of good Northwestern wheat, yesterday, on the hawser of the Wallula, and with Captain Gunderson on her quarter-deck.

The State of California will be here on next Monday night, in charge of Captain Nopander now on the Senator. The old "State" will do much to fill the hiatus caused by the loss of the Columbia, whose running mate she was for many a year.

The steamer Harvest Queen will be down early this morning with the bark Celticburn, and will leave back immediately for Rainier, to pick up the W. F. Jewett and another schooner. These she will tow to this port, and then she will fasten on to the schooner Mindora and leave up for the metropolis.

The steamer Tiverton crossed in last evening, from Puget Sound, for fuel oil, and will leave out this morning for Coos Bay, where she will take in tow the new steam schooner Fair-have, just built at Coos, conveying her on to the Bay City, where she will be completed for sea service.

The Tiverton reported last evening that as she entered there was a large steamer hovering off the bar, but whether she was coming in or not, was not able to say. It is probably the oil steamer Argyle, due here from San Francisco.

The steamer Sue H. Elmore arrived in from Tillamook yesterday evening, with a number of passengers, among whom was Rev. John Waters, rector of St. Mary's Catholic Church in this city.

The handsome tender Armeria is overhauling the buoy system of the Columbia river from Portland to the sea, and will be engaged on the task for the better part of ten days to come.

The Kamm liner Lurline is doing her Astoria-Portland stunt with un-failing regularity and doing it on time. She went up last evening with a good showing above and below stairs.

The British steamship Sheila arrived in yesterday morning from Nanaimo with coal for Portland, and will load flour outward, for Oriental delivery.

The steamer F. S. Loop arrived in yesterday from San Francisco, and went on to Portland, after a brief stop at the Callender dock.

The steamer St. Helens came down from the metropolis yesterday morning with a big load of lumber, and left out at once for the Bay City.

The British bark Celticburn, Captain Daniel, is the next square-rigger to come down the river, and will probably be here today, bound for Falmouth, with wheat, for orders.

The steamer Eureka arrived in yesterday morning from the California port of that name, and made a brief stay at the Callender, before going on to the metropolis.

The oil tank steamer W. S. Porter was an early arrival in from the California coast yesterday morning and went on to Portland, immediately.

PHILHARMONICS TO THE FRONT

ASTORIA SOCIETY FORGING RIGHT AHEAD—BIG AND ENJOYABLE CONCERT SEASON BEING ARRANGED.

Dr. Emil Enna, the musical director of the Astoria Philharmonic Society accompanied by Dr. A. A. Finch, its secretary, was out yesterday among the music lovers of Astoria seeing what they could do in the way of gathering funds for the initial work of the Society and its coming concerts. They were happily successful in securing the first half of the sum needed and will take the task up later and complete it.

Things have arrived at that pass with the new organization, that the conclusion is a safe one that it will bring down the fine Portland Symphony Orchestra on the occasion of its first concert, which will transpire about the second week in June.

The Society desires it known that all who wish to subscribe for the season's tickets can do so by seeing Dr. Finch at any time. The price for the season is $5, and Chairman Finch of the finance committee will gladly register all applicants.

It is up to the cultured musician and the musically gifted and inclined in this city to ally themselves at once with this distinctive and popular organization, for their individual good and pleasure, as well as for the credit and advantage of the city itself. The society needs all the active and talented members it can get and the more the better for all concerned. It has a splendid future and cannot fail to be one of the finest and most engaging attributes of the community in due time.

TO STUDY SINGING.

Mrs. W. F. Corey Going to Europe to Study.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Before sailing yesterday on the Hamburg-American Liner Deutschland for Europe with her husband, Mrs. W. E. Corey, formerly Mabel Gilman, the actress, said she intended to go to Paris to study for the operatic stage under Jean de Resseke.

"I have several roles entirely learned," Mrs. Corey said, "which I have to finish with Mr. De Resseke, with whom I shall appear in grand opera this season. I am not doing this with any desire to appear again before the public, but simply for the sake of the work. I have always been used to an active life and cannot remain idle. I shall appear in opera, and hope to be able to do something for a phase of music in this country which should be developed."

Mrs. Corey said that she intended to have a theatre in her own house here, such as she has in her chateau near Paris, so that she will be able to give operas in which she will take part herself and for which she will engage the best singers and musicians procurable. Three performances will be given of each opera, one for her friends, the second to the critics and musicians, and the third to create a fund to develop the latent of those who do not have the means to pursue their studies. She added that the roles she expected to sing with Jean De Resseke were America in "Aida" and Carmen.

JUSTIFICATION IS COMPLETE

"FLAG SALUTE" IS NOT AN ORDAINED RULE OF THE SCHOOLS OF ASTORIA—EXPLANATION HERE IS TWO-FOLD.

The following letter is self-explanatory and of decided interest when taken in conjunction with the local article published in these columns yesterday morning in this relation, and published only upon the positive information that the "Flag Salute" was a daily, and inflexible, rule, at all times, at all public schools in Astoria; and the Astorian does not hesitate to frankly apologize for any injustice it may have wrought through the misinformation; though it has good reason to believe its informant was quite as badly misled:

"Editor Astorian:—We are so accustomed in Canada to speaking of the people of the United States as 'Our cousins over the border' that the words 'foreign preceptress' as applied to me in yesterday's 'Astorian' sounded strangely unfamiliar. I refer to the article entitled 'A Timely Rebuke,' and as I am the only 'foreign preceptress' in Taylor school, except the principal, I take it upon myself to place myself right in the public eye.

"First, I would say that no rule was given to me or the other teachers by the principal, with regard to the 'flag salute,' and I was not aware that such a thing was required. Secondly, I wish to say that my room is by no means the only room in Taylor school that has not been in the habit of repeating that salute. However, I was the only teacher consulted as to whether or not we saluted the flag daily, by the visitors.

"In the regular monthly meeting at the Shively school this afternoon City Superintendent Clark was asked by a teacher if there were such a law, to which the superintendent answered, 'not to my knowledge.' Various teachers of different buildings stated if there were such a law they did not know it and had not made the flag salute a part of their school work.

"When the W. R. C. committee brought the matter before me, I made an investigation. True, only five held up their hands when asked who knew it, on being asked to repeat it however, the response was almost unanimous. On further inquiry, I find that 24 out of my 25 pupils knew the salute to the American flag. That one pupil comes from Wyoming—a foreign state.

"The pupils of Taylor school are usually designated as 'foreigners.' They are, however, most of them, American-born citizens, and I doubt if any more loyal American children could be found in English speaking schools.

"I am a Canadian, and loyal to my native land! My pupils are Americans, and I teach them that if they are not proud of their flag they should be ashamed of themselves.

"If I have not taught the flag salute—a set array of words—I have endeavored to inculcate in the minds of my pupils, the principle of loyalty and to touch upon the chord of patriotism that binds the heart of every true born boy or girl.

"Words fail to express my appreciation of the kindly and courteous manner in which the Astoria teachers took up my cause.

"ESTELLA M. THOMSON."
