MARKED FOR DEATH

A Chicago Priest and Attorney Heckley Proposed Victims

LETTER WRITTEN IN BLOOD

Death Was Threatened it is Believed in Consequence of Their Efforts to Obtain Pardon For Herman Billek.—Under Sentence to Hang.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Father Peter O'Callaghan, head of the Paulist Order in Chicago, and Attorney Francis E. Hinckley have been informed through an anonymous letter, written in blood and wrapped in crepe, that they have been marked for death by mysterious enemies, and St. Mary's Church, Wabash avenue and Hubbard Court, has been doomed to be blown up with dynamite.

The threatening letter was dropped by an unknown hand into the poor box at St. Mary's church, of which Father O'Callaghan is pastor. It was unsigned and unaddressed. On one side was a crudely drawn picture of a skull and crossbones.

Death to the priest and lawyer was threatened. It is believed, in consequence of their efforts to obtain a pardon for Herman Billek, under sentence to hang on June 12 in the Cook County Jail on a charge of murdering by poison six members of the Vzral family. A chemical analysis proved that the red fluid in which the letter was written was blood, and not red ink.

Father O'Callaghan declared last night that he would lay the letter before Governor Deneen, in the hope that it would induce the Governor to pardon Billek.

Father O'Callaghan and Mr. Hinckley drew a confession from Jerry Vzral a few months ago that he had given perjury testimony against Billek at the trial. By this means they succeeded in bringing Billek's case before the Pardon Board. The Board sat with Gov. Deneen in extraordinary session in the District Attorney's office and examined the evidence. The investigation led the Governor to reprieve Billek and to advance the date of his execution to June 12.

La Follette Threatened During Day to Keep Senate in Session For Three Weeks—Skirmish Maintained Through the Night Session.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—A long-time since the senate has been tied up by filibuster with such slender support as was in evidence when La Follette undertook to defeat conference report on the Aldrich-Vreeland cur-

President Roosevelt Wishes the Oregon Republican Party Success in Next Monday's Election

WASHINGTON, May 29.—President Roosevelt today said good bye to two Oregon Congressmen, Messrs. Hawley and Ellis, and stated publicly that he took occasion to thank them for the attitude they had consistently maintained in support of the administration's policies and to wish them success in the election which is to take place on Monday next.

The President stated that he wished to express his appreciation of the cordial manner in which these gentlemen had backed up policies and measures which the President felt were of such consequence for the welfare of the country in connection, for instance, with such matters as the upbuilding of the nation, upbuilding of our merchant marine, the conservation of our natural resources, including both the preservation of forests and the construction of waterways; securing proper employers' liability legislation both as regards interstate commerce and as regards the employees of the Government itself; securing child labor legislation; the effort to secure proper administration by courts of the power of injunction, and finally the securing by the nation of thorough-going and adequate control over the interstate corporations which shall be both effective to prevent any wrongdoing by them, and at the same time of such character as will permit reward in ample fashion of all business which is so conducted as to be for and not against the public interest.

He insisted that quorum should be maintained at all time and up to 6 o'clock had demanded 20 roll calls. The house was able to obtain more or less relaxation and at the same time keep supporters of bill in their seats.

La Follette who is weak from illness, engaged Aldrich colloquy concerning provisions on currency bill and was called to order for declaring that the chairman was not "Frank" in his replies and only after vote of senate had restored him to his right on the floor did he continue his remarks.

La Follette inquired whether the proposition would be agreed to strike out railroad bonds and stocks from the list of securities contemplated in the conference agreement, but Aldrich declined offer by saying adoption report was only question before the senate and adding so far as he was concerned he had neither power nor disposition to make the concession suggested. Aldrich declared that the report would remain before the senate until March 4, 1909, if necessary. La Follette replied he would continue his opposition since that was the only course presented to him. La Follette threatened during day to keep senate in session three weeks but the support he will get in order to continue his tactics at end of his physical endurance remains to be seen. Understood that Senator Stone, who is opposed to the bill, will give active support to the filibuster. As a body however, the Democrats are positively opposed to obstruction to the report.

The skirmish maintained throughout the night session and Gore and Stone left the hall. The senate leaders secured an order directing sergeant-at-arms to bring in absentees and decided to compel appearance of Stone who is slated to relieve La Follette under the latter's program. A policeman was started for his hotel to arrest him. The first senator to appear in response to summons was Owen of Oklahoma. He bore every evidence of having been routed out of bed and was not fully attired.

At 2:30 La Follette insisted on roll call on his point of no quorum. Chair sustained a previous ruling that the call under the rule could not be ordered and La Follette appealed. Aldrich promptly moved to lay appeal on table. A number of democrats refused to vote and Aldrich insisted that they be required to do so. Vote disclosed short of quorum.

At 3:30 this (Saturday) morning were still waiting for quorum on vote to lay La Follette's appeal on the table.

TO ARRIVE SUNDAY

Battleships Will Assemble at Frisco for Several Days

FOR HONOLULU ON JUNE 7

The Cruiser South Dakto Will Leave Fr Santa Barbara and San Pedro and Will Remain For Some Time Cruising in Southern Waters.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—

With the return of the first division of the Atlantic battleship fleet to San Francisco on Sunday, warship Row will assume an animated appearance once more. The four battleships, the flagship Connecticut and the Kansas, Vermont, and Louisiana, which left Tacoma yesterday are expected to arrive here not later than Sunday morning and will resume their former positions in the lines extending westward from Goat Island. The time of the arrival of other portions of the fleet from the northern waters is not definitely known but all of the fleet will be assembled here for several days before the date of sailing for Honolulu June 7.

The cruiser South Dakota of the Pacific squadron will leave here sometime today for Santa Barbara and San Pedro and will remain for some time cruising in Southern water.

The battleship left the line beyond Goat Island yesterday and proceeded to Mare Island and for the first time in the history of that station a ship of the class of the Missouri anchored alongside the quay wall. The maneuver necessary to bring the big warship alongside the quay was performed without difficulty, thus disproving the statement that first class battleships cannot be docked at Mare Island.

There are no official entertainments planned for the officers or men of the Atlantic fleet during the time of their second sojourn in San Francisco but numerous unofficial entertainments of a social nature have been arranged.

ROB ART MUSEUM

Burglars Get Busy at the Metropolis.

LOSS ESTIMATED $1000

Museum of Art Building Fifth and Taylor Street Scene of Robbery

LOSS ESTIMATED AT $1000

Detectives Have as Yet no Clue—Thieves Displayed Much Caution in Selection of Plunder—Took Only Things of Marketable Value.

PORTLAND, May 29.—Burglars with an eye for the beautiful broke into the Museum of Art building, at Fifth and Taylor streets last night and carried away over 15 pieces of jewelry on display in the first annual exhibition of the Arts and Crafts Society of Portland, of the estimated value of $1000.

The thieves displayed much discernment and caution in the selection of their plunder, being careful to take only things of marketable value and easy of disposition. Fortunately none of the exhibits loaned for the exhibition was taken, and the value of the loot secured is fully covered by burglar insurance.

The crime was discovered upon the opening of the museum this morning, and the police were at once notified. Detectives Pat Maloney and Hellyer have been detailed on the case by Acting Captain of Detectives Baty, but as yet have not been able to discover a single clue that would lead to the apprehension of the robbers.

The exhibition of the Arts and Crafts Society has been under way for the past two weeks, and has attracted a large attendance. Jewelry and silverware of great value have been on display in the rooms on the second floor of the museum building, and in addition to placing burglar and fire insurance on the entire exhibit every precaution had been taken to securely fasten the cases with locks and bolt all windows at the closing hour.

As quickly as possible the authorities were apprised of the crime and detectives dispatched to the scene. The officers, upon examining the premises, discovered an open window in the basement, but whether the burglars entered the building in this manner or were in hiding in one of the upper rooms at the closing hour has not yet been established.

The case from which the most valuable jewelry was stolen occupies a place on a table in the north room of the exhibit, and was forced open with tools secured in the museum basement. The criminals were particularly careful in their work, and did not even mar the woodwork or break the glass in opening the case. The same care was displayed in forcing the sliding door on the silverware case.

By a strang coincidence the majority of the articles stolen are the clever handiwork of Miss Watson, who conducted the arts and crafts summer school here last year. That the thieves were not connoisseurs is evidenced by the fact that the most valuable topaz pendant in the case was tossed aside and others of less value taken.

The property annexed by the crooks consisting in the main of pendants ranging in price from $50 to $150 apiece, and are the most beautiful specimens of arts and crafts work ever displayed in this city.

Mrs. Hume prepared an inventory of all the missing articles and this list was turned over to the police to assist them in locating the plunder and thieves. Additional precautions will be taken during the remaining days of the exhibition to prevent further depredations and nocturnal prowlers about the museum of art building will meet with a warm reception.
