

TILLAMOOK BRANCH WILL GET IMMEDIATE ATTENTION

Harriman Says This Project Heads the List

ARRIVES AT PORTLAND

Rail King a Picture of Good Health Since His Visit in Klamath Country

MANY OTHER EXTENSIONS

Road Into Coos Bay Will be Built But Not Until the Magnate is Assured the Investment Will Pay 4 Per Cent the First 10 Years.

PORTLAND, Sept. 5.—E. H. Harriman, the railroad king, and master of finance, arrived at Portland late this afternoon on a special train which conveyed him and a number of guests and railroad officials from the Southern Oregon country, where Harriman has been sojourning in the beautiful Klamath country for the past six weeks.

Wall street at various times used reports that Harriman's alleged ill health to advantage for raiding the market. If this rule works both ways, his early appearance on lower Broadway ought to be a signal for the most rampant bull market that ever delighted the speculators on the long side. For Harriman is a picture of health, bronzed by the suns of Klamath, and the flushed health that comes from the care-free out-door life he has been leading.

Harriman is usually credited with talking straight from the shoulder when he wants to talk, but it is evident today that he did not want to talk on the subject which the public like to have his views. He would not talk on the subjects which the public like to have his views. He would not talk politics, and said but little about the financial question. He fought shy of any discussion for publication, or of affairs of national importance. He did however talk freely of the object of his visit to the Pacific Northwest.

For the Pacific Northwest Mr. Harriman has many projects under consideration. These projects involve the expenditure of vast sums of money and the details of expenditure and apportionment has not been worked out. Mr. Harriman has placed at the head of the list of immediate extensions the Tillamook branch from the main line of the Southern Pacific in Oregon and the line into Central Oregon, and the Puget Sound extension. The extension into the Coos Bay country will certainly be built but not until the magnate is assured that the revenue from that road will pay 4 per cent on the investment for the first 10 years.

The Natron cut off south of Eugene will be built and the work on the cut-off between Huntington and Lewiston will be continued but its early completion largely will depend on the state of the money market.

"The returning confidence of the people and the growing disposition to co-operate with the railroads," said Mr. Harriman, "is helping matters quite materially at this time, and if improvement continues we will soon be able to secure the funds needed for carrying out a number of projects which would have been well under way before this time had it not been for the unfortunate financial trouble last fall. This growing sentiment recognizes the mutuality interests between the railroads and the people, and is certain to bring good results, and it is our intention to do whatever we can to supply a legitimate demand for transportation facilities."

En route to Portland Mr. Harriman stopped at Roseburg, Eugene, Albany and Salem and held a brief conference with the various committees representing various commercial organizations. Tonight he is the guest of the Commercial Club of this city at an informal reception.

That the war is over between E. H. Harriman and James J. Hill was stated in so many words by the Union Pacific magnate tonight at the reception given by the Commercial Club. The rivalry of the railroads for business will go on he said, but they will meet hereafter as neighbors. That all the Harriman lines projected in this state will go forward to completion as soon as practicable was the statement he made to the assembled business men. He assured his audience that the outlook for railroad building in this country is excellent and work has just been ordered resumed in Oregon to be followed with the resumption in other delayed projects until all shall have been completed. Harriman left tonight for San Francisco. He will stop at Medford and Ashland and will meet Mrs. Harriman and party at Weed.

ALL STAR BALL TEAM

Nine Composed of Great Players Would Cost an Immense Sum.

A QUARTET OF SLUGGERS.

Wagner, Cobb, Donlin and Crawford Would Make Any Pitcher Tremble. Club Could Walk Away With Pennant.

With the big baseball leagues now hard at work for the top rung of the ladder, each and every club has its favorite player, a heavy hitter or a star fielder.

Looking over the big league timber for an all star club, the following team looks as if it could make a runaway of any pennant race if ever corralled into one club:

Pitchers—Mathewson, New York, Nationals; Donovan, Detroit, Americans; Brown, Chicago, Nationals; Waddell, St. Louis, Americans.

Catchers—Brennahan, New York, Nationals; Kling, Chicago, Nationals.

First base—Tenny, New York, Nationals.

Second base—Lajoie, Cleveland, Americans.

Third base—Bradley, Cleveland, Americans.

Shortstop—Wagner, Pittsburg, Nationals.

Center field—Crawford, Detroit, Americans.

Right field—Cobb, Detroit, Americans.

Utility—Hofman, Chicago, Nationals.

Of course it is impossible to purchase the players mentioned, but if they were on the market it is a cinch that $250,000 would be insufficient to purchase the stars on the list.

Take the pitchers. Of the four, Mathewson and Mordecai Brown, the Chicago veteran who has stood among the first pitchers of the game for many years, stand out the brightest. Fifteen thousand dollars would be instantly turned down for each release. Next comes "Wild Bill" Donovan, the famous Detroit twirler. An offer of $12,000 for his services would resound on the desert air. Then comes the most wonderful pitcher the game knows—the erratic Rube Waddell. Notwithstanding the fact that the wild and woolly boy was purchased in the spring of 1908 for $7,000, it's home runs to foul tips that McAleer would laugh at an offer of $10,000 for the eccentric box artist.

that $18,000 would be passed up for either catcher.

At first base Fred Tenny has the package of cough drops on all initial sack scoopers, and $15,000 would be sent back to the mint to grow were it offered for his services.

Lajoie, the great Napoleon, though hindered by managerial duties, shines at second base when comparison is brought out as an electric light shines over a tallow candle. The $15,000 bill sent out for his release would go begging for a taker.

At the last sack of the diamond Bill Bradley of the Cleveland Americans looks the Sunday morning kid. Manager Lajoie would laugh himself into hysterics were $15,000 sent up to purchase his release.

Shortstop comes next, and the undisputed title belongs to the Flying Dutchman, Honus Wagner. His work this season, since joining Pittsburg, has proved his sterling worth. What do you suppose would be said to one who offered $25,000 for the great Hans?

For left field, although his regular position is in right, the package should go to Mike Donlin, the great outfielder and slugger of the New York Nationals. Do you think for a minute that Donlin's release could be purchased for $15,000? Nix.

For center field Detroit puts the runner up in the person of Sam Crawford. The great fielder and hitter would never get away from the Tigers on an offer of $15,000.

Next comes the right garden, and Detroit puts another one on the pan in Tyrus Cobb, the Georgia boy, who is the real sensation of the baseball world. Would $20,000 buy his get-away papers? We rise in the negative on this point. Twenty thousand, with an additional $5,000, would look to Jennings the same as a blue shirt waist would loom up at a pink tea.

For a utility player Hofman, the great all round player wearing a Chicago club uniform, is the whole piece of broadcloth, and $15,000 would be mere pocket change to offer for Hofman, the grandest of all the utility men.

Mustered together as one club, does it seem possible to defeat such a team for any pennant?

Racers For South America.
One hundred horses belonging to the stables of James R. Keene and J. B. Haggin have been shipped to Buenos Aires for breeding purposes and to take part in races there. This is the largest single shipment of horses to a southern country since the present depression in the racing game in New York as a result of anti-betting laws.

New Jockey Club at Ottawa.
It is now an assumed fact that a new jockey club will be formed at Ottawa, Ont. A charter has been secured,

The new organization will be promoted by well known Canadians, and it will have a capital of $150,000. It is proposed to hold the first race meeting early next summer.

GETS SHOT-PUT RECORD.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 5.—At the athletic meet today Ralph Rose of California, broke the world's record shot-put, at 53 feet 4 inches, for a 14-pound shot.

AUTO MAKES TIME.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 5.—D. E. Palma, with a 90 horsepower machine at the State Fair, broke the world's record on the automobile's circular track, when it made a mile in 51 seconds flat.

Two Umpires Next Season.

President Ban Johnson has announced that the double umpire system will be used in all games of the American league next season. Losing no time after making the decision, President Johnson already has signed two new diamond indicators to complete his staff. The reform, which was looked upon as inevitable in the future, owing to growing complexities of the game, has been advocated by a number of the leading baseball writers, but it has hardly been thought the change would be made at once, although many recent happenings on the diamond where only one umpire has worked have shown the necessity for two pairs of eyes. It seems reasonable to believe the National league also will use two umpires next season, although President Pullam has not expressed himself definitely as yet.

Fall Races For Louisville.

The Louisville (Ky.) fall races will begin about Oct. 1 and continue for twenty days. The dates have not been agreed upon finally, but this information comes reliably through one of the officials of the Jockey club. The meet will be preceded by a ten day meet at Lexington. The meeting will be held at Douglas park, and the Paris Mutue system of betting will be in vogue.

chief of police and left word there in writing that if the police officers permitted anything of such a nature they would be discharged, and if reinstated by the police commissioners, that never again would the mayor sign warrants for their pay while he was in office, and the mayor well knew that no court would uphold them as against his righteous action. But to the credit of the police officers he it said that they—at least most of them—were quite willing to enforce the order irrespective of any club being held over their heads, and the dance hall didn't hold a "country dance."

Meantime there is a pretty game of shuttle-cock going on among the several men whose sworn duty it is to uphold the law. The sheriff says the police should do this and do that. The police say the sheriff should do that and do this, and both add it is "up to" the district attorney's office.

Many of the saloons are kept open on each Sunday. This is in violation of a state law. It is also in violation of a city law. It is "up to" the police and the sheriff's office. It is directly "up to" any and all of the men whose sworn duty it is to uphold the law, and yet all seem to be sitting idly and supinely by—doing nothing, absolutely nothing.

In some ways the city is in excellent shape now. In police court yesterday afternoon Police Officer Linville had occasion to testify in relation to the amount of robberies now going on in the red-light district. "There is less robbery now than ever before," he said. "It is an uncommon thing now to hear of a robbery, while they used to be of nightly occurrence." What the officer testified to is amply corroborated by many others. And as the town is clean and decent as regards crime against persons, so can it be as regards gambling and saloon closing. How would it do, as a starter, to close up the three "blind pigs" now running in the dry precincts of Uppertown?

PARIS, Sept. 5.—The dirigible balloon "Republique" maneuvered six hours over Paris covering 200 miles.

Barrington Hall The Steel Cut Coffee

Is just pure Mocha and Java prepared in a new way. The coffee berry is cut up (not ground) by knives of almost razor sharpness into small uniform particles. Thus it is not crushed, as by the old method of grinding, and the little oil cells remain unbroken. The essential oil (food product) cannot evaporate and is preserved indefinitely. This is one reason why a pound of Barrington Hall will make 15 to 20 cups more of full strength coffee than will any coffee ground the old way; why it excels all other coffee in flavor and why it will keep perfectly until used.

But the main thing about Barrington Hall Coffee is that it can be used without ill effect by those who find ordinary coffee injures them, because the yellow tannin-bearing skin and dust (the only injurious properties of coffee) are removed by the "steel-cut" process. A delicious coffee not a tasteless substitute.
