AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT.

Appearing on the platform in overalls and blouses and colored mother-hubbard-like dresses, with red handkerchiefs around their necks or upon their heads like the old Southern "mammies" used to wear away down where the cotton fields bloom in whiteness, and bringing a breath from the Sunny South, the Tennessee Jubilee Singers, who appeared at the First Methodist Church last night, made an instantaneous hit and captured the hearts of the large and appreciative audience. In spite of the inclemency of the weather there was an excellent crowd out. But those who went were glad that Jupiter Pluvius did not discourage them for their reward was such as is given to those who dare to take a good opportunity when it comes their way. The company of Jubilee Singers number eight, and the way they sing does the weary heart good. One does not hear the old and worn out popular airs that are threadbare, but the songs that come near to the heart and are ever favorites, such as "Steal Away to Jesus," "There's a Jubilee," "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," "Roll, Jordan, Roll," and "Peter Go Ring Dem Bells."—Daily Oregon Statesman.

Scene From "The Rocky Mountain Express," Sunday Evening.

SUNDAY NIGHT.

"The Rocky Mountain Express," the very latest melodrama, is founded upon new ideas from beginning to end. The author has written dialogue that is reasonable, though sensational; the climaxes are forceful, and situations that keep one's pulse moving a bit beyond normal. The wreck scene is a marvel of stage-craft and mechanical skill, while the numerous scenes laid in the 'Rockies' are strikingly different and happily arranged. The Klimt—Gazzolo Amusement company have given this production a mounting both elaborate and expensive. "The Rocky Mountain Express" will arrive at the Astoria Theatre, on Sunday, October 18.

"A POOR RELATION."

"It was indeed refreshing to have the opportunity of witnessing a dramatic performance which has genuine merit. This was the feeling which possessed those who heard Lee Willard interpret the part of Noah Vale in the title role of "A Poor Relation" at the theatre last night. Mr. Willard is versatile in his interpretations, and has the happy faculty of presenting both the serious and the ludicrous sides of life to his auditors in a very satisfactory manner.

The satisfaction with which his work is received is largely on account of the fact that he possesses the dramatic instinct and has dramatic ideals and for this reason his splendid company is worthy of the support of any community."—Exchange.

The play of "A Poor Relation" is an excellent production. It is clean, moral and wholesome.

A Jeweler's Experience

C. R. Kloger, the jeweler, 1060 Virginia avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed. The General Demand of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.
