

LOOK AT A KERNEL OF COFFEE

Break it and note how much of it is chaff. It is this chaff that contains the unpleasant astringent principle (tannin), on account of which coffee drinking does not agree with some people.

Barrington Hall The Steel Coffee

You will taste the difference in the first cupful. The chaff has been removed from this coffee by a wonderful steel-cutting process. Packed by machinery in sealed tins—it is the only pure coffee, free from dust and tannin-bearing chaff.

WEALTHY AGED MINER TELLS HIS STORY

TWO SAN FRANCISCO MEN SOUGHT TO STEAL HIS FORTUNE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—The story of James Goodwin, the wealthy aged miner, whom Sidney Danby and Jay O'Loane are accused of conspiring to murder for his fortune, that the two men raised checks on him has been substantiated by Dr. John S. Potts. According to Dr. Potts he was called to attend Goodwin on February 10. He found the old miner in a delirious condition due to over-indulgence in alcoholic stimulants. Dr. Potts treated the man until February 1, on which date he became thoroughly rational. While in this condition Goodwin told the physician that O'Loane and Danby had raised checks which he had given them from $25 to $2,500 and from $10 to $100. He also informed Dr. Potts that he was convinced that the two men were keeping him drunk to obtain his money. Goodwin was practically a physical wreck when he was brought down to police headquarters yesterday. He looked at the documents presented to him by the detectives and said:

"Yes that is my signature all right. I have been drunk for a long time. I sort of had an idea that these fellows were trying to get me to do something, but I could not figure out just what it was."

Sergeant Bonner asked him if he signed away his rights willingly.

"Do you think I am a fool?" he answered. "Why should I give away all I have worked so hard for to these men? No, by the eternal, I was drunk and did not know what I was doing."

When Mrs. O'Loane was placed under arrest the first words she uttered were:

"Tell me, is the old man dead? Is he dead?"

The detectives do not expect to find enough evidence to hold the woman, but they expect to obtain some valuable evidence from her before she is released.

CARBON SHEETS POISON.

California Typewriter Girl Made Sick By Handling Paper.

OAKLAND, Cal., March 3.—Suffering agonies from the poison which she contracted from handling typewriter carbon paper while she was a clerk in the Alameda County hall of records, Miss Elizabeth N. Rowe is facing possible invalidism for life at her home in Reno, Nev. For five months the girl suffered the ravages of a disease which the doctors were unable to diagnose. Finally a doctor who had learned the nature of her work declared that she was suffering from poisoning caused by handling carbon sheets. Dr. O. D. Hanlin, chief surgeon of the County Hospital, agrees with the Nevada specialist that the poison can be communicated by the manifold paper used by typists. The severity of Miss Rowe's case makes it exceptionally interesting and at the next meeting of the Alameda County Medical Association it will be discussed.

All of the physicians have heard of the case agree that users of the manifold paper should be very careful not to get the coloring matter in the throat or eyes.

NOT REVISE CONSTITUTION.

OLYMPIA, March 3.—The Senate today indefinitely postponed the bill fixing eight hours as a day's work for females. The Senate went on record as opposed to a convention to revise the constitution. Both Houses have passed an act forbidding marriage of habitual criminals, imbeciles or persons who have theretofore been afflicted with hereditary insanity. The local option measure went over in the House until tomorrow.

RICH ARE IMMUNE.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Diphtheria as a disease of the rich still exists, but diphtheria as a cause of death among the rich has almost ceased to exist.

This statement is made by Health Commissioner Evans in an analysis of the death from the disease during the past two weeks. Twenty nine deaths during that time from the disease all occurred in the comparatively poorer districts of the city.

DETECTIVES SWARM.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Private detectives swarm through the corridors of the federal building during the hearing of the Standard Oil case and some of them even penetrate into Judge Anderson's courtroom, stationing themselves more or less inconspicuously around the room. Each professional spotter has a particular person upon whom he is supposed to keep tab all the time, and the consequence is that there is hardly connected with the case who is not almost constantly "shadowed."

Mrs. Soper lives in Big Pond, Pa. It works wonders in Coughs and Colds, Sore Throats, Hemorrhages, La Grippe, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough and all Bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. MR. ROOSEVELT'S HUNT.

Luxurious Kit or His African Expedition.

From London Daily Mail.—When Mr. Roosevelt begins his East African big-game hunting expedition at the end of April, his equipment will be comprehensive and complete.

Apart from essentials, such as tents, guns and nearly 100 cases of tinned foods, 2 wagons were required the other day to take to a London railway station the incidentals of his kit. Messrs. Lawn and Alder, who are specialists in such equipment, have fitted out the expedition.

The ingenuity displayed in devising folding articles for the hunter is remarkable. The President will be able to sit outside his tent in a portable verandah that one native bearer will carry. He will have a collapsible bathroom; he will bathe in a folding bath. His wardrobe will fold up into an extraordinarily small space. His comfortable, easy chair will fall together into a neat parcel, like a conjuring trick; tables and ordinary chairs will do likewise.

His mirrors will fold up. Useful tools are arranged in small cases. Even the hunter's reading lamp will fold up, and canvas water bottles, when not in use, will "collapse," so that they may be carried in the pocket. Beds will fall at a touch into handy parcels.

The washstand can be folded up so that it looks like a suitcase.

The President's weapons will include a 12-bore shotgun, mainly to be used for replenishing the larder; a small bore rifle for ordinary game, and a 450-bore high velocity cordite rifle for elephants and other big game. He will also carry a revolver. Incidentals in the equipment of the President's party, which is to include his son, an expert guide, and two naturalists will be:

Tape measures, powders and soaps, field glasses, folding toilet-cases, compasses, mosquito nets, wading boots, cameras, sun helmets and soft hats.
