Scully Is Here—Dell B. Scully has arrived in the city on one of his itinerant tours and found plenty to welcome him. He is here in the interest of the Central Door & Lumber Company, of Portland. His smile is as broad and voice as loud as ever they were, and he still nurses a warm spot in his anatomy for old Astoria.

Grippe of the Grippe—Assistant Postmaster Astor Salvon who has been laid up for several days with an attack of la grippe, is mending rapidly and it is expected he will be at his desk in the federal building again today. Charles Hadix has succumbed to the current malady and is fighting strenuously to shake it off, with every promise of an early riddance.

In Probate Court—In probate court yesterday in the estate of Harry Tutjer, deceased, an order was made approving the final account of the administrator, Amos Brix, and ordering his discharge after a few final formalities have been complied with. The administrator is directed to send a balance of $2214 to the father, Wilhelm Tutjer, in Elizabeth, Germany, who is the only heir, and also to send him his dead son's watch.

Lads Have Scarletina—Little Walter and Herbert Ziegler, sons of Mr. and Mrs. G. Ziegler, aged 6 and 7, respectively, are sick with scarletina, and the Ziegler residence has been placed under quarantine. Where the little fellows caught the disease is a mystery, as none of their school companions, or other playmates, are ill with it. There has been more or less of the disease in the city all winter, breaking out at times. Mr. Ziegler is sort of "camping out" from the rest of the family and is enabled to attend to his work. He of course has no communication with the little chaps.

Vacation Next Week—There will be no school for the three last days of next week, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and there is a possibility, it is said, that the board of education may also grant a vacation for the full week. The last three days will be occupied with the county teachers' institute, and attendance is virtually mandatory upon the sessions of the institute. As to Monday and Tuesday it is said the board may possibly grant vacation on those days, especially if the teachers are well advanced in their work of preparing their exhibits for the Seattle exposition by the end of this week. If the exhibit work is not well advanced it is said that Monday and Tuesday will hardly be granted. A full week was granted for the Easter week vacation the past two years.

Man Run Over

As last night's A. & C. train was leaving the city limits of Portland a man got on the tracks and was run over. His legs were cut off below the knee. The train was delayed for a short time. The name of the injured man was not learned by the passengers or train crew. The train was running very slowly at the time.

Case Is Continued

The hearing of Otto Sivo, who is accused of assault with a deadly weapon in that he shot and wounded his friend Abel Hiltune in the thigh, was continued yesterday at the request of the attorney for Sivo, Mr. Fulton, who was about to leave the city for a day or two. It is said by those interested in the matter that Hiltune does not wish to prosecute the case, but efforts will be made to get at the bottom of the matter irrespective of his wishes. Hiltune has been placed under $150 bonds to appear as a witness, and Sivo is said to have told the whole story. The shooting is said to have occurred over a girl.

Many people who attend the moving picture shows perhaps often wonder just how the views are taken, and a long article in a recent number of the Desert News of Salt Lake City tells in great detail how one thrilling picture was taken. It was a scene of wild western life, and Lawrence Fritz, of the United States Film Company of Salt Lake was in charge of the operating machine. Mr. Fritz was formerly in charge of the Star Theatre in this city and is well remembered by many, who will be interested in knowing that he is now engaged in the moving picture work. The account of the matter in the Salt Lake paper is very readable, and tells how the whole picture was secured. It told of how one miner had attempted to kill another and had robbed him, how a posse followed the assassin and finally caught him, of a rope quickly procured and of an imminent lynching, how the presumably murdered man wasn't killed, but only stunned, and the whole thing ends with a pleasant denouement. It was Mr. Fritz who took the moving picture of the battleships when they appeared off this coast a year ago.

Action For Libel

Andrew Kallunki, formerly of this city, but now of South Aberdeen, has entered suit in the federal circuit court of Portland, against the editors of the Finnish newspaper, Toveri, of this city. The parties named in the complaint are Vaino Riippa and Richard Pesola, the latter of whom has left the paper for some time past and is now in other business. Service has not yet been made upon the editors, Messrs. Riippa and Ahde, the latter of whom has been with the paper but a few weeks. The allegations, as reported, have to do with the Kallunki's attitude toward the doctrine of Socialism, for which the Toveri stands primarily, and ardently, and the strictures alleged were quite severe, though they reached the paper by way of correspondence and did not originate with the paper, a matter that is likely to qualify the results of the suit very materially. The amount named and claimed is $5000. Another and quite distinct suit, in similar sum, has also been filed against Toveri by one Alex Janhonen, also of South Aberdeen, and upon practically the same charges. Neither of the gentlemen now in charge of the paper were with the paper at the time complained of, Mr. Riippa being in San Francisco at the time.

The Human Appetite

Of all the whimsical, shifting, unreliable, treacherous, exacting things in the world, the human appetite for the right thing to eat is, perhaps, the most unreasonable and imperious. There are those who humor it; others who defy it; and all men are more or less inclined to treat it with consideration. To find a place where these varying attitudes may be fostered, at the least cost in each case, and yet keep the appetite in proper and peaceful subjection, is always desirable information. One place that is conceded as perfectly adapted to this, is the Palace Restaurant, just opposite the Page building, on Commercial street, in this city. Try it once, and patronize it always; that is the rule of the Palace.

ALMERIN MONTGOMERY CALLED BY DEATH

AGED AND RESPECTED PIONEER OF CLATSOP DIED ON SUNDAY MORNING.

After 56 years of honorable, active and serviceable life in this city and county, Almerin Montgomery, one of the oldest and most respected of the Clatsop pioneer group, has departed to "that bourne whence no traveler returns." He breathed his last at his home, 352 Duane street, in this city at about 10 o'clock on Sunday morning last, after a very brief illness.

He attained to his 89th year on the 8th of January last, and save for the physical disturbances incident to that advanced age, he was remarkably free from all weakness and malady, and was peculiarly bright and active in all ways, his memory for names, dates, and facts being one of the remarkable evidences of his claim of upon health and strength mentally and physically. He was a native of Greenwich, Washington County, New York, and his life-trade was that of a cooper. In 1849 he went out to the then far west, to Iowa, and was married there, and where two of his children were born, the family being residents of the city of Burlington. He remained there until 1852 and then took the trail for wild and rugged west, the west of Oregon, then the lure of all able and ambitious men. They made the trip with an ox team and finished it in the fall of the same year.

Mr. Montgomery took up a donation land claim in this county in 1853 and started a home but had the unhappiness to lose wife and children before the home was well founded; then he came into Astoria and went to his old business of coopering and succeeded admirably. In 1860 he was elected sheriff of the county, being elected for four consecutive terms; after which he was appointed by the government as customs inspector here and served in that capacity very faithfully for 16 years.

In 1859 he married Miss Fannie Clark, with whom he lived most happily for over 40 years and who died some years ago leaving two children, John Montgomery, the well known contracting plumber of this city, and Mrs. Leo Noe, the latter of who preceded her father in death. About two years ago Mr. Montgomery wedded the lady who mourns him now, and it was to her devoted care and attention that his last days were made peaceful and comfortable as was the due of a man of ripe age. Beside the widow and Mr. John Montgomery, six grandchildren survive the patriarch, all residents of Astoria.

Mr. Montgomery was a life long Mason and belonged to Temple Lodge, No. 7, A. F. & A. M., of this city, under whose auspices he was laid to rest yesterday afternoon, the funeral taking place from the family home, at 4 o'clock. The remains will be sent to the metropolis this morning, and will be disposed there by incineration today, in conformity with his life-long desire.

Mr. Montgomery enjoyed the friendship and affection of a wide circle of friends in this section of Oregon, and was universally respected by all men who knew him, and his death accentuates the passing of the very distinctive group of nation-builders, whose numbers are growing swiftly fewer day by day.

SAME OLD CLAP-TRAP.

CHICAGO, April 19.—"When two fall in love, these two souls have met and loved each other in past lives. That is the solution of many of the strange matings among men and women." So says Mr. Jinarajadasa of Colombo, Ceylon, who is here to give a series of free lectures for the Chicago Theosophical Society. "Another proof of re-incarnation," he says, "is found in the strong antipathies people form for each other. Instinctively some men and some women repel us. We are at a loss to understand this until we realize that we have known them in other lives, and that this antipathy is the result of indirect memory."

WILL GO TO MOMBASSA.

MOMBASSA, April 19.—A cablegram has been received here from Theodore Roosevelt changing his plan not to stop en route to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease. Mr. Roosevelt has accepted the invitation of the Mombassa Club to attend a dinner and will stay ten days on the coast before going up the country.

America and was sent to the pro-Cathedral in Mott Street where the funeral took place a few days later, and where it was designated that the great candle should burn continuously in memory of the slain officer.

But threats to dynamite the church if the candle was kept there were received, and it was hurriedly returned to the firm which made it. It now awaits the disposal of the widow who is making arrangements to have it sent to her husband's birthplace in Italy and there enshrined.

The candle is nine feet high and three feet six inches in circumference. It weighs 178 pounds and is almost completely covered with fourteen carat gold leaf. Its composition is Austrian beeswax to which a slow burning substance has been added. It cost $350 and is the present of the manufacturers in whose home Petrosino lived when a boy. They computed that it would burn within ten hours of four years and seven months.
