

THE ACADEMY EXERCISES

Commencement Exercises of St. John's Academy Were Largely Attended and a Fine Program Was Rendered---Address and Presentation of Diplomas by Bishop Shanley.

The commencement exercises of St. John's Academy occurred in the opera house Tuesday evening. The exercises were unusually interesting and entertaining from the beginning. There were two graduates, Misses Mary Elizabeth Fitzgerald and Mary Teresa Portz.

The program opened with an overture "Titus", three pianos being used by six players. The number was very pleasing and the performers evidenced great proficiency.

An essay "My Favorite Poets", by Miss Portz, one of the graduates, evidenced that she was familiar with the writings of the great poets. The essay was carefully prepared and was intensely interesting. Miss Portz was given quite an ovation by her numerous friends in the audience.

"Song Without Words" was rendered by four players, performing on two pianos and was very fine.

"The Master's Lesson", a recitation by Miss Walsh was given in a very satisfactory manner. Miss Walsh has a voice well-suited for recitation work and it was under perfect control Tuesday evening.

Miss Guilford gave two piano solos "Moment Musical" and "Mouvement de Valse" which were highly enjoyable.

"On Rosy Wings the Summer Comes", a vocal duet by Misses Higgins and Smith was encored and the singers responded.

Miss McGuire's piano solos "Poeme Erotique" and "Valse Scherzo" showed that she was a performer of more than ordinary ability.

"Minuetto" and "Parting" by four players on two pianos was an excellent number.

The Academy Juniors presented a Spanish drill. The young people gave the drill in a graceful manner and their instructor is entitled to a great deal of credit for the excellent training given them.

After a short intermission Misses Baldwin and Portz gave "Introduction at Gavotte," a piano duet, which was very enjoyable.

"Gab," a recitation was given by Harry Lieber. It was a humorous selection and was given very nicely.

Piano solos, "Venetian Barcolle" and "Pas des Ampores" were given by Miss Portz and enjoyed very much.

The valedictory was given by Miss Fitzgerald. She referred to the sorrow she felt over leaving her old schoolmates, her gratefulness to the Academy teachers, who had looked after her interests so well, and altogether it was an interesting effort.

"The Beautiful Snow," a spectacular drill, was given by the academy seniors and was one of the best numbers on the program. The drill is a very graceful affair representing the falling of snow and the idea was carried out very nicely by the class.

"Tyrolienne," by six players on three pianos, was an excellent selection of music.

Miss Baldwin rendered "Cavatina," a violin selection. As usual her playing was faultless and pleasing.

"Bridal Chorus From 'Lohengrin'" was well rendered by the vocal class and the entertainment closed with a selection on two pianos by four players, which was excellent.

Those who took part in the ensemble selections were: Mary Atwood, Laura McGuire, Caroline Baldwin, Violet Guilford, Goldie McRoberts, Mary Portz, Margaret Severn, Annabel Klaus, Florence McPhee, Blanche Brownwell, Mary Gaffney, Nellie Higgins, Ruby McFadden, Lela Smith, Katherine Chisholm, Rose Wallin, Gerard Lieber, Joseph Blewett, Ed. Spurling.

The graduation medals were presented by Bishop Shanley of Fargo. He stated that it gave him a great deal of pleasure to be allowed the privilege of giving the medals to the graduates. The academy was started 12 years ago and he had felt anxious at that time as to its future. Times were hard, money was scarce and the outlook was anything but encouraging when the good Sisters accepted his in-itation to open the school. There were struggles during the succeeding years but success had crowned the efforts of those in charge of the institution. The first year the school was opened two very little girls came to the institution. They were very little girls and started in to learn to read.

All the education they had acquired has been secured at the academy and the speaker said he felt delighted to be present to assist at the graduation of the pupils named. They seemed to him to be a link between the present days of prosperity and the first days of adversity. The speaker was delighted with the work that had been accomplished in the academy. It had drawn people from all over the state and probably makes the city best known of any institution located here.

It was true that the city had a state institution, the asylum, which interested politicians when an appropriation was asked but it was doubtful if it gave the city the advertising that the academy did. The speaker desired on behalf of the Sisters to thank the citizens of the city who had helped to make the academy a success and who have stood by its interests so loyally.

On the conclusion of his address, Bishop Shanley presented the graduation medals to Misses Fitzgerald and Portz. He also presented additional medals as follows:

Gold medal for best essay on Columbus, presented by Rev. J. A. McDonald, merited Eva Louise Jones.

Gold medal for Christian doctrine, presented by Rev. W. A. Gallahue, merited by Mary Teresa Portz.

Certificates for the Palmer method of business penmanship given by A. N. Palmer to Mary Portz, Mary Fitzgerald, Caroline Baldwin, Eva Jones, Ruby McFadden, Alice McCanna, Florence McPhee, Laura Maguire, Annie Bertell, Margaret Severn, Ellen Boyle, Katie Smith, Annie Smith, Amelia Bruhn, Goldie McRoberts, Helena Steinbach, Mary Denison, Kathleen Morris, Mary L. Walsh, Ethel McRoberts, Rose Wallin, Rosalia Kuppersmith.

The graduating medals conferred on Mary Elizabeth Fitzgerald and Mary Teresa Portz were given by Father McPhee.

Besides the Jamestown people who attended the exercises, there were many from other towns and cities who were here. There were many comments on the high class entertainment given, evidencing as it did the broad plan of education in the leading young ladies school in North Dakota.

School at the academy closed Tuesday. It was the most successful year in the history of the institution. There were 52 boarders enrolled in the institution last year. This year there were 110. Last year there were 123 day pupils in the academy. This year there were 165.

The pupils from out of the city left on trains Wednesday for their homes.

BLINDPIGGING ALLEGED

Charles Rainey Charged With Running a Blind Pig in a Poolroom at Courtenay.

Charles Rainey was arrested Monday at Courtenay and brought to Jamestown, charged with selling intoxicating liquors. The sheriff arrived with him Monday evening. The complaint in the case was made by Chris Lindseth, who was sent to the county jail from Courtenay a few days ago to serve a sentence of 15 days for carrying concealed weapons. When arraigned in Justice Pearson's court, Rainey furnished a bond of $300 and was released.

When in court he presented the following petition signed by several prominent Courtenay residents:

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Courtenay, believe that justice will be justified in discharging the defendant, Charles E. Rainey, for the offense charged for the reason that he has conducted as quiet a place as possible under the circumstances, that he was absent from town on the day of said trouble; that it can be proved that the complaining witnesses were intoxicated when they came into his place of business and that the complaining witnesses are not responsible parties and are making the complaint in a spirit of revenge."

Rainey runs a pool room at Courtenay and claims that there is no truth in the charge made by the man in jail. He states that Lindseth had a row with the man in charge of the pool room and made the complaint to get even.

Rainey's hearing was set for Friday at 10 a. m.

EDGELEY EXTENSION.

A. L. Riley of St. Cloud Has Contract to Grade Edgeley Extension.

A. R. Riley, a railroad contractor of St. Cloud has contracted to do some new work on the branch of the Northern Pacific to extend from Dawson, on the main line of the system, to Edgeley, on the Fargo and Southwestern, a distance of seventy odd miles. It is generally reported in railroad circles that the line which will be built this season will be the connecting link eventually between the main line and the so-called Milnor branch of the Northern Pacific which finds its way back to the main line at Wadena, passing through Wahpeton, Fergus Falls, Henning and other towns. It is also said that the new line will checkmate a proposed extension of the Milwaukee system.

KANGAROO COURT.

Another phase of the baseball controversy developed last night when one of the leading traveling men who participated in the game Sunday last, was summoned to appear before a "justice" to answer to the charge of "playing ball on Sunday, hollering and making loud noises." There were a number of spectators in the room, an attorney, and numerous witnesses. The justice after hearing the charge entered up a fine for several items of sheriff's fees, justice fees and other fees amounting to about $15, which the attorney argued eloquently should be, in part at least, remitted, as it was the accused's first offense. The defendant admitted playing ball but said that he did not "holler or make loud noises". The warrant was served on a duly prepared blank and the entire proceedings took on the air of great solemnity and decorum. After the fine had been abated to the sum of $4.50 and the defendant had paid the fine, the court adjourned to another place and proceeded to expound the fine in various ways. The defendant was invited to appear and join in the ceremonies of the occasion but, when he learned that the proceedings had been held in a kangaroo court, he declined to have anything more to do with the party and could not be induced to appear on the festive scene under any circumstances.

HIS CONDITION SERIOUS

Fears Are Expressed That J. W. Anderson of the N. P. Cannot Recover.

He Has Been Obligated to Have His Leg Amputated at the Hip.

Faulty Amputation Near the Ankle Caused All The Trouble.

John Anderson, formerly of Fargo and for some time timekeeper at the N. P. shops at Jamestown, is reported to be in a very critical condition as a result of carelessness in the amputation of a leg. Mr. Anderson had a foot injured while boarding a train near the headquarters building in Jamestown some time ago so that amputation was necessary just above the ankle. It seems that a piece of his sock remained in the wound and blood poisoning set in.

The other day his leg was again amputated at the hip but not much hope is entertained of his recovery. John was a member of Company B while in Fargo and the boys all liked him. They will send him a bouquet of flowers at the Brainerd hospital where he is being treated.
