RINGLING BROS. TO EXHIBIT IN CITY JULY 24

Famous Circus to be Shown Here—Will Spend Sunday in the City.

For the first time in several years Grand Forks is to harbor a circus on Sunday. This year Ringling Brothers will bring their aggregation to this city on Sunday and the following day, Monday, July 24, the regular engagement, which includes two performances, afternoon and evening, and a street parade in the morning, will be played here.

Interest centers this year in the new spectacle with which the performance is opened. The best loved fairly tale, "Cinderella," has been chosen as the theme, and in six massive scenes given on the largest portable stage in existence the story of the glass slipper is told. A ballet of 300 dancing girls appear in the ball room scene, and a clown ballet for the kiddies is another innovation.

Much attention is given the circus program which follows the circus, and instead of being curtailed it has been increased in length this year. The stellar acts include the Josephson Gilma troupe of Icelandic wrestlers; the Riding Loyds, bareback riders of England; Antonio Zingaro and his troupe of riding gypsies from Spain; Lily Leitzel, Berlin's most popular gymnast, and the Janelys, French jugglers of human beings.

The European war has allowed the Ringlings to select the most popular and new foreign acts, and the alien entertainers among the performers number more this year than ever before.

Of course the menagerie still remains a feature, and the parade is another tried and true circus day adjunct that is never omitted. An idea of the magnitude of the circus this year is obtained from this list of figures: 1,250 actors and 735 horses in the spectacle; 400 circus acts in the circus program; 105 cages and 1,003 animals in the menagerie; 41 trained elephants, 36 camels, six giraffes, a hippo and a rhinoceros in the animal department; 89 railroad cars, and 13 acres of canvas.

M'KENZIE QUILTS INSURANCE CO.

Commercial Mutual Loses Secretary; to be Cashier of Brocket Bank.

D. W. McKenzie, who has been secretary of the Commercial Mutual Fire Insurance company of this city for the past thirteen years, has resigned and will go to Brocket immediately, where he assumes the cashiership of the Brocket State bank.

Mr. McKenzie was one of the founders of the company, C. H. Opsahl being president; John E. Paulson of Hillsboro vice president, and Senator A. J. Gronna of Lakota treasurer. He has been active in building up the business and the directors and stockholders regret to see him go, but wish him every success in his new field.

Members of Mr. McKenzie's family will probably move to their new home in about a month.

Gordon Gray, who was with the Robertson Lumber company here for several years, will be the new secretary of the Commercial Mutual. Mr. Gray has a wide acquaintance and his ability will undoubtedly be a big asset to the company.

Again we say the case of Mexico should be settled before Europe's war ends.

STIRRING SCENES IN JENNINGS DRAMA

"Beating Back," a photoplay founded upon the confessions of Al Jennings, one-time outlaw, which appeared in The Saturday Evening Post, is the attraction at the Theater Royal Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Masked men holding up a train, blowing the strong box in the express car, lining up the passengers beside the train and then making a getaway with an exciting chase by a posse form one of the exciting episodes in the play, the photoplay of outlawry and reform in which Al Jennings personally appears. Jennings is seen in the forefront of the robber band in this picture and also in another hold-up of an essay office.

The pursuit following the first robbery falls, though at one time Jennings escapes the detectives only through help of girls at a ball. He and his brother are shown slipping away and boarding a vessel in their dress suits and bribing the skipper to take them to South America. It proved the undoing of Al Jennings—outlaw—but the beginning of the newer and better life that was to make a useful citizen of him. His capture, imprisonment, pardon, struggle to redeem himself and finally his campaign for governor furnish unusual and interesting pictures.

JUNGLE COMEDIES FOR METROPOLITAN

Arrangements Completed for Famous Series—"The Unwritten Law" to Be Seen Here.

The Metropolitan theater has made arrangements for the exclusive rights to showing the E. & R. Jungle Comedies. These films feature the clever Apes, Napoleon and Sally, who played the Orpheum theaters at a salary of $1,000 per week. The Metropolitan had the contract for these films 48 hours after the Exchange in Minneapolis announced that they had purchased them.

One of the greatest feature films that has been on the market in the past year is "The Unwritten Law," in almost all cases it has had an extended run. For instance in Minneapolis it was shown for one week but it was eleven days before the Lyric theater changed their program. This great picture will be shown at the Metropolitan theater for a short engagement starting Monday, July 10.

RED SOX WIN FROM THOMPSON SUNDAY

The Grand Forks Red Sox defeated Thompson yesterday 4-2. Bliven pitched for the local club and struck out thirteen men and was only touched for three scattered hits. O'Connell did the catching.

The Red Sox play at Manvel tomorrow in a double header and will take a strong lineup with them. Royer and O'Connell will be the battery in the first game.

MAN IS DROWNED IN JAMES RIVER

Boat Overturns and He is Tipped into Stream—Body is Found.

Jamestown, N. D., July 3.—F. E. Esterbrook, an electrician, was drowned in the James river while boating at Klaus park. He was in the company of several other men who were bathing and who at this time were in a boat in the middle of the river at a point about twenty rods south of the bridge which crosses the river at Wisconsin street. The boat overturned and he was tipped out with the rest, but as all had their bathing suits on, it was not considered serious until he came up the second time and asked for help. He went down again and then the others called for help, and meanwhile tried to find the body.

L. W. Uphaw, the playground director, was some distance down the river and he, with several others, came immediately and dove for the body. For an hour the men who gathered there were engaged in diving and searching for the body. Ted Berner, son of Superintendent Berner of the Northern Pacific, found the body as he was swimming at the point where Esterbrook had first gone down. As-isted by Uphaw, he brought the body to the shore. Meanwhile Drs. Wood & Gerrish had been summoned and they were waiting with the pulmotor when the body was pulled out of the water. The attempt was immediately made to resuscitate the young man, but after some time it was believed that there was no hope that he could be helped. The event is especially sad on account of the fact that this is the first time the young man has been away from home, according to statements. His home was in Minneapolis, and he is stated that he has a father and mother in that city. He was employed here by the superintendent who has charge of the installing of the new switchboards for the telephone company.

Fifty-three years ago the battle of Gettysburg began. It lasted three days, and proved to be the turning point in favor of saving the union.
