THE SOHO GREATLY CHANGED BY WAR. London, July 18—Changed in many ways is London since the war began, but nowhere is the transformation more marked than in the cosmopolitan district called Soho, in the west end, within a stone's throw of Piccadilly Circus. Soho is not the bustling, more or less lawless, district that it was before the war. The great change has made it quiet, almost lifeless, for Frenchmen, Belgians, Italians, Germans and Austrians who had their home in Soho have gone.

The change is even more pronounced in Charlotte street. The German chemists, German laundries, German restaurants, German clubs and German paper shops have gone. There was even a Christliche Kollherheim (a home for Christian waiters). It is closed now, there are no German waiters. German books have been moved from the bookellers' windows, and certain shopkeepers are willing to announce that they are French or Belgian firms.

London, July 18.—In 1915 London's population will have increased to 6,000,000. Arthur Crow, a leading architect, told the Royal Society of Arts while outlining plans for housing so many people, to provide comfortable quarters for such a population would require 1,040 square miles, allowing 80 persons to the acre for the whole of London. But his fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh sons shall be sent to England to be educated under the direction of Yen Hui, former minister of education. His next four sons will be entrusted to Hsu Shi-kai, former secretary of state.

According to old Chinese customs and practices, the family and the kinsmen of the late president were sacrificed to the spirit of the deceased. Among the things sacrificed were paper launches, carriages, automobiles and images of maid-servants and man-servants. And in order to quiet the departed soul of the late chief executive in the shades large numbers of Lam-tai, the late president's favorite, were put in the water and hung up in front of Hual-jen-tang, where the coffin is lying in state. From morning to evening, government officials in the metropolis offered their sacrifices and paid their respects by bowing down three times to the deceased without prostration.

MAY CHANGE PARTY NAME. Hints of the Prohibitionist

Change are Made by Hines in Address. St. Paul, July 18.—Hints of a change in the name of the prohibition party, which opens its national convention here tomorrow, were contained in the address by which Virgil G. Hineshaw, chairman of the prohibition national committee, today called to order a "get together" meeting.

"Eighteen months ago a call was issued from prohibition national headquarters which read, in part: 'We call to bring all voters and citizens of America together into one national conference, who believe in a political party committed by state and national platform declarations to the complete overthrow of the liquor traffic.'

"This call was signed by one hundred persons, including some of the foremost citizens of the land. It was signed by Ben B. Lindsey, the famous juvenile judge; by ex-Governor Eugene N. Foss, three times governor of the Massachusetts commonwealth; by Governor Arthur Capper of Kansas; by ex-Governor Hodges and ex-Governor St. John of Kansas; by Thomas Wilson, ex-consul to Havana and Brazil; by the late E. L. Tamm, four years attorney general of Connecticut; by Ira Landtrich, president of the World's Y. M. C. A. convention; by Wm. W. Phelps, secretary of the World's Christian Endeavor; by J. W. Bryan, congressman from Washington; and Charles H. Randall, congressman from southern California.

"The purpose of the call was to bring into one political organization all voters and citizens of the nation who are in favor of the prohibition of the liquor traffic."

"During the past four years there has been carried on a supreme effort to obtain the enactment of five million voters of the nation, a list of such candidates and political party stands committed by state and national platforms to the prohibition of the liquor traffic. The names of voters have been enlisted. Men high and low, from every walk of life have come to our rescue. Professor Irving Fisher of Yale organized his committee of six, and has said: 'Whenever a political party prefers the liquor traffic above the public health, morals and efficiency, such party is unworthy of the support of the people. Belonging to this committee are David Star Jordan, ex-Governor J. Frank Hanly, Governor Arthur Capper, Wm. Allen French, ex-Governor E. J. Cannon and the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon. This committee represents a part of the great five million movement.

"The three of the other political parties in the national convention have turned down the committee of six; turned down the world's general conference of the great Methodist church; turned down the millions of voters who sought either in person or by representation the adoption of a prohibition plank.

"The one party today that stands committed by both state and national platform declaration to the prohibition of the liquor traffic, that party is the prohibition party. Hence the names of the party are alive for the hundreds of thousands who have come to us, either to support the prohibition party or engage in the formation of a new party.

"And it is for this conference to decide what it will do. There are thousands who believe that the name 'prohibition' is not a party name, and improvement is hereby declared necessary, and that a special assessment be levied upon the property benefited by said improvement to pay for the same, and that notice be given by the city auditor by certified mail, return to be published in the official newspaper for two consecutive weeks; that the city council will meet in the Council Chamber at the City Hall at 10:30 o'clock a. m. on the 26th day of July, A. D. 1916, at which time the city engineer or any persons interested in said matter who may have any objections thereto, may present the same, and that notice be given an opportunity to be heard at such time and place.

Attest: (Seal.) J. A. DINNIE, Mayor. W. H. Alexander, City Auditor. (July 11-18.)

Garage Building. Sealed proposals will be received by E. J. Leal, Co., at the office at Grand Forks, North Dakota, until 2 o'clock on July 19, 1916, for the construction of a garage building, 15 ft. by 14 ft., two stories and basement.

General Contract. Heating Contract. Electric Wiring Contract. The owner and the architect reserve the right to reject or accept any proposal.
