

MGR. CONSIDINE DIED THIS A. M.

Aged Priest, Pastor of Minto Church, Succumbs at St. Michael's Hospital.

Mgr. John W. Considerine, aged 68, for many years pastor of the Roman Catholic church at Minto, N. D., succumbed shortly after midnight this morning following a stroke of paralysis. Father Considerine has been ill at St. Michael's hospital for the past three years and several times was feared that he would not recover, but each relapse was followed by a rally until last evening, when he sank rapidly.

He is survived by a brother living in New York and a niece in Brandon, Minn. It is expected that word will be received from these relatives today.

Mgr. Considerine came to North Dakota in 1879, becoming pastor of the Roman Catholic church at Minto. Until four years ago he remained in active charge of that parish, but was forced to drop his duties because of ill health, coming to St. Michael's hospital where he has remained ever since.

John W. Considerine was ordained as a priest on February 21, 1880. He was the first priest to be ordained for the vicariate of North Dakota and he celebrated his first mass on April 17, 1880, in the old church of the Assumption at Pembina. The congregation was comprised mostly of Indians and half breeds, with only a few whites.

After six months at Pembina, he was transferred to St. Patrick's church at Minto where he remained until three years ago when he was the victim of a stroke of paralysis. He was confined and declared a prelate of the Pontifical household with the title of Monsignor, by Pope Pius X on Aug. 25, 1911, in recognition of his labors among the old settlers and the Indian tribes.

When he was taken ill three years ago he was removed to St. Michael's hospital in this city, where he has been cared for ever since. Father Considerine suffered a second stroke late last night which resulted in his death.

The funeral services will be held from St. Michael's pro-cathedral next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, but as yet no details have been arranged. A large delegation of priests from every section of the northwest will probably be present to assist with the last rites.

NICKELS and DIMES. A young man of our acquaintance smokes on the average at least five nickel cigars a day. He spends on the average at least three times a week for "Moving Pictures." That's $2.05 a week—$106.60 a year and in ten years $1,066—without including interest on the money, which in itself would amount to a neat sum.

That shows the accumulative value of Nickels and Dimes. A business of your own, a home of your own—and many other ambitious worth while can be realized by saving instead of wasting. MERCHANTS TO KEEP OPEN SHOP close their stores on any of the days during the Grand Forks Fair, according to an announcement made today. This decision was reached, following a conference of the business men of the city who have discussed the advisability of closing shop for one half day in order to permit the employees to attend the event.

The situation has been thoroughly viewed and it is believed that by permitting the employees to attend the fair on certain days, without closing shop, and by permitting only a portion of the force to attend at a specified time, more benefit will be derived by the fair, than would otherwise be the case. It is believed by the merchants that if the stores are closed, it will be of little benefit to the fair, as many of the clerks would form picnic parties and spend the holiday in the parks or on auto trips.

The clerks who really wish to attend the fair, will be given an opportunity to do so, according to the decision reached, and it is the wish of the business men that their employees take advantage of an opportunity to enjoy the event.

The accommodation to out-of-town customers is also considered in the decision of the merchants who believe that those who wish to make purchases on any day, should be taken care of. Residents from every section of the state will be here to attend the fair, and as Grand Forks is the shopping center of the northwest, many of these will wish to make purchases. It will be necessary to keep the shops open to accommodate these people, although it will be possible to do so with a smaller force than under ordinary conditions.

LIGHTNING STRIKES B.O. SORBO RESIDENCE

Bolt Hit House—But Does No Damage—Crash Heard for Blocks Around—House is Vacant.

In the electrical storm of last evening the residence of Deputy Sheriff B. O. Sorbo on Eighth avenue, between Cottonwood and Cherry streets, was struck by lightning, but very little damage was done. The house is vacant and was recently moved to that location.

The crash was so loud that the residents of that section for several blocks around were startled and many who were seated on the front porches of their homes, scattered for shelter. When the bolt struck the building, it sounded as though a mammoth glass window had been dashed to pieces.

CASE BEFORE COOLEY TODAY

Patterson Carnival Co. Asks That Previous Judgment be Set Aside.

John Koffler and James Patterson of the Patterson Carnival company, defendants in the action brought by L. B. Baskin and Ruby Baskin, are appearing before Judge Cooley of the district court today in their petition to have the verdict of the court which favored the plaintiffs, set aside.

When the Patterson shows appeared in Grand Forks a year ago, the plaintiffs severed their relations with the company and it is alleged that they were unable to collect their amount amounting to $90. The matter was taken before the justice court, where the evidence of both parties was heard by a jury. A verdict favoring the plaintiffs was returned, but the defendants appealed to the district court. In January, the district court upheld the action of the justice court. The defendants now ask that the verdict be set aside and that they be released from the obligation of settling the account.

Attorney Tracy Bangs is representing the carnival company, while Attorney J. B. Wineman is handling the case for the plaintiffs.

MRS. J. C. OLSON DIED TUESDAY

Former Resident of this City and Sister of Mrs. L. K. Hassell Succumbs.

Word was received this morning from Scandinavia, Wis., telling of the death of Mrs. J. C. Olson, sister of Mrs. L. K. Hassell of this city. Death came late last evening, while Mrs. Hassell was at the bedside, having just arrived in Scandinavia in response to a message which had informed her of the serious illness of her sister.

Mrs. Olson had been ill for the past six months, but her condition was not considered serious until the past few weeks. Hopes had been entertained for her recovery until this week when she suffered a relapse.

The deceased was 53 years old. She was married to J. C. Olson in Grand Forks about 30 years ago and for several years they resided at Auburn, near Grafton, N. D. About 20 years ago they moved to Scandinavia, Wis., where they have resided ever since.

Mrs. Olson was well known throughout this section of the northwest and visited here on several occasions during the past few years.

Mrs. Hassell will remain in Scandinavia until after the funeral services. Arrangements have not been completed, but it is expected that interment will be made in that city.

OFFICIALS SEARCH FOR FARGO THIEVES

State Fair Visitors Lose About $500 to Robbers Who Pick Pockets in Bath Parlors.

Grand Forks officials today are searching for thieves who picked the pockets of patrons of the Fargo Turkish bath parlors last evening, stealing about $500, considerable jewelry and other valuables. The victims of the thieves were Fargo visitors, who were in the city to attend the state fair.

It was believed that the thieves were headed for Grand Forks, but efforts to locate them have been futile and it is now feared that they have escaped to other cities.

The heaviest individual loss amounted to about $100. The valuables and money were taken from the clothing of the patrons of the parlors who were undergoing the various processes of the baths.

NO TRACE OF MALADY IN CITY CLAIMS DEAN

Report Circulated That Three Cases Have Been Discovered—No Reports Have Been Made.

The report that has been circulated about the city that three cases of infantile paralysis exist in Grand Forks is absolutely untrue, according to Dr. Alfred Dean, city health physician.

Dr. Dean declares that not even a trace of the malady has been discovered and that there need be no fear of an epidemic in this city. Just how the reports were started cannot be determined, but all efforts to discover any facts have been futile.

If any cases exist in Grand Forks, they have not been reported to the health department.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS FRIDAY

Bids will be Opened for new High School Building to be Constructed Here.

A special session of the Grand Forks school board will be held on Friday at the city hall when several important matters relative to the construction of a new high school for Grand Forks will be taken up. Bids will be opened for the general building contract and it is expected that the lowest bidder will be given the contract.

The Gray Construction company to whom the first contract was awarded, has announced that they will present a second bid, the price not known whether or not other firms will bid for the work, but efforts have been made to interest many contractors.

The first contract called for the construction of a building for a compensation of approximately $149,000 but owing to litigation which lasted for about one year, the successful bidder refused to proceed with the work at the price named, necessitating the calling for further bids.

It is now believed that the cost of the structure will be increased by $25,000 although the figures can be obtained until the bids are opened.

The Healy Plumbing company, who hold the contract for the installation of the heating, plumbing and ventilating systems, will proceed with the work but have announced that they will endeavor to collect their losses through litigation.

EAST GRAND FORKS

EAST SIDE COMMUNITY PICNIC IS BIG EVENT

J. R. Johnson, has provided the means for financing the big affair, while a committee on Sport Events, consisting of G. A. Nelson, Angus McDonald, and L. E. Von Berg, has arranged the amusement features. Will Cummings, of the Mallory club, has assisted greatly in securing the co-operation of that organization.

This afternoon home talent amusements are the order of the day. There is the clown, for instance. This is a new wrinkle with their cleverness which is immensely popular. The hilarious provoking person in those spanked togs is no advance guard of Ringling Bros. Not at all, children! That man is none other than Angus McDonald. He didn't want us to tell, but "we went and done it."

The trapeze artist, whose contortions are the marvel of the beholders, is also a local man. Wm. Kimball of East Grand Forks, was induced by the committee to set up his ropes, and his agility was unanimously acclaimed the equal of those of any professional.

AMUSEMENT CARD AN EXCELLENT ONE

McDonald's Trained Animals to Take Prominent Part.

All roads lead to the Charles Ryan grove, two miles south of East Grand Forks, today. The heavy rains of last evening which deluged the country east and north of the city are not keeping the crowds away from the East Grand Forks Community Picnic which is the big event in western Polk county today.

The only effect of last evening's storm seems to have been merely that of delaying the arrival of cars and rigs from the outlying sections, but even these were beginning to pour into the spacious grounds during the dinner hour and after.

Every indication points to the presence of hundreds, if not thousands of picnickers before the afternoon is very far advanced. The speakers and spattered auditors are bringing the folk of the several neighboring towns and cities and from far-away country districts.

Ideal Picnic Place.

The Ryan grove is an ideal place for the Community Picnic. Not only is the location convenient and the spot well chosen, but there are historic associations connected with the grounds which were recalled by many of the old timers on the place this morning. The Red Lake river makes a large loop at the Ryan place. On the enclosed land lies the tract of beautifully wooded land which is now used by the picnickers. The speakers stand and the refreshment booths are placed under the oldest grove of spruce and pine trees in this section.

Immediately in front, there is a large open place making an ideal place for the baseball grounds, while McDonald's Horse and Dog show, and the Trappee paraphernalia, are tucked away under another grove.

The present location of the baseball diamond was formerly planted to watermelons and muskmelons, say the old settlers. In 1871 some of the finest melons obtainable in this section were grown there, and one of the prominent business men of East Grand Forks admitted that as a boy here over 35 years ago, he used to yield to the temptation which somehow so often troubles little boys who find themselves in the vicinity of melon patches.

It is not surprising, therefore, that the fact that there might be a migration not only of boys, but of negroes to this particular section, Chas. Ryan thinks he would plant melons there again next year for the benefit of the picnickers.

Many Fine Features.

At any rate, the second Community Picnic, financed and managed by the business men of East Grand Forks, is presenting features of unusual merit and interest.

Every agency in town has entered enthusiastically into the cooperative effort. The Commercial club executive committee, headed by Prof. Von Berg, has had the assistance of the Farmers' Clubs of Mallory and Key West. The finance committee of the club, consisting of R. Ammons and
