WOMEN POLICE MAKE GOOD IN LONDON

London, July 22.—Women police are making good according to the chief officer of the Women Police Force. They are employed in munition factories very largely to search the ingoing and outgoing women workers for contraband, keep order in trains, to inspect passports and to patrol the lanes and yards. They get $10 weekly with railway fares, and receive thirteen dollars and inspectors twelve dollars. The chief officer says school teachers are particularly wanted for the force as they can be trusted admirably for police duties which require good temper, patience and tact with firmness.

The girls in the factories appear to be very fond of the women police and the government is asking for more to be appointed at various munitions works throughout the country.

Will some Progressive notification committee kindly notify John Parker of New Orleans that the Progressive party is not running for the vice presidency?
