5,000,000 PRISONERS IN FOREIGN CAMPS

Dr. John R. Mott.

New York, Aug. 15.—More than 5,000,000 prisoners, double the number of men engaged in any previous war that the world has known, are now confined in prison camps of the warring nations of Europe, according to a statement of Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A.

"I found," Dr. Mott said, "that reports as to the treatment that prisoners were receiving have been greatly exaggerated. In all countries the prisoners receive virtually the same food and care that the armies of the respective countries do. Everything possible is done for their comfort and health."

The organization of which Dr. Mott is general secretary is doing all it can for the prisoners in the camps and at present there are forty-five American secretaries working among the various armies. "We have been accorded all the co-operation and assistance we could reasonably expect by all the countries except Turkey, which as yet we have not been permitted to enter."

Kelly, whereby she is given possession of Dorothy May Bruce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bruce, 1204 Cheyenne Ave. The child, who was presented as it was alleged that the child had been deserted by the father and that the mother was unable to properly support it.

London, Aug. 3.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) One by one the great war has whittled down a whole list of comforts, services, pleasures and so-called necessities of life that the twentieth century thought indispensable. But grumbling is heard now that the people have adjusted themselves to the changed conditions.

Two years ago the English people were all travelers. The magic carpet lay waiting outside the door of the humblest citizen with a ten-pound note. A week's lovely Lucerne for five pounds was within the ambition of the poorest worker. At Christmas winter-sport holiday makers packed the English chalet boats even more than they were packed at Easter or in the summer. For two years now not a single Englishman or Englishwoman, unless strictly business only, has been able to leave these shores for the continent. Two years ago the Londoner could compare Baulgong or Ostend with the trite familiar towns, have become as far off as Lhasa or Yarkand.

Some travel, too, has suffered. Seventeen cross-country train services have disappeared. The people who live on these routes are experiencing restrictions of movement tighter than those that kept at home their ancestors of the stage-coach days.

Main line services have been cut down so gradually that people scarcely realize how much they have been curtailed. They have become used to few and crowded long-distance services. People are more discontented and delays that a few years ago would have sent fuming letters to the managements and the newspapers. People have schooled themselves to travel as little as possible; are content to wait indefinitely for delivery of goods; are waiving—in millions—their annual vacations.

ARMY FLIERS ARE SENT TO COLUMBUS. San Diego, Cal., Aug. 15.—Six army fliers who recently qualified for the rank of junior military aviator received orders from the war department to be sent to Columbus, N. M., to join the first aero squadron under the command of Captain Benjamin D. Foulois.

ITALY'S BOY SCOUTS TO TAKE WAR PART. Rome, via Paris, Aug. 15.—Italy's Boy Scouts are to have their share in the war. The minister of war has called out all the boys belonging to the organization for service until schools open in October. The scouts will be divided into two classes. Boys over 15, with their parents' permission, will do duty in the war zone as guards at railroad stations and depots. Those younger will be enrolled in the territorial service, to be stationed at hospitals, mobilization centers, munition factories, aeroplane stations and hangars.

MUTINOUS CREW DELAYS SHIP. San Francisco, Aug. 15.—With its crew in a state of mutiny the bark Caliso, which left here Saturday for New York, was held up today somewhere off the Golden Gate, awaiting a tug to bring it back to port. The Caliso, which is loaded with 1,500 tons of barley and oil, was sold recently to the Brynhilda Shipping corporation of New York.

ABNORMAL TRADE BOOSTS EXPORTS OF U. S. FIRMS

Will Not Continue, Though, and Special Board Issues Warning.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The announcement was made by the Federal Trade Commission that its investigation into the print paper situation is being delayed by the fact that some newspaper publishers are failing to make response to the commission's questions. According to information given to the commission, this delay has been caused in part by the fear of some publishers that their complaints will reach the manufacturers of paper and their supplies of paper will be cut off.

In the announcement issued today the commission reiterates its previously given assurance that all communications received by the commission will be regarded as confidential. Its regular meeting yesterday the commission devoted several hours to the news print investigation and considered especially the reports received from its field agents who are obtaining information from the books of the news print manufacturers in the United States and Canada. The statement issued by the commission today follows:

"The commission is conducting a broad and thorough investigation covering all phases of the question. A special board of men engaged in collecting information from original sources, such as the records of news print manufacturers, paper jobbers, and newspaper publishers, is being worked up in the office and considered by the commission as fast as it is furnished. The commission has assured all such publishers that their communications will be treated as confidential when requested, and therefore, they need not have the least hesitation in furnishing the commission with all the information in their possession."

New York, Aug. 14.—The committee on co-operation in foreign trade of the national foreign trade council now at work in Grand Forks, in the effect of the European war on American overseas commerce and the necessity of permitting American exporters to sell their goods in foreign markets, today made public its report. Analyzing "Fortuitous Elements in Present Foreign Trade," the committee says in part:

"In 1913 the per capita foreign trade of England was $149, of Germany $79 and of the United States only $14. The per capita foreign trade of the United States will be $63 or $68 without ammunition and firearms. This excess of export trade over the normal rests largely upon the following circumstances: "Abnormal war demand and prices for munitions, foodstuffs and raw materials."

"Elimination of normal European competition through occupation of European factories in munitions production. "Loss of labor through enlistment or conscription and belligerent restriction of normal exportation. "Curtailed investment of European capital in neutral markets, normally a stimulus to European export trade."

"The abnormal conditions having prevailed in the export trade for nearly two years, many Americans are in danger of relying upon them as permanent. It is a great fallacy to suppose that to neglect to expect after the war, the following developments: "Cessation of war-demand and prices for munitions, reduction of prices for foodstuffs and raw materials by reason of restored European competition, normal transportation and international movement of goods."

Resumption of normal European competition in home and neutral markets by reason of return of soldiers to their homes and the lifting of military embargoes from exportation. "Renewed activity of European export and import combinations with government support and possibly preferential tariff and navigation arrangements under economic alliances."

"The removal, as rapidly as business conditions and national, or even international, fiscal policy will permit, of European investment in neutral markets, thus curtailing foreign investment in the United States and increasing the preference for merchandise of leading nations. European war finance has been notified to protect trade against foreign investment; nourishment will not be neglected with peace."

"Against the foregoing adverse element must be set the demands of confidence, demand for materials for immediate reconstruction of devastated districts and revival of development enterprises. "Europe's accustomed instrument for these activities will be co-operative effort beginning with cartels and trade associations of producers, manufacturers, exporters and bankers reinforced by the backing of the state, and, unless the discussions with which industrial Europe now vibrates shall fall, supplemented by economic alliances succeeding the war alliances now in force. Continuation of the present condition spells European industrial and governmental co-operation versus American compelled competition."

"The principal of the pending Webb bill authorizing co-operation by exporters, with adequate safeguards against restriction of domestic commerce, is being endorsed by the council committee consisting of: Chairman, John D. Ryan, J. A. G. Carson, James A. Farrell, H. C. Lewis, manager, Wm. H. Ruston, Theo. B. Wilcox and Robert H. Patching. In addition to preventing leagues of foreign buyers from purchasing American natural products at less than the domestic price and increasing the facilities of manufacturers and merchants of moderate size for export trade, the council declares that co-operation in exporting will permit the following advantages: "Maintenance of highly organized export service at minimum cost to participants; employment of their advantages in advertising, technical demonstration and 'follow-up' methods."

"Improved credit information and financing of foreign sales, more advantageous trade contracts through greater and regular tonnage, superior facilities for customs brokerage, warehousing, etc. "Assumption by the co-operative organizations of credit extension which means a quick turnover of capital are unable to provide."

East Grand Forks CHIEF'S BILLY JOLTS MAN RESISTING ARREST. Ed Olson Becomes Docile After "Bitch" on Head Shows Futility of Evading Imprisonment. Ed Olson, a transient who works on a farm east of the city, is today nursing a badly swollen and discolored cheek as the result of his effort to resist arrest at the hands of Chief Albert Hurst of the police force, Monday evening. Olson evidently had imbibed too freely of the cup that cheers, and was behaving in a disorderly manner, when the attention of the chief was called to his conduct. The man used force to avoid being taken into custody, and Hurst had to bring his trusty billy into action. It required only one application of that instrument before the recalcitrant changed his mind and accompanied the chief to the city hall. Before Judge Robert Blair in municipal court this morning Olson pleaded guilty and, in view of the rather prominent left cheek which he showed as the result of the punishment, was suspended on condition that he get to work. Miss Arneson Improving. Miss Emma Arneson, who a few days ago had an operation for appendicitis at one of the Grand Forks hospitals, is reported to be improving in a very satisfactory manner. Former Resident Here. A. G. Gunderson, formerly employed at the Kingman Drug store in this city and at present working as a druggist in Minot, N. D., is in this city for a few days as the guest of friends. Masons at Crookston. A party of local Masons attended the meeting of the Masonic lodge held at Crookston, Monday evening. They went by car, returning the same evening. Those going were: Paul Johnson, W. J. Rasmussen and P. Rand. FIFTH CONVENTION. RENEWAL OF CAR STRIKE THREATENED. New York, Aug. 15.—Renewal of New York's car strike was threatened last night unless the New York Railway company reinstates more than seventy employes discharged, under severer charge, because of their activities in the recent tie-up. The carmen declare railway officials have not kept an agreement drawn up by Mayor Mitchell and Chairman Oscar A. Straus of the public service commission, which stipulated that the strikers should be taken back without prejudice. CONFERENCE SEASON OPENS. Bishop Cooke to Preside Over Montana Methodists. Livingston, Mont., Aug. 15.—The Montana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, which began at Livingston today and continues until Sunday evening, will be attended by many men prominent in the church.
