

POLICE ORDER MEN FROM CITY

Hundreds of Transients Arrive Here Daily—Must go to Work or go West.

Transients arriving in Grand Forks during the past few days and who do not appear to be looking for work, are being rounded up by the police and marched out of the city. During the past week, a large number of undesirable have been sent on their way westward while others have been forced to work.

The influx of men from all sections of the country has led Chief of Police William Lowe to begin a move-on campaign. Many men are being marched to police headquarters where they are being given a grilling examination, and those who are unable to answer the queries of the chief, are forced to make their departure at once.

While speaking of the unusual number of men in the city and the campaign that is being made to get undesirable from the city, Chief Lowe said:

"There is no reason why men should be idle now as I have been receiving calls from the villages in this section of the state, asking me to send every available man to assist farmers with the fall work. The demand is increasing rapidly and it is imperative that the idle men be forced to leave Grand Forks."

"As has been the case every fall, hundreds of men stop off in this city to mingle with the farm laborers and, if possible, to rob them of their earnings. Present conditions do not make Grand Forks or East Grand Forks a fertile territory in which to obtain money easily, and as a result, these men may be tempted to commit more serious robberies.

"Residents of the city should recognize the danger and take special precautions to prevent thefts. Houses should be locked securely when left unoccupied and at night. Many burglars have also been reported in this city and at this time, in the habit of visiting the back doors, the locks should be kept latched throughout the day if the housewife is busy in other sections of the home.

"We are making every effort now to prevent robberies, but nearly as many men are arriving on every train as we are ordering out, and because of this fact, it is necessary that we have the co-operation of the citizens. All beggars, or suspicious characters should be reported to police headquarters and an investigation will be made."

HAS PLANS FOR PHILHARMONIC

Prof. Norton Writes That He Has New Ideas for Local Club.

A communication to The Herald from W. W. Norton, director of music at the University of North Dakota, states that he is finishing the chautauqua season with the Redpath circuit, at the city of Bryan, Ohio, today, Friday, August 25th.

Mr. Norton states that he had had opportunity to get a number of new ideas for the musical work at the University and in the city for the coming year. He states that the University Philharmonic Society will continue its monthly concerts this fall. During the past two years, national lines have been closely followed in the preparation of the programs. This year it will be the aim to have programs to teach "musical form," tone qualities of the various instruments, and possibly one program especially for children.

Arrangements are being made for a tour of the orchestra. Should a tour be made it will mean much to the members of the organization and will also demonstrate to the places visited that Grand Forks has a musical club capable of work of high merit.

Mr. Norton states that he has been trying to emphasize all over the circuit that North Dakota is rich in other ways than in wheat and material riches. He has visited the universities of Ohio State, Wittenberg, Oberlin and Chicago. He goes to the University of Wisconsin in the fall, after the completion of the season to study with Prof. W. W. Dykema, the great exponent of community music.

TRAFFIC RULES MUST BE OBEYED

Local Officials to Take Action Next Week—Machines Must be Parked.

Although police officials have extended every effort to prevent automobile accidents by enforcing the traffic ordinances, the ignoring of rules on the part of pedestrians and car drivers alike, continues and considerable danger still exists, claim local officials.

Due to the fact that the number of policemen in the city is limited, traffic officers cannot be stationed at every corner. One officer remains at the Demers and Third street crossing throughout the entire day but in other business corners, the pedestrians are left unguarded.

Because of this fact, the street corners in the busiest sections have been marked off and according to the chief of police, it is compulsory to follow the crossings at these points as well as where a traffic officer has been stationed.

The parking of automobiles will also be given more attention from the police, according to Chief Lowe. Kensington avenue will be turned into a parking district this week, and from then on all machine owners who have been parking their cars on Third street, must drive to the parking district, if a car is to remain standing for more than a few moments.

Many car owners have ignored the warnings of the police, but owing to the fact that all are aware of the rules governing the parking of machines, more stringent steps will be taken to bring recognition to the ordinance.

DEPUTIES ARE NAMED FOR HUNTING SEASON

Efforts to be Made to Prevent Hunting Without Licenses—"Sooners" Will be Arrested.

With the opening of the hunting season but two weeks away, deputy game wardens have been appointed in the various sections of the state to watch for "sooners" and to prevent hunters from enjoying the sport without the necessary legal permit. Not one arrest has been made in Grand Forks county this year by the game wardens.

E. B. McCutcheon, deputy state game warden for the north half of North Dakota, has appointed the following deputies: J. E. Dickson, of Dickinson, has been given out for publication. It is pointed out by the officials that if the deputies were known, poachers would be able to judge the law without much difficulty.

Hunting throughout the north half of North Dakota is reported to be exceptionally good this year and the annual slaughter of birds and mammals promises to be greater than during any previous season.

STARVING MAN CALLS FOR HELP

Pathetic Case Discovered at Emerado this Morning—Mute is Misunderstood.

Frantically waving his hands while staggering through the streets of Emerado this morning, an aged man, a stranger, who was believed to be a beggar, was found to be a mute endeavoring to attract attention in order to obtain something to eat.

Edgar L. Richter, editor of The Larimore Pioneer and his brother, Attorney Dan E. Richter of Minneapolis, were driving through Emerado this morning when they noticed the strange actions of the man. Each recalled the code used in school days and by this method succeeded in making out the simple spelling.

From the few facts gleaned from the difficult sign language of the aged mute, it was found that he was out of work and had only five cents left. He refused to accept any money, claiming that he was not a beggar. Work, he declared was what he wanted. When the condition of the man was discovered by children who were taken up and several dollars were obtained to supply his immediate needs. An Emerado merchant engaged the man's work.

According to Mr. Richter, the aged man wept bitterly, as he showed his blistered hands to prove that he was not a beggar but a working man who was unable to obtain employment. He had not been for the timely arrival of the Larimore editor and his brother it is probable that the man would have been arrested and arraigned before an insanity board.

EAST GRAND FORKS SCHOOL TO HAVE SAVINGS SYSTEM

Children to Become Acquainted With Banking Procedure.

With the opening of the East Grand Forks schools on September 5, there will be put in operation a plan of savings which should acquaint the children with banking procedure as well as encourage habits of thrift.

Rather than the usual method of arranging to put the Reiman system of school savings into operation. Under this plan the children deposit their small change with the teachers. Each teacher keeps an account for the whole room and turns over the money to the superintendent. The superintendent in turn deposits the money in any local bank which the individual child may prefer.

While the children may deposit small change with the school authorities, none of this will be transferred to the bank until it reaches even dollars in amount. All sums which are fractional amounts of dollars will be retained in the school safe until full dollars are reached.

Once that the money of each child has been deposited in the bank, the regulations of the bank govern withdrawal privileges and the like. The plan provides for an audit of all transactions by proper officials.

Prizes for School Garden Contest Realized at Sale of Ice Cream and Refreshments Thursday.

The Civic league of East Grand Forks gave an ice cream social Thursday afternoon in the city park for the purpose of raising funds to be used as prizes in the school garden contest. The attendance was not as large as was hoped but sufficient money was realized to insure the awarding of appropriate prizes to the successful contestants.

The contestants in the school gardens are home gardeners. They have been judged all summer as to the care taken of the plants, cultivation of the soil, etc. H. M. Swift of the agricultural department of the local school is doing the judging and his decisions will be announced as soon as the produce has all matured.

There are about $50 in cash and an equal amount of merchandise, offered as prizes to the successful contestants. The gardens are reported to be very well tended.

BREAD COSTS LESS IN LONDON THAN U. S.

London, Aug. 25.—An official of the board of trade, in discussing Great Britain's food situation, did not hesitate to admit that there had been an advance of 60 per cent in food prices since the war began, but he pointed out that prices had risen the world over as a natural consequence of the European conflict.

"Far from Great Britain being on the point of facing a food shortage," he said, "she is tremendously well off. We have got all we need to eat, and while prices are high, Great Britain has nothing to fear in the way of famine."

"While people talk of bread being high, it is really costing 4-1-2 cents for a loaf of one pound, while in America today, I understand, they are charging 5 cents for a loaf of the same weight."

AMERICA SENDS A WARNING TO TURKS

Washington, Aug. 25.—The American embassy at Constantinople was instructed by the state department today to make representations to the Porte in regard to the Armenians who are threatened by the Turkish advance into Persia.
