LANSING EXPLAINS WAR APPOINTMENTS

Washington, Aug. 25.—In response to a resolution introduced by Senator Boies of Pennsylvania, Secretary of State Robert Lansing late yesterday sent to the senate a statement concerning the appointments which have been made in the state department under the Wilson administration without regard to the civil service laws and regulations.

Mr. Lansing's statement indicates that close to 200 persons have been given employment without regard to the civil service laws and that about 100 of these have been given civil service status by the president since they obtained their appointments. After the European war broke out 157 employees were appointed and none of them was taken from the civil service eligible list. Their employment ran from a few weeks to 22 months.

In addition to the "war employees" 76 persons were appointed to positions in the department by death resignation or transfer. Fifty of these were by certification of the civil service commission or transfer from another department, two by reinstatement and four by individual executive orders. The 20 remaining appointments, according to the secretary, were to positions without the civil service.

NORTHERN LEAGUE.

Winnipeg..... 26 15 624 Fargo-Moorhead..... 26 15 630 Duluth..... 17 24 414 Superior..... 14 29 325

Games Yesterday.

Superior 3, Duluth 2. Fargo 0, Winnipeg 6.

Duluth, Aug. 26.—Duluth rallied in the ninth inning, scoring two runs and getting two more men on bases, but fell one run short of tying the count and Frenchman took the second game of the series 3 to 2. Hewitt held the White Sox to two hits until the ninth when Vigerist's double, a walk and two singles gave Duluth two tallies. Erickson drove out a homer. The score by innings: R. H. E. Superior..... 000 110 010—2 6 0 Duluth..... 000 000 002—2 6 2

Batteries—Hewitt and Erickson; Hande and Witherow.

Winnipeg, Aug. 26.—By scoring another shut out over Fargo-Moorhead 6 to 0 last night and taking the last three games in a row, Winnipeg went up on even terms with the F.-M.'s after another brilliant exhibition of baseball. Despite the six errors of the visitors and the inability of Unglaub's crew to connect safely with Gervais' south paw benders, there was some very bright plays as the locals not only batted and ran bases well, but gave the Frenchman sensational support.

WAR LESSENS INSANITY, SAYS IRISH ALIENIST

Dr. Graham Finds Nerve Disorders Helped by this "Great Tonic."

London, Aug. 26.—An interesting sidelight on President Wilson's remark about the world going mad is given in the annual report of Dr. William Graham of Belfast one of the most highly reputed Irish alienists. Dr. Graham presents a remarkable picture of the tonic value of war.

"It has become commonplace since August, 1914, to say the world is growing mad and there is a widespread popular notion that the distress and agony of a conflict so terrible as the present one must end in a profound psychic disturbance and alienation. Yet the fact is indisputable that insanity, like crime, has lessened during the period of the war."

So far as the future is concerned Dr. Graham is equally encouraging. He says: "The problem of the probable influence of war upon the mental life of a nation and upon insanity is not an isolated one. It is implicated in the general economic, sociological and physical state of the community at a given time. The present war will have a powerful bearing on these factors and so will deeply affect the mental health. The need of our time is the mobilization of all forces that make for betterment, humanitarian, ethical, social and religious, to help the nation to make permanent the lessons in loss and sorrow."

There are solid grounds for the hope that, especially although not exclusively among women, we shall find a great diminution in those neurotic disorders that form a part of the mental abnormality of thousands of men who have gone or are preparing to go to the front, who have all the life been subject to the bondage of neurasthenic weakness and incapacity or of psychasthenic fears or hypochondriac fancies. They have never known what it is to live but at the country's call they have flung from them the spell of ancient inhibitions and have gone forth to the front with wounds and death. Only when summoned to possible surrender of life have they learned how wonderful life really is. The physical regime under which these men are compelled to live can have nothing but the best effect on those subject to life discipline.

Especially significant is the change coming over the lives of women of the middle classes. These sheltered and pampered women, who are professional men, victims of the Victorian traditions of gentility, are now falling into line with their sisters of the gutter and the humber, social ranks, and are discovering that life is something greater than the latest novel or even the tepid gossip of the church sewing meeting. Ideals and ennui have lost their hold. Health and unselfish activity is now the prevailing fashion among war-enfranchised women. It has set them free from the benumbing conventionalities that threatened to stifle their psychic energy, and so far it has contributed to the soundness of mind and nerve among the mighty sociological forces which the present world conflict set in motion.

Not the least will be the new value set upon all sorts of good work and the new dignity which will crown the worker with the ever-widening circle of women's interests. A new barrier against mental disorder has been erected. War is war, it is the destruction of culture, art, education, the finest fruits of humanity, but the human mind has a strange power of winning out of the worst evils some great and far-reaching good."

THE WAR IS ONE OF EXHAUSTION.

It is now Germany that is being subjected to a war exhaustion. Her strength is still great, and though the odds against her are now great and will continue to increase, the process of wearing her out will take time. Only prolonged fighting will weaken her resistance.

To put it briefly, the war is now a matter of killing Germans and Austrians, Bulgarians and Turks, and principally Germans. That killing will go on every front from the Persian gulf to the Baltic and the Alps to the Caucasus. In such a war of exhaustion the gain or loss of ground here or there is of relatively minor importance. For a time the balance may even seem to fluctuate, though in all likelihood the enemy's outlying and remote fronts may start to cave in at an early stage. But really decisive results will begin to appear when the process of sheer killing has reached such a stage that the enemy is no longer able to man all of his lines of defense and has to fall back upon more easily held positions. Then we must expect to wear out the enemy first and drive him back after a long time. When that stage of enemy exhaustion begins to manifest itself, events will come with a rush, but we must not expect that rush "here and now."

May apply these general considerations to the present situation in France. A glance at the general map will show that on this occasion we have in front of us no immediate geographical objective. Behind the German lines there is no great fortress city like Lille or railway and road center like Lens, the capital of which would make a far-reaching change in the strategic situation. The country is one of rolling downs, cultivated to the summits, crossed at rare intervals with roads and railways and dotted here and there with country villages and small market towns. Some 20 miles to the rear of the German line there is, it is true, the trunk line that runs from Lille and Manbeuge to St. Quentin, and the seizure of this line would render the German occupation of the historic and formidable ridge between the enemy hardly more than Laon and Le Perreux. The wedge of the German salient on the Oise and Aisne, would have to be blunted, and the uncomfortable pressure of the enemy hardly more than 60 miles from Paris would be brought to an end. But in modern warfare advance to the St. Quentin line is hardly within immediate probability.

Returns From St. Paul. Larry Carlmart, lineman for the Northern Pacific, returned to this city from a business trip to St. Paul.

Improved After Illness. Jack Ryan, who has been ill for several days, is now able to be back at work again.

EAST GRAND FORKS

TEACHING CORPS IS VERY STRONG

Class of Instructors—Many Men Instructors.

The new teaching corps for the East Grand Forks schools, which begin the fall term on September 5, has been selected with great care by the board and superintendent. It is believed to be the strongest force ever employed by the local schools. Special attention has been directed towards securing teachers who are graduates of long courses, with high standings and successful experience. The year before Supt. Lurton took charge only four of the grade teachers were graduates of advanced normal courses, while two were not graduates at all. Next year ten will be advanced graduates, and two elementary graduates, while the non-graduate work will be eliminated. The grade teachers for next year come from six different normal schools. No inexperienced teachers are employed in the grades. The list and assignments of grade teachers for 1916-1917 is as follows:

Central School. First grade, Mary Herman; second grade, Esther Dushek; third grade, Olive Stewart; fourth grade, Florence McEathron; fifth grade, Adeline Wick; sixth grade, Hazel Upmann; junior high school, Eva Cranz, Mary Strain; principal, Adele Schuster.

Lincoln School. First and second grades, Irene A. Fitzpatrick; third, fourth and fifth grades, Julia Zengel; sixth, seventh and eighth grades, Lydia H. O'Brien.

The New Grade Teachers—Advanced graduate of Moorhead normal school, with eight years' experience in primary work, next year Adeline Wick, fifth and sixth grades—Graduate of the normal course of the Fergus Falls high school and of the advanced course of the Moorhead normal school. Has had two years' experience.

Hazel M. Upmann, sixth grade—Graduate Elver Falls, Wisconsin, normal school, advanced course. Has taught three years, coming here from a two year experience in the sixth grade of Brookings, S. D. Mrs. Eva Cranz, first assistant, junior high school, advanced graduate Moorhead normal school. Has had eight years' experience in all grades. Mrs. Strain, second assistant, junior high school, advanced graduate of Moorhead normal school. Has had two years' experience.

High School Teachers. Similarly, the standard has been raised in the high school. In 1915 more than half of the high school teachers were not college graduates. Next year ten will be graduates, and only two not. Of these two, one is a graduate of the Stout Manual Training institute. The increase in the college graduates on the faculty and the larger experience each one has had all goes to indicate a very strong faculty for next year. The list follows: F. E. Lurton, LL. D., superintendent; C. R. Macdonnell, B. A., principal high school, will teach science and geometry. Also coach athletics, specializing in basketball, in which he has a fine record. Graduate of Hanover, and has been principal at Milan, Indiana, for two years.

Thomas C. Lloyd-Jones, a graduate of Stout institute, will have charge of the manual training. He will coach athletics, specializing in football. He comes from the manual training position at Bangor, Wisconsin. E. M. Swift, B. A., B. S., is the new director of agriculture. He graduated first from the academic course of Olivet college and devoted five years to science teaching. He studied in the summer of 1915 at the University of Michigan. Then he entered the Iowa agricultural college and graduated with a degree in agriculture. During the summer of 1916 he taught agriculture in the Drake university summer school, and for the past year has taught science and agriculture at Waterloo, N. D.

Stella K. Harp, M. A., English. Miss Harp graduated from the University of Minnesota, and was principal of the high school at Clarkfield for one year. For two years she has been taking graduate work in English literature at Wellesley college and received her master's degree there in June. She will teach girls' basketball, and assist with the literary society work and dramatics.

Dora C. Perry, B.A., German Latin, English. Graduate of Cornell college. Has had five years' experience. She comes here from a three year experience in these subjects at Ponca City, Okla.

Hugh B. Hessler, B. C. S. Will be in charge of shorthand, typewriting and penmanship. A graduate of Albion college. Will be in charge of junior high school athletics and track work. Eunice Wartman, B. A. Supervisor of music and drawing. Graduate of Albion college, with five years' of experience. Will conduct the glee club and orchestra. In now supervisor at Northville, Michigan.

A. R. Roggy, B. A. History, book-keeping and coaching debate. Julia Zanger, B. A. Home economics. Will assist with girls' athletics. Helen B. Spence, B. A. Librarian. Will assist in literary society and dramatics.

Many Men on Faculty. Half of the faculty will be men. This is the first time in the history of the school that this has happened. It ought to mean a more vigorous, well-balanced faculty, with special opportunity for boys. Probably no larger high school in the state has so large a proportion of men teachers.

Two of the faculty hold degrees from Albion college, two from the University of Minnesota, and one each from upper Iowa university, University of Wisconsin, University of Cleveland, Ames agricultural, Cornell, Michigan, Wellesley and one graduated at Stout institute. This should give breadth and variety to their outlook and experience.

Birthday Party. Charles Robert Hillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hillman, 124 South Sixth street, enjoyed the company of twelve of his playmates at a birthday party Friday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock. Miss Adeline Hillman assisted in serving. Miss Dorothy Mauer, of St. Paul, was an out-of-town guest. Decorations consisted of garden flowers, while the birthday cake was decorated with pink and white candles. The occasion was the seventh birthday of the host.

THRESHERS USING NEW SCHEDULE OF CHARGES

Are Charging by the Hour Instead of by the Bushel as Formerly—Poor Crops the Reason.

Threshers this year have quite generally adopted a new method of charging for their services. The usual way of charging for threshing grain is by the cents-per-bushel plan. In a good year the thresher is thus able to profit by the good yields. This year, however, the threshers have adopted the plan of charging by the hour. The yields are so light that to follow the old plan would mean operating the rigs at a loss. The charge made under the new plan is $20 or $22 per hour. All threshing outfits operating in the neighborhood of East Grand Forks are using this method.

Tuttle to Preach. H. H. Tuttle of the Grand Forks Y. M. C. A., will occupy the pulpit in the Mendenhall Presbyterian church in this city tomorrow, Sunday, August 27. Dr. C. E. Coles has been asked to preach in the First Presbyterian church in Grand Forks for the morning service, and has accepted.

Vag Leaves City. A transient by name of George Brown, was up before Judge Robert Blair this morning on a vagrancy charge. He was sentenced $5 or $0 days. Sentence was suspended on condition that he shake the dust of East Grand Forks off his feet. He did.
