

NEW HIGHWAY TO BE BUILT THROUGH CITY

National North and South Highway to be Constructed in the Near Future.

Important Cities of Many States to be Tapped by Roadway from Galveston

Arrangements were completed this morning for the tapping of Grand Forks by the National North and South Highway, a new roadway to extend from Galveston, Tex., to Winnipeg, Man. Dr. J. C. Cornell, chairman of the highway department of the Chamber of Commerce, Judge W. W. Brown, general attorney for the Missouri-Kansas and Texas Railway company, and M. J. McKnight, all of Grand Forks, conferred with officials of the Grand Forks Commercial club this morning on matters relative to bringing the road through this city. Support has been assured for the project and it is now a certainty that within the next few months, the entire route will be marked out and preparations will be complete to begin the work of constructing the highway.

Beginning at Galveston, Tex., and proceeding north, the most important cities through which the highway will pass are Dallas, Tex., Muskogee, Okla., Parsons, Kas., Leavenworth, Kas., Kansas City, Omaha, Council Bluffs, Sioux City, Sioux Falls, Ortonville, Wahpeton, Fargo, Grand Forks and Winnipeg.

The cities along the entire route have been visited by the committees and according to Dr. Cornell, the organization is now complete and the success of the venture is assured. Seven military posts will be connected by the new highway, and because of this fact, it is believed that federal aid also will be given.

The states, cities and counties through which the road will pass will bear the burden of the expense, which, however, will be comparably light. The road opens a route for tourists that promises to prove popular and which heretofore has been practically unknown to automobile parties or tourists.

Ex-Governor E. Y. Saries of Illinois has been appointed state president of the preparation committee and the activities to be carried on in North Dakota will be under his direction.

The Parsons committee will leave tonight for the south where they will draw up a map of the entire route and make preparations for the marking of the trail and other incidentals that must be completed before actual work.

Corn in the Thompson district is also being cut and good yields are anticipated. The fodder is the best for several seasons and the food for live stock is promising.

REV. N. J. LOHRE HAS RETURNED

Local Pastor Attends Meeting of Synod Pastor Pension Boards in Mpls.

Rev. N. J. Lohre, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, of this city, returned last evening from Des Moines and Jewell, Iowa, where he spent the past several days on business and pleasure. Enroute to Iowa, Mr. Lohre attended the meeting of the pastor pension boards of the three Norwegian Synods which was held in Minneapolis last Tuesday.

The proposition of uniting the pension funds of the three synods is being considered by the board and as soon as the union is complete, this will become effective. The synods are The Hague, the Norwegian and the United Lutheran.

In Iowa, Mr. Lohre was the guest of old friends at Jewell, where he was located for five years. At Des Moines he also attended the Iowa State fair.

When speaking of the crop conditions in Iowa, the local pastor declared that the corn production was much poorer than was expected. The oat crop is fairly good, however, and the yields are claimed to be slightly above the average.

Mr. Read has accepted a position as manager of the Rutherford farms near Gilby, N. D.

FILM SUIT A JOKE TO FORD.

His Lawyer Calls the Vitagraph Action an Advertisement.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 26.—When asked regarding the million dollar suit brought by the Vitagraph company of America, Henry Ford referred the interviewer to his attorney, Alfred Lucking.

Notwithstanding the size of the action, Mr. Ford refuses to regard it other than as a "joke," so far as actual liability under the law is concerned.

"The suit is merely a new form of advertising," said Mr. Lucking. "Not once in 20,000 times is such a suit put into type as this one has been even before the first hearing. The company had large quantities of notices prepared all ready to send out to the newspapers as soon as the suit was filed. The entire action is based on a paragraph in one of Mr. Ford's advertisements for universal peace, in which he scored to some extent the lecture. The suit will not have its primary hearing until mid-winter."

HOFTO EMPLOYED ON ILL. HISTORY

Local Man Worked on Ambitious Project of Centennial Commission.

Jacob Hofto, 802 Chestnut street, has returned to his home after an interesting summer's work for the Illinois Centennial Commission. Mr. Hofto, who holds a fellowship at the University of Illinois, was engaged in a study upon the history of the past college year, to work on a five-volume history of the state. This undertaking is part of the preparation being made for the celebration of the 100th anniversary of statehood in 1918.

This is the first time that an effort has been made to write a complete and scientific history of any state, according to Mr. Hofto. About 25 men are employed on the work, every one of them a trained historian. The work will be in five volumes, each volume treating of developments under a separate constitution of the state. It is the aim of the authors to treat of every aspect of historical interest—constitutional, political, educational, social, and industrial.

Owing to a lawsuit which revealed constitutional defects in the original act creating the commission, the commission was seriously hampered last winter. Had it not been for private contributions by Dr. Otto L. Schmidt of Chicago, the preliminary work would have been largely left undone, even yet. This man magnanimously financed the work until a special session of the legislature had passed a proper act of authorization.

Mr. Hofto will return to Urbana for the greater part of the summer work, in about three weeks. He is majoring in history, with economics as a first, and sociology as a second, minor subject. He is writing a thesis on the English policy in the American colonies under the northern department, during the period before the Revolution.

LOCALS MAY ATTEND MEETING AT FARGO

Representatives of Grand Forks Commercial Club Will Make Bid For Bank.

When the federal farm loan board holds a session at Fargo on September 1, it is probable that representatives of the Grand Forks Commercial club will be in attendance, as bids for the institution will be considered at that time.

The board recently appointed by President Wilson is now touring the country gathering data in an effort to decide the most appropriate locations for the federal institutions. That one will be established in the northwest is certain, and an active effort is being made by all of the cities in this territory to secure the bank.

As the farm loans in North Dakota aggregate $1,364,000 at an average rate of interest of 8.7 per cent, it is believed that the federal institution would save farmers of this state a large amount each year. As no other state in the union would be affected to a greater extent than North Dakota, business men look forward to the establishment of the institution in one of the large cities in this territory.

The members of the board are Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, Herbert Quick, of West Virginia, Judge Lobdell, of Kansas, and George W. Norris, of Philadelphia. Much interest is being shown in the Fargo gathering and the findings of the board will be awaited by the business men of the northwest.

FORMER RESIDENT TO LOCATE HERE

A. E. Lohman Arrives in City and Will Cover Same Territory Formerly Traveled For 18 Years.

A. E. Lohman, formerly a resident of this city but, for many years has made his home in Minneapolis, has again decided to locate here and will represent the LaCross-Lindsay Bros. Company, in the same territory which he formerly covered for 18 years.

Mr. Lohman is now making his headquarters at the Northern hotel. Mrs. Lohman will come here sometime this fall. Mr. and Mrs. Lohman are well known in this section of the state and they have many friends who will welcome their return.

COSS RECOVERING FROM HIS INJURIES

Charles W. Coss of the local fire department is rapidly recovering from injuries received Thursday evening when the fire team made a dash for liberty in the south end of the city. Coss was thrown between the wheels when the exercise wagon struck a tree.

No bones were broken but Coss was severely bruised.

GIRLS SPENT ANXIOUS DAYS

Young Women at Geneva Conference Suffered from Ptomaine Poisoning.

The representatives of the Grand Forks Y. W. C. A. who attended the conference held at Lake Geneva, which ended on August 21, tell of a few anxious days which were spent by the girls following Friday, August 18.

It seems that on that day some article of food used in the large dining hall, was unfit to eat, and caused almost every one of the 656 girls in the conference to suffer from ptomaine poisoning. Fortunately the amount of poison was not sufficient to cause any serious cases of illness, but every one of the girls was more or less affected. Owing to the anxiety which would have been caused in many homes following an announcement of the predicament of the girls, no news of the occurrence was given in any of the Chicago papers or to the Associated Press.

Thus needless worry was saved to the parents of the young women. The conference this year is reported to have been unusually successful.

One delegation of young women attended the conference from far-off Australia. A large number of inspirational appeals were delivered by speakers of national repute. The gathering was much like that of the Young Men's Christian associations, which is held in the early summer at the same place.

The cause of the poisoning this year does not indicate carelessness on the part of the management of the conference. The camp is conducted in a most sanitary manner and is a model for the efficiency of the service rendered.

The representatives from the local association who attended the conference were Elizabeth McKenzie, Katy Haugland, Jennie Buckingham and Josie Larson.

TOT IS FOUND AFTER SEARCH

Little Guest at Bliven Home Wanders Away and Not Found For Hours—Went to Brick Yard.

For over four hours this morning, police officials, relatives and friends searched for Carl LeMieux, the two year old son of Mrs. G. LeMieux, of Marble, Minn., who is a guest at the home of Officer and Mrs. John Bliven, 1415 Cheyenne avenue. The little tot disappeared from the Bliven home about 8 o'clock this morning and a search that extended over the entire city was started.

At noon today a small boy found the LeMieux child in the orth end of the city near the brick yard. He was taken to the 800 block on North Fourth street and police officials were notified.

The little tot had walked a distance of nearly a mile, unaccompanied and unafraid. When found he appeared to be enjoying his experience of adventure without a guardian.

LOAN ACT SHOULD FILL REAL NEED

Red River Valley Well Supplied with Farm Loan Facilities, However.

Not only the farmers but the bankers of the Red River Valley are manifesting much interest in the provisions of the new farm loan act, which is now in the process of being put into operation all over the country.

Samuel Torgerson, cashier of the Scandinavian-American bank, stated this morning that the act should mean much for the farmers of the country. Asked whether, in his opinion, the farmers of North Dakota would take the initiative in the formation of co-operative associations as is required under the law, Mr. Torgerson stated that it would be conjectural.

"It is quite likely that the farmers will not utilize the law to its fullest extent until an educational campaign has thoroughly acquainted them with its provisions," he said. "I understand that one of the great authorities on the subject of farm financing is planning a speaking tour throughout the country for the purpose of explaining the measure. Publicity of this kind will undoubtedly result in the formation of the co-operative associations where they are needed."

That part of the act which allows banks to come under the operation of the act, was called to the attention of Mr. Torgerson.

"Is the one percent margin which the law allows such banks, sufficient to induce bankers to come under the operation of the law?" he was asked.

"I think so," he replied, "many banks are loaning on farm security on a smaller margin than one per cent now. Grand Forks banks are making loans of this character on a margin of one-half per cent in some instances."

"If farm loans can be made in Grand Forks on such a low margin, and bonds sold for 7 per cent, is there really any need for this act?"

"Not right here in this part of the state. But in the newer sections money is scarce and the rates and margins are considerably higher than here. The availability of federal funds in these districts will make possible loans at a lower rate than now exists."

It is the opinion of Mr. Torgerson that the feature of the law which permits both farmers' associations and banks to obtain money from the government for loan purposes, is one of the most valuable features in the act. Where banks are unable or unwilling to come under the provisions of the act the farmers can themselves take the initiative and secure loans at 5 per cent from an association formed by themselves. Where the banks are able and willing to come under the provisions of the law, the formation of associations will not be necessary. In either case, the desired end will be accomplished.
