CROPS ARE GOOD NEAR BISMARCK

Wheat Yield Small But Other Grains Will Make Up For Loss.

Bismarck, N. D., Aug. 31.—The crops in this vicinity, with the exception of course, of the wheat, will be excellent this year. Beautiful fields of flax can be seen on the farms in this section of the state and the majority of the farmers will realize $15 an acre on this crop alone. Oats and barley are fine and 1916 will be one of the banner years for these grains. The wheat has been greatly affected by the ravages of black rust and the farmers will not realize from their crops of wheat what they have in the majority of the past seasons. Some will get as high as 12 bushels to the acre, which is not bad for the poor season experienced and the high cost of wheat this year.

Grain experts have visited the various fields of grain in this neighborhood and are in their opinion commencing cutting. It is estimated that in one more week all of the corn will be ready for the market.
