SCHOOL BUILDING DESTROYED BY FIRE

Minot, N. D., Sept. 6.—The school building at Des Lacs in this county was completely destroyed by fire, involving a loss of $18,000. The structure was a four-story and full basement building and was well equipped for school purposes. The building is a total loss. While the origin of the fire is not known it is almost certain that it came from the fire which was started the day before in the furnace in order to try out the heating plant and get the building warm for the opening of school, though just how the flames started from this cause can not be determined. The schools were to have opened yesterday, but the destruction of the building makes it necessary to postpone the same for a week. RECALD PRIEST'S ROMANCE

Father Delarue, Who Quit Ministry For Love, Wins Honor in War. Paris, Sept. 6.—The world has forgotten the name of Father Delarue, which filled the Paris press some ten years ago. It was the summer, the "silly season," and the papers seized upon a mystery as a godsend. The priest of a parish just outside of Paris disappeared. His bicycle was found abandoned and was the last trace of him. The papers became each a Sherlock Holmes (the great detective was then a novelty in France) and tried every means to solve the mystery. Several days were employed and one paper hired a hyena for the chase. The mystery was solved. It proved an idyl, not a drama. The old, old proverb "Chez la femme" supplied the key. The priest at first was defiant. He renounced the church and claimed the right to marry as other men do. There he disappeared and a vague report intimated that he had made peace with the church. And now the Journal has betrayed his existence by the following citation.

Carbolic acid by absorption is given by Coroner Dr. J. Norman White as the cause of death. McCrea was employed as a clerk by the Lackawanna and was on his way home at noon with a bottle of carbolic acid to be used as a disinfectant. The cork came out of the bottle, which he was carrying in his hip pocket, and the acid ate its way through the pores and affected the heart and lungs. Herald Want Ads Bring Results.
