PEGGERS ARE CLAIMING TO BE REAL TEAM

Fans Think Moll Has Given Them Best Aggregation in Northern.

Adams, Miller and Sheehan Sold to Brooklyn—Two to Brewers.

Winnipeg, Sept. 12.—When Charlie Moll took a hold of the local Northern league franchise last month, he said that he would give Winnipeg a pennant contender, and he certainly has done so. In fact Charlie has given Winnipeg the best team that has represented this place in many years and probably the best in all time. The local aggregation has been right up battling for the honors from the go-in, and all during the season. Last May the Pegg met with some reverses owing to Ed Miller's arm going bad. Outfielder Sheehan not reporting and Pitcher Stevenson being unable to hit his stride after the warm Texas climate and his misfortune caused the locals to slip down near the cellar. It was not long, however, until the weak spots were bolstered up and the team began to climb and get close to first place, where they stuck during the run through the schedule of games. The locals won the first series and were only beaten out in the second by a scanty two game margin. Pegg Play consistently. Charlie Moll's hirelings have played more consistently than any other team in the league. This is shown by their standing at the conclusion of each series. Fargo won out the second batch of games, but were fourth in the first string. The locals do not depend upon any one, two or three stars to bring home victories, as no one player really stands out head and shoulders over the other, but instead they are a well balanced crew. The Pegg are made up of players who can clutch the ball and also present a defense that often rivals association class. Another leading feature of the local Northern league is that they conduct themselves like gentlemen on the field and present an appearance that appeals to the fans.

Have Class Infield.
In Jack Sheehan the Pegg have a brainy manager, who pulls more inside stuff than most people realize; he is the best shortstop in the league. The locals infield, as a whole, is the class of the league. Adams on first being the class of the circuit, as a fielder, and also a .300 hitter; Joe Nager is finished fielder, and makes double plays where others would not attempt and while he is not a heavy hitter he generally hits in the pinches. "Bud" Cronin at third, is the peer of others in the loop, he covers a lot of ground and is also a dangerous cloutier.

The local outfield compares well with any in Class C. Miller, Conroy and Brokaw are a formidable crew. Miller is the leading hitter in the league and is also fast. Conroy is fast, but makes up for it by his clotting. Brokaw is the equal of any fielder, but has not been showing much class at bat.

While other cities claim Fargo has the best hurling staff in the league, the Pegg aggregation looks every bit as good. "Red" Donovan and Benton, are the best in the league, while Gerals, Radloff and Stevenson, are able to put up a good brand of pitching. Steve started off this season poorly, but has been going strong during the past month.

Helmie Berger's batting ability makes him the best catcher in the league. Withrow of Duluth, was the only backstop to rival Berger but the Dook cannot hit. Bill Moore, substitute catcher, has been a useful man for the locals; he has about the best pegging arm around these parts, but has shown weakness at bat.

Summing it all up it can be seen that Charlie Moll has collected a classy array of talent for Winnipeg. This is further demonstrated by the fact that Adams, Miller and Sheehan, have been sold to Brooklyn Nations, while Berger, Benton and Donovan go to Milwaukee club of the American association league.

YANKEES SWAP WITH ORIOLES

An agreement apparently having been reached by American league clubs, or by the Yankees at least, not to recall any player from the International without sending something down in return, the Yanks ordered Roy Hartzell to Baltimore to replace Elmer Miller. Hartzell, however, seriously objected to this procedure unless he made his own terms, for under the rule that a player of ten years' service in the majors can claim his season if not wanted he became a free agent.

Plymouth, Mass., Sept. 12.—An automobile transcontinental race against time, started from Plymouth Rock at 12 o'clock noon. The finish is to be at Fort Lawton Seattle, Wash., and if plans materialize the last relay should reach its destination on Saturday.

The time allowance for the race of 3,685.5 miles is 120 hours.

The tour is under the auspices of the Yellowstone Park association and is for the purpose of demonstrating the condition of the roads across the country. The war department has aided in mapping out the itinerary and has furnished the message which the couriers are to deliver.

The first relay was made by Robert C. Harlow, the fire commissioner of Plymouth, who started from a point directly opposite Plymouth Rock at 12 o'clock noon. He made the first mile in one and one-half minutes. He turned over his message to the second courier at Providence, R. I., for the next relay point at Kingston, N. Y. To maintain the schedule each courier must average 31 miles an hour.

Boston had a makeshift mid-field combination, Egan playing at shortstop and Fitzpatrick at second base. Miranville, who had participated in most of last week's game with a broken nose, was forced to lay up with a crushed hand sustained Saturday. Captain Evers is to report tomorrow, in response to a hurry call.

BASKETBALL FALLING OFF

Y. M. C. A. Not to Try League Until Latter Part of the Winter.

The physical committee of the Y. M. C. A. finds that the game is declining off in the interest taken in basketball during the past two or three years. It has been the habit of the association to conduct commercial leagues for a number of years, but for the past three or four seasons it has been with great difficulty that the teams have been kept together to finish a schedule.

A meeting held last night the physical committee and physical director decided that no attempt to organize a league would be made until at least the latter part of the season. The game will be encouraged as much as it ever was and if the director sees that the interest warrants the organization of a league, such steps will be taken.

Indoor baseball will be treated practically in the same manner, but two volleyball leagues, one for the business men and another for the seniors, will be formed.

Classes in the gymnasium will begin on October 2, in all of the departments.

BUTLER LOOKS FOR GOOD YEAR

Grade School Athletic Director Will Start Activities Soon.

Grade school athletics for the coming year look exceptionally good, according to Director Harry Butler, who took up his duties yesterday with the opening of the schools here after spending the summer at Detroit lake. Just now Mr. Butler is busy preparing for the football season, which he will open as soon as possible.

The director will call the different squads together tomorrow afternoon and they will choose their captains. When that is done practice will start immediately as the signals are all ready to be given out. Mr. Butler having prepared three sets during the summer.

After getting the squads at work the schedule will be prepared and the season will probably open the latter part of the month.

The teams will be light this year, most of the heavy men having gone out of the grades last spring and are now in high school. Winship looks strong again this fall, but little can be told of the strength of any of the teams at this time and any one of the five may develop a championship aggregation before the season closes.

Penn Begins.
Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—The University of Pennsylvania football squad began preliminary practice here yesterday on the ground of the Bucks County Country club at Langhorne. Twenty members of last year's varsity and freshman teams reported to Coach Folwell and were given a light but fast drill in forward pass formations.

Howard Berry is still on the Mexican border with the first city troupe of Philadelphia, but hopes to receive his discharge in time to join the squad before the season opens.

R. Norris Williams, the national champion, who won the intercollegiate singles title for Harvard last year and paired with Richard Harte, Jr., also captured the doubles title for the crimson, has graduated from college. Harte will be on hand, however, as will also Calkett Caner, another Harvard star.

Princeton will depend on Leonard Beekman, who was runner up to Williams last year. Yale will be represented by Jerry Webber, Kenneth Kennedy and E. M. Edwards.
