

MERCHANTS TO HOLD MEETINGS

Interesting Series of Programs Being Outlined—To Begin in October.

R. D. Hickman, secretary of the Grand Forks and East Grand Forks Merchants association, is now preparing an outline of the program to be given at the monthly meetings of the organization. It is anticipated that many prominent speakers, active in the promotion of trade interests, will be brought to Grand Forks.

At the next meeting, to be held during the latter part of October, O. L. Shutz, manager of the Twin City Commercial Bulletin, a trade paper known to every business man in the northwest, will address the merchants of Grand Forks. It is expected that the visitor will touch upon every phase of the commercial industries, bringing new ideas for window trimming and stock arrangement, for perfection in salesmanship and for the operation of a successful credit system.

It is also expected that a further discussion will be taken up on the "goods on approval" method of conducting sales. This practice has been condemned throughout the country as it has been declared unsanitary and dangerous to the health of the public. As yet the merchants have not taken any action to prevent customers from taking stock to their homes for trial approval and it is probable that efforts will be made to discourage the practice, before the decision is reached to prohibit the approval plan.

Senator Gronna took occasion to attack much of the democratic legis-

VOTERS BALLOTS FOR ABSENTEES IN DEMAND

Applications Already Coming in to Office of County Auditor—Expected to Issue Many.

Applications for absent voters ballots are now being received at the office of County Auditor Hans Anderson, and it is expected that an unusually large number will be ordered before the day of the general election.

Voters, who will not be in the city when the election will be held, may apply at the office of the county auditor for the absent voters ballot, which will be forwarded to them so that they may cast a vote in favor of the candidates they favor.

When signed, the ballots will be returned to the county auditor, who will place them in the hands of the election inspectors to be counted.

This county last week received $25,000,000 more in gold on British account.

RUSH SHIPMENTS AHEAD OF FROST

Potatoe Shipments Rushed to Forestall Freezing Danger.

While there are no indications of a car shortage, with heavy shipments of stock, coal, grain and potatoes going forward daily the Dakota division of the Great Northern is being taxed to supply local shippers with every effort is being made to facilitate the shipment of potatoes, which continues heavy, before freezing weather sets in. So far shippers are being attended to with promptitude, and no grating is reported.

Over 75 cars of stock and 35 cars of potatoes went forward today. Grain shipments continue in about the same proportion as last week.

According to Dispatcher L. M. Davis today, west bound business is 50 per cent heavier than traffic east. This is explained by the fact that every available empty is being sent west to care for stock, grain and spud shipments, and an enormous tonnage of commercial coal is being rushed to prevent danger of a fuel shortage when the Great Lakes close December 5. Almost 150 loaded cars at Crookston will go west today to return loaded with grain and potatoes.

FEAR PARENTS HAVE STARVED

Dap Hapip Anxious Concerning Welfare of Relatives in Syria—Raise Fund

Whether his father and mother have been murdered, or are starving to death in far off Syria, Dap Hapip, manager of the rug department of the Ontario store, today is endeavoring to discover. For over one year he has attempted to reach them with letters, but has not received one assurance that his messages were ever delivered.

Mr. Hapip recently returned from the east where he interviewed government officials in an effort to ascertain whether or not his aged parents are still alive, or whether they have succumbed to starvation, caused by the cruelty of the Turks. When speaking of the condition in Syria, Mr. Hapip said:

"When I was in New York recently I met a lady who had just returned from my country and she declared that the conditions in Christian Syria were pitiable. Hundreds are dying in the streets from starvation and there are not enough men to bury the dead. Hating the Christians, and not preferring to assist them, the Turks have received instructions from their ruler at Constantinople to starve the Syrians, by cutting off all sources of supply."

"Foreign nations, which formerly prevented the Turks from carrying out their brutal acts, are now busily engaged in the European war, and the atrocities have commenced anew. Many of the Syrians have deserted in order to prevent suffering, but the majority of those who remain are staunch to their faith, and have endured the persecutions."

"My 13-year-old brother and my sister are in the hands of the Syrians and as I have heard no word from them, I fear that they have succumbed from the torture of Turkish rule."

Mr. Hapip has become active in the interests of the oppressed Syrians and has taken up the work of the Syrian committee of North Dakota and has been given charge of the work for the vicinity of Grand Forks. Subscriptions are being solicited to assist the Christians and to relieve as far as possible the condition which has started the world.

Governor L. B. Hanna of North Dakota has written a letter of endorsement to the committee in charge of the work, and other prominent public men have assisted in making the work a success. The committee has been assisting the Syrian relief of the foreign mission department of the United States and the first shipment will be made in the near future.

DR. WINSHIP SPEAKER TODAY

Convocation Program at the University Begins Today.

A propitious beginning of the convocation year at the university was made this morning when Dr. A. E. Winship of Boston, editor of the Journal of Education, delivered an address, speaking with wit and vibrant with the joy of life, on the subject "Education Must Educate."

After the preliminary exercises which included the reading of 72nd Psalm, the choice of Dr. Winship, President F. L. McVey introduced the speaker as "The Pilgrim of Pilgrims" for no man journeys more in the interests of education, none visits more shrines than does Dr. Winship who comes from the land of the Pilgrims of 300 years ago.

In his opening remarks Dr. Winship stated that he had been present at the convention in Chicago at which the presidential candidates were nominated, and that from that time until the election in November he will have visited 36 states.

The subject of his address is a new statement in the world of learning for until recently no one has ever thought of saying that education must educate. Scholarship has been the main object of education. And there are things which the western world that education should mean anything better, those who resent any suggestion of progress.

Fullman companies employ great numbers of experts whose business it is to improve the fullman car. It has taken 50 years for these experts to find out that the curtain of the upper berth should be separate from the lower berth curtains. And no doubt all the long curtains at present in vogue must be worn out before they will be replaced with the more sanitary separate curtains for each berth.

The first auto race was held twenty years ago, and the record, then deemed a wonderful one, was 57 miles in seven hours. The growth of the automobile industry is slow. It took sixteen years to make the first million, four years for the second million, and now one man alone is making a million in a year. It has been equally slow in making progress in the field of education. We laugh at the once correct expression, "Miss Brown is splendid for learning the class arithmetic," it is no more correct for us to say that she teaches arithmetic. What we are coming to know is that the teacher must teach the pupil how to learn arithmetic.

This would wipe out the present system of averaging. An auto goes 40 miles an hour, a horse 9 miles, and a wheelbarrow 2 miles. Therefore the average speed is 17 miles an hour, but nothing goes 17 miles an hour except the average. It is tough on the auto, but fine for the wheelbarrow to make such a report. It is just as sensible to average children. Children, according to the present system, are promoted on their average, not on what they have at all. When a teacher becomes concerned with what the child gets out of it, education will be revolutionized. We should concern ourselves with what the boy can learn, and not with what he looks like when the boy never can learn, and let us stop wasting time and energy.

We are going to test intelligence not information. One of the greatest discoveries of modern times is that made in Cincinnati, where the intelligence test is applied to boys in and out of school under 18 years of age. Each the intelligence of the boys who work and those who do not work is tested, and if the intelligence of the boy who works has not increased in the year's time, the manufacturer of the school year is told that he has no more boys for there is something wrong with his system of work.

Jess Willard has kept himself in perfect condition, and yet he cancelled a contract for $5,000 unless he might have four additional weeks for extra training before a big engagement. He was willing to give up $4,000 for four weeks' training, and yet there are men who don't think their boys worth four years of training at $5 per week.

In a humorous description of an auto trip in Oregon in May over poor roads, Dr. Winship told of his big 40-horse power automobile pulled out by a little rat of a horse. The horse was able to do what the power he had his feet on the ground. He had a horse with his feet on the ground is worth forty-horse power in wheels and springs. Langley's airship lies as an unprofitable curiosity in the Smithsonian Institute. If he had known what Glen Curtiss has since proved, that the air was all right only it needed to be started on the ground, he would have died a millionaire.

We are coming to the place where we will recognize what people learn no matter where they learn it. In Dallas, Texas, they have one of the greatest state fairs in the country. But when Dr. Winship visited it he surprised his host by telling him it would take only 15 minutes for him to see all he wished to see, just three pigs. These pigs were Tom, Dick and Harry, New Rock Jerseys, scientifically fed from the time they were weaned. Tom had had the best balanced rations, and had gained 94 pounds in six months. Dick had had the same balanced rations, but had a little alfalfa thrown in, and when he tired of his scientifically prescribed rations he ate alfalfa. He gained 200 pounds in six months. But Harry had the same balanced rations, and the alfalfa, had his gate left open, and when he felt like it, went out and got something not on the course of study. He had gained 230 pounds in the six months.

This was a most interesting psychological study. We must give more consideration to how the boys and girls will learn when they aren't taking the medicine regularly prescribed for them in our courses of study.

The address was a delightful presentation of a big theme, and was many times interrupted with bursts of laughter and applause.

The music of the morning was another delightful feature of the program. Mrs. H. Aden Enyeart singing "Laddie" by Thayer, and "Orpheus" by Lute, by Maury. Mrs. Enyeart is always a prime favorite with the university audience, and great appreciation was shown of her beautiful singing of two songs. She was accompanied by Mrs. L. C. Harrington.

McCUMBER MAKES TWO ADDRESSES

Speaks to Large Crowds at Northwood and Larimore Yesterday.

Delivering two addresses in Grand Forks county, the first in the afternoon at Northwood, and the second last evening at Larimore, Porter J. McCumber, senior senator from North Dakota, opened the campaign for the Republican party. At Northwood he was enthusiastically received by a packed house. Business men and farmers alike suspended business operations to listen to the address. Even the school children marched to the hall to hear the distinguished speaker.

At Larimore, the crack city band, dressed in gala attire, followed by over 100 torch bearers and enthusiastic citizens, marched through the main street. Cheer after cheer was given for McCumber and when he proceeded to the city hall auditorium, practically every man who had participated in the street demonstration, followed him.

In his speeches, Senator McCumber discussed the free tariff law, Wilson's foreign policy, and the Mexican situation, the rural credits law and several other important political issues of the day. In his address the senator discussed the free tariff law, Wilson's foreign policy, and the Mexican situation, the rural credits law and several other important political issues of the day.

"Had it not been for the outbreak of the war, the cutting off of the protective tariff would have brought about a condition of depression even more serious than that of 1897. The condition will reach even a more serious crisis at the end of the war, if legislation to establish a protective tariff is not enacted."

He maintained that Wilson has made the United States the laughing stock of the world by his foreign policy; that he at no time knew where he was in his foreign negotiations.

"That Wilson furnished arms to Mexican bandits, with which they murdered American citizens; that there would have been trouble with Mexico had the administration recognized Huerta, instead of attempting to dictate politics to the people of Mexico."

"That the rural credits law is the biggest farce ever attempted by a political party to be put across on the farmers; that it is unworkable and could not be successful because of the '200 miles' of red tape connected with its operation. That it will create positions for thousands of 'deserving' Democrats at a cost to the people of millions of dollars."

"That the expenditures of the Wilson administration are unprecedented, the tax burden is unbearable, and the lack of a business like attitude in handling all governmental affairs evident in every act of Woodrow Wilson."

BIG PARTY AT "U" TONIGHT

First Week of School to be Brought to Close by Social Event.

The first week of school at the University of North Dakota will be brought to a close this evening with one of the most popular social events of the school year, the Y. W. C. A. party. The party will be given in the university gymnasium beginning at 7:30 o'clock. It is expected that a large number of students of the university will gather in the gymnasium and an excellent time is promised to all who attend.

Miss Frances Cathro, representing the Y. W. C. A., and Charles Teel, representing the Y. M. C. A., have had complete charge of the program of the evening and will be in charge of that promises to be exceptionally interesting. To open the party there will be a grand march led by Miss Gene Beardsley and Arthur Shaft. Immediately following the grand march will be divided into 16 groups, each group representing one student activity. A leader for each group has been provided and will cooperate with the members of his circle in getting off some stunt characteristic of the company he is representing. Thus, one group will imitate the Greek and Buskin society, another will portray the Men's Glee club in action, another will caricature the much-beloved student work committee, and so on through the entire 16 stunts. Leaders have been at work on their stunts and several promise to be exceptionally interesting.

Several musical numbers will intersperse the stunts of the evening. Vocal solos will be given by Miss Jennie Gale, Miss Ruth Mann and Clara O'Connor, who is a student of the university from sunny Honolulu, who captivated his audience at the Y. M. C. A. "stag party" Wednesday evening, will again appear this evening and will sing several numbers, accompanying himself on the ukulele, an instrument which he plays with much skill and wit.

Following the program refreshments will be served. A cordial invitation is extended to all students of the university to attend the gathering this evening and help to make the party a success in every possible way. A good time is assured.

DEMOCRATIC FUND MUST BE $1,500,000

New York, Sept. 30.—A fund of $1,500,000 will be required to conduct the democratic national campaign, according to a statement made here last night by Henry Morgenthau, treasurer of the national campaign committee. He declared New York was willing to contribute about one-third of this amount, which exceeds by about $400,000 the sum spent in the 1912 campaign.

SPORT PROMOTERS CONVICTED

New York, Sept. 30.—The use of young boys as prize fighters resulted in the conviction here yesterday of the Broadway Sporting club of Brooklyn for impairing the morals of minors. The charge was brought by the Brooklyn Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. It was charged that they permitted Irving Wolkow, aged 13 years, to fight Isadore Brody, 14 years old, in the club for money.
