AMERICAN LEAGUE AGAIN HAS SHOWN ITSELF TO BE BETTER THAN NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

Winning of World's Series and Two City Championships Puts Younger League to Front by Wide Margin—Contains Large Number of Star Players.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—With the close of another baseball season the American league has again demonstrated beyond a doubt that it is by far the stronger of the two major organizations.

The National league has no Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker to raise its standard of efficiency. Some of the wise followers of the game attribute the superiority of the junior league to the fact that it has such strong players as Speaker and Cobb, and also George Sisler, who is just coming into his own as a star.

For next year the chances are some better for the two leagues to get closer to each other in playing strength, because the New York Giants promise to give the new league a battle for supremacy. If the Giants do as well next year as they did at the close of this season they will win the pennant so far that the rest of the league will look like a minor organization.

Since the major league field has been shared by the National and American leagues in the sixteen years the pendulum has swung back and forth several times giving the advantage to one side and then the other.

The American league has maintained its supremacy ever since the Philadelphia Athletics put the Cubs out of it for the victory of the Boston Braves two years ago proved to be a mistake. The Cubs, who were the ball are often spoken of and the victory of the Braves was a sure enough example.

Walter Johnson is also beginning to have signs at times of letting down in his terrific speed, but he is a long way from being through. The showing of Ferdie Schupp of the Giants this fall may be the start of a career as spectacular as that of Johnson.

The Athletics held the leadership of the game from the time that the Cubs were dethroned until the Red Sox came along and grabbed off the big honor. The Boston Americans are a wonderful bunch of players and there is no sign that they are to be much weaker next year unless it is a weakness in the judgment of the manager.

It Bill Carrigan quits the job of leading the champions this fall it is a question whether his successor will prove to be so capable in getting the work out of the men.

Carrigan has been called "uncanny" in his success in switching his hurlers and changing his lineup at the right times. His judgment of men is far above that of the ordinary manager.

THE MAN AROUND THE DEPOT. (Collier's.)

The trainmen get most of the advertising and news space these days, but anyone who moves himself or family out to the country in the summer time is certain to find out that the station agent pretty nearly is the railroad.

In addition to having the qualities which make for success in the management of a general merchandise store, he must usually be a telephone operator, a rough-and-ready lawyer, a first-aid surgeon, a substitute for a certified public accountant, a pretty good bank president, a political economist, a peace-maker, a captain of men in action and an organizer of victory.

UGLY COMPARISON. "Dad, what do they mean by perennials?" "Continuing from year to year," answered pop.

"Like my hat," interposed ma. "And then there was a deep, portentous silence.—Providence Tribune.

The past reputation of the Lanpher hat is your best guarantee of its present perfection.

To hold the allegiance of myriads of critical men through forty-four years means a rigid adherence to right principals of hat making, means a tireless effort to produce a hat that excels in all the various "points" by which good hats are judged.

BIG DAY FOR THE CLASSES

Annual Class Game, Cane Rush, Wrestling and Boxing Matches.

Tomorrow will be a big day for the sophomore and freshman classes at the university. The two will meet on the athletic field in the annual football game, cane rush and boxing and wrestling matches, the first time that all the athletic events between the two schools have been held on the same day.

Neither of the classes have announced who their champions will be in the boxing and wrestling although the teams have been organized.

The events will take place in front of the grandstand of the football field and a larger crowd than usual is expected to attend.

The sophomores are expected to have a strong football team with a number of men who have played on the second varsity and last year's freshman team. The strength of the freshman eleven is unknown.

Matches of the National Rifle association will begin today.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache, but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to rush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.

NORTH DAKOTA AGGIES AND ST. THOMAS BATTLE ON GRIDIRON TOMORROW

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 13.—North Dakota Aggies and St. Thomas Cadets meet here tomorrow—both teams going into the game with greatly changed lineups as compared with their last previous appearance on the gridiron.

The St. Thomas Cadets will arrive here this afternoon in preparation for tomorrow's game.

Coach Davis today announced that his class of cripples, out of the game several days, will be in the lineup again, while St. Thomas, as a result of injuries received in the North Dakota university game, will be radically changed from quarantine to the field.

St. Thomas, who has been alternating with Egan at quarter, will be seen at end Saturday. King has been limping about with a bad ankle and in case he is not able to play his position will be taken by Goheen.

Glenn's broken rib is mending nicely. Dandellet will play at full Saturday and his place in the line will be filled by Gil Raidt.
