

JUDGE CHURCH 81 YEARS OLD

City Employes Hold Festival in Celebration of Aged Magistrate's Birthday

Police Magistrate J. R. Church, pioneer citizen of Grand Forks and one of the wisest known residents in the western section of North Dakota, today celebrated his 81st birthday. Judge Church is undoubtedly the oldest presiding official in the northwest, and has occupied the bench in the local police court since Feb. 2, 1904. During the entire intervening period, he has been at his desk every day with the exception of three weeks, when he took a short vacation to regain his health.

Shortly after noon today, Chief of Police William Love called at the home of Judge Church and asked him to come to the city hall at once. As usual the judge was ready and did not hesitate to ask questions. He entered the court room expecting to conduct official business, but instead, was confronted by every city official employed in the city hall, who had gathered there to assist him in celebrating his birthday.

A mammoth cake, covered with 81 lighted candles, an array of refreshments and other incidentals to add life to the occasion had been prepared. The judge was speechless.

Headed by Desk Sergeant Schuyler the employes gathered about the judge to extend congratulations. Then, the festivities began. Jack Welsh, city treasurer, who is also somewhat of a poet, was called upon to open the program, with several dedicatory verses. Mr. Welsh presented the judge with a cane, the gift of his friends who had gathered for the occasion.

"Auld Lang Syne" was sung by all, after which the guest of honor made a short speech of appreciation. The judge revived from his surprise sufficiently to thank his friends for the demonstration and for the gift, and in few, but appreciative words, showed his pleasure at the thoughtfulness displayed.

RALPH AKEN TAKEN INTO CUSTODY TODAY

Grand Forks Man to Be Held at County Bastille Pending Developments.

Ralph Aken of this city was taken into custody by the county officials today and is now being cared for at the jail, pending developments, as the result of a disturbance which he caused at his home this morning. Aken's condition became so serious this morning that his wife deemed it necessary to ask the assistance of the officials.

The city nurse and Officer Treacy visited the Aken home but were unable to assist and instructed the county officials to take charge of the man. Unless his condition improves, it is probable that he will be taken before the county board of insanity.

SNOW ARRIVES! COAL BIN FULL?

Old Timer is Busy and so is Man Who Stokes the Furnace.

The city of Grand Forks, in common with the entire northeastern portion of the state, experienced its first fall of snow of the season this morning. Heads of scores of homes all over the city spent anxious moments contemplating the coal bin, while juvenile members of each household made riotous clamors for sleds, snow shovels and other accessories of the season dear to childhood's heart.

Heavy thunder and lightning, a rare phenomena in this season, and accompanied by a light wind, preceded the downfall of the "beautiful" at an early hour. A rising temperature speedily resolved the snow blanket into a mass of slush. This afternoon the sun made fitful efforts to penetrate through the clouds, and by night, practically all of the snow will have disappeared.

Old timers greet the early fall with the assertion that it presages an open winter season. Reservation Indians make a kindred claim, stating that corn husks this year are lighter than usual, that musk rats are neglecting to make proper preparations, and that all signs of woodcraft point to an unusually mild winter.

Great Northern officials this morning reported that a snow fall of from seven to ten inches prevailed over the Dakota division. Train service, however, is not affected and all runs are being made on schedule. Potato traffic is somewhat affected, shippers showing a disposition to hold aloof and await the outcome of the change of weather.

Snow fall at Fargo has not been reported today, but seven inches have fallen at Hillsboro. The storm is expected to reach Fargo this afternoon or evening.

Coal men spent a busy day today making deliveries.

"Beauty isn't even skin deep," said the Cyril as he gazed at the array of cosmetics in the window.

POLITICS NOW CHIEF INTEREST

No Registration Day in North Dakota—New Voters Must be Sworn In.

With the general election but three weeks away, interest is reaching the boiling point in Grand Forks and vicinity and politicians are now entering upon their last lap of the campaign.

There will be no registration day in North Dakota for the general election, as the voters who cast ballots at the primaries will comprise the eligible list for the November election. Those who have moved into new precincts or have reached the age of 21 since the primaries, must be sworn in on election day. Those who had not resided in the state for one year at the time of the primary election, but who will be eligible to cast a ballot on November 7, must also be sworn in.

Grand Forks politicians declare that the general election next month will be unprecedented in all respects. More interest will be shown than in any previous election and the number of votes cast will be the largest in the history of the county.

The demand for absent voters' ballots in North Dakota has more than doubled, according to County Auditor Hans Anderson. Traveling men are taking advantage of the privilege this year and many who formerly were unable to vote because of business duties, may now cast a vote in whatever village, city or hamlet they may be in.

County Auditor Anderson is enthusiastic over the absent voters' ballot law which has been adopted in North Dakota. He claims that within a few years every state, realizing the success that has been attained in North Dakota, will adopt similar measures to permit every eligible voter to cast a ballot.

The ballots were delivered to the county auditor this morning and are being forwarded at once to the applicants.

SCHOOL WORK IS STUDIED

Parent-Teachers' Association is Important Organization.

The patrons of the Grand Forks city schools are taking an active interest in the work of the Parent-Teachers' association, which was begun last year. The five grade schools—Roosevelt, Washington, Belmont, Winship and Wilder and the high school—have flourishing organizations. The aim of the association is to bring about a better understanding between parent and teacher. By meeting together monthly, questions of mutual interest to both sides can be discussed.

The work is in charge of a central committee, composed of the president and chairman of the program committee of each school. Attention is given to the questions to be worked out during the year. It is not necessary that the different associations take up the questions in the same order, but at least one meeting during the school year is given over to a discussion of the topics decided upon by the central committee.

An interesting discussion on regulating moving pictures for the school children was held last year, and this will be continued this year. Attention also will be given to "community work," "uniform costumes for the girls of the seventh and eighth grades and high school," "the social life of the student" and other equally interesting subjects.

The Roosevelt and Belmont schools have held the first meetings of the year and the Winship and Wilder schools will have meetings tomorrow afternoon and evening.

FOOD INSPECTORS LEAVE THE CITY

State Deputies Go to Hillsboro to Continue Work—Local Places Are Satisfactory.

R. D. Baird and M. Jorgenvard, state food inspectors, left this morning for Hillsboro to spend several days here inspecting the stores, hotels, groceries, restaurants and wholesale houses of the city. Mrs. R. A. Sprague, city food inspector, accompanied the state inspectors on the trips about the city. The conditions at all places were highly satisfactory. Mr. Baird and Mr. Jorgenvard will go to Fargo from Hillsboro.

DEMAND FOR STOCK STILL INCREASING

Committees Report Great Success—Applications From Rural Districts Heavy.

Applications for stock in the Northern Packing company plant continue to pour into the Grand Forks stock exchange club, according to word given out this morning. The committees in charge of the stock sale reported unusual success and claim that the support extended from every side is much greater than had been expected.

The success of the concern is now assured and preliminary details for the establishing of the plant are under way.

Every Woman Has the Right To a Hoosier

Every woman is entitled to every work-saving device that will make kitchen work easier. Going without a Hoosier—saving the very moderate price by taking miles of unnecessary steps, every meal you get and every meal you clean up after, is poor economy.

Do you realize that you can have a Hoosier in your kitchen immediately by paying only $1.00.

And complete the payments at the rate of $1.00 a week, without interest or increasing the cost.

Hoosiers range in price from $17.75 to $41.50. Make your choice and we will deliver it on payment of $1.00—on a "money-back-if-you-are-not-delighted" guarantee.

The Vital Part of Your Cabinet

The picture above shows how the scientific arrangement of the Hoosier makes it a real helper. Storage space is above and below. There is plenty of unhampered room above and around the aluminum (or porcelain) work-table.

There are no useless little partitions to chop up the space and leave no room for work. Your cabinet must have big table space to work on. The Hoosier gives it.

Come and see these six exclusive Hoosier features:

- 1—The all-metal glass front flour bin.
- 2—The gear-driven shaker flour sifter which makes flour light and fluffy.
- 3—Scientific arrangement—articles needed most frequently easiest reached.
- 4—Revolving caster (shown in center of illustration).
- 5—The ingenious, big-capacity sugar bin—holds more than twice as much as most other bins.
- 6—Finally, the doors that roll back at the sides of the cabinet, entirely out of the way.
