

KNUTE NELSON TO SPEAK HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Lynn J. Frazier and Other Prominent Politicians to Participate in Program.

T. B. Elton to Preside—Big Minnesota Delegation Coming in Special Cars.

Knute Nelson, Minnesota's senior senator, who has been repeatedly re-elected by overwhelming majorities, will complete an extensive campaign in support of the Republican candidates in North Dakota when he delivers an address tomorrow evening in the Grand Forks Auditorium.

Senator Nelson visited for a short time in the city Thursday evening en route to Grafton, where he will speak this evening. He will return here tomorrow noon.

Probably no statesman in the country is more familiar with national issues than Knute Nelson, and he is expected to bring up before the senate his proposed active part. His popularity exceeds the bounds of his home state, and he is considered a favorite throughout the entire northwest. In every city where he has given addresses, he has been greeted by big crowds.

From every section of the Red River Valley farmers and business men will flock to this city to hear Mr. Nelson. Great Northern Passenger Train No. 23, arriving here at 10:25 in the evening, will have several extra coaches attached Saturday night, bringing delegations from points along the line as far east as Fosston. Reservations have been made for 75 from Fosston alone, while nearly as many will come from McIntosh, the next city west.

The Grand Forks Military band will furnish music for the occasion and will give a street concert before the rally. Theodore B. Elton, assistant state's attorney, will preside and it is expected that Lynn J. Frazier, the Republican candidate for governor, will deliver a short address and introduce the principal speaker of the evening.

In order to accommodate the Minnesota visitors the Great Northern railway officials have announced that they will hold passenger No. 36, due out of Grand Forks at 10:15 for Duluth, until 10:45 or 11 o'clock p. m., if necessary.

CLASSES HELPFUL TO YOUNG WOMEN

Carpenter and Miss Mame Goodwin, both of this city, to help the foreign young women master the English language. The association is the only place in the city that such instruction can be obtained, and while the attendance at the classes is good, a great many more could be accommodated.

A course in spelling, penmanship, reading and language is offered in both the beginners and the advanced classes, and the work is graded similar to the work in the schools.

Miss Cara Adams of Minneapolis, who will speak at the Business Girls' club banquet at the Y. W. C. A. this evening, will be honored Saturday afternoon, when Miss Elizabeth McKenzie, secretary of the local association, will give an informal tea in the parlors of the Y. W. C. BOARD MEETS TO CONSIDER CONTRACT

Drain No. 9 Still Under Consideration Before the County Drainage Board.

Two bids for the construction of drain No. 9 in Grand Forks county are being considered by the drainage board which is in session at the county court house today.

A complete survey of the drain has been completed by County Surveyor Joe Ingram and the assessments and benefits to be derived have already been acted upon. Proposed drain No. 9, which was brought up for consideration at the same hearing when it was decided to construct No. 9, has been abandoned, as the result of a petition presented by the land owners, who declared that the ditch would be of little service.

The work on drain No. 9 will start in the very near future, according to present plans, as efforts will be made to complete the work before next spring, in order that the land through which it will be built will be drained during the heavy spring water period.

MANY ALUMNI ALREADY HERE

University Graduates Arrive in City for Homecoming Day.

With alumni of the University of North Dakota coming in on every train today, the campus is beginning to take on a different aspect. Everyone is entering into the spirit of the big homecoming day tomorrow and in spite of the unsettled weather is predicted it does not daunt the spirit of the students of the university.

Saturday will be a holiday at the university, all classes having been suspended by order of the council. The day will be opened with the annual freshman-sophomore cane rush and tug-of-war on the athletic field. This event is always one of unusual interest and this year will be no exception to the rule.

At 10:30 is the big mass meeting in the gymnasium with plenty of speakers, music and spirit. The athletic flag will be presented to the university at the conclusion of the meeting and will be accepted by William Greenleaf.

The big North Dakota-South Dakota football game is the big attraction for the evening, which will be followed by a banquet in the Commons, at which many prominent alumni will speak. A special feature of the banquet will be the singing of the sophomore class winners of the Carney song contest last February. The sophomore will sing their freshmen songs with which they succeeded in winning the prize on the evening there will be a big informal party in the gymnasium.

At a mass meeting held in the gymnasium Thursday evening the students of the university organized for the day. Roy Weston of Valley City and Rod Reed, formerly a student at Hamline college, will be cheerleaders for the season and these two men will head the students in the game tomorrow. Yells and songs were practiced and several speeches were made at the meeting, which from a standpoint of enthusiasm was the best that has been held at the university for some time.

TYPHOID EPIDEMIC IS BEING INVESTIGATED

Minot Branch of Public Health Laboratory Seeking to Determine Cause of It.

The Minot branch of the State Public Health Laboratory is undertaking a careful survey of the city of Minot to determine the cause of the number of typhoid cases in that city and its vicinity. An examination of both the water supply and the milk will be made.

In connection with the state dairy commissioner, the director of the health laboratory is conducting a survey of the milk situation, embracing the subject from the scoring of the dairies through the retailing and distributing side of the business. All milk that is brought or sold in the city will be subjected to a complete chemical and bacteriological examination.

The fighting of typhoid and diphtheria epidemics in the state has been a part of the work of the state public health laboratory of North Dakota for some time. A great deal of progress has been made in combating both of these diseases.

NO ARCTIC WARRIORS

Battle history halts at the arctic circle. Beyond that human life is so difficult to sustain that its willful waste is unthinkable. Nations with a foothold in the icy north recruit no men in that region, for they are the men of such meager stature and intellect that a military training is next to impossible.

The real natives of the arctic can endure hunger and fatigue, can march in their own fashion through hurricane and blizzard, but their value is rather in the explorer and the hunter than in the soldier. As hunters they are wonderfully clever, yet they are curiously formal in administering the coup de grace.

They will apologize to the fire white bear they have cornered before advancing to a close attack with bone tipped arrows and spears, a duel in which the odds seem decisively on the bear destroying the man. They are therefore not cowards in any sense, and few sportsmen would risk their lives against bear and wolf and walrus protected only by futile weapons and their own personal dexterity.

The Lepps and Samoyeds of arctic Russia, like the Eskimos of North America and Greenland, are often compelled in times of dearth and famine to sacrifice their aged weaklings to the gods of the north. It is said that this form of death has become a vague religious and social principle with them.

"Bang!" went the rifles at the mannevers. "Oo-oo!" cried the pretty girl—a nice, decorous, surprised little scream. She stepped forward into the arms of a young man.

"Oh!" said she, blushing. "I was frightened by the rifles. I beg your pardon."

"Not at all," said the young man. "Let's go over and watch the artillery."

We learn from the scripture that there is no rest for the wicked, and it is easy to see that there is none for the politicians—until the good job is ended.

Why Suffer From Migraine or Sick Headache?

Dr. J. J. Caldwell says that this exceedingly distressing disease does not shorten life, but does not appear to be curable. Sufferers from this affliction are condemned to undergo his periodic attacks every few weeks until they are forty years of age, after which the attacks are less frequent, and finally disappear entirely. Palliative measures during the attack are all that it is possible to suggest, while care in the diet is the best preventive measure. An attack may often be prevented by taking two anti-kamnia tablets when the first symptoms appear, and one anti-kamnia tablet every two hours during the attack shortens it, eases the pain and restores rest and quiet. Anti-kamnia tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A. K. Tablets. They quickly relieve all pains.

Community Hallow'en For Grand Forks is Suggested; Give Children Night of Wholesome Fun, Say People

The "safe and sane" or community hallow'en celebration idea has reached Grand Forks and it now is up to the residents of the city for consideration and while it may be too late to accomplish much for the children this year, there will be an enthusiasm aroused for next year. This plan is being observed in several of the eastern cities and is meeting with much success. The city officials and school authorities co-operate and arrange for a program of wholesome amusements and sports in the playgrounds and parks of the city, after which comes the Hallow'en costume party.

Hallow'en is meant for a night of fun and frolic, even from the very first celebration of the feast, but usually the pranks have meant destruction and inconvenience. The object of the "community party" is to do away with mischievous "stunts" and give the children a chance to enjoy wholesome fun for a few hours. The club women of the city and the officials who were asked about the plan this morning, were very much in favor of the idea and expressed a hope that it could be worked out for this city. Their comments follow:

Chief of Police Lowe: "There should be some way for the children to spend the evening. An entertainment of some kind could be given and the funds used to purchase the treats for the children."

Mrs. J. M. Gillette, President of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Winship School: "I think the idea an excellent one and it ought to be encouraged. The evening is one for fun and frolic, but has been very much diverted heretofore. The only way to get it back in the right channels would be to do something of this kind for the children of the city."

Mrs. H. R. Brush, Director of the Home and Education Department of the Civic League: "It would be possible to carry out the plan if the community spirit were better developed in this city and there was a public playground. However, the idea is a good one and could be worked out satisfactorily."

Mrs. A. G. Leonard: "The idea is an excellent one, and could be worked out successfully. This would be a problem that could be worked out through the co-operation of the Parent-Teachers' associations, the Women's club and the city officials."

John Carpehags was one of the most successful travelers on the road. On one occasion he was sent out by his people to get an order from a big firm which gave all its orders to a rival firm.

Unfortunately, this gentleman possessed such an atrocious style of calligraphy that not a word was legible. However, Carpehags remembered that chemists can usually read anything in the way of handwriting, because of their wide experience with doctors' prescriptions. So he handed in the letter to the local chemist.

"I wonder if you can read that?" he asked.

The chemist took it and returned to the back of the shop. Ten minutes later he reappeared with a sealed bottle wrapped in paper and sealed.

"Oh, yes sir! It was quite easy. Here's your medicine! Fifty cents, please!"

Besides the war munitions factories, this country is said to have 380 piano factories—and some persons opposed to both kinds.
