TEAM LEAVES TOMORROW FOR SOUTH DAKOTA

Coach Gill Running His men Thru Last Lap of Practice For Big Game.

Athletes Will be Unaccompanied on Long Journey—Changes will be Made.

Tomorrow evening at 7:10 o'clock, the University of North Dakota football team will leave for Brookings, S. D., where a game will be played for the championship of the two Dakotas with the state aggregation of South Dakota. This is the first and tomorrow, Gill will put his men through stiff practice to prepare for the game. Several changes are contemplated in the lineup but these will not be determined until tomorrow afternoon.

The varsity squad is facing what promises to be the hardest game of the season, barring the Minnesota contest. Handicapped by the loss of several regulars, it will be necessary to use a number of second string men. It is expected that Boyd will retain his berth at quarterback, given to him last Saturday when McCarthy was taken from the game with a sprained ankle. Shifts in the line and back field are probable, but just what changes are to be made remains uncertain.

At Brookings Saturday, the varsity will participate in one of the most important student celebrations of South Dakota state this year. "Hobo day" will be the occasion and novel features of entertainment have been planned. Athletic events, band concerts and similar numbers are included in the features of the day, with the varsity-South Dakota game as the big feature.

It is not expected that the team will be accompanied by members of the student body. The trip is long and tedious and the expense necessitated is too great to promote interest among the supporters of the team.

CANADA CURLERS PREPARING FOR WINTER PROGRAM

Winnipeg, Nov. 8.—Strathcona curlers met Monday evening for their semi-annual meeting and prepared plans for the ensuing season's play. It was decided to open the season with a patriotic bonspiel and work in conjunction with the Manitoba Curling association or the Athletic Patriotic association, which ever is in charge. Some heavy expenditure in improving the rink during the summer has placed the treasury in somewhat of a low position and the advisability of asking the shareholders to withstand the expense was discussed at length and finally agreed to leave it to the executive to decide, though an effort will be made to make up the deficit by more economical means this winter.

The question as to what was the best system of play for the members in regard to the bonspiel representation was a matter which caused considerable discussion. There were some who felt that one event open to all rinks would meet with popular favor, but after pulling the different systems to pieces it was finally agreed that the old way A and B classes was the best after all. The only difference will be that the rinks must play as scheduled or lose their games after January 1.

While the membership will again be satisfactory there is room for more and any wishing to join should communicate with the secretary at an early date.

SHOULD PERSONNEL OF BASEBALL COMMISSION BE CHANGED? DECISIONS NOT ALWAYS FAIR, COMPLAINT FROM CHICAGO

Should the national baseball commission, as at present constituted, be abolished? This question has recently received considerable attention from baseball writers, and plenty of arguments have been advanced, pro and con. The board consists of Ban Johnson, president of the American league; President Tener of the National league, and Garry Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati Reds. The sporting editor of a big Chicago paper, in a recent article, contended that Messrs. Johnson, Tener and Herrmann should resign, because they are unable to give baseball questions which come up to them for decision impartial treatment. He said:

"Baseball fans are looking forward to a big rumpus at the annual election of the chairman of the national commission this winter. It is a formality that has been gone through with every year since Garry Herrmann was named as head of the commission at the time the body was formed. Last winter Ban Johnson attempted to end Herrmann's administration and the fans are watching for the fireworks to start."

"The trouble between the head of the American league and the chairman of the commission was somewhat of a surprise, because they had worked hand-in-hand for the many years they had been associated. The fans expect to see any one else but the boss of the Reds elected, though after the big fuss is over."

"The make-up of the commission is such that it is impossible for one member of the organization to outvoted two to one.

"It is necessary for one member to have another member with him before he can carry out any proposition he starts. In the annual election of chairman the National league president and the American league head are the only two who can vote. It is hardly possible that President Tener will side with Johnson to oust Herrmann, as Herrmann is a National leaguer, and his influence is too valuable for the league to lose."

"As a matter of fact, the whole commission should be reorganized. The personnel of the supreme court of the great national game is almost a joke at the present time. Not that the men on the commission are considered dishonest or incapable, but because they have no right to sit in judgment on the very important matters that come before them when they are vitally interested in every case. The national commission should be made up of impartial men who are not interested in any way in either league, but who are men well versed in every phase of the game."

"The national agreement that was signed at the close of the war between the National and American leagues named the presidents of the two circuits as members of the tribunal. The mistake was made by the framers of that document. There is no equity or justice in having a case tried before a man who is prejudiced one way or another in every case."

"The statement has often been made that it is impossible to conduct the great game of baseball according to law. While that is true in some respects, it does not need to be carried out here. It was wrong to name the heads of the two great leagues as members of the supreme court of the game, and it is an injustice to the players and club owners who have had to submit to their decisions. It does not follow that all decisions rendered by the commission have been unfair, but they have been illegal."

Cites Another Mistake.

"On top of the wrong in naming the league heads as members of the commission, the framers of the national agreement made another mistake when they elected Garry Herrmann chairman. He might be qualified in every way for the place, but the one lone fact that he is a club owner and a partial judge should have been plainly evident to the persons who elected him. The commission therefore is open to the charge that it is a partial court, and therefore unfit to hear cases."

"This charge applies to every case that comes before the commission. Either the National league is partial to some of the parties to every case or the American league is. For the good of the game the national commission should be reorganized and a new set of men elected to hold down the places now being held by Herrmann, Johnson and Tener. There is no way to bring about the re-organization of the commission, because members cannot be ousted. But if they have the real interests of the game at heart they will resign of their own accord and call for a new shuffle."

CARRIGAN MAY STILL BE PILOT

New Owners May Keep Him—Would Help Red Sox in Repeat Game.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—The sale of the Boston Red Sox may have a bearing on the American league championship next year. If the sale is confirmed and there is little doubt at the present time that the deal will be ratified, the new owners may be able to induce Bill Carrigan to remain as head of the team. With the veteran manager in charge of the combination the Red Sox will continue to be a big factor in the race.

Without him the champions are not likely to be nearly so strong, because they will not have the spirit and the fighting leader. The purchasers of the club have announced their intention of going after Carrigan with a big offer for his services again and it is quite probable that this will be just the kind of inducement he wants to stick in the game.

Joe Lannin is not the kind of a man to beg any one to stay with him at an advanced salary. His treatment of Tris Speaker showed how he feels about being held up by the ball players. There is a well founded rumor going the rounds that the reason for the retirement of Bill Carrigan was his desire to get more money. He would not come out and make his resignation on those grounds, because Lannin would never listen to him. Now he is in a position to accept an increase because he has not formally announced his retirement.

Even though Carrigan is back at the helm the Red Sox will not be so strong as they have been for the two last seasons. The fact they have already won two pennants is against them winning next year. The history of championship teams is that the men cannot keep the swelling out of their heads long enough to play together with the maximum of efficiency three years in succession. The strengthening of the other teams in the league will make it harder for the Red Sox to win.

With teams like the White Sox, Tigers and Browns to fight them for every game the champions will not have any easy time of it.

Who Would Get the Conference Title if the Teams all Lose?

Who will get the conference football title if every team contending for it is defeated? That query was propounded immediately after the Illinois had trimmed the Gophers and Ohio put the Badgers temporarily out of the running. The question assumes possible defeats for Northwestern and the Buckeyes.

With Northwestern and Ohio both defeated the championship would have to be awarded on comparative scores. If all should Indiana trim Ohio next Saturday and Iowa get away with the big end of the score from the Purple, there would not remain a single team with a clean slate.

EAST SIDE TEAMS CLASH—NORTH END LOSES 12 TO 6

In an unusually interesting contest, the north and south end football aggregations of East Grand Forks met at Fickett park Tuesday afternoon when the southerners piled up a total of 12 points to the opposition's 6.

In the first period of the game, the northern team took the lead scoring a touchdown from a cleverly executed pass. Zinyo to Goldberg. Kemper failed to kick goal. With only nine minutes to play, the southerners crowded the oval to the opposition line where Kelly went over for a touchdown. A few minutes later Jack Sullivan crawled over the line for the second touchdown.

It is probable that another game will be arranged before the end of the season.

BEMIDJI CITY TEAM BOOKED FOR GAME WITH RANGE ELEVEN

Bemidji, Minn., Nov. 8.—Grand Rapids and Bemidji city football teams will clash at the athletic park here Sunday. The Bemidji team, although it has but a few practices expects to put up against the fast range team, which has an excellent record this year.

The Grand Rapids team is strengthened this season by Glen Peck, formerly a Bemidji football and basketball star, and who will play against the locals Sunday. At a recent meeting of the Bemidji team Ray Johnson was named manager and John O'Connor captain. The game Sunday will be called at 3:15 p. m. and a large crowd is expected to attend.

PROMOTERS BEMOAN BOOKING OF BOUT IN APOSTLE CITY

Prominent sport writers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco are expressing broad wonderment over the fact that St. Paul secured the Mike Gibbons-Jack Dillon fight, which will be staged in the Apostle City next Friday evening. All of the big burges were not in the market for this classy battle for the real large fight centers only.

That the St. Paul promoters will be fortunate in having one of the largest houses that ever favored a boxing card is now certain. Duluth and the Iron range fans to the north will attend in a body. Plans that were made for a special train fell through when the date of the fight was switched from Nov. 17 back to Nov. 10.

NEEDS MORE PEP PURDUE ELEVEN

Capt. P.H. Hake

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 4.—Captain Hake of the Purdue Boilermakers, and quarterback on the team, is hoping his boys will step through the signals in their best fashion when they play Chicago, because if the Boilermakers win it will be the first time they have done so in fifteen years.

The Boilermakers have not managed to perform brilliantly in their western conference games so far this season and there is complaint that the boys have shown a lack of the right sort of fighting spirit and team work. Their work against Iowa showed this particularly and Coach O'Donnell has been right after his men with the determination to make them bark and snarl a bit.

There have been seasons when Purdue has managed to hold Chicago to a close score, but it has been oftener that they were swamped and never have they won. Old grads have come to speak of the Chicago game as Purdue's "yearly humiliation."

If the team somehow manages to brace up and slip one over on Coach Stagg's boys they will go down into Purdue history as the greatest heroes of all time.

Moorhead Picks a Victory From the Fast Fergus Team

Fergus Falls, Nov. 8.—Outplaying Fergus Falls in every department of the game, Moorhead high won from Fergus 14 to 0 yesterday. Penalized by a disheartening degree, the Moorhead team put up a plucky fight and displayed some real football. On three different occasions the Moorhead team was called back for offense by the head linesman after Murray, Bayor and Nemzek had broken through the entire field for touchdowns. On two of those occasions the linesman's whistle was not blown until the Moorhead men had passed Fergus' last defense.

ADA WINS FROM FARGO ELEVEN

High School Teams Clash and Aerial Route Nets Lone Touchdown.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 8.—With Captain Beals the only man on the team who could register gains and with the towering Ada players tearing through for big gains or shooting long forward passes Fargo did mighty well to hold the Minnesota visitors to a 7 to 0 score Tuesday afternoon.

Even so, the Ada touchdown came as the result of a freak play. Beals jumped high into the air to intercept a forward pass, it bounced off the tips of his fingers and plump into the arms of a speeding Ada player, Bowen by name, who completed a total gain of 65 yards for a touchdown. Lindberg kicked goal, and Fargo high's season ended in about the same sort of luck that it began with.

This score, registered after a lot of costly fumbling early in the first period, stood throughout the game while the two teams struggled desperately up and down the field. Beals made many spectacular gains, going around end at one time for 45 yards but no other man of the Fargo team could gain and less than 15 yards were made throughout the battle with anybody else carrying the ball.

Ada, on the other hand, had a versatile attack, with two or three big backfield men carrying the ball thru the line for magnificent gains. Forward passes, too, were used by the visitors for big gains. Rudolph, Sandvold, and Lysted were offensive stars while the line men for Ada broke up everything that Beals wasn't carrying.

On two or three occasions Fargo's captain carried the ball down the field but when goal was within reach there was no Chaney to plunge through and no Demier to dash around the end and the exhausted captain wasn't equal to the whole job alone.
