American Cities Revive Old Custom

The old English custom of setting lighted candles in the windows of all the homes, on Christmas eve, is being revived in many of the large cities in the country. This idea has not been made use of in America until the last few years, and as it is one of the prettiest of the Christmas customs, it ought to be observed in every city and town in the country. The rows of lighted candles in the windows of the residences bring cheer to the hearts of the passerby, and it brings more of the "Peace on Earth" feeling to men, than anything else could ever do. Any one who has experienced a Christmas Eve, where the candle lighting has been observed, would not want to let a year go by without the observance of this old custom.

OUTLOOK GOOD BOARD'S VIEW

This Is Result of Monthly Tabulations From the Branch Banks.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Continued favorable business conditions throughout the country, with all markets extremely active, prices still are going up in many lines and high levels of production set in others, are noted in the federal reserve board's monthly tabulation of reports from reserve agents made public tonight. Serious shortages were noted from nearly every section, however, during the last month, and was said to be the chief impediment to further increase of commercial and industrial activity.

A summary of conditions by districts follows:

Boston.—There is practically no line of trade that has not shown great expansion during the past year. The public generally is becoming accustomed to higher prices and retailers are passing the increase on to the consumer.

New York.—A number of high records were made during the last month in commercial and industrial activities. All but a few reports indicate that no slackening was noted in activity.

Atlanta.—Business activity increased during November in nearly all lines, with the exception of retail trade, which was slightly disturbed by unseasonable weather.

Chicago.—There is no recession in the general volume of business. Production and distribution are at high levels. Authorities in most lines anticipate an active trade during the coming months. There is evidence that car situation may be alleviated.

Minneapolis.—The gradual development of an acute car shortage, with increased difficulty in supplying steam and fuel coal to outlying country points, has been the outstanding feature on the month and has had a serious effect on many lines of business.

Kansas City.—If there is any tendency toward a reduction in business activities it is not apparent in any of the reports obtained. There is evidence that general conditions not only continue satisfactory but future prospects are encouraging.

San Francisco.—With the exception of ill-effects due to the car shortage and a lack of shipping conditions are very favorable. The shortage of transportation facilities affects growers of apples, potatoes, grain and practically all other products.

LEGITIMATE NEWS WILL BE PASSED

Washington, Dec. 5.—When the attention of Secretary Daniels was drawn yesterday to the suppression of news of events in the Dominican Republic by the censorship established by the American naval forces, he said it was not the department's intention to prevent the transmission of legitimate news, but only to exclude from such matter as would hamper the success of the plans for the restoration of order with.

PINNED BY MACHINE.

Miles City, Mont., Dec. 5.—John McCreary was pinned beneath his automobile in an accident here when he turned out of the road to avoid running into a team. His injuries are not believed to be serious.

It is not well to entertain the opinion that there will be no need again for a year to be thankful.

COUNCIL HOLDS BUSY SESSION

Water Problem is Discussed —Bids Opened for Fire Truck and New Hose.

That the city water now in use is unhealthful and that there is serious danger of a typhoid fever epidemic, was the gist of a short talk and communication made by Dr. J. D. Taylor before the city council at the session held last evening. A special water committee was appointed, to meet at once, and draw up a recommendation as to the most advisable steps to take to improve the filtration system.

Bids were opened at the meeting for a modern motor driven combination fire truck but no contract was awarded. The bids were turned over to the fire committee with instructions to report back to the council at the next meeting. Bids were also opened for 500 feet of fire hose and these were also placed in the hands of the committee.

A great amount of routine business matters, including the monthly reports of all officials, and the usual number of bills were taken up and disposed of. The council adjourned until next Thursday evening when the reports of the various committees will be read and the unfinished business will be disposed of.

STOCKYARDS BANK UNABLE TO RECOVER

Judge Munger Instructed Jury for Defendant in Case Involving Notes Amounting to $7,000.

At the conclusion of the evidence in the case of the Stockyards National bank of South St. Paul versus the First National bank of Tower, N. D., Judge Thomas I. Munger late last night instructed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant. This concludes the second time in which the case has come up for hearing.

A plethora of pro and con testimony was submitted, involving notes amounting to $7,000, claimed to have been pledged to the Stockyards bank by the Farmers State bank of Tower. The Stockyards bank sought to recover.

In the absence of Judge Amidon, now at St. Louis, Judge Munger of Lincoln, Neb., heard the evidence. He returned over the Great Northern this morning.

BIRDZELL WILL BE PRESENT AT HEARING

Newly Elected Supreme Court Justices Claim Law Entitles Them to Their Seats December 5.

Justice of the North Dakota supreme court-elect L. E. Birdzell left last evening for Bismarck, to be present at the hearing Thursday of the application of the newly elected justices to take immediate possession of their seats. The contention is that the law provides that elected justices shall take their seats December 5, instead of on January 1 as has been the precedent in the past.

Judge C. M. Cooley, at present holding court at Lakota, it is thought will not be able to sit on the supreme court bench at the hearing with Judges Crawford, Pollock, Nuestelle and Hanley, who have been called to hear the case. Present supreme court justices consider themselves disqualified, and a pro tempore court will act on the merits of the issues involved.

GRAFT CHARGE BY DETECTIVE

Story of Alleged Vice in Chicago Bared by Angry Sleuth.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—A world of alleged graft vice was laid bare before the city civil service commission today. So astounding were the revelations that the commissioners were most speechless in the face of Albert Winge, so-called "Candy Kid" of the city's detective force and owner of an automobile and 30 silk shirts, in a fit of anger cast aside all reserve and ripped into the defense of his avowed enemy, Captain W. P. O'Brien, charged with inefficiency and other alleged offenses.

Winge swore that vice was protected in the Cottage Grove avenue police district. He said O'Brien took money from women; that a gambling house was permitted to resume business when it "boosted the ante," that he raided resorts under the protection of O'Brien to avenge his transfer to another part of the district; that O'Brien's conduct there was so profligate; that the district was one endless song—women, wine, song, vice and graft.

More than usual interest attaches to the trial of Captain O'Brien. He was suspended by Chief of Police Healey three or more months ago and when State's Attorney Maclay Hoyle went into court against Healey, whom he charged with protecting vice and crime, O'Brien became the star witness for the prosecution.

JONES sometimes wakes up feeling cross and in consequence the family know it without his telling them in so many words.

Mrs. Jones attributes it to biliousness and if it doesn't wear off during the day she gives him a dose of liver medicine at night. The next morning he feels better and she gives him coffee for breakfast,—and the next morning,—and the next morning. And in a few days Jones has another spell.

Dear Mrs. Jones means all right, but she doesn't seem to realize that if she didn't give Jones his morning coffee she wouldn't have to give him the liver medicine and Jones would feel all right without both.

Housewives everywhere have found out that Instant Postum takes the place of breakfast coffee perfectly. And that is only one of the reasons why Instant Postum has wholly supplanted the use of coffee on thousands upon thousands of American breakfast tables.
