THE COUNTY.

Result of the Count so Far as Returned. ELEVEN PRECINCTS MISSING. Scenes on the Streets Yesterday, Bets Which Remain to be Paid.

The Republicans were jubilant yesterday over the election tidings, and gave vent to their feelings with all the devices to which an American crowd can resort. One store flooded the street with diminutive roosters, and these some of the enthusiastic adherents of the g. o. p. stuck on the crowns of their hats, and thus paraded about, apparently rejoicing in the expressions of ridicule with which they were frequently assailed.

The Democrats did not give up hope until Brice's concession of victory to the Harrison party was posted, and then those who had large sums of money staked on the result took the matter as cheerfully as possible, conscious that they had done all in their power to avert defeat. A good many were to be found who were willing to bet even money that Cleveland would have the popular vote, but takers were both few and far between. It is estimated that over $60,000 will change hands in this city on the result of the campaign, and several gentlemen are quite big winners, one well-known merchant on Spring street netting the handsome sum of $5,000. The hat-takers are benefited wonderfully as custom has made the popular bet "a hat" and the consequence is that new chapeaux will be noticeable on the streets for some time to come. It is only to be expected that the Chinamen are as gleesome as their fellow-supporters of the Mongolian candidate. A stroll around the celestial quarters and inquiries here and there of its yellow-skinned denizens who sat basking in the sun resulted in the response of "Heap gold Hallyson lected."

A good many of Harrison's supporters in the Caucasian part of the city practically upheld the free whisky plank of the Republican platform, for alcoholic refreshment flowed liberally in the up-town saloons for the benefit of those who had supported the victorious local office-seekers. Among the bets which are to be opened are the wheelbarrow bet, of which perhaps the most noticeable is that Mrs. G. Brose (Democrat), of the Anglice Bakery, and Mrs. J. E. Woods (Republican). This bet will be carried out on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the route of the wheelbarrow will be from the corner of First and Spring to the Plaza and return on Main to First street. A collection will be taken up on the route for the benefit of the Firemen's and Policemen's funds. The city band will lead the procession. Mr. J. H. Mullaly will wheel a barrow from the Pico House to First on Main, if it is decided that Harrison has been elected.

THE COUNT. The complete returns of this county will not be learned until the Supervisors open the envelopes on Monday next and canvass the vote. There are eleven precincts in the county in which the officers of the election board failed to comply with the instructions of the Supervisors, and write the returns on the backs of the envelopes. These few precincts, however, when made known will not materially alter the totals as given this morning, as most of them are the wheelbarrow bet, of many that are known to be Democrat as there are that are Republican. It is expected, however, that when the returns are opened by the Supervisors that fully 1,000 votes will be counted that were thrown out against the express orders of the District Attorney. A serious charge is preferred against the Pasadena Board. It is reported that some Republican tickets that were manifestly against the law were replaced by some of the Republican judges, and that the good tickets thus substituted were counted.

THE RESULT SO FAR AS KNOWN AT PRESENT, which contains the count of all the precincts of the county except eleven, is as follows: PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS. 76th District Dem. Rep. Pro. Amer. 77th " 5,475 6,746 321 16 78th " 2,978 3,894 535 10 Total 9,972 13,574 1,208 74 Plurality 3,602

ONE THOUSAND MORE.

Nine Excursion Trains Speeding Westward. A RAYMOND PARTY COMING. The Majority of the Tourists Will Arrive the Early Part of Next Week.

The excursion managers anticipated that their parties leaving the East for California after the election would be good ones, and their fondest hopes have been realized. From inquiries made at the different excursion agencies in this city it is found that over 1,000 people are now speeding across the continent in this direction and will arrive here during the coming week. A few are destined for points in the northern part of the State, but the majority are for Southern California and by far the greatest proportion for Los Angeles county. The advices state that although quite a number are making the trip for the first time, attracted here by the glowing accounts they have heard of the Golden State, there is yet a goodly number who are coming to settle, and whose household appendages are following them by freight. The ratio of agriculturists among these intending settlers is a very fair one, and acre property which is not held at too high a figure will soon be in demand as these hosts pour in. The following are the statements made as to the numbers of their patrons by the excursion men.

A Phillips excursion over the Santa Fe left Boston and New York on Wednesday, and will arrive here on Tuesday next. It consists of ten cars, and numbers about 300 persons. A Sunset excursion over the Southern Pacific left Boston yesterday and will arrive here on Monday next. It consists of 135 persons. A Warner Bros. excursion over the Santa Fe left Chicago and other Eastern points yesterday and will be here on Tuesday next. It consists of ten cars and 280 people. A Geo. Cotteral & Co's excursion is reported as having left Omaha. It consists of thirty-five people, and will be here on Monday morning.

A regular Union Pacific excursion left Kansas City and Omaha on Wednesday. Its strength is estimated at thirty-five. A Walters excursion left Chicago on Tuesday last. It consists of thirty persons and will be here about Monday next. A Chatterton excursion left Boston on Tuesday last. It comes over the Rock Island, is thirty strong and is due here on Monday. The first weekly excursion over the Missouri Pacific and Texas Pacific left all points East yesterday. Its strength is not yet known, but the party is likely to be a very large one, as was endorsed by the fact that one of the excursions managed by the company last year consisted of forty-five Pullman car loads.

A Raymond & Whitecomb party left Boston via the Fitchburg Railroad yesterday afternoon. The tourists are traveling in a special vestibuled train consisting of a composite car, a dining car and four sleeping cars. These will be reinforced by two more sleeping cars, which left New York yesterday and will join the Boston party later on. The tourists will split up into two parties during their trip across the continent, one section going via the Northern Pacific and the other coming over the Santa Fe directly to Los Angeles. The section coming here will consist of a dining car and three sleepers, and the following is the itinerary for the trip: Leave Boston at 4 p. m. November 8; leave Kansas City at 9 a. m. November 12; leave Chicago at 11 a. m. November 13; leave Los Angeles at 1 p. m. November 15; arrive in Los Angeles at 2:30 p. m. on November 17th.

PHILHARMONIC SOIREE. One of the Musical Events of the Season. The second soiree musicale of the Philharmonic Society was given last evening at Gardner's Hall, on Spring street, and was one of the most enjoyable musical events of the season. Many of the most prominent musical people of the city were present and there was scarcely standing room in the hall. This society, which started the musical season so auspiciously a month ago, will give its second grand concert at the Grand Opera House on December 17th, and if indications are carried out, the Opera House will not be large enough to hold the audience. The programme last night was as follows: Spanish Dance—Piano Duet. Moszkowski. Messrs. Wray and Mr. Marble. Amore—Duet. Wm. Arndt. Saxophone Solo—Fantasia on themes from Donizetti's "Belshazzar." Mayeur. Soprano Solo—La Florida (The Flower Girl). Mrs. Flora C. Preston. Sonata for Violin and Piano—F. Major No. 5, op. 24. Prof. Biasius and Willburts. Nocturne—Trio, Violin, Flute and Piano. Behr. Messrs. McQuillan, Schilling and Ward. Tenor Solo—Say Not Farewell. Millard. Sic. G. Modini. Mandolin Solo—The Fisherman. Miss Werner. The Water Lily—M. Quartette and Soprano Solo. Mrs. Duy and Misses Lotz, Miller, Tharp and Blane. In Silent Night—Folk-song. Brahms. Philharmonic Chorus.

Not a Glimmering Success. Papa had visitors and sent the three-year-old cyclone to bed. The cyclone disapproved of this and had no hesitancy in showing it. When he went up stairs he left the parlor door open. Papa prides himself on his method of disciplining children, and waiting until the cyclone was in bed, called him down again. "I just want to show you how I manage a boy," he said, turning to his visitors. "There's nothing like going the right way about it to make a boy mind." Slowly and sulkily the cyclone came down. "What are doors made for, sir?" demanded papa, sternly. The cyclone looked at him, at the visitors, at the door, and said: "To open, of course."

Undelivered Telegrams. The following undelivered telegrams remaining in the Western Union Telegraph Office up to 10 p. m. last night are: Miss Bae Epler, Lunette Shaw, Mrs. J. M. Lockwood, G. E. Gonzales, C. J. Jacobs, J. K. Slater, W. W. Barnard, George H. Sneath, William Dryden.

He Likes the Chinese New! Editors Herald—Having lost two suits of clothes on election, I would like to inquire if there is any merchant tailor in Los Angeles who employs Chinamen, that I may patronize him. SUBSCRIBER.

A Small Fire. A small blaze took place yesterday evening at No. 30 Hewitt street. The fire department in time to save the building from destruction and the loss was nominal.

SPRINGER'S SKELETON

Supposed to Have Been Found Near San Bernardino. The report comes from San Bernardino that the skeleton of a man supposed to have been Springer, who murdered his wife at Colton in January, 1887, had been found in a cañon about eight miles from that place by a party of hunters.

The Sheriff went to the spot and found a skeleton attired in a black suit of clothes similar to those which Springer wore. Clashed in the bones of the right hand was a revolver, and through the head over the right ear was a bullet hole. In the pockets of the pants was a plush purse such as was carried by Mrs. Springer, and near the skeleton was found a gold watch known to have belonged to Springer, and another which had belonged to Mrs. Springer. Several other articles of clothing were found near the skeleton which were known to have been the property of the missing man.

A SMALL EXPLOSION. Shakes a Man from a Thirty-foot Scaffold. A serious accident happened at the Electric Light Works yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. One of the employees, Richard Furze, was on a scaffolding about thirty feet from the ground, when the pipe which leads from one of the boilers to the safety-valve blew out. The shock caused by the sudden explosion shook Furze from the scaffolding, and he fell to the ground, breaking his right leg. He was conveyed to his home. The Electric Light Works had to fire up the other set of boilers before the city could be furnished with light.

Young Men's Christian Association. Rev. R. G. Hutchins, D. D., late of Oberlin, Ohio, now pastor of the First Congregational Church of this city, will deliver an address on "Latent Moral Power," at the Monthly Business Meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, this evening, in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian Church, at 7:45 o'clock. Dr. Hutchins has acquired a wide reputation as an eloquent, able speaker, and in order that many young men may hear this address, the meeting will be thrown open to all young men. Preceding this, will be given reports of the various committees for the month, and the transaction of the usual business.

Grand Opera House. The Grand Opera House was comfortably filled again last night to witness that amusing farce, "Later On." Hallen and Hart, as usual, captured the house and the company came in for their share of the applause. The music and singing is very fine. The melody of Fred Hallen and Joe Hart was very clever, the bridge specially of Mrs. Kelly and "The Bridging" by Mr. Dyllin, are well rendered. The singing of the "Toreador song," from the Queen's Mate," by Miss Martha Fortescue, is a special feature of the entertainment. Miss Parker's song and dance is particularly fine, and the remainder of the company fill their parts splendidly.
