

ON THE HOME RUN.

Nellie Bly on the Last Stages of Her Journey.

SPEDING TOWARD NEW YORK.

Only Fifteen Days Behind Time on Her Trip Around the World.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 21.—The report was telegraphed to the Merchants' Exchange at 7 o'clock this morning that the steamer Oceanic had been sighted six miles out at sea. Upon receipt of this information the tug Millon Griffiths, which had been chartered by representatives of the New York World to take off Miss Nellie Bly, who has almost completed her trip around the world, steamed out to the heads. The Oceanic entered the Golden Gate a little after 8 o'clock, and a few minutes later Miss Bly was taken off on the tug, while her fellow-passengers on the steamer gave her a parting cheer. The tug followed in the wake of the Oceanic as far as Goat island, and then turned off toward Oakland wharf, where the young lady was landed. About 9 o'clock she boarded the special train which was in waiting for her, and a few minutes later was speeding away on the last stage of her journey, via the Southern Pacific and Atlantic and Pacific routes.

SPEDING ONWARD.

The Little World-Girdler Says She Had a Good Time.

LATHROP, January 21.—The Nellie Bly special train arrived this morning at 11:10, two hours and five minutes from Oakland pier. It stopped long enough for lunch. Fast time may not be made south, owing to the soft condition of the track. It departed at 11:33.

MODESTO, January 21.—The special car containing Nellie Bly passed through Modesto at noon today without stopping.

FRESNO, January 21.—The train bearing Nellie Bly arrived at 2 p. m. A large crowd assembled at the depot. She said to press representatives, speaking of her trip around the world: "I was not a bit sick, not even seasick, and it was just storms, storms all the time on the ocean, from first to last, and yet I enjoyed it ever so much. It added zest to things and broke the monotony of the otherwise dull voyage. As to traveling accommodations on the continent, the railroads were horrid, their best cars not being equal to second-class American coaches. Across Asia it was pleasant, but it was not until I entered this coach on American soil that I was able to enjoy anything like comfort.

"Yes, I have lost fifteen days so far on the run, caused principally by missing connection; but I am not sorry, for if it had not been for that I should have seen nothing at all. If there is no further delay I shall get into New York Saturday night, or early Sunday morning."

HER ESCORT.

The "World's" Emigrants Caught in the Snow Blockade.

SACRAMENTO, January 21.—The New York World, which paper sent Nellie Bly around the world, also sent two of its representatives, John J. Jennings and W. B. Hopper, across the continent to meet Miss Bly in San Francisco and escort her home. Mr. Jennings was two days in advance of his associate, and the latter is now snowbound at Reno and will not have the pleasure of bidding the fair imitator of "Phineas Fogg" welcome until he returns to New York.

Through the efforts of Colonel J. B. Wright, Division Superintendent, Mr. Jennings was able to reach Sacramento at 9 o'clock this morning in time to board the train which was held for him to bear him to Lathrop, where he joined Miss Bly on the special train for the run to Kansas City.

Mr. Jennings has had an experience in the blockade which he will not soon forget. For several days he was hemmed in by huge mountains of snow, with no prospect of getting out for many days. Finally, however, he determined to make an effort to get away. "Yesterday afternoon," said he to a Bee reporter, "I was given permission to ride on the rotary snow-plow which was about to start to clear the road between Blue Cañon and Alta. She sailed along smoothly for a long distance, throwing the snow in every direction, when all at once there came a terrific crash and the entire machine was buried under an avalanche of snow. Luckily, however, no one was hurt. I was determined to reach Alta if possible, and procured a pair of snow shoes on which to travel. Everybody advised me to remain, as I knew nothing of the country, and had never before seen a pair of snow shoes, and of course had no idea how to use them. I slid and stumbled and fell, but after a time I could travel very smoothly. After engaging a guide I struck out for Alta, and after a terrible experience in the biting cold air of the night, after narrowly escaping death from snowdrifts or tumbling down precipices, I reached my destination. Here I found two engines which I had engaged to carry me to Sacramento, and after a swift run I arrived here on time."

When Colonel Wright informed him that Miss Bly had reached San Francisco and was even then speeding eastward on her special train, Mr. Jennings's face became elongated and he remarked: "Well, this is the hardest luck I've had yet." His face brightened, though, when he was told that he could overtake her at Lathrop.

Nellie's Eastward Route.

DENVER, January 21.—F. B. Semple, passenger agent of the Union Pacific, at midnight tonight received a telegram from General Passenger Agent Lomax at Omaha, that Nellie Bly would arrive at Trinidad Thursday morning, where she will take a special Union Pacific train for Council Bluffs, via Denver. At the Bluffs she will take the Northwestern for Chicago. At the latter place she will be turned over to the Michigan Central for New York. This change bringing her via Denver, instead of going east by the Santa Fe from Trinidad, will delay her about ten hours.

Cholera Flashes.

Cholera is raging in Mesopotamia, Asiatic Turkey, and 3,000 deaths are reported. Four thousand merchants of Lisbon paraded the streets on Monday night, shouting, "War to England."

Nathan Marcus Adler, LLD, chief rabbi of the united Hebrew congregations of the British Empire, is dead.

The preliminary surveys of the Guadalupe and Chamela railroad, in Mexico, are about to begin. The road will pass through a very rich country.

John Gorley and three children perished in a fire at St. Johns, Newfoundland. Gorley died in the flames while making a third attempt to rescue his children from the burning house.

Some changes have been made in the Spanish Cabinet since it was announced Monday. The Duke of Veragua has been appointed Minister of Commerce, in place of Señor Becerra, who will become Minister of Colonies.

A Portuguese meeting held at Rio de Janeiro resolved to suspend business with English people, and to send a telegram to Lisbon stating that the members of the colony were prepared to make any sacrifice for their native country.

The National line steamer Greece, which has arrived at London from New York, reports that she saw nothing on the passage of the same line's steamer Erin, which sailed from New York December 28th for London, and which has not yet arrived. It is feared the Erin is lost.

In consequence of the scene in the Chamber of Deputies Monday it is proposed to suspend the leaders of the disorder, Laguerre, Deroudele and Milledon, for the whole session. A resolution to this effect was introduced and was received with expressions of disapproval by the Right. It was finally referred to a committee.

The Cunard steamer Catalonia, from Boston, has arrived at Queenstown. Her captain reports a terribly rough voyage. The great storm culminated Saturday morning. The Catalonia lost four boats, and her bridges, ventilators and deckhouses were badly battered. Seas entered the funnels, quenched the fire and flooded the intermediate cabin. Several seamen and two steerage passengers were badly injured. During the storm a steam-pipe burst, killing three firemen and fearfully scalding another.

A Pioneer's Experience With Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I am a pioneer in this county, having been here 30 years. Four years ago my little son Elmer became blood-poisoned by impure virus in vaccination. His arm swelled terribly, causing great agony; physicians said the arm must be amputated, and even then his recovery would be doubtful. One day I read about a blood purifier, new to me, and was surprised to learn that it was prepared by C. I. Hood, with whom I used to go to school in Chelsea, Vt. I decided to have my boy try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and was much gratified when it seemed to help him. He continued to grow better as we gave him the Sarsaparilla, and having used 8 bottles is now entirely cured. As Hood's Sarsaparilla has accomplished such wonderful results, I recommend it all I possibly can." JAMES M. SLEEPER, Upper Lake, Lake Co., Cal.

The City Treasurer Of Lowell, Mass., says: "The above is from my brother, whose signature I recognized. I am also glad to testify to the excellence of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and to say that C. I. Hood & Co. are considered one of the most reliable firms in New England." VAN B. SLEEPER, City Treasurer, Lowell, Mass.
