GOOD, BAD AND PRETTY GIRLS.

Bain Claimed to Furnish Them to Marrying Men.

A Peculiar Case Now on Trial in the United States Court.

Yesterday's happenings in the various Superior Court Departments. New Cases Which Were Filed.

In the United States district court a jury was impaneled yesterday, and Isaac W. Bain, alias H. C. Wilson, will be placed on trial today on the charge of using the United States mails for a fraudulent purpose. Bain was running what he called the Acme Marriage bureau at Fresno, this state, and sent out his enticing circulars in the mails wherever he thought he could find a dupe. His matrimonial bureau was similar to all others, the applicant was required to pay a registration fee of $2, for which he would be placed in communication with any number of women.

A government detective intercepted one of these lascivious circulars, which virtually said: "We give you the introduction, for a fee, then you do the rest." The circular stated that it was far better and safer to conduct such matters through a bureau than by advertisements in the daily papers, as school girls frequently answered the latter. Also that the bureau was cheaper. The circular stated that it "had on tap" ladies worth from a pretty face to $100,000. Also, "young widows wanting to try to get a second husband, Spanish girls, country girls, and city girls; also servant girls, not handsome, but possessing from $1000 to $3000 each, all anxious to get married."

The most remarkable part of the circular is: "Also, a large number of young women that have made money by questionable means, as they call it, and who want to marry some respectable man, settle down and live decent—most of them are stylish, good looking and lively, and have from $300 to $10,000 put away, and no doubt will make good wives for easy-going fellows that are not too particular about the past."

"Send in your application, with your description, and tell us the kind of a life companion you want, and we will put you in correspondence with as many as you wish until you are suited."

The bureau also offered to provide coachmen for rich widows, and had numerous wealthy ranch widows on hand who wanted managers for their ranches.

The complaining witness is A. V. Leyda of Biebee, Ariz., who, it seems, was nonchalant last evening and will testify for the prosecution today.

Mannel Dermaiges was arrested yesterday, and arraigned before United States Commissioner Van Dyke, on the charge of selling chain-lightning whisky to some poor Lo Indians, at San Luis Rey, San Diego county. The case was continued until February 11th.

The supreme court was on wheels yesterday morning, from former quarters into the McDonald block. No decisions were "handed down or up," Clerk Sisson being busy throughout the day in putting things in shape.

In department No. 1 of the superior court the case of H. Castillon, charged with receiving stolen goods, occupied the attention of the court during the day. The testimony was similar to the facts already printed. The case will be continued today.

In department No. 6 Tino Curell was released on habeas corpus.

Assistant District Attorney Skinner yesterday issued a warrant for one certain John De, on the charge of battering and bruising Mrs. Morrow, who keeps a lodging house on Main street.

The case of W. H. Holmes vs. Anthony Schwam and William E. Nordholt is on trial in Judge Van Dyke's court, the action being to enforce payment of $150, alleged to be owing Clerk Sisson being busy throughout the day in putting things in shape.
