to have had the mayoralty been buzzing in his bonnet in a very lively way, which is probably the reason why he started out to carry water on both shoulders. After this campaign they will be able to appreciate the sentiment of the topical song.

Which will exactly describe their situation from a political point of view. Thus may it always be with temporizers!

THE TAXPAYER SHOULD BE ON THE ALERT.

Is there any man of sense in Los Angeles, either city or county, that does not know that his taxes are far too high?

Is there any citizen of the city of Los Angeles that does not know that our municipal government could be run in better shape than it is now at less than three-fourths of the present outlay?

Every official and every official body in Los Angeles of late seems to be on the gorge—of course allowing for a few exceptions, which only go to prove the rule.

The taxpayer knows that his taxes are rising like a sea at flood tide. After a man has slaved to buy a house he knows that he is obliged to pay taxes on it that would amount to a full rent in a city like Philadelphia or Baltimore.

The Herald has signaled itself in going after these people. It went after one Jabez Banbury. It presented a series of facts that resulted in Banbury's defeat by the people for county treasurer. Jabez was hornswoggled the people's money, and like sensible people, they allowed Jabez to take his sanctified visage into the recesses of his home. He has been obliged to cultivate an extreme privacy since that fateful election. It was the first time for long years that the people showed that they could distinguish between good and bad service in the officials of either Los Angeles city or county. Vox populi vox dei. The people spoke, and Jabez Banbury was told that the private station was the one which he would grace most fittingly.

For telling the truth about him Jabez wants $20,000 of the hard earned money of Ayers & Lynch, the publishers of the Herald. On the 27th of this month those gentlemen will have to stand before the superior court and appear before the jury for having libeled Jabez. Neither of them to their knowledge ever saw this appropriator of the public moneys. The imputation of malice as to him is perfectly farcical. It is true that he lied bare his true character, but we did it in the interest of the people. Jabez is a white scoundrel, and we showed the arrant hypocrite up in his true colors, but we did it for a square, honest public purpose. Unless some such example should be made there was great danger of the new court house itself being packed off and "blown into" some three ball shop.

Jabez, in his impotent rage, has achieved our result. He has of course put the Herald to some expense. But in a fight for the taxpayer we care nothing for expense. "Millions for defense, not a cent for tribute," has been our motto ever since we knew that John Hampden had given utterance to that immortal sentiment.

We assure the Citizens' Non-Partisan association that there is plenty of work for that highly respectable organization in Los Angeles county just now. They should apply themselves to the creation of a public sentiment that will make banking the taxpayers a disreputable and unprofitable business. It lies in the hands of the man who pays the taxes. If he shall insist upon his money's worth in municipal government he will get both in city and county better service for three-fourths of the money he is now paying. He can only be robbed when he shows a disposition to submit to it. He ought, above all things, to stand in with the persons and the newspapers that stand in with him. The Herald has a singularly pure record in its relation to the people and to the officials who have administered both our city and county affairs. This journal is pledged to fight the people's battle to the end, without money and without price, and without shadow of turning. We invite the Citizens' Non-Partisan association to give us their moral support.

When it comes to Jabez Banbury he has put his arm into the public treasury up to the elbow. He has drawn money from the county on affidavits that were false. When the Herald made its charges against him we offered him the utmost freedom of our columns in rebuttal. We took no snap judgment on him, but instead treated him in the frankest spirit of fair play. He never availed himself of our generous offer. The people elected him to stay at home, not on our charges but on the shuffling way in which he avoided meeting them. On the 27th inst. will open a trial in which the people will show whether they appreciate an honest championship of their interests.

ARRESTING A GREAT ABUSE. In other columns of the Herald appears an opinion of District Attorney Dillon, in which he puts a peremptory stop to a gross abuse in which the sheriff's office and the board of supervisors appear to be equally participant. Under the old law the sheriff received a salary of $12,500. Out of this sum he was expected to pay his deputies, all fees of the office being turned into the county treasury. Under the new law the sheriff receives a salary of $4,000 a year and has an allowance of $9,000 annually for deputies, making $13,000 a year, as against $12,500 under the old law. After receiving this sum the sheriff is supposed to turn all fees of any and every kind or description into the county treasury.

The law is as clear as the noonday sun, as Mr. Dillon's opinion very clearly shows. Its terms are so explicit that evasion is impossible. And yet what do we find to be the case?

Instead of the sheriff's office being run on the basis of $13,000 a year, as the law provides, the salary contingent of that office has been swollen to $27,250, $23,250 for deputy sheriffs and $4,000 for the salary of the sheriff.

Innumerable deputy sheriffs have been appointed throughout the county. They have collected fees in civil cases which the law says shall go into the county treasury, and which, strangely enough, the board of supervisors have allowed to be diverted to unlawful purposes. The attitude of a censor is not grateful to the Herald, which would far rather praise than find fault with officials. But we know the duty of a public journal, and shall fearlessly perform it. The board of supervisors has been in no hurry to give out Mr. Dillon's able protest to the press. Possibly those who read it will not wonder at this unwonted modesty.

Meanwhile, why should an office which the law contemplates should be run for $13,000 be made to cost the taxpayers $27,250? The man who discovers the answer to this riddle will also have discovered why it is that the taxpayer is obliged to pay what practically amounts to a rent for property he is supposed to own in fee simple.

The board of supervisors yesterday rescinded the contract made by it December 28, 1891, with Frank R. House, by which they agreed to pay him 15 per cent commissions on delinquent state taxes collected by him, under his arrangement with Attorney-General Hart and the state controller. This is in accordance with District Attorney Dillon's opinion given the board several days ago, holding that the contract between House and the state authorities is illegal.

THEY PROMISE WELL. Assays of Ore from the New Mojave District at Ogilby.

Fred Burlingame, the discoverer of the new mining district 50 miles northeast of Mojave, on the desert, has had the assays completed of ores from his four locations. He has as yet done only prospect work, and whether the ledges will widen or peter remains to be seen.

The assays are as follows: Hidden Treasure location—9.72 ounces silver, 36.8 per cent copper, 2 per cent iron. The placer location—114 ounces silver, 2 per cent gold. Center location—1.91 ounces silver, 20 per cent copper. Clifton location—19.80 ounces silver, $106.85 per cent copper. At CANOGA MOUNTAINS.

Mr. C. H. Wray of Ogilby in the Cargo Mochacho placer district arrived recently in the city. He has with him as specimens four ounces of as pretty nuggets as ever were seen. He and three partners in two weeks took out $480 from their shaft.

About 15 men are working there now and are doing well. This locality has been worked about a year and a half, and is a continuation of a channel which was worked in the fifties, but which was lost.

A hydraulic plant is being put in at Picacho, about 15 miles from Mr. Wray's location, as well as a 20-stamp mill. The water is only four and a half miles from the Southern Pacific road and water is plentiful.

THE POLICE COURTS. Minor Cases Which Were Acted Upon Yesterday.

Fred Andrews, the Alameda street "mac," was arraigned yesterday before Justice Austin for examination.

Andrews is charged with having burglarized the store of Louis N. Germain, 323 Alamo street, on the 5th of this month. On motion of the defendant's counsel, C. C. Stephens, the examination was continued until Tuesday next.

Herbert Ross and Edward Housinger, two hoodlums, were arraigned before Justice Austin yesterday on a charge of an illicit racket. E. Katz, who resides at 465 East Twenty-seventh street, complains that the youths have for some time past amused themselves by breaking his windows and damaging his property generally. Their trial was set for Friday.

Mrs. Fred Crotty appeared before Justice Austin yesterday and requested that she might be allowed to withdraw the charge of battery against her husband. The lady, who had two black eyes and a swollen jaw, stated that her husband had never before been arrested for beating her, and Justice Austin dismissed the case on payment of costs.

Herman Henzog appeared before Justice Austin yesterday, and was acquitted of the charge of assaulting Mrs. Annie Duncan.

Five drunks were fined small sums, in proportion to their "jags."

THE BILLIARD TOURNAMENT. Last Evening's Game Was the Best of the Season.

Owing to a business meeting at the Athletic club last night, there was only one game played in the tournament, but it was the best one of the series.

There are four players out of the sixteen who have to play 150 points and two of the Big Four met last night—Messrs. Judkins and Slater. The latter gentleman played in bad luck all through the fore part of the game, and was 22 behind Mr. Judkins on reaching the 100-point stake. In spite of that, however, he went to work with such a nerve and played so steadily that he caught Mr. Judkins at 143 points and made a tie, from which it took four innings for that gentleman to win the game by a score of 150 to Mr. Slater's 140. The cheers were almost deafening when the scorers called out "148 each—even game."

The safety play was perfect on either side, and many thought Mr. Slater would have won the game had he taken greater risks in its earlier stages. The winner's average was 2.34 and the loser's 2.35. The largest run was by Mr. Judkins when he made a tie from which it took four innings for that gentleman to win the game by a score of 150 to Mr. Slater's 140. The cheers were almost deafening when the scorers called out "148 each—even game."

IRA MOORE, of Chicago, is in the city. I. B. Field, of San Francisco, is at the Westminster.

George Fuller an attorney of San Diego is in the city. Capt. T. W. Symons, U. S. A., is now at the Westminster.

E. C. Seymore, sheriff of San Bernardino county, is at the Hollenbeck. Willie Woodhead of Sentinel, A. T., the son of Col. J. H. Woodhead, is in the city.

J. Marion Brooks returned last night from San Diego, where he has been on professional business. J. E. Doolittle, a well known San Franciscan and one of Gov. Markham's staff, is at the Hollenbeck.

Mr. M. M. Potter, manager of the Westminster hotel, has gone East for a couple of months' vacation. Miss Elizabeth Guthrie, daughter of Judge Guthrie, and Arthur L. Lowrie of Pittsburg, were married on Tuesday evening.

We had the pleasure of a call yesterday from Mr. William H. Yates, a well known grain and commission merchant of San Francisco. He is visiting his old-time friends, Ike and Dave Baylis, of Antelope Valley. He expresses himself as greatly pleased with Los Angeles. He has enlightened ideas concerning the future of San Francisco, and if all the merchants in the Golden Gate were of his caliber that city would soon shake off its commercial paralysis.

Mr. D. G. Scofield arrived from Needles yesterday morning, after having accompanied President Blake over a preliminary survey of the Nevada Southern. Mr. Blake returned to Denver, where he is proceeding, very satisfactorily. Mr. Scofield goes to Nawhall today and will return to San Francisco in the evening. He informs us that the temblors, trilling in character, and strictly local, still continue at Nawhall. They have not affected the yield of oil, or the wells in any manner, but they have done some trifling damage to buildings, mainly in the line of shattered glass. Mr. Scofield will make another reconnaissance of the Nevada Southern about the 3d of June, accompanied by field directors and high officials of the road.

THE TRIBUNE'S EXPOSE.

A Chicago Paper That Will Not Let the People be Robbed.

In his last letter to the local world's fair agent, Mr. Frank Wiggins states that the Chicago people are not so disposed now to rob the visitors as formerly. They seem to have taken a reasonable view of the situation, and have begun to lower prices accordingly. This first intention of the Chicago people, the hotel proprietors in particular, received a slight prodding at the hands of Mr. Wiggins in his first letter after reaching Chicago. It was written during the latter part of April and reported even at that time a marked upward tendency of the entire Chicago mind as regards prices. The letter was printed in the local papers, and appears to have done some good. The Chicago people have domestic California visitors to the world's fair, for it has helped to cause one Chicago paper to realize the situation and to rise equal to the occasion.

The Chicago Tribune of recent date treats the matter of prices both in its editorial and local departments. It devotes the entire front page with the exception of one column, to an expose of the hotels and lodging houses in that city that are charging exorbitant prices. About every establishment of that note is mentioned, and it may be added that almost every one has raised its former rates about 100 per cent. The reporters have gone thoroughly into the matter and as a result a complete exposure of the hotels is made.

Editorially a portion of Mr. Wiggins' first letter is quoted. In commenting upon it the paper says that Mr. Wiggins may have exaggerated the situation, but the intention of the Chicago people to overcharge is admitted. It continues by saying that the hotels charging exorbitant rates are charging money while those charging moderate prices are filled with guests and are making money. The Tribune concludes that it proposes to expose any exorbitance upon the part of Chicago hotel people, and also invites all persons who have been charged to excess to communicate with the paper.

The Chicago Record has a pleasant notice of the exhibit of this section. Brief mention is made of the leading features of the southern counties, and several illustrations are given. One of these is a cut of the orange tower, over which Mr. Wiggins has labored so industriously, and another is a corner in the citrus exhibit of Los Angeles county.

BICYCLE RACING. The Alhambra Track to be Inaugurated on Saturday.

A good many wheelmen and lovers of field sports will no doubt visit the track of the Alhambra Bicycle club next Saturday, when the first field day will take place, with enough interesting events to make a decidedly good afternoon's sport.

Lewis Fox, W. A. Burke, Will Jenkins, Cromwell, Cowan and many other cranks will be in the field in the sprinting events, Geo. Noble of Berkeley and Fox of Colton will compete at the 50 and 100 yards marks.

The track is pronounced by State champion Burke to be the best in California, the banking being nearly perfect, with a clay surface and firm gravel. The race are of great interest from the fact that the winners on the 30th can easily be picked out after conclusions are settled on the A. B. C. track.

TWO FIRES. A Large Amount of Cotton Hose Destroyed on the East Side.

The fire department responded yesterday morning about 11 o'clock to an alarm from box 7, East Los Angeles. It proved to be a one-story cottage on Michigan street, occupied by Mrs. Knox. The building had fallen before the alarm was turned in. Mrs. Knox, who was alone at the time of the fire, was severely injured and had to jump from a window to escape. The cause of the fire could not be ascertained.

The East Side engine company has 1600 feet of hose, and about every other section broke yesterday at this fire, revealing the rottenness of the material.

The building, No. 514 Buena Vista, owned by Mr. Scott, and occupied by Mr. Landhardt, was slightly scorched, but escaped destruction. The fire was caused by an explosion of a gasoline stove. No damage was done.
