

AN IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY.

Confirmation Services Yesterday at St. Vincents.

A Number of Persons Who Were Received by Bishop Mora.

Dr. Campbell's Sermon to the G. A. R. at the First Methodist-United Presbyterian Church Services.

Precisely at 10:30 yesterday morning as the big bells pealed forth from the steeple of St. Vincent's church, a procession of altar boys and priests, headed by a large gilt cross, issued forth from the gothic entrance of St. Vincent's college. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Mora, assisted by the Revs. M. Richardson and J. Nicholls formed the rear of the procession. The bishop was vested in his robes of purple and so were the four pages that followed him. When the clergy had entered the church, the great organ took up the music of the bells. Within the church a large congregation was assembled to assist at solemn mass and to take part in or witness the administration of the sacrament of confirmation.

The class to be confirmed occupied the front pews. There was but little decoration, and the sanctuary looked the grander for it. When the bishop and his attendants were seated on the gospel side of the chancel, the officiating clergy, vested in vestments of white and gold, began the celebration of the solemn mass of the Blessed Trinity. The Rev. G. Dockery was the officiating priest, assisted by Revs. J. Linn and J. Hoover as deacon and subdeacon. The Rev. G. Dockery acted as master of ceremonies, and J. Murrieta was Turifer. The choir at once began to pour forth its glorious music, such as is heard at St. Vincent's only, Mr. J. Schaller wielding the baton and Prof. Thos. Wilde presiding at the organ. On account of the length of the ceremonies the sermon was dispensed with, the Rev. A. J. Meyer merely making some announcements for the week and read the epistle and gospel of the day in English after they had first been chanted in Latin.

After the mass the officiating clergy withdrew, and the bishop began to vest for the solemn administration of confirmation. Clad in a rich cope of white and gold, his head crowned with a precious mitre and his hand grasping a crozier of solid silver and gold, he knelt before the grand altar, the choir in the meantime singing the hymn "Come Holy Spirit." Ascending the altar, the bishop raised his arms and extended them over those to be confirmed, reciting the prayers prescribed. One by one they approached the bishop, he imposing his hand on each and anointing the forehead with the holy chrism. Another prayer followed; the cross recited, the Apostles named, and the Lord's prayer with the angelic salutation. The aged prelate leaning on his crozier addressed those present, especially the class he had just confirmed, his words were those of a father to his children rather than of a set sermon or lecture.

The following are the names of those confirmed: Richard Clare O'Brien, Bartholomew Crowley, John Morgan, August McDonald, Ignacio Frederich, James Cesar, Henry George, Joseph Estudillo, William Worthington, John Fitzgerald, Louis Barting, Joseph Amestoy, William McGonagle, Edward H. McGinnis, Carl Osthoff, Myrthees Ryan, Alvans Jacobson, Gilroy, William J. Kelly, James Thorpe, Alex. Bass, Thos. M. Slattery, Romaldo I. Campton, Chas. Johnson, Chas. Schroeder, Felicitia Barreras, Mary Curran, Agnes Cole, Mary Lillian Carroll, Ross Laralde, Mary Angela, Rose, Martha J. Kavanagh, Hana, Rose, Grelah, Rosy M. Suvrolo, Virginia Junaina Machado, Ida Charlote Barting, Louisa Burke, Isabella Murphy, Adele Sentous, May Delavan Corran, Effie Emiline Schatto, Georgine Teresa Bates, Rosalie Blanch Fitzhenry, Agnes Gertrude Friel.

REV. DR. CAMPBELL OF THE FIRST METHODIST CHURCH preached the annual sermon for Decoration day. There were a number of G. A. R. and W. R. C. posts present besides the usual congregation. The text was from the twelfth verse of the seventh chapter of Samuel I: "Then Samuel took a stone and set it between Mizpeh and Shiloh and called the name of it Ebenezer, saying, 'Hitherto hath the Lord helped us.'" Dr. Campbell opened his address with a short sketch of American history. The struggle for independence and the victory of the colonies were referred to. He also described the scene in Independence hall when the chaplain, dressed in a red cloak, approached the president's chair and offered prayer for the success of the fathers. While King George lay loose the British troops from his lair our fathers let loose the bird of Jove.

A short history was given of the struggle for American independence and how much it had cost to preserve our liberty. A thrilling description of the battle of Gettysburg, which closed on July 3, 1863, was also given. It has been thought by some that a kind Providence kept the rebel forces inactive until the Northern troops had time to rest before the final battle. The Northern troops were well rested and in an exhausted condition and nothing short of a miracle could have saved the army from disaster. An interesting account of a conversation held with General Lee by one of his staff on the evening of the first day of the battle was given. The Southern troops had been partially victorious on that day, and in the evening the camp re-echoed with their songs of joy and exultation. Noticing that General Lee appeared sad, the staff officer said: "Do you not hear the battle songs and shouts throughout the whole camp?" "It will be time enough," replied General Lee, "to sing and shout when the battle is finished."

The questioner again observed, "Did you not witness the boldness of your A New Cause. THOUSANDS FLOCK TO ITS STANDARD.—When a new cause is presented to the public it always attracts attention. A prominent physician has said that he gripped, during the last three years has done more to weaken the hearts of the world than any other cause that has ever existed. Those who have had this malady and subsequently found themselves subject to palpitation, short breath, irregular pulse, wind in stomach, pain in side or shoulder, smothering spells, fainting, dizziness, etc., may feel that they have heart disease, which unless checked at once, may result fatally. troops today as they rushed upon the

"Yes, they fought nobly, but did you not notice how the pale-faced boys in blue faced our fire and bared their breasts to our bayonets? As fast as we cut them down others took their places immediately. I tell you, sir, that men who meet death like these men will not soon be driven from the field."

The second and third days of the battle proved the truth of the statement, as General Lee was driven from the north with a loss of 37,000 men.

But the true American hearts treasure no boast of battle blood. We do not here to condemn nor to kindle anew a fire of animosity in the peaceful current of veteran blood.

Our national tree of freedom which was planted a hundred years ago strikes its roots into deeper and richer soil today, and her leaves are full of verdure. Was it necessary that America's noblest and best should spill their blood to water this planting in order that it might take on a more vigorous growth? If this be true it must be well watered now, for our flag floats over half a million honored graves today.

Let us offer the prayer that our nation may be imbued with the spirit of our great representative of Peace; that, powered as it is, it may look abroad Christlike, setting the example of brotherhood and union. No one now can afford to harbor angry or selfish malice without showing an ignoble soul, withholding allegiance to that which is uplifting and Christian.

Yet the golden age is not fully come. The school house and church do not everywhere reign supreme and we follow under the blessed guidance of God. Wherever our flag floats, the influence of the Bible and the wonderful lesson to raise the wastelands upon beautiful land and make them blossom as the rose.

So let our drums beat and our bugles blow and bring the starry daisies and the fragrant pansies and climbing vines to sleep in fading beauty over our brave boys who sleep.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am the chief, was the text of Rev. H. W. Crabbe's address and was taken from the fifteenth verse of the first chapter of Timothy I. The subject was introduced by the statement that there are few verses in the Bible containing more of the gospel than this one. If the entire gospel was lost, save this text, there is enough in it to save one from death. The first part of the text, namely that Christ came into the world to save sinners implies that there are sinners in the world. Some will ask what are the sinners, others who are the sinners, and others still, are all equal sinners. One people supposes that if they have sinned through ignorance they are excusable. But they are wrong. Others think they are not sinners because they lead quiet and peaceable lives, but they also are wrong. There are those who, while verbally admitting they are sinners, neither feel the force of the conviction nor realize the magnitude and character of their guilt. It is an easy thing to say we are sinners, but another thing to know it. The saying also implies that the sinner needs salvation and that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners. He came as a savior, as the Messiah, and as the mediator between God and men.

When He came it was in the fullness of time, and in that appointed by His Father.

THE STATE'S DUTIES. At the Church of the New Era the Rev. W. C. Bowman, discoursed on the Duties of the States, handling the Chinese and other vital questions of the hour. The speaker said: What is called government, or the state, expresses the highest social relation under which men live. State, nation, kingdom, empire, etc., are only different names of the same thing according to form of government. Human government, as it is constituted in natural necessity, its first object in the early times being military strength, offensive and defensive. The preamble to our own constitution declares that its purpose is "to establish justice, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Our present troubles are no fault of the constitution, but the failure to carry out its spirit and purpose. Our statesmen died off and we are in the hands of politicians and hoodlars. By class legislation monopoly has been entrenched, and instead of "establishing justice" it is injustice that smells to heaven with foul, plutonic stench; instead of "promoting the general welfare" it is general welfare transformed into a curse, liberty into slavery and the pursuit of happiness into a grim and desperate struggle for existence.

Turning from this general statement of our political conditions to the political corruption and plutocratic rule, we speak specifically of some questions of vital import to the American citizens of today. The Chinese question is one of these. Shall the Gentry law be enforced? I say yes and promptly. The argument is short, but decisive. Self-preservation is the first law of nature with states as with individuals; no nation can preserve itself and take care of its citizens without preserving its homogeneity of race and its economic life of civilization. Universal brotherhood is a fine sentiment and the true ideal of human life; but to be realized in the concrete it must have a practical basis in a common language, a common country and common interests. The Chinaman in America is a foreign and incongruous element in all these respects, and he has neither thought nor purpose of assimilation. In short, his very life and mode of existence are so out of keeping with our own, that his presence at a laborer among American laborers amounts to a positive antagonism of interests, and makes it impossible for an American to compete with him without self-degradation. It might be otherwise if we were living under a human and rational system of economy—that of co-operation—instead of the anti-

Regeneration. To secure a new and beautiful tissue change throughout the body, use BRANDETT'S PILLS. This tissue metamorphosis consists in constant renewal of the worn and aged tissue. BRANDETT'S PILLS are the best solvent of the products of disintegration of the tissue and increase their elasticity. They are alterative and eliminative remedy, which aid nature and are of great benefit in cases of temporary and habitual constipation, torpid liver, biliousness, headache, indigestion, flatulency and all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood. BRANDETT'S PILLS are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless, and safe to take at any time.

Too Much Boze. Some people do very queer things while under the influence of intoxicants. The most ridiculous antics, however, were noticed by the people who happened to be on the wharf one morning a few days since. Two fishermen were going out in a boat when one of them could just about navigate any water. He was evidently too warm and commenced to prepare for a bath. First his hat was taken off and thrown overboard. His coat followed and then his vest. He had worn a necktie, that too would have gone—probably, but before the sailor had thrown the rest of his wardrobe to the fishes his companions saw what was going on, and put a stop to the performance. The fellow was put ashore after some trouble.—Santa Barbara Independent.

SOME LOS ANGELES ATHLETES.

The Athletic Club's Field Day Contest Tomorrow.

A Review of the Events Which Will Be Given at the Park.

Some of the Contestants and What They Have Done—Points of the Different Entries—The Riders' and Runners' Names.

Tomorrow the athletes of this section will meet on the Athletic park grounds for the Athletic club, and the young men are no eager for the contests. A variety of events have been arranged, races comprising the principal part of the programme. Seldom if ever before in any of the club field days have there been so many entries who have seemed to be as well matched as are those in tomorrow's events. The bicycle races naturally cause the most of the interest. The foot races will also be well contested. Principally among these is the 100-yard open dash, with the following starters: A. C. Stewart, B. F. Hoyt, Lewis W. Fox, Lokie Carrillo, R. J. Hancock, W. B. Gard, James Ryan, Ira L. Whitney, C. V. Howard, F. F. Foster.

In this event, open run, there will be 10 starters. The most prominent among them is C. V. Howard. He is regarded as the fastest amateur in this section, and were he to have the opportunity of excellent training under the direction of an experienced man could carry all before him in the north. His present record is 10 to 3-5, which is also the Southern California record. Howard is a quick starter and holds his head well to the wind. W. B. Gard, better known as Billie, makes his first appearance on Tuesday after a two years absence from the track. He has a record of 10 to 4-5. He has been training conscientiously for the past 4 weeks, and will probably be able to hold his pace with the best of them. L. W. Fox of Colton is an exceedingly clever man. His methods in running are very good. He was second in the recent field day of colleges of Southern California with 10 seconds for the 100 yards. There was much adverse comment at the time, and many doubts expressed as to his ability to do that time, but whatever else may be said of this feat, it is universally admitted that he is a fast man and has an excellent movement in running. His chief claim as an athlete, however, rests in his performance on the bicycle. He is generally regarded throughout the state as "the coming man." He is now in most excellent condition, and is riding very fast.

F. F. Foster of the Olympic club of San Francisco has entered in the 100-yard run and several other events. He is regarded as one of the fastest men in this race. R. J. Hancock is another Olympic club man. He ran in one of the events of the park a year ago and finished well to the front. He has been doing some good training and is regarded as one of the possibilities. James Ryan is an Athletic club man. He is big, tall and boney. In starting he is rather slow, but maintains a good gait when under way. His movements are not particularly graceful and are more on the order of the get-there

A Package That Never Came. Santa Barbara Independent: Wells Fargo's local office has regular visitors in the persons of two aged Mexicans who call daily and inquire if there are any packages addressed to them. During the many months that they have kept this up they have missed a day, and one of them frequently calls around twice, in the morning and in the afternoon. Every time they get the same reply, "There is nothing here." "It does not matter how busy we are," said Major Dandruff, "they are not satisfied with being told that there is no package, but insist on having the agent look through the books." There is something pathetic about the case; they do not say what the package is, but so to the counter with an inquiring look, and when the agent shakes his head, the only manifestation of disappointment is some unintelligible grumblings as they turn away.

ABOUT SOME HAY.

Two Farmers Have a Difficultly and One is Arrested.

H. Rich was arrested last night on complaint of H. Jensen who alleges that Rich threatened to shoot him. On investigation, however, it appeared that Jensen was more at fault than Rich. The pair are the owners of a team of horses and a small patch of hay. Rich started in yesterday to move in his share of the grass, using his partner's horse with his own. Jensen turned up and wanted to move his hay also and a quarrel was the consequence. Jensen attempted to take Rich's horse, upon which the owner threatened him with a wagon yoke. Jensen then took a pitchfork and advanced upon Rich while a friend of Jensen's joined in and struck the unfortunate Rich in the mouth. Jensen continued to advance with his pitchfork and Rich ran towards his house telling them if they continued to assault him that he would shoot in preference to being split on the prongs of the fork.

He got safely inside his house, and soon afterwards turned up at the police station to make a complaint of assault with a deadly weapon. There was no one, however, at the station to draw up the complaint, and he was told to come again today. Later on Jensen also turned up and, more fortunate than the other man, obtained a warrant for Rich's arrest, which was duly carried out by Officer M. Decker. The case will come before Justice Seaman today.

Weak Women. Owe to themselves a duty to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, in view of the great relief it has given those who suffer from ailments peculiar to the sex. By purifying the blood, regulating important organs, strengthening the nerves, and toning the whole system, it restores the debilitated to health.

After 15 Years. "For 15 years my mother has been troubled with milk leg. She went to different parts of California, as persons said the climate might help her, but it was of no avail, and I, being a druggist, thought I would get her to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before she had taken half a bottle she said she was improving, so she continued until she took half a dozen bottles, and now she is perfectly well. For nearly fifteen years she was unable to walk around, but now she can walk as well as ever." T. F. BLAKE, San Francisco, with C. F. Richards & Co., Wholesale Druggists.
