

MEMORANDA.

Subscribers to the Herald, both Daily and Weekly, are entitled to the following valuable premiums...

Weather Bureau. Report of observations taken at Los Angeles, May 27, 1893.

Table with columns: Time, Bar, Ther, RH, W, V, Cloudy. Data for 5:00 a.m., 8:00 a.m., 1:00 p.m., 5:00 p.m.

Maximum temperature, 73. Minimum temperature, 54. Indications. Forecast for Southern California: Fair weather; warmer; not to west winds.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Messo will be sorry to hear of the loss of their little infant daughter, who died at the grandmother's residence...

Police Officer L. R. Harris became the proud father yesterday of a 12-pound boy, on account of which he is going around with a swelled head and cigars.

A pleasant little affair took place yesterday at the hall of the F. M. A. Lodge on Main street, where Henry Decker, past president of the order, was presented with a valuable watch charm engraved with the initials of the order.

The exercises last evening at the regular weekly meeting of the Theological society at Lawrence hall, No. 525 5th street, were of a very interesting kind.

Byron S. Rosenblatt, of the Rosenblatt Wine company, San Francisco, arrived in this city last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hicks and little daughter arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from their home in Tucson, A. T.

Bring your old silver and Mexican dollars and have them made over into all kinds of silverware.

For choice meats and sausage, try Louis Strouber, 138 North Main street, Tel. 160.

Dr. K. D. Wise, office 228 South Spring street. Office hours from 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m.

Visitors to Redondo Beach will please note the summer time card No. 10 of Redondo railway in another column.

Senour's floor paint dries hard over night. U. R. Bowers & Sons, agents, 420 South Spring street.

Accommodations will be furnished for all who visit San Diego, May 30th, Round trip, $3.50.

A fine line of gasoline stoves, ice cream freezers and refrigerators at Paul's, 130 South Main street.

Free bus for Hotel Jackson, Santa Monica, meets all trains. Meals 50 cents.

Fine watch repairing especially. Conradi's, Spring and Franklin. Reasonable.

Hotel Jackson, the only first-class house at Santa Monica.

Insure with A. C. Golsch, 147 South Broadway.

Dr. Lindley, 331 1/2 South Spring street. Memorial Services at Soldiers' Home.

Tomorrow (Tuesday), distinguished speakers, fine music. Trains leave Southern Pacific company's Arcade depot 9:20 and 10:20 a. m. Round trip 50 cents.

Plumbing a specialty. All orders promptly attended to by the W. C. Furry company, 150, 161 and 163 North Spring st.

One bottle of Smith's Dandruff Pomade is guaranteed to cure any case, or money refunded. For sale by Oil & Vauhan, corner Fourth and Spring.

R. D. List, notary public. Legal papers carefully drawn. 127 W. Second, telephone 165.

Mrs. Katie K. Pickett, notary public; conveying a specialty. No. 207 New High st.

Beautifully your homes. Cover up your fireplaces for the summer by getting one of those nice fire screens at Sanborn, Vail & Co.'s, 133 S. Spring street.

For Catalina island! Every Saturday, until further notice, the steamer Falcon will make trips to Avalon, connecting at San Pedro with Southern Pacific company's and Terminal railway's motor train.

Free lecture at Turner hall, Monday evening, May 29th, at 7:30, by W. L. Foley of the Los Angeles bar. Subject: Giordano Bruno, the Infidel Martyr.

One thousand dollars reward for any sewing machine that will do as great a range of work, doing it as easily as a mill, as can be seen on the Advance Davis or Vertical Feed Davis sewing machine.

The Germain Fruit company are the sole agents for Southern California for Pabst Brewing Co.'s Export and celebrated Pilsen Beer.

Union made bread and pastry, fresh every day at 3 p. m., at the Original bakery, 113 West First street.

Dr. Charles de Szigethy is now located in the Bryson-Bonebrake block. Residence, Baker block. Office hours, 11:30 to 3:30.

Go to Ebinger's restaurant, best French dinner and order house in the city. Everything first-class.

Over the grade of our lumber there is no question. We will satisfy you in price and quality.

During the absence of Capt. Emil Harris, 10 Court street, at the world's fair, his office will be under the management of Captain Moody and competent operatives.

If you wish first-class artists' materials at reasonable prices, get them at Lichtenberger's art emporium, 107 North Main street.

Lawn tennis shoes, any size, 65c; carpet slippers, men's or ladies', 35c; fine light men's shoes for the season, $2.50.

Dr. Annie Ramborger Hammell, the well-known dentist, formerly of Philadelphia, has opened an office in the Stearns block, on Spring street, rooms 20 and 23.

Illish's restaurant, 145 and 147 North Main street. Everything new and first-class. Private apartments. Fresh fish, oysters and game daily.

To save time, money and much suffering, take Arabian Headache Remedy, the best and safest remedy yet discovered for headache and neuralgia.

Lumber, lumber, lumber; dirt cheap. Who sells it dirt cheap? Why, we do. Let us figure your bills. Clark & Bryson, 123 1/2 West Second street.

Littleboy's pharmacy is thoroughly reliable. Prices are the lowest reduced. Take your prescriptions there to be filled. 311 B. Spring street.

The only Keeley Institute in Southern California is at Riverside. The Los Angeles office is at rooms 64 and 65, New Wilson block.

W. R. Burke, notary public, fire insurance, money to loan on real estate, lowest rates, 213 1/2 North Spring street (top stairs).

Mrs. A. Mendenhall, hairdressing and manicuring, 107 North Spring street, room 23, Shumacher block.

Mrs. Dr. Wells, office in her brick block, 127 B. Third street, between Main and Los Angeles. Specialty, diseases of women.

Dr. H. C. Royer, physician and surgeon in charge. The Hammam baths, 320 South Main street.

For a good table wine order our Sonoma Zinfandel at 50c per gal. T. Vache & Co., Cor. Commercial and Alameda. Tel. 309.

Dr. Joseph Kurtz and Dr. Carl Kurtz, physicians and surgeons, have removed their offices to 147 South Main street.

Let Korn & Kantowitz, the Broadway tailors, make you a spring suit, 214 South Broadway. Fit warranted.

Mrs. Kittie Arline Loomis will sing Monday night at Turner hall. Gano Henry, real estate, Burbank.

Another Real Estate Assignment. FOSTORIA, O., May 28.—N. Fortz and C. Foster, predecessors to company, assigned to J. D. McDonel last night. Liabilities, $30,000; assets considerably more.

THE ART OF RIATA THROWING.

Arizona Charlie Tells Something About the Matter.

It is Purely a White Man's Weapon of Offense and Defense.

Arizona Charlie Gives an Interesting Talk About the Uses of the Riata and the Co-operation of the Horse.

"One curious thing about the riata," said Arizona Charlie yesterday, "is that there isn't a tribe of Indians that can use it."

"Why curious?" "I have always understood," replied the tall proprietor of the Wild West show, putting his long hair behind his ears, "that the Comanche Indians were once experts with the 'rops,' and there is a tradition that they were the patentees, so to speak, of its use in this country.

They don't know the first principles at the present time, or any other Indians I know anything about."

"Is it such a difficult thing to learn?" "No, I can't say that it is among the white people. They seem to have a knack for learning, but the Indians can't do it. It seems strange, too, because they are good horsemen. It depends a great deal on the horse as well as the man."

"Did you ever see the larist, or as the Spanish word is, la riata, used in the foreign countries where you have traveled?"

"Not one. There were no people anywhere who know anything about it, and it was a contest source of amusement to me to see the amazement with which they saw how cattle could be handled in that way.

In Australia they use a kind of whip, and the cowboy is a thing unknown to them. It is an art that as far as I know is peculiar to America and the United States."

"Now, I'll tell you," said Charlie, warming up as if the subject interested him, "the native Californian, to my mind, is the best in the line of the larist. By that I mean, of course, the Arizona and through the territories, because they nearly all came from native California stock.

In the early days they were the experts and they have kept on being that, although they are hard pressed by the husky young fellows from all over the country who have taken the name of cowboy to a distinct term in the history of the west.

When it comes to the 'get there' people who throw the riata as if it belonged to them, though, the native Californian is the 'boss.' Before the present day, when every thing is a becoming civilized, there were no better horsemen or riata-throwers in the world than the Californians. It seemed to come natural to them, and they whispered in the ears of their horses."

"The horses," continued Charlie, after thoughtfully puffing big clouds of smoke, "knew as much as the native Californians, also. They were just as much interested in obeying the slightest touch and standing or going when they ought to do so at their riders. You see, it depends on the horse as much as the man.

The slightest mistake of the horse sometimes means death when handling cattle."

"I have seen my horse all but speak when I was in a tight place. I remember once when we had to tie up a couple of wild steers to a tree before we could get after the rest. I set the rope around the one I went after, and, inch by inch, as I gave the signal Benjie began to step, rearing, heaving the strain on the rope. Finally, when I got the big steer within 10 feet of the tree, Benjie came up too far, and the sleek was such that the animal made at me with a surge that would have landed me into the middle of next week, if something had not prevented it. I did nothing. But that horse at the end of the rope took two steps backward, braced every muscle, and when the horns of the steer were just grazing me, brought him up square and lifted him off his feet. Maybe you think I didn't try to express my gratitude. By—, it seems to me today that Benjie understood me."

"How is the riata made?" "It is rather an interesting process. A day or two is taken and put in salt for a day and the hair is rubbed up in rings, which grow larger until the whole hide is used. The long string thus produced is stretched with weights to take the stiffness out, and finally is plaited into a long rope. Four strands are generally used, and then it is treated still further so that it becomes as soft and pliable as necessary, much more so than any grass rope that was ever invented. After it is made it is generally stiff until used for a time, and when it finally is all right a cowboy wouldn't part with it unless he was induced by liberal considerations. The larists are generally long enough to make a throw of 50 or 60 feet, but some are still longer than that."

"How far can a certain throw be made?" "I don't know exactly. It is safe to say not more than 45 or 50 feet. Of course, there are remarkable throws, but you can't put them as an average. You see the aim of the cowboy in actual work is to get there, and he doesn't take any more chances than he can help. There have been some wonderful throws, though. The longest I ever knew was about 75 feet."

"Is there any danger to the cowboy?" "To be sure. You see there is a peculiar motion with the hand, and there are many men who are minus fingers from the unexpected turn of the rope. I have had some 16 years experience with it; but beyond fingers off, and such things as that, I never saw any one who was actually killed by the larist—that is, I mean, of course, his own rope."

"There was something said about Arizona Charlie's appearance when he made the remark, as if he knew of instances in which somebody else's larist had officiated."

"Take it as a whole," he continued, "I don't believe there is any occupation requiring more skill and nerve than that of the cowboy. He faces death with the impassiveness of an Indian, and with much more intelligence. His life is in his own hand, and in the resourcefulness of his horse, and in the work of his hands sometimes. In horsemanship and bravery he is an expert. But the curious thing about it is that he does not realize it. It is a matter of course. They lead hard lives, and value their own lives very little, but they are big-hearted fellows, most of them."

"Do they in their actual life do these expert things, such as picking up things from the ground while the horse is at full speed?"

"Now that is an illustration. Yes, they do. Often times their lives depend on it. Many a time a cowboy would be a dead duck if he couldn't stoop down and pick up the larist that had slipped from his hand, after the noose was fast enough on the horns of a steer."

"That to get back to the riata," concluded Arizona Charlie, thoughtfully, "it seems to me a wonderful art. It was the result of a demand on the part of cattlemen for something to help control the wild animals they had to deal with. The men who have made it a world-wide reputation are most of them modest fellows. Many a one of them can settle a noose on any part of an animal he wishes to with his horse going at full speed. He rides hard, lives hard, and gets into values his own life—very cheaply—but they are broad gauge people who think as little of losing their own lives as they do of saving other people's lives."

The interview ended and Arizona Charlie went back to the tent where his packing horses were located, to install a less devilish feeling in their kicking souls.

from the ground while the horse is at full speed? "Now that is an illustration. Yes, they do. Often times their lives depend on it. Many a time a cowboy would be a dead duck if he couldn't stoop down and pick up the larist that had slipped from his hand, after the noose was fast enough on the horns of a steer."

"That to get back to the riata," concluded Arizona Charlie, thoughtfully, "it seems to me a wonderful art. It was the result of a demand on the part of cattlemen for something to help control the wild animals they had to deal with. The men who have made it a world-wide reputation are most of them modest fellows. Many a one of them can settle a noose on any part of an animal he wishes to with his horse going at full speed. He rides hard, lives hard, and gets into values his own life—very cheaply—but they are broad gauge people who think as little of losing their own lives as they do of saving other people's lives."

The interview ended and Arizona Charlie went back to the tent where his packing horses were located, to install a less devilish feeling in their kicking souls.

from the ground while the horse is at full speed? "Now that is an illustration. Yes, they do. Often times their lives depend on it. Many a time a cowboy would be a dead duck if he couldn't stoop down and pick up the larist that had slipped from his hand, after the noose was fast enough on the horns of a steer."

"That to get back to the riata," concluded Arizona Charlie, thoughtfully, "it seems to me a wonderful art. It was the result of a demand on the part of cattlemen for something to help control the wild animals they had to deal with. The men who have made it a world-wide reputation are most of them modest fellows. Many a one of them can settle a noose on any part of an animal he wishes to with his horse going at full speed. He rides hard, lives hard, and gets into values his own life—very cheaply—but they are broad gauge people who think as little of losing their own lives as they do of saving other people's lives."

The interview ended and Arizona Charlie went back to the tent where his packing horses were located, to install a less devilish feeling in their kicking souls.

from the ground while the horse is at full speed? "Now that is an illustration. Yes, they do. Often times their lives depend on it. Many a time a cowboy would be a dead duck if he couldn't stoop down and pick up the larist that had slipped from his hand, after the noose was fast enough on the horns of a steer."

"That to get back to the riata," concluded Arizona Charlie, thoughtfully, "it seems to me a wonderful art. It was the result of a demand on the part of cattlemen for something to help control the wild animals they had to deal with. The men who have made it a world-wide reputation are most of them modest fellows. Many a one of them can settle a noose on any part of an animal he wishes to with his horse going at full speed. He rides hard, lives hard, and gets into values his own life—very cheaply—but they are broad gauge people who think as little of losing their own lives as they do of saving other people's lives."

The interview ended and Arizona Charlie went back to the tent where his packing horses were located, to install a less devilish feeling in their kicking souls.

from the ground while the horse is at full speed? "Now that is an illustration. Yes, they do. Often times their lives depend on it. Many a time a cowboy would be a dead duck if he couldn't stoop down and pick up the larist that had slipped from his hand, after the noose was fast enough on the horns of a steer."

"That to get back to the riata," concluded Arizona Charlie, thoughtfully, "it seems to me a wonderful art. It was the result of a demand on the part of cattlemen for something to help control the wild animals they had to deal with. The men who have made it a world-wide reputation are most of them modest fellows. Many a one of them can settle a noose on any part of an animal he wishes to with his horse going at full speed. He rides hard, lives hard, and gets into values his own life—very cheaply—but they are broad gauge people who think as little of losing their own lives as they do of saving other people's lives."

The interview ended and Arizona Charlie went back to the tent where his packing horses were located, to install a less devilish feeling in their kicking souls.

from the ground while the horse is at full speed? "Now that is an illustration. Yes, they do. Often times their lives depend on it. Many a time a cowboy would be a dead duck if he couldn't stoop down and pick up the larist that had slipped from his hand, after the noose was fast enough on the horns of a steer."

"That to get back to the riata," concluded Arizona Charlie, thoughtfully, "it seems to me a wonderful art. It was the result of a demand on the part of cattlemen for something to help control the wild animals they had to deal with. The men who have made it a world-wide reputation are most of them modest fellows. Many a one of them can settle a noose on any part of an animal he wishes to with his horse going at full speed. He rides hard, lives hard, and gets into values his own life—very cheaply—but they are broad gauge people who think as little of losing their own lives as they do of saving other people's lives."

The interview ended and Arizona Charlie went back to the tent where his packing horses were located, to install a less devilish feeling in their kicking souls.

from the ground while the horse is at full speed? "Now that is an illustration. Yes, they do. Often times their lives depend on it. Many a time a cowboy would be a dead duck if he couldn't stoop down and pick up the larist that had slipped from his hand, after the noose was fast enough on the horns of a steer."

"That to get back to the riata," concluded Arizona Charlie, thoughtfully, "it seems to me a wonderful art. It was the result of a demand on the part of cattlemen for something to help control the wild animals they had to deal with. The men who have made it a world-wide reputation are most of them modest fellows. Many a one of them can settle a noose on any part of an animal he wishes to with his horse going at full speed. He rides hard, lives hard, and gets into values his own life—very cheaply—but they are broad gauge people who think as little of losing their own lives as they do of saving other people's lives."

The interview ended and Arizona Charlie went back to the tent where his packing horses were located, to install a less devilish feeling in their kicking souls.

from the ground while the horse is at full speed? "Now that is an illustration. Yes, they do. Often times their lives depend on it. Many a time a cowboy would be a dead duck if he couldn't stoop down and pick up the larist that had slipped from his hand, after the noose was fast enough on the horns of a steer."

"That to get back to the riata," concluded Arizona Charlie, thoughtfully, "it seems to me a wonderful art. It was the result of a demand on the part of cattlemen for something to help control the wild animals they had to deal with. The men who have made it a world-wide reputation are most of them modest fellows. Many a one of them can settle a noose on any part of an animal he wishes to with his horse going at full speed. He rides hard, lives hard, and gets into values his own life—very cheaply—but they are broad gauge people who think as little of losing their own lives as they do of saving other people's lives."

The interview ended and Arizona Charlie went back to the tent where his packing horses were located, to install a less devilish feeling in their kicking souls.

from the ground while the horse is at full speed? "Now that is an illustration. Yes, they do. Often times their lives depend on it. Many a time a cowboy would be a dead duck if he couldn't stoop down and pick up the larist that had slipped from his hand, after the noose was fast enough on the horns of a steer."

"That to get back to the riata," concluded Arizona Charlie, thoughtfully, "it seems to me a wonderful art. It was the result of a demand on the part of cattlemen for something to help control the wild animals they had to deal with. The men who have made it a world-wide reputation are most of them modest fellows. Many a one of them can settle a noose on any part of an animal he wishes to with his horse going at full speed. He rides hard, lives hard, and gets into values his own life—very cheaply—but they are broad gauge people who think as little of losing their own lives as they do of saving other people's lives."

The interview ended and Arizona Charlie went back to the tent where his packing horses were located, to install a less devilish feeling in their kicking souls.

from the ground while the horse is at full speed? "Now that is an illustration. Yes, they do. Often times their lives depend on it. Many a time a cowboy would be a dead duck if he couldn't stoop down and pick up the larist that had slipped from his hand, after the noose was fast enough on the horns of a steer."

"That to get back to the riata," concluded Arizona Charlie, thoughtfully, "it seems to me a wonderful art. It was the result of a demand on the part of cattlemen for something to help control the wild animals they had to deal with. The men who have made it a world-wide reputation are most of them modest fellows. Many a one of them can settle a noose on any part of an animal he wishes to with his horse going at full speed. He rides hard, lives hard, and gets into values his own life—very cheaply—but they are broad gauge people who think as little of losing their own lives as they do of saving other people's lives."

The interview ended and Arizona Charlie went back to the tent where his packing horses were located, to install a less devilish feeling in their kicking souls.

from the ground while the horse is at full speed? "Now that is an illustration. Yes, they do. Often times their lives depend on it. Many a time a cowboy would be a dead duck if he couldn't stoop down and pick up the larist that had slipped from his hand, after the noose was fast enough on the horns of a steer."

"That to get back to the riata," concluded Arizona Charlie, thoughtfully, "it seems to me a wonderful art. It was the result of a demand on the part of cattlemen for something to help control the wild animals they had to deal with. The men who have made it a world-wide reputation are most of them modest fellows. Many a one of them can settle a noose on any part of an animal he wishes to with his horse going at full speed. He rides hard, lives hard, and gets into values his own life—very cheaply—but they are broad gauge people who think as little of losing their own lives as they do of saving other people's lives."

The interview ended and Arizona Charlie went back to the tent where his packing horses were located, to install a less devilish feeling in their kicking souls.

from the ground while the horse is at full speed? "Now that is an illustration. Yes, they do. Often times their lives depend on it. Many a time a cowboy would be a dead duck if he couldn't stoop down and pick up the larist that had slipped from his hand, after the noose was fast enough on the horns of a steer."

Advertisement for KARL'S GLOVER ROOT PILLS. Cures Constipation, Indigestion, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, etc. Sold by C. F. Heitzman, 222 N. Main St.

Advertisement for DOCTOR WHITE'S PRIVATE DISPENSARY. 128 NORTH MAIN ST., LOS ANGELES, CALIF. DISEASES OF MEN. NERVOUS DEBILITY, MIDDLE-AGED MEN, BLOOD AND SKIN DISEASES.

Advertisement for BENSON'S PLEASANT PLASTER. Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Back-ache, etc. Sold by C. F. Heitzman, 222 N. Main St.

Advertisement for KAN-KOO. The Largest Curio Store on the Coast. A New Line of NAVAJO BLANKETS just received. Also some new Telescope Lunch Baskets.

Advertisement for KAN-KOO. 110 S. Spring St., Opp. Nadeau Hotel. 4-4 Cms.

Advertisement for Antifermentine. Canning of Fruit made an agreeable and delightful task. No more boiling and no more spoiling. Saves sugar, saves fruit, saves breakage of jars, saves time and labor lost by the old method.

Advertisement for H. JEVNE, Los Angeles, Cal. AGENT FOR SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. 5-23 3m

Advertisement for FAT PEOPLE. To reduce your weight SURELY use Willard's Obesity Pills and lose 15 pounds a month. No injury to the health. No interference with your business. NO STARVING. They build up and improve the general health, beautify the complexion and leave NO WRINKLES.

Advertisement for P. J. FLYNN, C. E., Consulting Engineer. For Irrigation, Water, Supplies, Sewerage, Etc. Office 114 South Spring Street.

Advertisement for DR. WHITE'S DISPENSARY. 128 NORTH MAIN ST., New McDonald Block. 5-17 ft

Advertisement for TROUSERS 3.50 TO ORDER SUITS 15.00. GABEL THE TAILOR. 222 S. Spring St. 3-31 ft

Advertisement for University of California. Entrance Examinations. Entrance examinations for the College of Letters, Science, and of Law, will be held at the University in Berkeley, also at Los Angeles, on Tuesday, May 24, at 10 o'clock a. m., May 18th, 19th and 20th, between the hours of 8:30 and 5 p. m.

Advertisement for DR. WONG HIM. Chinese Physician and Surgeon, has resided at Los Angeles thirteen (13) years. His reputation as a thorough physician has been fully established and appreciated by many.

Advertisement for BEN L. MORRIS. (Formerly with the Globe Clothing Company) Would be pleased to wait on you AT HIS OWN ESTABLISHMENT.

Advertisement for DON'T BE MISLED! I'M IN TOWN, and located at 165 NORTH SPRING STREET, OPPOSITE OLD COURT HOUSE. Guarantee Clothiers.

Advertisement for STECK PIANOS. Philadelphia Exhibition, 1876. Vienna Exposition, 1873. Acknowledged by the following highest musical authorities in the world to be supremely first-class: Richard Wagner, Francesco Tomagno, Wilhelmj, Luigi Arditi, Kurkel, Sternberg.

Advertisement for C. J. A. Lash. WINE MERCHANT, 131 North Main St., Tel. 35. NILES PEASE FURNITURE, CARPETS, PORTIERS, LACE AND SILK CURTAINS, WINDOW SHADES, OIL CLOTHS, LINOLEUMS, MATTINGS, ETC.

Advertisement for POSMIR IRON WORKS, AGENTS. Manufacturers of all kinds of MACHINERY, Architectural Iron and Brass Work. 416 and 430 ALPINE STREET, LOS ANGELES. 322 6m

Advertisement for SPECIALISTS. DR. LIEBIG & CO., Of San Francisco, Chicago, Kansas City, Etc. LOS ANGELES OFFICES, 123 S. MAIN ST. OPPOSITE GRAND OPERA HOUSE. Nervous, Private and Chronic Diseases of Men.

Advertisement for DR. WONG HIM. Chinese Physician and Surgeon, has resided at Los Angeles thirteen (13) years. His reputation as a thorough physician has been fully established and appreciated by many.

Advertisement for PAYING FARM FOR SALE! Containing 62 acres of land, all in high state of cultivation; cottage house, hard-finished, of seven rooms, bath and kitchen, together with small cottage of three rooms for laborers; about four acres in bearing Washington Navelis; 5 acres English Walnuts; 5 acres Winter Apples; two artesian wells; about 3000 feet service pipe and hydrants. First-class corn, alfalfa and orange land; all fenced and cross-fenced. Apply at once to JOHN DOLLAND, 114 N. Beaudry ave., Los Angeles, Cal.