The Blood-Horse Meeting Next Week at San Francisco.

The Highfliers of the Efrate East and How They are Standing Their Derby Preparations - Daily's Horses at Long Branch.

The blood horse meeting is supposed to convene on Saturday at San Francisco, and as it is All Fools' day for this article is written on Thursday there may be surprises for the talent on that day. Certainly, from what can be gleaned by the perusal of private letters from the metropolis, the cracks of last year are all short of work. An ex-jockey, writing to this office, says that David Bridges' horses are in the best condition of any at the track, and while they do not class with many others that could be named, if those others were in condition, he likes the chances of Wolf, Dona Lila and Typesetter very well.

The Electricity stock are said to be the best lookers of all the colts at Palo Alto. They are gluttons for work, and are intelligent and courageous. A yearling filly by Advertiser, 2:16, dam Sallie Benton, 2:17 3/4, is much thought of at Senator Stanford's farm. She is a little under size, but goes at her trotting lessons as though she had made up her mind to take a shy at the record this year.

Among the colts purchased by Monroe Salisbury at the Napa sale was Spring Mountain, a brown gelding by Mountain Boy, dam Eva Steinyaw, by Steinyaw, second dam by Lodi. The gelding is two years old, and a large, fine-looking colt. Mr. Salisbury has been working him at Pleasanton since the sale, when the weather would permit. He has already stepped an eighth in 17 seconds. Spring Mountain is a natural pacer.

Marian, the dam of Emperor of Norfolk, El Rio Rey, Ray del Reyes and Yo Tambien, now heads the list of all winning American brood mares, her progeny having won $227,056 in the past 18 years. She was bred by Joseph Cairn Simpson, and by her sire to her present owner, Theodore Winsor of Nevada for $800. It pays to breed from well-bred sires and mares, and yet both Norfolk and Charmer (Marian's second dam) had strains of blood that could not be traced. In Norfolk the fault lay in "Andridge's" dam, while in Charmer the fault lay in Potomac.

Old Gilpatrick, the jockey, was more pleasant than witty and paid more attention to his attire than anything else in the world. To those of the present generation who saw him at Jerome Park, he displayed little of the ability which in the days of Lexington and Leocompte, had made him the most famous of American jockeys. He was past his prime, rather timid and lacked dash and finish. Yet there are times when men say witty things without the least intent of wittiness. Glenlez was clearly the best 3-year-old of 1892, and the following spring the late Mr. Belmont was anxious to win the Winchester Cup with him. Glenlez's race he died away in the last quarter and was badly beaten by Holmbrook, who was at that time quite unbeatable. Mr. Belmont could not believe in Glenlez, and he was right. "Why didn't you come away with him at the three-quarter post?" demanded Mr. Belmont as Gilpatrick dismounted. Gilpatrick looked a moment at Glenlez's thumping flanks, and then said quietly: "Why don't you ask the horse?"

A visit to the English horses, the property of Colonel North, now quartered at the Sheephead Bay racecourse, shows them to be further advanced than any stable in this vicinity. These horses arrived here in excellent shape in the first place, for they might never let their horses up as much as do American trainers during the winter, but their fine condition is largely due to Trainer Hadfield's care and judgment. His Commissioner, Rough and Ready, Sir Frederick Roberts and Teddlesleigh seem in particular fine fettle, while the entire string is now in remarkably good shape for the season of the year. Some of the English stable boys, when shown Tournament, White Rose and several of the Keme string, said: "These are fine 'acks, you know, but now show us your race-horses." However, it must be said that Tournament was always a more or less course horse in appearance, and English race-horses are as carefully blanketed and groomed in the winter as during the racing season.

The interest in the thoroughbred contingent quartered at Monmouth park has been greatly heightened by the arrival of Mr. Marcus Daly's string. There are 14 in the lot. The older horses are Tammany, Montana, Silver Fox, Sir Matthew, The Pepper, Steve Estes, Duke of Hamilton, Delury and Lillian Russell, the remaining five being 2-year-olds as follows: Tenacious, bay colt, by Ironquois - Tassel - Dr. Garrett, bay colt, by Imp. The Ill-Used - Ben Follet; imp. Mat Byrnes, brown colt, by Hampton - Cherry; Sam Lucas, bay colt, by The Ill-Used - Mehalah; and Senator Grady, chestnut colt, by Ironquois - Sattus. They are a high-priced lot of youngsters. Tenacious cost $10,200; Senator Grady, $3900, as yearlings; while Sam Lucas and Dr. Garrett brought $6100 and $3000 as weanlings at the Nursery Stud sale in 1891.

Augur of the New York Spirit of the Times is responsible for this good one: "Racine, the celebrated California horse, has a curious war or won the size of a hen's egg on his nose or just above the left nostril, if I remember rightly. When he was east in 1890 his groom said he had been told the colt was born with it. At any rate, it is so conspicuous that the most casual observer would notice it, and I never shall forget one rainy afternoon at the Morris Park autumn meeting of 1890, when the appearance of a very stout, heavy gentleman with a mole on his nose caused quite a commotion among the stable lads in the paddock, and one of their number called out in a stage whisper: 'Here comes Racine; get onto his nose.'"

Morello is beyond doubt the best 3-year-old of the season up to date. "Broad Church" says of him: "In appearance Morello has very little advantage, if any, over Fitzsimmons, both being grand lookers. But in the race won by the son of Eolus, his only start here, the performance was a singularly consistent one; that is, compared with last season's record. The report of the race will be found in its regular place, but it may be mentioned here that, as Morello was a bit short, certainly not up to a bruising race, his performance suggests he is the peer, if not something more, of any 3-year-old in the country."

Some horses resemble each other so much that even the best judges get fooled at times. Simmons and Coxswain in the Burridge Bros' lot look somewhat alike, and Dick Loud thought the former was the latter. He said so, but Henry Harris disputed with him and offered to bet a dollar that the horse in the lot was Simmons. Dick said: "It's a no." Thompson, the jockey, offering a chance to make a sure winning, offered to bet Dick another dollar that Harris was right. With so much clamoring for a dollar bet, Loud says he thinks he was not quite right, so he refused the bet. In fact, he would bet all the change that he had that the horse was Coxswain.

Captain S. S. Brown of Pittsburg, Pa., has bought the following choice bred trotting broodmares: From Messrs. Bowserman Bros., Louise, by George Wilkes, in foal to Wilton; Dancheby, by Governor Sprague, in foal to Wilton; From J. E. Madden he bought Sallie Southworth, by Mambrino Patchen, in foal to Onward; Nashville, by Woodford Mambrino, in foal to Egbert; a daughter of Happy Medium, in foal to Red Wilkes. Mr. Brown intends to buy several more choice mares.

Under the head of "An important horse purchase," the San Francisco Post says: Charles E. Miller, a young gentleman of this city, purchased of Mrs. Robert E. Dyce, Salem, Ore., the fine race mare, Misty Morn, 3, by St. Pauli-Why Not; also Roebuck, 3, by St. Pauli-Why Not; Sea Breeze, 3, by St. Pauli-Why Not; Broad Church, aged; Rose Morn, 2, sister to Misty Morn; chestnut filly, 2, by Oregon; and a pair of colts, one by New York Keapsake, and Wyana, chestnut filly, 8, by Oregon-Superba. The price paid for the lot is understood to have been $12,000. Misty Morn alone was valued at $6000 and Roebuck at $4000. The latter recently defeated Granite, while Misty Morn is perhaps the best mare ever raised in Oregon.

A correspondent writing about the lot of horses owned by Jacob Ruppert, the New York brewer, says: Ontario, in foal to Ambulance, being by Onondaga, dam Black Maria, is marked like his famous sister, but is a chestnut instead of a black. He is a good-sized youngster, but is rather lightly put together and inclined to run too much to legs. Linwood, by Kayser of Dan Kinloch, is the best looker of the others, although the brown colt Potowatomie, by Powhatan, dam Kookatep, is not a poor one by any means.

A Nashville correspondent of the Turt, Field and Farm has this to say about the Tennessee Derby: There are 45 entries, and at this writing it looks as if there might be eight or nine starters. The more prominent candidates are as follows: Not including G. W. Johnson, who is entered but will not be at Memphis: Calhoun, Hugh Penny, Joe Murphy, Afternoon, Lookout, Interior, Mirage Golda, Calhoun and Lookout belong to Cushing & Orth, and both may first start in the Arkansas Derby. Private are in great form. Lookout is by Iron-bred and the other by Holmbrook, and both are big, sleeking fellows with plenty of speed. Lookout is the best looker of the nine times in 30 starts, and defeated some good ones a number of times. Calhoun started 16 times, with seven wins to his credit. He won his last four races, defeating some of the best alleged animals in the country. Lookout was owned by Henry McDaniel, a very competent young fellow.

Dick Lond was at Coney Island last week with the New York Spirit's reporter, who describes the Dwyer horses in his weekly column. "Dick Lond's horses," said Dick, "as a lot of horses came sweeping by hard held by their riders. Don Alonzo, in the front rank, looks and moves well, but does not show as much dash as others in the same string, and in some ways he looks as if the colt does not appear to have thickened out at all, and as he was always a big, large-framed colt, it is more noticeable in him than it would be in some others. Kingston, the great, was in the middle of the bunch, and he was well boddy, his coat shining like a new-made dollar. Judging from his general appearance there is still a lot of racing left in the whirlwind, and it will take a race horse to beat him at his distance. Stoneman, on the outside of the bunch, was giving his rider all he could do to keep him from running away. All fire and vim, the son of Stonehenge pulled and hauled on his bit in his efforts to run. He was always a good-sized horse. Coupled with this he has thickened out and is down a great deal, and is now a fine-looking animal. Weight never bothered him last year, and judging by his back, it will not this. Fast work, however, later on, may tell a different story. Red Banner has not improved as much as expected, and at the light order, Longstreet, one of the greatest ones got by Longfellow, looks like a prize ox. He is very high in flesh and is said to weigh close to 1200 pounds. It seems scarcely possible with all this flesh and such dicky legs that he will ever train again, but the stable has hopes, and while a horse has a leg there is always a chance."

Among the doings of the Tammany chief while in Kentucky, a recent writer says: Mr. Richard Croker and his family, escorted by Gen. W. H. Jackson of Belle Meade, spent last Friday visiting the stock farms adjoining Lexington, and were greatly pleased with what they saw, especially the stallions and yearlings. It is known as the Best Valley farm, purchased from Mr. John Madden the bay filly, 2 years old, by Bishop (sire of Racine), dam Bessie Bell (dam of W. B.), by imp. Bonnie Scotland, price $6000. Among the stallions the most admired at McGraithiana by Mr. Croker and his party were Onondaga, Hanover and imp. Whistle Jacket. General Jackson liked Whistle Jacket so much that he proposed to Mr. Young to price him, which latter refused to do. The general pronounced Whistle Jacket one of the soundest and most perfect imported stallions he has ever seen. After the party left McGraithiana they next visited the Kingston Stud, the home of Prince Bays, where they spent a few hours. Mr. Croker very much liked the filly by imp. The Ill-Used, out of imp. Encore (dam of Mary McGowan, Wadsworth and Phil Dwyer).

The Lower California Onyx Deposit to Be Worked.

A Gold Discovery Reported Near Julian. Sulphur and Gypsum in Kern County - Notes and Gossip.

S. M. Emmons of Washington, D. C., president of the New Pedraza Onyx company in Lower California, is at the Horton, says the San Diego Union. He will leave tonight on the steamer Pacheco for San Quintin, from which point he will go overland to the mines in the Los Tules region. It will be Mr. Emmons' first visit to the scene of the work so well begun by Professor Fellows, the general manager, who is now in St. Louis with the first shipment of onyx, overseeing its preparation for exhibit at the world's fair.

President Emmons states that from Professor Fellows' reports on the property the officials in the east are satisfied that it is a very extensive deposit of first-class stone and will pay handsome profits to its owners. As to the future methods of the company regarding the quarrying and transportation of the onyx, Mr. Emmons says he will have to leave unsettled until he arrives upon the ground. In any event the best and heaviest machinery will be taken down by Robert E. Dyce, Salem, Ore., the fine race mare, Misty Morn, 3, by St. Pauli-Why Not; also Roebuck, 3, by St. Pauli-Why Not; Sea Breeze, 3, by St. Pauli-Why Not; Broad Church, aged; Rose Morn, 2, sister to Misty Morn; chestnut filly, 2, by Oregon; and a pair of colts, one by New York Keapsake, and Wyana, chestnut filly, 8, by Oregon-Superba. The price paid for the lot is understood to have been $12,000. Misty Morn alone was valued at $6000 and Roebuck at $4000. The latter recently defeated Granite, while Misty Morn is perhaps the best mare ever raised in Oregon.

Sulphur and Gypsum.

The following is from the advance sheets of the report of the state mineralogist in reference to Kern county: Ontario, in foal to Ambulance, being by Onondaga, dam Black Maria, is marked like his famous sister, but is a chestnut instead of a black. He is a good-sized youngster, but is rather lightly put together and inclined to run too much to legs. Linwood, by Kayser of Dan Kinloch, is the best looker of the others, although the brown colt Potowatomie, by Powhatan, dam Kookatep, is not a poor one by any means.

The gypsum beds, which seem to vary a great deal in purity, appear to be thickest a mile or so southeast from the Sunset refinery. In some places these beds attain a thickness of more than 20 feet, but none of them have been developed to any extent. Associated with the gypsum is much carbonate of lime. At Muddy creek, between the oil wells and San Emidio, the formation is shale and sandstone, the strike being northwest and southeast magnetic and the dip north of west at an angle of about 60 degrees. The sandstone is in many places covered with a saline efflorescence, and gypsum is associated with the shale strata.

At Lobos creek, on the San Emidio grant, the writer observed a stratum of shells about two feet in thickness, which appeared to be composed entirely of crassatella shells. The formation dipped to the east of north at an angle of about 70 degrees and rested, probably conformably, on a light-colored shale. A large amount of bituminous matter had issued from the shale, and flowing down the creek bed had formed a layer of brae.

A Gold Discovery.

A gold discovery was recently made in the mountains about 30 miles northwest of Julian, in this county, says the San Diego Union, which according to report is of wonderful richness. The finders are A. G. Hanson, J. G. Austin and A. H. Colby. Hanson is the only miner in the party. The men were prospecting in the hills after rain across a big flat rock of peculiar formation. A gulch, the rock was broken up and found to be full of gold in glittering seams. Bearings were taken and the party began a systematic search for the ledge producing such a rich specimen of gold. For several days no trace of the rock for which they were hunting could be found, but finally, while walking up a narrow gulch, they saw a ledge of it cropping out of the side of the mountain some distance above them. Upon climbing up to investigate they found, to their surprise, that the ledge, which was at least 50 feet in width, and cropped out for 40 or 50 yards, fairly glistened with gold, and monuments were at once erected and claims staked out by the judges. A small flask was produced by Mr. Colby, containing a sample of the powdered ore from the Good Luck mine, as it has appropriately been named. The news of this lucky find soon spread, and a large number of miners are already encamped in the vicinity.

Some Rich Mines.

Mr. R. B. Taylor of South Riverside, Mr. W. A. Hayt and others, says the Riverside Enterprise, have a bonanza in the mining fields out in the Panamint district, Inyo county. The company, which is known as the Best Valley Mining company, has a patent to five different mines there, which are styled the Treasure, Taylor, Gold Hill, Anacoda and Grand View.

A mining expert who has spent some time in investigating these different mines, has just made a report to the company, which is very flattering indeed. All the mines are being prospected, and they are particularly well located as to water, there being an abundance of that necessary article within easy reach. Assays of ore from all the mines have been recently made, with very satisfactory results. The Anacoda shows an exceptionally fine prospect, the assay running 222 ounces of silver and eight ounces of copper to the ton. There is a large ledge of ore in sight and it is easily obtained. The Treasure mine shows an assay of 448 in gold and 338 silver to the ton. This mine is also satisfactorily located. The Gold Hill location returns an assay of 347 ounces silver and 433 ounces copper to the ton. The above figures indicate the possession by the lucky owners of a veritable bonanza.

The mines are located about 45 miles north of Mojave, and there is a good road leading from that station to the site of the mines. The company, which has been organized, has the cost made, and intend to erect a mill and crushing machinery in the very near future, when the mines will be worked vigorously.

As these excellent mines are owned by Riverside county people, the Enterprise takes great interest in their development, and wishes that the most sanguine expectations of the owners may be fully realized.

A Typical Californian.

W. S. Lyle, who represents the Bonanza firm, and is an equal partner in the Vanderbilt gold mines recently purchased by the combination, says the Needles Eye, has had the varied career and fortunes of the typical Californian. Twice he has had half a million to his credit and once he could draw his check for $2,000,000, but he lost his fortunes in stocks. Unlike many others, he kept at work, and when he saw his opportunity, he seized it with vigor and enthusiasm. He saw wealth in the prospect holes in the San Bernardino mountains, and he dug for it, and believes he will soon have another big account.

At Ferris.

The mining industry of this section, says the Ferris Era, is experiencing quite a boom at present. One of the latest mines opened and being worked is the Lucky Boy, in the Monflee district, owned by S. E. Walker. A contract for sinking a shaft has been let to Heber & Bennett, who are well known here as miners of experience and worth. At the depth of 70 feet drifts will be opened on the ledge which runs north-east and south-west. They are now doing the shaft, and the prospect is encouraging for a rich and paying property.

Meeting Notes.

The Tombstone Prospector contains the following: The diamond drill on the Gilded Age is down about 360 feet and working nicely.

Sinking on the Lucky Ace below water level has been stopped. The shaft or winz is 210 feet below the sixth level. On Wednesday the water came in stronger than usual, and some difficulty was experienced in keeping it out. It was then determined to come back to the 200 level, and a move that will be hailed with delight by all who have been watching the sinking of this winz. The 10 feet of shaft below will be used as a sump. At the deepest workings in this mine, which are 100 feet below anything in the camp, the ore body was undetermined as to size and as to quality, some of the richest ore ever taken out of an Arizona mine was uncovered. Its gold value in many instances went over $500 per ton. Prospecting below water level in Tombstone district is a new departure, and the Prospector predicts a sensation in mining circles before 60 days have rolled by.

Mr. Anderson, the agent for the cyanide process, left today after a short stay in Tombstone. He thinks the leases of the Boss mine will make a complete success with their experiment. They are saving close to 90 per cent now and doing better every day than that. Mr. Anderson interviewed Mr. Staunton regarding the working of some of their ore, and shipped a 500-pound sample to Denver to test.

Ta-Inkley-Link-ta-Lee.

The valley's abloom with the brightest flowers, And the bly fields murmur of golden showers.

Why do the honey-bees buzz in every spray; The honey-bee sits on the wild flower's bloom.

And the red-breasted linnet so sweet Makes a morning meal from a pink mushroom, While the "yellow-bell" sings in glees, Ta-Inkley-Link-ta-Lee.

The red-winged black bird whistles a tune To the mocking bird's liquid song, And the gray-squirrel scampers over the dune, While the golden roe trills his notes From the crest of the popper tree, And the silver-winged dove, with its throat As the "yellow breast" sings merrily, Ta-Inkley-Link-ta-Lee.

Sudden Death!

That STAMMING NEWS BRAKING!—The public is becoming accustomed to the above heading, but nevertheless it always conveys a shock. Sudden death, and a very sudden one, are the results from heart disease, manifested by any one or several of the following symptoms: Short breath, palpitation, irregular pulse, wind in the stomach, pain in side, shoulder or arm, numb left shoulder blade, between shoulders or in bowels, irregular or intermittent pulse, oppression feeling in chest, choking sensation, wear or hungry spells, difficult breathing, swelling of feet or ankles, drowsy, Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure speedily remedies all these. WILL JESSIE GET HER MONEY?

It Is Now a Question if She Can Collect Her Judgment.

Happenings Yesterday in the Superior Courts.

Carlisle's Case - Notes of Cases Which Were Under Consideration Yesterday - New Suits Which Were Filed.

The supreme court has decided that Jacob S. Taylor shall pay Jessie Marshall who was, but Jessie Marshall Lawrence now, $25,000 for having seduced her at Hotel Delmar, at Delmar, San Diego county, in 1889. The case was tried in department six of the superior court in this county in 1892. Jessie got a judgment as above and Taylor appealed. As a result of Taylor's intimacy Jessie claimed that he was the father of her bouncing girl baby Bessie.

The case has been pending in the supreme court on appeal for some time. Jessie has been married since her court experience to a party named Lawrence. It is a question, though, whether the girl will get any money now or not. At the time she got her judgment against Taylor he was a wealthy man, but he has had hard luck since then, and it is doubtful if he has any $25,000 with which to pay a judgment. Jessie's lawyers will endeavor to find some property or something upon which to put an execution, and whether they will find it or not is doubtful.

There is talk of a criminal prosecution being commenced against Taylor for seduction. One of Jessie's lawyers stated yesterday that he proposed to present the matter to the grand jury, and if possible secure an indictment of Taylor.

CARLISLE'S CASE. The case against S. A. Carlisle, who is charged with assaulting Mrs. M. E. Roberts with a deadly weapon on February 23rd last, came up in department one yesterday. Carlisle's counsel - Henry T. Gage and J. Marion Brooks - filed a demurrer to the complaint, which Judge Smith took under advisement.

COURT NOTES. Frederick William White was yesterday made a citizen of the United States by Superior Judge Clark. He was a native of Canada.

Informations were yesterday filed in department one by the district attorney charging Robert Wayne with having committed an assault with intent to commit murder, and charging James McCartney with burglary. Both of the parties will be arraigned tomorrow.

R. H. May applied for admission to the bar yesterday, and Judge Shaw referred his application to the examining committee of the bar association. Judge Shaw yesterday set April 20th as the day for the argument of the case of E. J. Baldwin vs. the Sierra Madre Water company.

Judge Shaw yesterday took under advisement the case of Annie E. May vs. Julius Lyons et al., an action on a street assessment.

Judge Van Dyke, owing to pressure of other business yesterday continued the hearing of the Ewing divorce case until the 10th inst.

The case of E. H. Kincaid et al. vs. J. G. Nichols et al., an action to quiet title to 15 acres of land, was decided by Judge McKinley, yesterday, in favor of the plaintiff.

NEW SUITS. The following new suits were yesterday filed with the county clerk: W. H. L. Cowan sued George W. Maxwell to rescind a contract.

Ada C. Smith petitioned for letters of administration upon the estate of William A. Cochran, who died September 14, 1877, leaving personal property valued at $2500.

Charlotte D. Jerome sued John B. Nichols et al., an action to quiet title to 15 acres of land, was decided by Judge McKinley, yesterday, in favor of the plaintiff.

F. M. Kelsey, as public administrator, petitioned for letters of administration upon the estate of J. W. Meiseger, who died recently, leaving an estate valued at $80.

Keesley Cure. The only Keesley institute of Southern California, located at Riverside, has opened a bureau of information at rooms 64 and 65, new Wilson block, for the treatment of alcoholism, opium and tobacco habit and neurasthenia.

DR. HONG SOI.

Dr. Hong Soi has cured over 2300 people who were afflicted with nearly every form of the various diseases the human form is heir to. Fully 95 per cent of these were made of wrecks that could not find relief in the other systems of medicine as practiced. There are over 3000 kinds of medicines (all herbs and roots and bark) which he imports direct, and which have been used in China 1000 to 5500 years.

DEAR READERS: I have been troubled a good many years with heart, stomach, bowel and kidney disease, which made life seem unpleasant to me. I heard of the wonderful herbist, Dr. HONG SOI, who is located at 317 South Broadway. I made up my mind to try his medicine, which I did, and I am willing to say that I am cured of all my distressing complaints. I cheerfully recommend all who are troubled with the same complaints by which I have been afflicted, to give Dr. Hong Soi a fair trial and he will cure you. MRS. M. J. WALTER, 1032 Blaine street, Los Angeles, Cal., November 31.

FOR WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: I have been sick for nearly two years, by suffering with great pains in the back, head, coming and weakness, and unable to get out from bed for some time. About three weeks ago, having called on Dr. Hong Soi for consultation, who pronounced that I was afflicted with kidney disease and lung troubles. He treated me by looking how and where it pains me, and also explained how and when I ought the most, etc. At once I begin to try his medicine, which I found it to be a great help to me. I had taken his medicine for three weeks and now I am well. This is to certify that Dr. Hong Soi has cured me of my sickness, and I am cheerfully recommending him to the public. 330 Winston street, Los Angeles, Cal., Dated March 3, 1892.

For two months I suffered with pain in the bladder. Three doctors treated me, each one giving a different cause for the trouble, but doing me no good. Took Dr. Hong Soi's medicine for two weeks and was entirely relieved of all pain. WILLIAM GOBLE, 655 South Olive street.

For three years I was a sufferer with rheumatism and kidney troubles and was unable to walk. I was very much bloated and suffered excruciating pains. Five doctors have treated me and failed to benefit me. They have given me up as incurable. I was recommended to Dr. Hong Soi for treatment. I am glad I had went to him. He cured me in two weeks' time. Dated September 14, 1891.

I had taken his medicine for three weeks and now I am well. This is to certify that Dr. Hong Soi has cured me of my sickness, and I am cheerfully recommending him to the public. 330 Winston street, Los Angeles, Cal., Dated March 3, 1892.

For two months I suffered with pain in the bladder. Three doctors treated me, each one giving a different cause for the trouble, but doing me no good. Took Dr. Hong Soi's medicine for two weeks and was entirely relieved of all pain. WILLIAM GOBLE, 655 South Olive street.

For three years I was a sufferer with rheumatism and kidney troubles and was unable to walk. I was very much bloated and suffered excruciating pains. Five doctors have treated me and failed to benefit me. They have given me up as incurable. I was recommended to Dr. Hong Soi for treatment. I am glad I had went to him. He cured me in two weeks' time. Dated September 14, 1891.
