CHICAGO SNOBS SHOCKED,

Infanta Eulalia Dismays the Aristocrats.

She Sees the Fair Just Like the Americans.

The Princess Has a Good Time in the Midway Pleasure.

No Cheap Western World's Fair Excursions Before the First of August. The Sunday Closing Question Still Agitated.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 9.—To the great dismay of a few self-styled aristocrats, and the extreme delight of the people at the grounds, Infanta Eulalia went to the world's fair today without any military escort or other fuss.

Commander and Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Curry, wife of the ex-minister to Spain, and Mr. and Mrs. Oatfield Taylor accompanied her, the party going out on a private steam yacht. At the entrance to the grounds the party embarked in a gondola and went through the lagoons to the woman's building, where an informal lunch was had in the cafe.

When the time came to return to the city the infanta was loth to leave the grounds, declaring she never had a better time in her life. Tomorrow she will again visit the fair, but this time it will be a visit of ceremony.

This evening the infanta was entertained at the residence of Mrs. Potter Palmer on lake shore drive, all the notables now in Chicago being present, as well as about 300 leading society people of this city.

STRIKERS COME TO GRIEF,

War Begun on the Chicago Drainage Canal.

Deputy Sheriffs and Armed Mobs in Collision.

Copious Bloodshed as the Result of the Battle.

Several of the Strikers Killed and Others Mortally Wounded—The Militia Ordered Out by Governor Altgeld.

By the Associated Press.

LEMONT, Ill., June 9.—Deputy sheriffs with Winchester rifles and armed mobs of strikers met at Lemont today. The first week of the strike in the quarries and on the drainage canal closed with copious shedding of blood.

One unknown man shot through the head; two unknown men whose bodies fell into the canal.

The wounded are: Anton Velevirski, Thomas Moorski (since died), Mike Berger (since died), Antoine Kola, George Kiskia, Mike Michelab, Frank Peski, Lawrence Lavandowski, Ludwig Gruger, John Zoytruski, Mike Lolaski, John Peterson and five men, names unknown. A boy named Johnny Kluga was shot in the groin and cannot recover.

Early this morning men began to gather in the streets to discuss the situation. As the morning wore on the crowds increased. At 10 o'clock they formed a procession and began to march.

About half a mile out of town, at Smith & Jackson's camp, the men took the tow path along the canal and marched by twos. Along this route they were shielded from view by the trees. It was the intention of the strikers on arriving at the different camps to drive out the workmen as they had done last week.

The men in the camps, however, had fortified themselves and had arms and ammunition.

When the conflicting factions were about 250 yards apart firing suddenly began. Reports vary as to which side fired first, but there is no question that the strikers were badly wounded. When those not killed or wounded took to flight they were in the widest confusion.

One of the leaders among the rioters was left lying where he fell, with a bullet hole in his temple. It is said by some that he was not a striker, but a section hand on the Santa Fe railroad, who was killed by a stray bullet. He has not been identified.

The strikers continued to bring the wounded into Lemont until long after midnight, and it is not believed the list of dead and wounded is yet complete by several names.

At the camp where the battle took place armed guards are tonight patrolling the boundary line.

Contractor Jackson said: "We had become tired of the strikers annoying our men. Thursday when the strikers visited us they were told their methods would no longer be tolerated. We showed them 60 men armed with Winchesters and revolvers, as an earnest of our intention to take care of our business. This had some effect on them at the time, and they returned without making hostile demonstrations. They had intended. This morning, however, they determined on another attempt, and came down for trouble with the result you know."

Feeling in Lemont tonight is that the day's work is done to the strike, but many expect more trouble. They deny that they were armed, though the camp men say the strikers fired first. Thirty of the strikers were arrested by deputy sheriffs and sent to jail.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 9.—Governor Altgeld, having been advised by the sheriffs of Cook and Will counties as to the situation at Lemont, and the impossibility of securing a sufficient posse of deputies, at midnight ordered out the First and Second regiments of state troops. They began assembling shortly after, and as soon as possible will proceed to the scene of the disturbance.

CHICAGO, June 9.—At a late hour tonight the officers of the Second regiment are hurrying around gathering up men for as early a start as possible for Lemont. The regiment will muster near 1200 men.

THE BORDEN TRIAL.

About Half the Spectators in Court Are Females.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 9.—About half the spectators in court this morning were females. The first witness called was Assistant Marshal Fleet, Governor Robinson made a long examination of Officer Fleet and disclosed the fact that other hatchets than the handleless hatchet were found.

Robinson led Fleet into a contradiction of yesterday's testimony, that the broken part of the hatchet handle was covered with ashles like on the blade. Officer Doherty described his experience at the Borden's on the day of the murder. The only matter of importance brought out at the afternoon session was the fact that the broken part of the handle of the small hatchet, which is missing, was seen by Officer Mullaly and the government's professional ignorance of the whereabouts of the pieces.

A Stay of Execution.

PROVO, Utah, June 9.—A stay of execution has been granted Richard Davis, sentenced to die this morning for wife murder, to allow the supreme court of the United States to pass on his case in October next.

CUT HIS THROAT.

A Naval Officer Suicides in the Mare Island Hospital.

VALLEJO, Cal., June 9.—Lieut. William P. Ray, U. S. N., commander of the United States coast survey steamer McArthur, committed suicide at the Mare Island naval hospital this morning by cutting his throat. Lieutenant Ray was transferred to the naval hospital a short time ago suffering from nervous prostration. This morning Ray went into the hospital bathroom, locking himself in, and cutting his throat from ear to ear.

When found by a nurse shortly after the attempt on his life, the lieutenant was gasping for breath. Though a hurried examination failed to discover any cut in an artery, he was carried into a ward and placed on the operating table where he died at 12:15 p. m.

Lieutenant Ray was assigned to the command of the McArthur in November, 1890. The deceased was a native of Indiana, and leaves a wife and family.

A STREET DUEL.

An Old Feud Ended in the Death of One of the Principals.

ST. GABRIEL, La., June 9.—A street duel took place here today between Ed Leeche and Paul B. Jomet. Leeche is a prominent rice planter and a member of the Pontchartrain levee board. Jomet was the eldest son of Hon. Jomet, ex-state senator, and now a representative in the state legislature. The shooting took place in front of the postoffice, and an old feud ended by Jomet being killed and Leeche dangerously wounded. Leeche fired four shots, all of which took effect, and Jomet one. Jomet was practically a dead man when he fired a ball that entered Leeche's face in the lower cheek and passed through the neck, coming out behind.

ELOPERS OVERHAULED.

REV. REAMS AND MISS RUCKER CAPTURED AT VICTORIA.

The Runaway Preacher and His Girl Partner in Sin Will Be Brought Back to Merced for Trial.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 9.—A few days ago the chief of police was notified of the elopement from Merced, Cal., of Rev. A. R. Reams, a Methodist preacher, and Lucy Rucker, a young girl belonging to a leading family of the church. The police kept a lookout, and Wednesday evening discovered that a man of clerical appearance, about 40 years of age, arrived here on the steamer City of Kingston, accompanied by a woman about 18 years old. The movements of the party on the steamer attracted attention. They remained in their state-room during the passage, and did not leave the steamer here until after dark. They were shadowed from the moment of their arrival here, and the fact was soon developed that the couple were posing as A. W. Furlong and wife, the boy being the man's son by his legitimate wife. The sacred authorities were communicated with at once and it was ascertained that "Furlong" was the party wanted there. Telegraphic instructions arrived last night to arrest him. He was highly indignant when the arrest was made, and said it was a mistake, and he would make the Victoria authorities suffer. He stated that he was on a pleasure trip with his wife and son. However, when he was brought face to face with the facts possessed by the authorities, he partially admitted his identity, but said he had done nothing wrong. The girl says she will be 18 years old in September, beyond which neither she nor the man have anything to say, except that Reams stated he could do almost anything with the girl, short of putting her in a disreputable house. If the facts in the possession of the authorities can be substantiated, there is no doubt that Reams will speedily be sent across the line, as the authorities here are not disposed to allow such miscreants to find shelter in the province.

REDUCED FREIGHT RATES.

A Big Cut Made by Several Eastern Traffic Lines.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The Herald says: There was a big reduction in freight rates yesterday out of New York to all Mississippi river points. This may well be regarded as the first serious menace to rates in the territory of the Trunk Line association and that of the Central Traffic association.

The cuts made by the Southern and Canadian Pacific companies affect only Pacific coast traffic and do not disturb the situation in the east.

A reduction was made yesterday by the Kanawha Dispatch and the Savannah Steamship line. They made a clean out of 50 per cent on dry goods and other first-class products from this city to the Mississippi river, which is the junction point between the eastern and western associations. The object is to reach points west of the Mississippi river. The same rate-cutters have also reduced the tariff on all cotton goods from mills. It will be readily seen that the trunk lines cannot long resist this warfare in their own territory without being affected by it and being ultimately drawn into it. The National Dispatch menaces the northern and the Kanawha Dispatch the intermediate territory.

A HOUSE OF DEATH

Awful Disaster at Washington.

The Old Ford Opera House Collapsed.

Hundreds of Men Buried in The Ruins.

Twenty-four Taken Out Dead, and 52 Injured.

All the Victims Were Government Employees.

Criminal Negligence the Cause of the Calamity.

The Building Had Long Been Known to Be Unsafe.

A Curse Has Been on the House Ever Since Lincoln Was Assassinated Therein—Two Other Great Death Traps.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Hundreds of men carried down by the falling walls of a building which was notoriously insecure! Human lives crushed out by tons of bricks and iron and sent unhealed to the throne of their Maker! Men by the score maimed and disfigured for life! Happy families hurled into the depths of despair! Women calling for their husbands; children calling for their fathers; mothers calling for their sons; not an answer to the cry!

This is but a shadow of the awful calamity that befell this city this morning.

INDESCRIBABLE HORRORS.

Words cannot picture the awfulness of the accident; imagination stands back and fails to give any idea of the scene. Its horrors will never be fully told. Its suddenness was almost the chief horror. In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, there was a change, and men who came to the scene of their daily toil will never return alive.

CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE.

In the national capital of the proudest nation of the earth there has been a catastrophe unparalleled in the annals of its history, and in every mind there is the horrible conviction that its genesis is to be found in the criminal negligence of a government too parsimonious to provide for the safety of its loyal servants, by erecting buildings proper for their accommodation.

A CATARACT OF DEATH.

It was between 9:30 and 10 o'clock this morning that the floors of the old Ford's theater building on Tenth street, occupied by the records and pension division of the surgeon-general's office, fell in as though they had been the cards of a card house. On each floor were scores of men at work. Without warning they were carried down as by an awful cataract. The flood was made of iron girders, hardly strong enough to support the walls, but heavy enough to stamp out human lives; of bricks held together by plaster long since dried out; of wooden beams that had been in place too long. There was no escape from such a flood.

REMOSE OF SOME MEN'S SOULS.

The government of a great nation could not afford to provide a safe building for its faithful employes, but herded them together in a building whose unsound condition was notorious. Again and again have the columns of the press been filled with the story of rotten walls. There is shame and remorse on the souls of some men who were responsible for the state of things that confined men working for their daily bread in a building that every one in the city of Washington knew was unsafe.

A CURSE ON THE HOUSE.

Twenty-eight years ago there was another tragedy within the walls of this building. The news of it was dashed to the four quarters of the earth and it brought consternation wherever it went. The man killed was the president of the United States. As though the building had borne a curse upon it from that time, it ended its career in a fitting manner. But how much better it would have been if the government had removed the structure years ago!

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE.

Those in the multitude who could think of something besides the catastrophe, alone, remarked upon the strange coincidence that the building in which John Wilkes Booth slew President Lincoln should fall and kill scores of people on the very day that the body
