

THE EPIDEMIC IS ALMOST OVER.

A Normal Financial Situation Probable Today.

The Features of the Excitement of Yesterday.

The First National, Broadway, East Los Angeles and Southern California Banks Temporarily Close.

Yesterday's sun, as it rose over the city, glanced down on a population which was agitated and excited and prepared to think the worst after the events of Tuesday in financial circles.

The tumultuous times of the preceding 48 hours are over, the eager craze of the depositor for his coveted coin is gone, and the light of today falls on a city once more returned to the exercise of its common sense.

MR. HELLMAN ARRIVES. The minds of many timorous people were set at rest yesterday by the appearance behind the counter of the Farmers and Merchants' bank of the well-known face of President I. W. Hellman, who arrived from San Francisco.

He did not come alone, but brought $250,000 in gold, which was soon alongside the big coin reserve of the bank, and by noon there was fully $500,000 in gold coin on the tables of the bank, besides correspondingly large sums in bonds, notes and silver.

It was also learned that Mr. Hellman had $250,000 more in gold, all in sacks, in his San Francisco bank ready for shipment at a moment's notice. But it will not be needed. The bank has plenty of money, and is getting new business all the time.

Mr. Hellman said to a HERALD reporter: "I haven't really much to say. You might tell the public that I am here, not that the bank needed my presence particularly, but I thought I might do something to benefit the city where I have so many large interests."

"The Farmers and Merchants' bank has received large shipments of coin today in addition to its large reserve fund, and it can get as much more as it needs."

"There has not been a sign of anything unusual about the bank today; the deposits have been as large as the withdrawals and we are in the very best condition."

"I believe that the other state banks which have remained open are perfectly solvent. If people will consider the future of Los Angeles they should do all they can to help reopen the closed banks and assist in reestablishing confidence."

"The San Francisco banks are all solid, and there is no cause for any apprehension of trouble up there, so I shall remain here for about a week."

Mr. Hellman looks remarkably well, and appears to have experienced little or no anxiety of late. He took an active part in the business of the bank yesterday, and his presence was regarded as a reassuring circumstance.

A RECEIVER APPOINTED. Yesterday morning legal proceedings were instituted which resulted during the morning in the appointment of a receiver for the City Bank.

The complaint was filed by Mrs. Margaret E. Miller, one of the depositors, by her attorneys, Messrs. Barnett & Gibbons, and the receiver appointed being $2400. It was provided in the complaint that complaints in intervention by other depositors might be filed in the suit.

The case was taken at once before Judge Shaw, in department five of the superior court, and the receiver appointed was granted. Mr. Otto Brodbeck, a well-known business man, being agreed upon for the position. He was appointed by the court, filed his bond of $100,000, which was approved, and he at once took possession of the bank. His assets each qualified and were accepted by the court. They are as follows:

Jabez Percival, $10,000; T. D. Stimson, $10,000; Theodore W. Brotherton, $10,000; Robert Hale, $10,000; Andrew Malien, $10,000; Thomas Stowell, $10,000; J. Otto Hoepf, $10,000; E. Pomeroy, $10,000; A. P. West, $10,000.

The receiver did not attempt to make a detailed examination of the affairs of the bank yesterday, but that work will begin today.

THE LOS ANGELES NATIONAL. At the hour of 10 o'clock approached yesterday an excited crowd began to gather at the corner of First and Spring streets, in front of the Los Angeles National bank. Many were the comments made as to whether its doors would open, and several bets were quickly offered and accepted that they would not.

Within a few minutes after the regular time the massive doors swung open and entrance was afforded to the many eager seekers after money who occupied the pavement. A line was quickly formed and the depositors as their time came received the amount due them.

Major Bonebrake appeared on the steps and with his hand raised addressed the crowd below him. He said that for two days now this run on his bank had been kept up. "But," said he, "I propose to keep the bank open until the last depositor desiring his money presents himself. No one will lose a dollar which they have placed in the bank's keeping, and I will also state that we have two dollars ready for each one deposited. I want the depositors to realize this, and I want them to stand by the bank." The speech of President Bonebrake was greeted with applause but notwithstanding the depositors kept in line in no way deterred from obtaining their money. A short time after the major's address a notice was tacked upon a telegraph pole on the corner which read as follows:

"Until further notice this bank will be open for the payment of checks from 10 a. m. till 1 p. m., and will receive deposits if offered from 2 p. m. to 3 p. m."

"We appeal to our depositors that they aid us in this unexpected emergency by accepting payment upon the following plan:

"Depositors having sums less than $200 to receive one-fourth in cash and a certificate payable in 60 days for the remainder; those having a greater deposit to receive 10 per cent in cash, 10 per cent in 10 days and the remainder in a certificate payable in 90 days; deposits less than $50 will be paid in full."

Notwithstanding the statement in the notice that payment of check would only be continued from 10 to 11 a. m. the bank remained open and paid all claims or the percentage on them until

Second—One Double Berth in Pullman Palace Sleeping Car from Los Angeles to Chicago and Return.

HERALD'S WORLD'S FAIR COUPON JUNE 22, 1893.

Name..... Address.....

The HERALD hereby makes an offer of a round-trip first-class ticket, a double berth in a vestibule Pullman Palace Sleeping Car and 10 days' board at a first-class hotel in Chicago FREE to the person getting the most votes between this date and August 4th at midnight.

All votes must be made on coupons cut from the issues of the daily HERALD. No coupon will be good for a vote after three days from the date on which it appears. That is to say, votes must be sent to the HERALD on the way, where they will be credited to the person named on them, within three days' time of the date printed on them.

This provision will not apply, however, to the last days of the publication of the coupon, for none will be received under any circumstances after midnight of August 4th. No votes will be received for any person in any way employed with the HERALD. All coupons must have the name and address of the person voted for plainly written.

The regular closing time. Major Bonebrake stated yesterday afternoon a short time after 3 o'clock that the bank had paid out close to $400,000 and they would continue to settle all demands made upon it.

Yesterday a large amount of money was received and a still larger one would be received before banking hours tomorrow. "We have not asked assistance from anybody," said he, "and we don't propose to. All demands will be paid that are presented and will be paid by us alone, without drawing on outside help."

"Over deposits have been coming in freely from the business men of the city, and one alone, that of $6000 from the Santa Fe road, proves that perfect confidence is felt in the bank."

The crowd of depositors which at the opening of the bank crowded its doors increased towards noon until they fully equalled those of yesterday.

As the afternoon hours wore away and the closing of the money market dwindled away until when the doors closed only probably a dozen were within the building, in contrast to the crowd which occupied the same space yesterday.

The run was apparently a thing of the past, and the remaining depositors had decided that their money was safer in the institution than their own pockets.

THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. Diagonally across the street from the Los Angeles National a notice on the doors of the Southern California National bank appeared shortly before 10 o'clock and attracted instant attention. It read as follows:

"Owing to the withdrawal of deposits and the stringency of the money market, our board of directors has decided to close their doors temporarily. Depositors need have no fear about their deposits. The bank has ample assets to pay all deposits in full."

Mr. Eved, the president, told a HERALD reporter later in the day that it was decided to close their doors after the run which took place on them Tuesday afternoon. "We paid out over $100,000," said he, "and kept our doors open until 10 minutes after 3 in order to give all a chance. It was decided, however, in consideration of the craze which had taken possession of everyone, that it would be best to close our doors."

"When the run commenced we had over 50 per cent of our deposits in cash on hand, and that is a better showing than any other bank in the city could have made. We are perfectly solvent and we have plenty of money, the only trouble being that it is in New York, Chicago and San Francisco, and it takes time for it to reach us here."

"Los Angeles is too far away from the money centres and that is the reason all the banks have been compelled to close. If we had been granted a little time all would have been met. We have a large amount of money on the way to us and expect in a few days to open again and meet all demands made upon us. It would have been foolish for us to have kept open while the present insane craze held possession of the depositors."

THE BROADWAY BANK. The Broadway bank, on the corner of Sixth and Broadway, also failed to open yesterday morning, and its patrons were surprised by being confronted by the following notice:

"We have closed the bank owing to the fact that we can not pay you all in full at once."

"Your money is safe, as it is loaned out on good security. We have a well-founded prospect of obtaining money to enable us to reopen in a day or so."

"Our only liabilities are call deposits, $12,490.25. Certificates of deposits, due September, 1893, $10,000; total, $22,490.25. Commercial loans, well secured, $40,679.05; other securities, $26,100.79; total, $69,779.84."

Mr. Warren Gilleen, the president, told a HERALD reporter yesterday afternoon that the depositors themselves were striving to arrange matters in such a shape that the bank would be able to justified in opening and paying a proportion of the money on deposit until we can make some arrangements which are pending towards reorganization."

THE CITIZENS' BANK. President Brotherton of the Citizens' bank reports that it has all the money it wants, and only today refused $20,000 which was on the point of being forwarded to it.

"We have had something of a run," said he, "and have paid out probably $20,000 today; but we are not at all incommoded, and are ready for a run if one should start. I think, however, that the worst is over, and that the backbone of this excitement is broken."

Mr. T. D. Stimson, who was present, agreed with President Brotherton's views.

"The run is all a piece of nonsense," said he, "and tomorrow will doubtless see the last of it. This section has been unusually prosperous for two years, and mortgages have been discounted and paid off twice as rapidly as they have been recorded. There is not the least bit of reason here to be alarmed. There are probably too many banks and there has been some very close loaning to make a good showing in stockholders. Banks here are at an unusual disadvantage in case of a sudden run, as it takes 24 hours to get money from San Francisco and New York. Of course the longer time the banks have, the better able will they be to put through, and I have no doubt they will all come out all right."

The HERALD desires to correct a typographical error which occurred in its issue of yesterday. In the account of the Citizens' bank's failure the word "Citizens' bank" were printed by mistake for the name of the former.

THE EAST SIDE BANK CLOSED. Over on the East Side a little flurry was occasioned by the appearance of the following notice on the doors of the East Side bank:

"On account of not being able to cash our New York and San Francisco exchange we are compelled to close our doors. Depositors will be paid in full."

After the first feeling of surprise had worn off little comment was made, the general feeling being that all depositors would get dollar for dollar on their money.

HALF A MILLION ARRIVES. Yesterday when the south-bound train from San Francisco rolled into the San Fernando depot, at 12:35, it brought half a million dollars in gold coin, the relief of the struggling banks of this city.

The coin was in sacks, and nearly covered the entire floor of the car, under the charge of Sidney A. Butler, superintendent of the Santa Fe road, and two assistants. Part of it was taken to the Farmers' and Merchants' bank, where it was deposited in the presence of an excited crowd, which eagerly looked on as the money, bag at a time, disappeared through the doorway of the bank.

The balance was distributed among other banks.

CASHER HOLTERTHOFF'S VIEWS. Mr. Godfrey Holtertoff, the cashier of the Southern California Railway company, was seen and made the following statement:

"Viewed from the light of a transportation company, which naturally reflects the conditions of a community, Southern California is an entire stranger to me. I had a more prosperous condition than that immediately precedent to the present insensate panic."

"This section has successfully passed through the period of liquidation incident to the collapse of inflated values of 1887-7, and all of our banks, with scarce an exception, have weeded out and charged off losses incident to that epoch."

"The development of our natural resources has been bringing in a new money, naturally necessitated local assistance—not in any degree incommensurate with securities offered, but tending to keep the available cash resources of this Southern California section at a low percentage of what would have been the case in dull times. There is without exception no failure of a bank in Southern California that was warranted under its reserve condition."

"All, as far as observation can judge, are perfectly solvent, and will pay dollar for dollar."

"You can say, as far as the Santa Fe company is concerned, that it has perfect confidence in the country and its banking institutions and their ability to pay all claims. No community in the world can stand a panic such as we have had, and under circumstances of a national stringency of money."

"We are making no changes in the conduct of our business with the community, and propose none to the hardship of our depositors."

"The Farmers and Merchants and the Los Angeles National banks are the depositors of our company in this city, and we are depositing as usual."

PROF. LOWE'S VIEWS. Among the prominent citizens interviewed yesterday was Prof. T. S. C. Lowe, president of the Los Angeles Safe Deposit and Trust company, and officer and director in two or three other banking institutions. He says there is no excuse for the present run on Los Angeles banks, or any other bank whose directors and stock holders are well-known wealthy citizens, as the laws of California make them responsible to the community for the money they are loaning out in all eastern banks.

The way the circulating medium is locked up in safe deposit boxes, stowed away in stockings and buried in sand banks is ridiculous and morally wrong. He speaks from personal knowledge, being principal owner of the Los Angeles Safe Deposit and Trust company, and avers that the private box owners in his vaults are now carrying more gold out of use than is held in circulation in all the leading banks in this city.

A. Gerberding, one of the state bank commissioners, arrived here yesterday from Riverside, and San Bernardino, and is stopping at the Westminster Hotel. He is now in charge of the suspended banks, the City and University. Receiver Otto Brodbeck took charge of the City Bank today, but the safe deposit department is open and doing business right along. Commissioner Gerberding says from a cursory examination of the University bank made last night he found that the bank owes $140,000 and has $300,000 assets to pay it with. At the bank it is stated that nothing will be done until the return of President Widney, which is expected about Friday or Saturday.

Mr. Gerberding says that "idiotic" would not be too strong a term to apply to the senseless run on the banks here now, as they were never in really a better condition.

STATE LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY. The officials of the State Loan and Trust company, in the Bryson block, in reply to a reporter's queries, said they are perfectly able to pay every dollar they owe on demand.

"We are not experiencing a run, and though our demands of depositors are much heavier than usual. We have had two men since yesterday busy all the time in letting out deposit boxes, and they are all being rapidly taken. Of course that is where the money is going. There was $300,000 in money that went but yesterday from the banks whether it has gone into safe deposits or into stocks. I take it," continued the official, "that the First National and the Southern California National did wise and conservative acts in not opening their doors this morning, and they will not do so for a few days, until this excitement quiets."

PRESIDENT FRANKENFELD SAYS ALL IS SAFE. President Frankfeld of the California bank said they were experiencing nothing unusual at that bank but were prepared for a run if it was to come; that they had ample assets on hand to pay all that demanded their money.

SECURITY SAVINGS BANK. J. F. Sartori, cashier of the Security Savings bank, stated that they had a few depositors call and take advantage of the time clause to get their money, but that excepting these few there were no demands for coin. He claimed that the bank had all the money necessary to meet every demand, but that there was more coin still on its way here, which would soon arrive. They were open yesterday from 8 a. m. until 5:30 p. m., and thought that the present agitation was about over.

THE COUNTY MONEY. A rumor gained some circulation yesterday afternoon that there was some trouble about the county funds on special deposit in the City bank. The rumor arose, no doubt, from a visit paid to the bank by District Attorney Dillon during the afternoon. Upon an investigation of the rumor, it appeared to be without foundation. Receiver Brodbeck informed a HERALD reporter who called to see him that while there had not yet been a thorough examination of the accounts of the bank, he felt authorized to say that the county funds were completely secured. At the present time the bank did not have more than $20,000 of the county's funds on deposit.

The day before the suspension Mr. Childress had set apart a line of the best securities in the bank as additional security for this fund, and they were placed in the hands of a trustee for the benefit of the county. The cash on hand in the bank would be first applied to the payment of the county money, and if there was a small balance to be raised it would be easily done by the securities already received for that purpose.

Mr. Brodbeck also said that Mr. Childress had told him that the depositors would be paid in full, and that it was necessary he would turn in his entire personal estate to accomplish that end.

CHECKS ARE ACCEPTABLE. Mayor T. E. Rowan and G. A. Tobinson have issued notice that they would receive checks on the First National for real estate, and would then reduce their prices 25 per cent as well.

This and seven or eight other notices to a similar effect will be found published in another column.

All these go to show that the financiers know that there is no danger of final loss to depositors, and should go a long way towards restoring confidence.

THE COUNTY MONEY SAFE. A certified statement of the money belonging to the county of Los Angeles is given in another column. It states the amount to be $352,852.21, and that it is amply secured.

THE PANIC AT SAN DIEGO. Two Commercial and One Savings Bank closed eyes to Close Doors. SAN DIEGO, June 21.—All of the local banks opened their doors at the usual hour this morning, and for the first half hour only an ordinary amount of business was transacted. It then became noticeable that there was to be an unusual demand from depositors for the withdrawal of their deposits. Several large checks were presented at the Consolidated National by anxious individuals who feared a run and hoped to forestall other depositors by an early settlement of their accounts. As soon as it became apparent that a run had begun, payments were suspended at the Consolidated National and the Savings Bank of San Diego, which occupies the same building.

The news that these banks had closed eyes quickly about town precipitating a run on the First National Bank of Commerce and the San Diego Savings bank. The First National endured the pressure until after 1 o'clock, when the doors were closed. The San Diego Savings bank, being in the same room, it was at first supposed that it had also failed, but this proved incorrect, and the doors were opened on the demand of President Sifton and payment resumed.

The run on the Bank of Commerce continued till the hour of closing, but it is understood that its resources have been greatly strengthened and the announcement is officially made that it will open in the morning.

The Merchants' National, a new bank recently established, has its paid up capital in cash, in addition to nearly $100,000 in deposits, and no fears are entertained of a run there. New deposits were opened there by those withdrawing elsewhere, but general confidence is felt that there will be no further trouble here.

The announcement is made that the banks which suspended will pay the depositors in full, but no statement of the actual assets and liabilities can be secured.

Riverside's Suspended Bank. RIVERSIDE, Cal., June 21.—A statement of the suspended Riverside Banking company was made public today at a meeting of creditors and depositors, but the assets were not itemized. The total liabilities were $400,358.12.

A committee of 15 creditors appointed to investigate the bank's affairs will report tomorrow. The general feeling among creditors and depositors is against the appointment of a receiver. The situation is becoming more settled and the panicky feeling has subsided.

Receiver Hison Resigns. SAN BERNARDINO, June 21.—George L. Hison, who was appointed receiver of the Farmers Exchange bank, having received a telegram calling him east, resigned his office as receiver, and today the court appointed John C. King in his stead.

Bank of Anaheim Closed. ANAHEIM, Cal., June 21.—The Bank of Anaheim closed at noon. Depositors will all be paid in full.
