The Chronicle is very much exercised lest Chris. Buckley should again get control of the local offices in San Francisco. We believe that the fears of that paper are unfounded.

All doubts concerning a special session of congress have been put at rest by a proclamation of President Cleveland, which appears in our telegraphic columns.

Over $200,000 has been locked up in safe deposit vaults and in private safes in Los Angeles. The owners are now seeking loans and investments on all sides.

The Chinese boundary-line jumpers have had some very good friends among the federal officials of Puget sound, but we doubt whether any of them have gone so far to favor the violation of the exclusion law as Collector Litan of Portland.

The taxpayers of this city are justly amazed that the board of education should adopt a scale of salaries for the ensuing year that presents marked features of increase over that of last year.

off cheap with the loss of his collectorship. He deserves a much more severe and exemplary punishment.

THE REAL OUTLOOK FOR LOS ANGELES.

It gives us a world of pleasure, after a full survey of the condition of business in Los Angeles and the adjoining counties, to be able to truthfully chronicle the fact that the outlook for prosperous times never seemed half so well.

The fact that in common with about every city in the United States Los Angeles felt for a few days the money stringency which has prevailed everywhere cuts no figure in the matter.

But, manure the existing financial conditions, in which we have been simply responsive to influences that have affected and are affecting the whole country alike, the agencies of growth that exist here today are of incalculable energy and extent.

The usual attendants of local prosperity are present in Los Angeles in marked volume and variety. Never have we had such crops as now.

While the New Orleans exposition was under way a storm passed over Florida that not only totally destroyed the entire orange crop of that year but killed three-fourths of the trees outright.

We have spoken so often and so minutely of our unrivaled railway systems, local, state and transcontinental, that we scarcely regard it as necessary to go into that phase of the matter with any particularity.

The taxpayers of this city are justly amazed that the board of education should adopt a scale of salaries for the ensuing year that presents marked features of increase over that of last year.

THE CHINESE BOUNDARY-LINE JUMPERS have had some very good friends among the federal officials of Puget sound, but we doubt whether any of them have gone so far to favor the violation of the exclusion law as Collector Litan of Portland.

those of the teachers in the other schools are either not disturbed or only slightly raised. The salary of the principal of the high school is raised from $1350 to $2000 per annum; the vice principal and the principals of the mathematical, natural sciences and classical departments are all raised from $1125 to $1870 per annum.

The financial flurry in this city demonstrated the fact that our banks are as safe depositories as those of any city in the union. Not a single act of bad faith or of questionable business integrity has characterized one of them.

The appointment of Judge Enoch Knight as receiver of the land office will give unmixed pleasure to the people of Los Angeles of pretty much all parties.

SOCIETY.

The reception and dancing party of the high school alumni to the graduating class was held at the high school building last night. There was a large number of young people present, and it was one of the most enjoyable and successful affairs ever given.

A selection by the Ohio orchestra was first rendered, after which Mr. Walter F. Haas, the president of the alumni, arose and delivered an address to the graduates.

The crowd then adjourned to the wide halls where dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. The orchestra was stationed upon the third floor and the crowd danced upon this floor and also the ones below.

A charming dancing party was given at the Marlborough school last evening to the young lady members of the institution and their guests.

THE BANKS.

Amongst the bank statements that appear in our advertising columns this morning is that of that reliable old institution, the Farmers and Merchants bank. The significant circumstances of this most gratifying exhibit are that, as against deposits of $2,165,574.53, there is cash on hand to the amount of $708,029.38.

BIGAMIST DUNHAM OF PASADENA

When His Two Wives Met He Disappeared.

He Had a Bride in San Bernardino as Well.

The Amorous Adventurer Married Miss Floy of San Bernardino and Also Miss Ballard of Pasadena.

If anyone knows where John I. Dunham of Pasadena is at present, the information would prove very acceptable to two young women who have not thought until recently that he has added the crime of bigamy to his variegated career.

Such a charge that has resulted in a complaint being filed against Dunham by Mrs. John I. Dunham of Pasadena, formerly Miss E. Pearl Ballard, daughter of M. S. Ballard, a well known business man of Pasadena.

The Ballard family is among the most respectable in Pasadena. They are members of the Christian church of the city, and young Dunham had become quite a shining light in religious circles himself, by reason of his connections and plausible manners.

Dunham originally came to California from Thom's River, New Jersey. Before coming to this country he married and one child was born before his wife died. Upon reaching California he went to San Bernardino, where he met, wooed and won Miss M. A. Floy of that city.

It was not long after their marriage, however, before Mrs. Dunham began to lose confidence in the integrity of her husband. Her fears were justified as to their domestic happiness being short-lived, for one day he deserted her and left her to be provided for by her relatives.

He went from San Bernardino to San Francisco where he remained till he appeared in Pasadena. He at once began to lay his plans there for a campaign. With an ingenuity worthy of a better cause he sought the sanctuary of the Christian church and developed a zealous interest in church affairs that soon made people think that he was an exceptionally upright young man.

Dunham's acquaintance with the young lady ripened rapidly and they soon became engaged. Mr. Ballard liked a good looking young fellow and made a place for him in his business.

Finally October 15, 1892, he and Miss Ballard were married by Rev. Mr. Garvey, and nothing could be more seemingly auspicious for the happiness of the young couple. The young wife was happy as a bride should be until about three weeks ago, when like a thunderbolt from a clear sky, her dreams were roughly brought to an end.

The family cannot conceive what frightened the match-made young man. Everything appeared to be moving along very smoothly. He apparently was having an exceedingly good time, and no hint of his past life had cropped up. Nevertheless he had become very "leary" for some reason or other, and he will be shrewd good work if the indignant young women ever set eyes on the smooth chap again.

Elsewhere appears the statement of the East Side Bank, which was the first of the closed banks of Southern California to reopen. It shows that this sterling institution has on hand $18,286,133 to meet demand deposits of $22,738,655, or about seventy per cent where thirty or less is deemed ample to meet all legitimate demands in sound banking.
