This item, whose reputation for artistic ability stands above all competitors, are absolutely retiring from the wall paper trade and are selling goods at much less than cost, some things being sold as low as three cents per roll, while gilts, lngrains, Lectners, Lincusta, etc., are being offered at prices in like proportion. This sale will continue until the entire business is closed out and no reasonable offer will be refused for anything in stock.

The depositors of the defunct City bank are getting not only uneasy about the chances of obtaining their money but becoming very angry at some things connected with the management of affairs under Receiver Brodbecks.

A meeting was held by the creditors of the bank yesterday afternoon at Chronis' fruit store on Spring etreet, and a temporary organization was effected.

The meeting was supposed to be a private one but the facts leaked out. Those present were in a most aggressive mood, and some strong language was indulged in regarding certain officials of the bank.

One speaker asserted that President Childress owed the bank $113,000, and that nearly all the directors were indebted to the bank for more or less large amounts.

But this was a small matter as compared with the angry talk that was induged in when the matter of the selection of an attornay for the vereign came. Raise a Row-Another Meeting of
