RELIGIOUS RACE RIOTING.

Sanguinary Scenes in the Street of Bombay.

Hindoos Visit Dire Vengeance on the Moslems.

Several Mosques Sacked and Burned to the Ground.

Outbreaks in Different Parts of the City. Many People Killed--Troops and Police Powerless--Gunsbarred Cleared for Action.

By the Associated Press.
BOMBAY, Aug. 16.--Religious race rioting was resumed today and for several hours the streets were scenes of desperate conflicts. The fighting was of the most sanguinary nature, and a large number of persons were killed and wounded.

Today began a Hindoo holiday. The authorities anticipated a renewal of the recent disturbances and were in a measure prepared to suppress the outbreak, but the police and force of troops in the garrison were inadequate to cover the whole city, and before quiet was restored in one district, fresh outbreaks occurred in other parts of the city.

The rage of the mob was directed especially against the mosques, several of which were sacked and burned. All the public buildings are now guarded by troops, and the gunboats in the harbor have been cleared for action and brought into position to cover the native quarters. The local authorities are confident of being able ultimately to quell the rising.

EXCITED DEPOSITORS.

Crockedness in Connection With the Portland Savings Bank.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 16.--A petition is being circulated among the depositors of the suspended Portland Savings bank for the removal of D. P. Thompson as receiver, and the appointment of "a practical disinterested man." Thompson was vice-president of the bank.

Much excitement has been occasioned among the depositors by the statement that the bank held notes dated the day before the bank closed, aggregating $50,000, against officers and employees of the bank, and President Dekum's sons.

Cashier Stratton today said: "The amounts called for in these notes were not borrowed from the bank on the dates mentioned (July 27th and 28th) but they were merely renewed on those dates. The makers in each instance had paid up the interest to date, had the old notes cancelled and new notes made."

According to Cashier Stratton's statement no money was drawn from the bank by those persons on the dates above named.

A TRAGIC INCIDENT.

A Nevada Pioneer Drops Dead at His Grandchild's Funeral.

RENO, Nev., Aug. 16.--Hazel Bacon, granddaughter of J. O. A. Bragg, died yesterday of diphtheria. While gazing into the coffin this afternoon Mr. Bragg fell back dead. He was a pioneer of Nevada, and among the first heavy lumbermen on the Truckee river, and father of Allen C. Bragg of the Reno Gazette; also of Mrs. J. E. Desley of Fresno; Mrs. B. F. Bacon, Mrs. Rev. William J. H. H. of Hoboken, and Mrs. R. L. Fulton of Reno.

These Wicked Boys' Brigades.
CHICAGO, Aug. 16.--The feature of the peace congress today was a paper by Mrs. Laura Ormiston Chant of London, holding that it is within the power of the women of the world to disband all armies and put an end to militarism.

Sanitary school came in for a scolding at Mrs. Chant's hands for raising "boys' brigades," in imitation of military. Sunday school concerts in which songs are sung glorifying war and military heroes were also condemned and a general stand taken that women should discountenance all such proceedings.

Fresno's Unemployed.
FRESNO, Aug. 16.--At a meeting of the citizens' committee on the board of supervisors to devise ways and means for feeding the unemployed, it was decided to call a special meeting of the supervisors on the 21st, when the proposition of building a sewer from the hospital to connect with the city service, of one and one-half miles, will be considered. Favorable action will give employment to all the unemployed until grape picking begins.

A Railroad Fight.
NORTH AMINGTON, Mass., Aug. 16.--About 20 persons were more or less injured in a fight brought about by the efforts of the New York, New Haven and Hartford road to remove the tracks of an electric road today. Two men were killed and several others were injured. The trouble is expected to be resumed again.

INGENUE OF A STIMULANT.

The Total Abstinence Insurance Association About to Collapse.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.--Since the state auditor descended several months ago on the Total Abstinence Life Association, with charges of numerous violations of the statutes governing such concerns and threats of suits to oust the officials, etc., the association has been in a bad way. It seems the officials have been endeavoring to transfer its business entire to the Commercial Alliance association of New York. This coming to the ears of the stockholders and policy holders who learned they would lose by this operation, a vigorous protest was made and a meeting called today to consider the matter. This meeting was addressed by President Singleton, who announced that the association was practically insolvent; that since the action of the auditor, although death claims kept right on coming, it had been impossible to get new members. The assets of the association are about $95,000, mostly in bonds of the East Tennessee Land company, which, owing to the prevailing financial depression, are not marketable now. The death claims unpaid amount to $60,000. The stockholders are feeling very blue over the matter and have appointed a committee to look into the affairs.

OVER A HIGH TRESTLE.

A TERRIBLE RAILWAY DISASTER IN VIRGINIA.

Two Passenger Coaches and a Sleeper Fell Sixty Feet--Seven People Killed Outright and a Number Wounded.

DANVILLE, Va., Aug. 16.--An accident occurred at the county line trestle, just east of Milton, early this morning, by which two passenger coaches and a sleeper were precipitated into the creek below, a distance of 60 feet, killing seven persons outright and wounding a number of others. The train bound for Portsmouth left here at 11:35 this morning. After passing through Milton and going over the trestle, Engineer Tunstal, who says he was running at the rate of 10 miles an hour, felt the bridge giving way. He threw open the throttle, and the engine, tender and a box car got safely over, but the first passenger car was too late and the span went down under its weight, the second passenger car and sleeping car following. The cars were smashed into kindling wood, and the escape of any of the passengers was a miracle.

Water in the brook has risen to a depth of 12 or more feet, and in the general belief that the rise undermined the foundation under the trestle, causing the trestle to settle. On the train at the time were about 10 persons, including the train hands, but only one of the latter, Conductor H. Morris of Portsmouth, was killed. Nine others received serious injuries.

Following is the list of the killed: H. Morris, conductor, Portsmouth, Va.; Z. W. R. Ellison, Altoona, Va.; J. G. Davis, Baker, Va.; W. H. H. Durham, Durham, N. C.; James S. Lowe, a railroad conductor from the west who was a passenger; Thomas Lee (colored), Winston, N. C.; Francis Jenkins (colored), Salem, N. C.

Several others were injured, but not seriously.

GRESHAM IS DISGRUNTLED

The Bering Sea Decision Not Satisfactory to Him.

Other Members of the Cabinet Share His Views.

Burdensome Duties Will Devolve on Uncle Sam.

Worry and Costs Will Entail on the United States, While Russia and Japan Reap the Benefits.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.--Secretary Gresham is said to be dissatisfied with the findings of the Bering sea tribunal in regard to the regulations established, and it is understood his views are shared by other cabinet officers. The regulations are interpreted to mean that the United States will have entailed on them the cost and worry of patrolling the Bering sea without benefit to its sealers, while Russia, Japan and perhaps other nations reap the harvest, the regulations being binding only on Great Britain and this country.

It is not likely that any definite policy respecting the guardianship of the sea will be outlined until the opening of the first season next year, because the weather will put an end to the operations of sealers in about two weeks.

The restrictions placed on sealers with reference to firearms, nets, explosives and steam vessels, will have the effect, it is believed, of causing Canadian sealers to resort to desperate methods to secure good catches, and much poaching is feared. In the close season during the months of May, June and July, both Great Britain and the United States will be obliged to maintain a fleet of naval vessels to keep poachers from the sealing waters, and it is believed at the navy department that this will result in the establishment of a permanent Bering sea squadron for during the three months named. The United States will also be obliged to maintain a watch on the waters within the 60-mile zone around the Pribyloff islands during the entire mild season from the 1st of April to the 1st of September, and it is probable this duty will be discharged by vessels of the revenue marine service.

PIRATICAL POACHERS.

A Daring Raid on the Pribyloff Seal Islands.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Aug. 16.--The steamer Queen arrived from Alaska this evening, bringing news of a daring raid on St. Paul and St. George islands, in the Bering sea. On the night of July 4th two unknown sealing schooners landed crews on the islands after dark and slaughtered several hundred seals. The watchmen on the islands were overpowered by the raiders, who broke into the sealing houses and carried away an immense number of skins belonging to the lessees of the islands. The vessels escaped before a government cutter could be informed of the occurrence.

SHOT HIS WIFE.

The Accidental Discharge of a Revolver in a Husband's Hands.

VALLEJO, Cal., Aug. 16.--Mrs. T. J. Allan, wife of a draughtsman in the construction department at Mare Island navy yard, was the victim of a painful and probably fatal accident at her home last evening. Her husband had a loaded revolver in his hand when it was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking Mrs. Allan in the right leg. The surgeon has been unable to locate the missile and pronounces the wound serious and possibly fatal.

WIDOWED WIDOWS AND ORPHANS.

PLEASANTON, Kan., Aug. 16.--Details of the failure of Robert Kincaid, banker, capitalist and Merchant of Lynn county, have just come to light. The failure was one of the most disastrous in the history of the state, and Kincaid's absence from his former place of business leads the creditors to believe it is one of the most dishonest. The liabilities of his different concerns reach nearly $400,000, with assets very much less. Among those impoverished by the failure are many widows and orphans whose money was trusted to him for investment.

RAILTON HAS RESIGNED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.--W. C. Railton, United States surveyor at San Francisco, has resigned. He gives as his reason his inability to act in harmony with Collector Wise who was recently appointed by President Cleveland, and who, Railton charges, has violated the civil service rules.

WILL NOT COMPROMISE.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 16.--The owners of the Kansas mines have decided not to make the same terms with the strikers as those made by Manager Devlin of the Santa Fe mines. They have all ordered that importation of negroes from the south be resumed.

FATAL FLAMES.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 16.--One fireman was killed and two others were badly injured this evening in a fire in the big music store of W. J. Dyer & Brother on East Third street, while the stock suffered to the extent of $50,000.

THE HAWAIIAN QUESTION.

Minister Blount to Make a Verbal Report.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.--Minister Blount is expected in Washington soon. As the Hawaiian situation stands at present, the settlement of the annexation question will depend mainly on conferences between the president, Secretary Gresham and Minister Blount. In his report the minister, according to his instructions, made no recommendations on the vital point at issue, but gave his opinion as to the relative strength of sentiment in the islands with reference to the question of annexation. To give the president and Secretary Gresham a better insight into the condition of affairs, that they may be enabled to make recommendations to congress, Blount will give his views verbally, and it is thought he may supply in an official way, void of the possible embarrassment consequent upon the expression of such plain opinions in an official document, much information that will be of importance to the executive and the diplomatic head of the government. Blount's statement in San Francisco, yesterday, concerning his final report, did not refer to the main report. That document was mailed from Honolulu some time ago and is now in possession of the state department.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

THE ATTENDANCE KEEPS ABOVE THE AVERAGE.

The Strike of the Roller Chair Pushers Petered Out--George Francis Train Leads the Great International Ball.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.--Although the weather was threatening most of the day, the attendance at the world's fair kept up above the average. The total admissions were 138,873, of which 110,587 were paid.

The strike of roller chair pushers has practically petered out. The company says it had more men than it needed anyway. They will employ about 200 men of the 400 strikers when they proclaim their readiness to work for 75 cents per day and 10 per cent commission.

Horses and cattle for the livestock exhibit are beginning to arrive. The arrangements for caring for the stock are unprecedented in completeness. It is designed to make this the crowning feature of the exposition, and the great breeders of the world are manifesting a keen interest.

This was a great night on the pleasure, the international ball arranged by the concessionaries being held at the matatorium, the hall being decorated according to the ideas of the different countries, and all the nations represented at the exposition taking part in the festivities. Citizen George Francis Train led the grand march with a dusky woman from the far east.

MEXICAN INSURGENTS.

Federal Troops Save the Town of Piedras Negras.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Aug. 16.--This morning 100 armed men made their appearance above Piedras Negras, and 325 men under command of Colonel Trevino were seen in the valley below town. Major Alvarez, in command of the federal troops, wired President Diaz that a large body of armed men was about to attack the town. The president wired to resist the attack. Upon this, Alvarez, with about 150 soldiers and 60 citizens, went out to meet Trevino and had a conference with him and showed him his authority from the City of Mexico. Trevino replied that they had come to take charge of the town and put new officials in charge; that it was the intention of the people to have a fair election and it was impossible to effect this under the present arrangement. He also demanded that the political prisoners now being held in Piedras Negras be released without the formality of a trial. Alvarez again replied that he would forcibly resist the capture of the town. Trevino finally ordered his men to retire. But for the firm stand taken by Major Alvarez with his handful of troops, Piedras Negras would now be in the hands of the Cardenas faction.

A MARKET FOR AMERICAN PRODUCTS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.--Consul-General Mason at Frankfurt, Germany, has made a report to the state department in which he says, under the new tariff not only will Germany cease to draw from Russia supplies of rye and petroleum every year amounting to many millions of dollars, but owing to drought will have a serious deficit this year in her own home crop of grain, which will call for a very large importation of breadstuffs from the United States.

THE CHILEAN CLAIMS COMMISSION.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.--The Chilean claims commission adopted rules for procedure and adjourned to meet October 9th, when the adjudication of the claim will begin. These claims date back many years and do not grow out of the assault on the Baltimore's sailors.

A FATAL RUNAWAY.

FRESNO, Aug. 16.--Two young girls, daughters of Edward and Robert Billingley, of Porterville, were killed by a runaway team, and the grandfather of the girls, who was driving, was so badly injured that hope for his recovery is abandoned.

THE SILVER DISCUSSION.

It Takes on Deeper Interest in the House.

Bryan of Nebraska Wins New Forensic Laurels.

His Appeal for Free Silver Eclipsed His Great Tariff Speech.

Financial Debate Is All the Go in the Senate--Hoke Smith's Paper Advocates Free Bimetallic Coinage.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.--The financial discussion in the house took on a deeper interest today than on any occasion since the opening of the silver debate. William J. Bryan, the eloquent young congressman from Nebraska, added greater laurels to his reputation as an orator and made a free coinage speech which, in the opinion of many, surpassed the great tariff speech which gave him his name to fame two years ago.

For nearly three hours Bryan held the interested attention of the house and galleries and every interruption to which he was subjected only gave opportunities for those brilliant bits of repartee for which he is so famous.

The morning hour, after the introduction of bills, was largely occupied by a discussion as to the overloading of government buildings in Washington with public books and documents, West (Dem.) of Missouri, proposing a remedy by the passage of a bill appropriating $300,000 for a building to be known as the hall of records.

The silver discussion was opened by McCall of Massachusetts, who made an elaborate argument for the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act and denied that such action could be justly construed as an attack on bimetallicism.

Combs of New York, speaking for repeal, highly commended the president's message, which, in his opinion, never had been surpassed by any state paper.

In opening his argument against the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law, Bryan said, "upon the action of this congress might depend not only the welfare of the south and west; not only the welfare of the United States, but the welfare of humanity itself for ages to come. Some outside of this hall had assumed that the recommendation of the president imposed some obligations upon the Democratic members to do as he desired, and some had even been nearly enough tolerating this failure to fall in with his recommendations and subject the disserter to administrative displeasure. But these persons did the president great injustice. The president would not for a moment forget the independence of the two branches of congress. Let the president's own language rebuke those who would from false fealty change their convictions upon the subject in order to conform to his suggestions. If the United States, the greatest silver-producing nation, should abandon silver, it would in all probability lead to the annihilation of silver as a standard money throughout the world. The only law making any provision for the increased use of silver money was the Sherman law. The president recommended its unconditional repeal. The Democratic members were under no obligation to adopt his recommendation, since they were responsible to their constituents only, and were in duty bound to protect their rights and regard their interests."

Continuing, Bryan said: "We are being dragged toward a universal gold standard--to a realm over whose door is written: 'Abandon hope all ye who enter here.' There is no such thing as an honest dollar, because an honest dollar would always have the same purchasing power, and the government never attempted to secure absolute stability in the dollar. The most dishonest dollar ever proposed is that which the child of avarice and ignorance calls the gold dollar, for it will constantly rise in value and cheat the debtor. While we cannot secure an absolutely honest dollar, we should approach it as nearly as possible, and a bimetallic standard ought to be adopted, because with bimetallicism the money unit fluctuates less than under a single standard. International bimetallicism is desirable, but not necessary and not probable. Other European nations wait upon England, England's interests lie in the direction of a gold standard. To make our action dependent upon hers, allows her to legislate for our people and is an abdication of the right of self-government. We believe that the restoration of the right of free coinage, as it existed previous to 1873, would raise the price of silver billion to 129 cents per ounce throughout the world, and render unnecessary any change in the present ratio. The Sherman law is not the cause of our financial stringency. The moneyed men of the east, without intention, of course, started the panic by exaggerating the dangers of gold exportation. When the panic came they were injured an amount as anybody else. The trouble now is that depositors have withdrawn their money for fear of the banks, and the repeal of the Sherman law will not increase the solvency of the banks."

Then Bryan spoke in favor of the retention of the ratio of 16 to 1, arguing that the increase of that ratio would be detrimental to an international agreement as to the coinage of the two metals, and continued: "The president has been deceived. He said in his message that the people demanded the repeal of the Sherman law. He had heard from boards of trade and from chambers of commerce, but he had not heard from the farmers or the men in the workshops, and he could no more judge of the opinion of the people than he could measure the ocean's depth by the foam on an ocean wave. He had heard from elected upon a platform three pledged to gold and silver coinage of the consti-
