THE BIG FOUR SMASHUP.

A Long List of Dead and Wounded.

The Disaster Due to Criminal Carelessness.

Fire Causes a Panic in an Opera House in Peoria.

Several Persons Fatally Injured in the Scramble to Escape--A Family of Six Butchered--General News Gleanings.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Last night, owing to heavy world's fair travel, the south-bound Big Four express left here in two sections. At Manteno, 30 miles south, the first section stopped for water just beyond a curve. The second section, following close behind, crashed into the standing train at a high rate of speed, before a flagman could get back far enough to give warning. Fortunately the last car of the first section was empty, else no one in it would have been left alive, as it was crushed into kindling wood. The next two cars were sleepers, and the force of the impact drove them into two day coaches in front, which, owing to their lighter construction, were crushed and riven. These cars were filled. The passengers in the second section and the citizens of Manteno lent all the assistance possible toward rescuing the wounded and removing the dead. The worst hurt were taken to neighboring houses; the others were brought to this city and taken to St. Luke's hospital.

The corrected list of the dead follows: Miss Minnie Deegan, New Albany, Ind.; J. W. Powell, New Vienna, O.; Christ Kemmel, Dayton, O.; George E. Reed, Louisville, Ky.; David Jackson, Cynthiana, O.; Jacob Shiffner, Columbus, O.; Charles Dinkendutcher, Columbus, O.; an unknown lady, supposed to have boarded with Mrs. O. Edwards, 42 Forty-third street, Chicago. The injured numbered 30 persons, several of whom are thought to be fatally hurt. The testimony given at the coroner's inquest this afternoon showed that Thomas Ames, engineer of the second section of the Washington express, was exceedingly negligent. He saw when he first saw the danger signal, he only saw about 15 rods from the train. The flagman claims he went back the regulation distance. Many friends of those injured and missing have been in this city today and all the dead, but one woman, are identified. Most of those killed or injured were returning home from the fair and the entire party was extremely happy and neighborly.

FATAL FIREWORKS.

An Opera House Burned Resulting in Loss of Life. PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 19.—The Canton opera house was burned this evening. The fire started about 9:30, and was caused by an explosion of fireworks during the play of Michael Strogoff. Twenty-five persons were burned, some seriously and one fatally. The stocks of Schadzki & Sklarek, clothiers, and Woods & Wonderly, dry goods, were destroyed. The total loss is $100,000. Sparks from fireworks in the third act ignited some scenery, and in less than two minutes the play was compelled to leave the stage. The audience would have made a wild plunge for the doors, had not men in different parts of the house called loudly, "Sit down!" The fire spread rapidly, and those who had not already fled out began a wild scramble. Those on the first floor got out, but those in the galleries were less fortunate.

The stairway quickly became jammed. A woman fell, and in an instant the crowd became a frenzied mob. Men and women, screaming at the top of their voices, pushed their way down the hall, pulling at those in front and even attempting to climb upon and overthrow those who obstructed the way. The flames made rapid progress; but for assistance many would have perished in the building. Over a score of fainting women and children were carried out. As far as known everybody escaped from the building, but at least three were so seriously injured that their recovery is impossible.

HORRIBLE BUTCHERY.

A Family of Six Persons Murdered with a Hatchet. WASHINGTON, Ind., Sept. 19.—A family of six was butchered with a hatchet last night in Harrison, nine miles from this city. The family consisted of Donson Wratton, his mother, wife and three children. The eldest of the children, a girl of 12, is still living but is unconscious. Donson Wratton was a farmer, 35 years old, in moderate circumstances. His aged mother, who lived with him, drew a pension. She did not bank her money, and was supposed to keep several hundred dollars about her. To get this money doubtless was the motive for the murder. There was evidence of a fierce struggle. Wratton was sick with typhoid fever and incapable of resistance. His mother was found upon the floor, cut terribly about the head and with both hands cut off at the wrists. All the others were found dead upon the floor, except the baby, 3 years old, which was killed in bed.

The murder was discovered at 6 o'clock this morning by a neighbor. Thirty-two dollars in money was found sewed in the wife's dress and $7 in a drawer. There is no clue to the murderers, but it is supposed they are tramps. The tracks of three men were discovered near the house. Bloodhounds have been brought from Savannah to trail the murderers.

BAD BOOKKEEPING.

The Cause of the Wisconsin Central-Northern Pacific Middle. MILWAUKEE, Sept. 19.—The question of the lease of the Wisconsin Central road to the Northern Pacific is not likely to be settled in the very near future, unless the argument in progress before Judge Jenkins and Seaman terminates abruptly. David S. Wegg, representing the Chicago and Northern Pacific, began argument on the intervening petition yesterday afternoon, and is still arguing. Wegg takes the ground that the Northern Pacific owns the Chicago and Northern Pacific, which it is supposed to have leased through the Wisconsin Central, and that the obligation assumed under the contract makes the lease not an ordinary one, but an obligation which the receivers have not the power to repudiate.

Wegg charges the Northern Pacific people with gobbling all of the Chicago and Northern Pacific bonds in eight months, amounting to $2,500,000, on the eve of its determination to cancel the lease, and within two weeks of the time when it would be due $650,000, payment of which the bankrupt Wisconsin Central could not pay. The court began to ask questions about this big steal and Wegg at once became more moderate. He said he had not intended to charge anybody with deliberate wrong. He thought everybody acted in good faith and that it was all a simple mistake in bookkeeping. Wegg explained that the members of the two companies were the same, most of the officers the same, and he himself was the only man who did not hold two offices. All the differences were caused by the method of bookkeeping. One kind of entry made the bonds belong to the Chicago and Northern Pacific; another to the Northern Pacific, while charging expenses one way made the loss on the Chicago Terminus appear to be $1,000,000 a year; charging them another way made the loss only $170,000 in three years; charging them still another way made an actual profit. He intimated that the last named was really the proper way.

KRAMER TOOK POISON.

A LOS ANGELES MAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE IN CHICAGO.

Drink and Despondency Drove Him to It--His Wife Deserthed Him and His Brother Kept Him Out of His Fortune. CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Charles C. Kramer of Los Angeles, Cal., attempted suicide by poison at the Dearborn hotel, this city, this afternoon. He will not die. In his room at the hotel today was found a scrap of paper on which was written: "I have only one brother. He is W. R. Kramer of Oray, Utah." When recovered sufficiently to talk Kramer said he had another brother, W. G. Kramer, manager of the Denver and Rio-Grande Express company at Denver, but did not regard him as a brother "because he and my wife kept me out of the possession of $150,000 during the past three years." Kramer said his wife, who is in Kansas City now, left him three months ago, and he had been drunk weeks. Kramer has been manager of the Drink Care company in Los Angeles, and in charge of their institute for inebriates.

A Race War in Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 19.—David Jones (colored), suspected of robbery at Edowell, Smith county, was caught by citizens last night, and hung up in order to extort a confession from him. He did not confess, and, when half dead, was taken down, terribly whipped and released. Today Jones' friends armed themselves and attacked the whites. In the fight which ensued two negroes were killed and one white fatally hurt. Further trouble is apprehended, as both sides are said to be arming themselves.

French Delegates Banqueted.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The Socialist party and the Central Labor Federation made up their minds tonight to give the French delegates now in the city, en route to the world's fair, a bigger reception than that accorded them by President Gompers and his associates on Monday night. Fully 3000 people were in attendance. After a number of speeches the delegates were banqueted.

Ives Still Loading.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The second night of the billiard match between Ives and Roberts terminated in favor of Ives, he scoring 1001 to the Englishman's 932. This gives Ives a total of 2001, to 1825 for Roberts. The play tonight was devoid of special feature. The largest run made was 37 by Ives. Roberts' highwater mark was 68. Ives' average was 15.41; Roberts', 14.34.

DRUGGED AND KIDNAPED.

How Absconder Whitman Was Extradited.

The Mexican Authorities are Investigating.

International Complications Arising Out of the Transaction.

Mystery of the Floating Head Found at Sausalito--A Pacific Mail Contract Abrogated--Other Coast Notes.

By the Associated Press. SAN DIEGO, Sept. 19.—It was developed today that the visit of Judge Jose Monroy and Pedro Martinez Lopez of Ensenada, to this city and Tia Juana, last week, was for the purpose of investigating the manner in which William Whitman, a fugitive express robber, was brought across the international line. Whitman absconded from Springfield, Ill., with $3500 belonging to the American Express company and was located at Valley of the Palms, Lower California, some months ago. According to a letter from the sheriff here, he agreed to surrender himself and the money he still retained and go east to stand trial in case the express company would agree to deal leniently with him. Soon after Under Sheriff Orenshaw went to the Valley of the Palms and returned with Whitman, who was taken east. The report then became current that Whitman had not surrendered, but had been drugged and kidnaped. It was said that A. M. Pullman, a former partner of Under Sheriff Orenshaw, and upon whose ranch at the Valley of the Palms Whitman was staying, agreed to turn over the man to the sheriff, that he was drugged and shown a bogus telegram, purporting to come from the American Express company, saying that if Whitman would come to Tia Juana, sign a paper and deliver $2000 he would be allowed to go free. According to the money he agreed but on the journey he regained his faculties and refused to come further, when he was handcuffed and brought forcibly across the line. This report is emphatically denied by Under Sheriff Orenshaw. The Mexican officials investigating the report at Tia Juana and signed subpoenas for Pullman to appear at Ensenada as a witness. Pullman went there Friday and was immediately arrested and lodged in jail, charged with complicity in kidnaping Whitman. It is also stated that warrants are also out for the arrest of Under Sheriff Orenshaw and Till Burnes, on the same charge, but there is no likelihood they will be served. Pullman is an American citizen and he has placed his case in the hands of United States Vice Consul Godbe of Ensenada.

STILL A MYSTERY.

An Inquest Held on the Head Found in Sausalito Bay.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., Sept. 19.—Coroner Eden empaneled a jury this afternoon and held an inquest upon a head found at Sausalito September 14th. Dr. Wickman testified that he thought the head had been removed from the body fully six weeks.

W. K. De Jarnett, a resident of Colusa and a brother-in-law of Addie Gilmore, testified that this Miss Gilmore was a milliner and was doing business in partnership with Laura Allen in Colusa. Witness said:

"I saw her last in August of this year. She visited me at Maxwell, Colusa county, September 4th her sister received a letter from her in which she said she would write again. Nothing has been heard from her since, and I came to San Francisco recently in search of her, intending to come to San Rafael. I have seen the head in the morgue, and I think it is the head of Addie Gilmore. She kept company with R. McAnnis of Colusa. He has been away from Colusa but once lately, and that was to buy a stock of goods. The deceased went last to San Francisco some time ago to work in a wholesale millinery store, to learn to trim hats."

Laura Allen, who was Miss Gilmore's partner in Colusa, testified that she saw her last on August 7th, at her home in Colusa. She had seen the head in the morgue, and from the teeth and the shape of the head she thought it was the head of Addie Gilmore. She had examined it closely in the morgue twice. Witness further said that Miss Gilmore had some male friends and was very much liked. Witness never considered her a very strong girl.

The jury rendered a verdict that the name of the deceased was unknown and the cause of her death was unknown. Miss Gilmore had been employed by Toplitz the milliner of San Francisco. She resided at 312 Bush street. She was last seen five September 4th. When the head was found a San Francisco Examiner of July 21, 1893, was found inside the netting around the skull. Miss Allen and Mr. De Jarnett are positive the head is that of Miss Gilmore.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Addie Gilmore lived at the Elmer house on Bush street, this city. The man in charge of the house said she left about two weeks ago and had not returned. More than that he refused to say, though he claimed to know the man who had taken her to the Toplitz store, in order to learn the styles. She left a week and a half ago, and it was not known she had not returned home until her partner, Miss Allen, came from Colusa to make inquiries as to her whereabouts.

CONTRACT ANNULLED.

The Pacific Mail Company Tires of Its Bargain.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—The announcement is made here that at the request of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, Postmaster-General Bissell has annulled the contract between the government and that company for carrying mails between this port and Panama and intermediate ports in Mexico and Central America. The annulment is to take effect September 30th. The company officials claim that the contract necessitates extra service, including additional steamers and more frequent stops, and that the company is consequently losing money on its regular business, especially in view of the competition now offered by the North American Navigation company. It is said, though the company officials do not confirm it, that after the expiration of the mail contract, but two steamers per month will be run between San Francisco and Panama, and that for the present the call at San Diego will be abandoned.

WILL FIGHT AT CARSON.

San Francisco and Los Angeles Pugilists Hooked for a Battle. CARSON, Nev., Sept. 19.—Billy Armstrong of San Francisco and Samuel Barber of Los Angeles will fight to a finish in the Carson opera house on the 22d instant for $250 a side and 25 and 75 per cent of the gate receipts to the loser and winner respectively. Barber is training in Reno and Armstrong in Carson. Sentiment is about equally divided as to the result.

A Ferry Transfer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—It was announced today that the Davie Ferry company has bought the Whitney Express company out, and will hereafter run a freight and passenger line between this city and Oakland, via Oakland creek. This purchase gives the Davie company four boats, and it is stated a half-hour ferry service will soon be started by the new company.

BALLOTS AND BULLETS

TO BE USED TO DOWN THE ROMAN CATHOLICS.

The American Protective Association Organized to Fight the Papacy. Absurd Declarations in the Ritual of the Order. BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 19.—The Enquirer this afternoon published an interview with Isaac Cliff, a Canadian, who is now head organizer in this city of the American Protective association, an order known hitherto only in the west. Cliff is quoted as saying: "What we are organized to fight is papacy, with anything from ballots to bullets. Look at the public schools in Buffalo. Over 80 per cent of the teachers are Roman Catholics. Inside of two years I promise you there will not be a Catholic teacher in the schools. We are going to do the same in Buffalo as we did in Detroit, Saginaw, Kansas City and other western towns. Look at the army of Catholics about Buffalo's city and county hall. Take my word for it, we will turn down every one of them. Every department will be Protestantized. Nor will we stop here. There must be a turnover all through New York state. Why have the Catholics gained ascendancy in our army and navy unless because some day they hope to use them? I tell you that if we cannot Protestantize the army and navy, we have plenty men ready to beat the market against the papal foe, and our members are sworn to be loyal until death."

The Enquirer says the entire ritual, which is printed, shows that the oaths demanded of the candidate at initiation, swear him to utter secrecy; that he will never vote or lend support to any Roman Catholic seeking a national, municipal or state office, and the candidate promises to bear arms, should the occasion arise, against the avowed enemies—Roman Catholics.

The chaplain's charge at the rites of initiation recites that Catholics are forming secret military companies under the names of Knights of Columbia, St. Patrick's cadets, the Hibernians, etc., and these societies are not only well drilled, but armed. The warning read by the recording secretary to the novitiate, recites that papal edicts have made it no sin for a Catholic to kill a Protestant and that the Catholic church is inimical to the state and professedly its superior.

PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRATS.

They Adopt a Platform Endorsing the Cleveland Administration. HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 19.—The Democratic state convention met this afternoon. The platform adopted indorses Cleveland's administration and the passage of the Wilson repeal bill by the house; calls on the Pennsylvania senators to support unconditional repeal; favors currency consisting of gold, silver, treasury notes and bank notes sufficient for the needs of the country, kept strictly at par; holds the Republican party and the McKinley tariff responsible for the financial condition of the country, and declares that a prompt revision of the tariff is necessary.

Frank C. Osborne of Allegheny county was nominated for state treasurer and Samuel Justice Thompson of Philadelphia for justice of the supreme court.

Train Dispatchers' Convention.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The National Order of Train Dispatchers began its annual convention today and will thoroughly consider improvements in the service and better protection for the traveling public. They will probably adopt resolutions requiring the railroads to have certificates of qualifications for dispatchers, to be given only after the candidates have passed a satisfactory examination.

TALK OF A COMPROMISE.

A Small Ray of Hope for the Silver Men.

Cleveland Willing to Make a Concession.

An Early Settlement of the Question Barely Possible.

Voorhees Again Asks for a Vote on the Repeat Bill--Dubois and Teller Bid Him Defiance--The House Deadlock.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—There is strong talk of a compromise on the silver question in the senate tonight, based upon the reported intimations given by the president that he is willing to accept a moderate compromise in the nature of the continued coinage for a specified time of 80 such silver per month until a specified amount is reached. The president, however, is represented as unwilling that the concession made to silver shall go to the repeal bill as an amendment, but it must be passed subsequent to the passage of the unconditional repeal bill.

The assurance that he would sign a supplementary bill might satisfy some of the compromise advocates, but the free silver men, even though they were to acquiesce, would probably insist on the compromise being incorporated in the original bill. They naturally want the best terms they can make for silver, and the acceptance of a compromise with them would be to fly in the face of certain defeat.

On the other hand, if the president is correctly represented, it is possible he might agree to the compromise with the repeal bill. There are, therefore, many contingencies upon which an arrangement to let matters go to a vote depends. The reported intimations from the White House of a willingness to accept any kind of all short of absolute and unconditional repeal, have revived talk of an early settlement of the battle in the senate, whether it eventuates in anything or not.

THE CRUCIAL STAGE.

Voorhees Once More Tries to Bring the Repeat Bill to a Vote.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The situation in the senate on the repeal bill reached the crucial stage this morning. Voorhees, leader of the repeal forces, after a sensational denunciation of the New York bankers and defiance to the press that has been criticizing his actions and questioning his motives, demanded that the minority senators name a date for the final vote.

Immediately after the senate met the repeal bill was taken up. Voorhees once more sought to obtain an agreement as to when a vote was to be taken. Time, he said, would not be mispent in instructing the public mind in regard to the organization of the senate. In doing this he addressed himself to the great body of intelligent public opinion, as well as in some quarters to the conservative degree of ignorance—ignorance in some respects innocent, in others malicious. He then reviewed the history of the rules of the senate from its creation, showing that for 17 years, from 1789, the senate amongst its rules had a provision for the previous question. It was tried July, and in 1806, when Thomas Jefferson was president, it was deliberately abandoned and never claimed or admitted from that hour to the present. "I am now arraigned," said Voorhees, "before the bar of public opinion for not terminating this debate. As well might I be arraigned for not terminating the tide of the ocean or the north wind. In abandoning the cloture rule the government of this great body was placed upon the sense of propriety, patriotism, deference to public sentiment and public interests of each senator and of the body itself. With the assurance in the minds of those then in the senate, that no senator would be found to abuse the patience of this body or outrage public business or public interests, for 37 years this body has been a law unto itself. It never has been found wanting in peace or in war; so that the criticisms of a certain class will fall as harmless upon this body as they fall upon me.

"So far as concerns the personal criticism of myself, I may as well embrace this moment as another, to say they are met with absolute defiance. I have served the people of Indiana many years and have had no explanations required when I have gone home to them, and I treat with scorn and immeasurable contempt, the suggestions coming from New York bankers or anywhere else, as to the motives which govern me. I respond to that kind of criticism by saying it comes from a class of whom the Saviour of the world never spoke with respect, nor do I."

A vote had to come on the repeal bill, Voorhees said, and he appealed once more to the senators in charge of the opposition to the repeal bill, which, he said, was supported by public opinion and a majority of the senate, to know whether or not there was a time in their minds when a vote would be agreeable to them. "Dubois of Idaho said many senators were yet to be heard. 'My own impression is the senator in charge of this measure would better proceed in an orderly manner and in the company of 75. It will reach a result sooner by that course. The opponents of repeal are ready to join issue with their friends, whether it be for longer sessions, a continuous session or the cloture. The passage of the repeal bill would sound the death knell of silver as a money metal. No jingling with words can obscure the issue. Senators talk wistfully about an international agreement, forcing England into bimetalism, but when the pending bill is passed, the doom of sil-
