Terrific Explosion of Gas in Dye Works.

Several Buildings Wrecked and Set on Fire.

At Least One Precious Life Lost in the Flames.

A Woman Burned to Death in View of Those Trying to Save Her-A Number of Other Persons Badly Injured.

By the Associated Press.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 19.—Shortly before 9 o'clock this evening a terrific explosion shook the business section of the city. A minute later flames broke out in a frame store on Howard street, between Sprague and First streets.

There had been a gas explosion in the dye works of C. L. Trotter, which quickly set fire to that building and the adjoining book store of Henry Feise. In the book store were half a dozen people. Mrs. William Bean was caught in the debris and burned to death in view of those trying to save her. One man tried hard to pull away the wreck, but was finally driven back by the flames. Miss Ruth Turner and two men and a Miss Ruth Turner and two men and a boy were injured on the head. One of the men was pinned by fallen timbers. Miss Turner and the other climbed out of a window and appealed to the crowd for help to get out the imprisoned victims, but the flames were spreading so rapidly that no one would respond. Later the police and firemen broke through into the wrecked building and removed the body of Mrs. Bean. It is leared that other lives may have been lost in the dye works, but the place is so wrecked by the explosion and fire that this uncertainty may not be cleared that this uncertainty may not be cleared before morning. Windows were broken four blocks away. The property loss will be between $5000 and $10,000. When Mrs. Bean saw that rescue was out of the question she gave farewell messages to her husband and children to Albert S. Smith, who tried to save her, he then fled for his own life, and not a moment too soon. At the door he met a fireman, but the flames drove the

FINAL JUDGMENT.

A Hot Session of the Rochester, N. Y., Presbyterian Synod. ROCHESTER, N. The majority of the committee decided in all points that final mittee decided in all points that final judgment was rendered by the general assemby in 1893, clearly disposing of all interlocutory questions, no matter when pending. No minority report was presented, and Rev. Dr. Miller made a speech against any talking over or voting on old questions. Dr. Francis Brown spoke against the report, and Rev. Stephen Hopkins said with some heat that the general assembly arrived at its decision by 'brute power.' This created an uploar, and Hopkins changed his words to 'exercise of its power.' After further heated discussion the committee report was adopted by a committee report was adopted by a large majority.

Democratic Senators Agree Upon a Bill.

It Postpones the Repeal of the Sherman Law.

mall Treasury Notes to Be Retired and $54,000,000 Silver Seigniorage to Be Coined-Congressional Proceedings.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 .- There is no doubt that the report heard on all sides about the capitol that a compromise had been agreed upon by the Democratic senators, is substantially correct; vet there is a slight obstruction somewhere, which has rendered the members of the committee cautious about giving out the details. It is believed the president has not yet expressed his proval of the proposed substitute, and there are certain members who desire his approval before committing themselves absolutely to the bill. It may be stated explicitly, however, that the members of the senate on both sides of the chamber, regard it as cettled that a measure is in course of preparation a measure is in course of preparation at the hands of the Democratic steering committee, the conditions of which, except as to details, have been practically agreed upon by the entire Democratic side of the chamber. Senator Voorhees today showed by every act that he considered the end near, and when approached upon the subject replied that he would not be surprised if another day's work should produce important results.

THE TERMS OF COMPROMISE. The bill provides for the repeal of the Sherman iaw, but removes the date at which the repeal will take effect until the first of January or the first of July. 1895. It retires treasury notes below $10; it coins $54,000,000 of the silver seigniorage now on hand; it makes the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver per purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver per month mandstory.

There is a wide divergency of views as to the bond question, and if Secretary Carlisle will only say the parity of gold and silver can be preserved without bonds, the question will not be touched. If the question is handled at all, it will be dealt with indirectly by confirming right of the secretary of the treasury to issue bonds under the act of 1875, limiting the amount to $200,000,000, the ining the amount to $200,000,000, the interest to 3 per cent and the time to five years, and providing that the bonds shall be used only to strengthen the gold reserve, and not for banking pur-bill before Monday.

THE STEERERS AT WORK. The Democrats of the senate are devoting most of their time to an effort to agree among themselves, and are of the opinion that they are in a fair way to agree on a bill to be introduced at the beginning of next week. So many of them are engaged in this business that very few are in the senate today, but the silver men, understanding the situation, did not suggest the absence of a quorum.

It is a fact that the Democratic steering committee have almost agreed on a bill, committee have almost agreed on a bill, and are now engaged in trying to get the various factions to accept it. The silver Democrate accept it rather readily, though not fully satisfied with the limited recagnition of silver, but some of the repeal Democrate are still holding out for absolute repeal, and with these the committee is now laboring. The opinion is expressed that if all of these cannot be won over, enough Republicans can be sucured to pass the measure. A Monument Unveiled in Commemora> sition contemplates the pu ch se of silver at the present rate until 90, 00,000 ounces are purchased. Vilas is the only member of the committee holding out against compromise. A consultation was held with Carlisle this afternoon. A REPUBLICAN CONFERENCE.

An extended conference of Republican senators was held last night to talk over the situation, with a view to taking the situation, with a view to taking party advantage of any mistakes which the Democrats may make on financial questions. Only the repeal Republicans were present. It was the practically unanimous opinion that the best policy was to remain quiet, neither helping the Democrats out of the present snarl, nor doing anything to prevent the progress of the repeal bill, but if it becomes evident that the Democrats can do nothing, then to prepare a Republican measure and ask the senate to passit. The majority are in favor of amending the rules, if necessary to get amending the rules, if necessary to get the bill through, though there is some objection to any change which would help the Democrats in getting the elec-tion and tariff bills through. There were some expressions favoring a com-promise on the repeal bill. THE PRESIDENT UNMOVED.

New York, Oct. 19 .- A Washington special to the Daily America says: Secretary of State Gresham said tonight, after returning from a visit at the White House, there could not be a compromise agreed to by the administration. He said the administration had in no wise changed its position. He would say, though, the president was opposed to extend the veto to Senator Gorman's SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Dr. Eugene

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

Debate on the Repeat Bill Resumed After a Prolonged Wrangle.

Washington, Oct. 19 .- In the senate today the finance committee presented a report from the treasury department, in response to a resolution for information as to the probability of a deficiency in the revenue of the government. The
