THE WRATTAN TRAGEDY.

A Full Confession of the Awful Crime.

James Stone Says He Did It All Himself.

The Culprit Tells the Story of His Work of Blood.

He Assisted at the Funeral of His Victims—He Now Is Happy in the Saviour's Love and Not Afraid to Die.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—James Stone, who a day or two ago confessed a share in the Wrattan tragedy, in which six persons were horribly butchered, September 19th, implicating a number of others, broke down completely this morning and confessed that he alone committed the crime, using a corn-knife and hatchet.

Some stated to Deputy Prosecutor Hastings that his first confession was in the main untrue; he alone was guilty of the atrocious crime. He said that, arming himself with a small axe and a corn knife, he proceeded to the house. Calling Mrs. Wrattan to the door he informed her he had toothache, and Mrs. Wrattan brought some Wizard's ointment. As she brought it he struck her on the floor with the corn knife. He then rushed into the room where Mr. Wrattan and the children were. Ellen Wrattan, the 11-year-old girl who survived the horrible blow she received that night for several days, first awoke and recognizing Stone, exclaimed, "Mr. Stone, what are you doing here?"

He struck her, then turned to the helpless patient, Mr. Wrattan, who was sick with typhoid fever and lay on the bed. Next he killed both the small children. He tried the door to the room of old Mrs. Wrattan, but could not force it, so he forced the window by breaking it with his foot. Then a terrible fight ensued, for the old lady was strong. He then passed through the room in which the other victims lay. Mr. and Mrs. Wrattan were both living, but delirious. He gave them the final blow.

Stone did not get any money, and said after the tragedy he did not care for money. Stone then hid his clothes and bloody weapons. He was the first at the Wrattan homestead when the alarm of the murder was given. He was a pall-bearer at the funeral and assisted the undertaker in dressing the bodies for burial. He says he has been forgiven by the Lord and is a happy man. He wrote the following to his wife and children:

DEAR CECILIA, SALIE, EGRA AND HARRY: I don't think I will ever see your faces again. Raise the children to fear God. I will tell you today I am happy in the Saviour's love. I sought Christ yesterday. Yesterday evening and all last night I found Him precious to my soul and am now ready to die, and am a happy man. Please meet me in Heaven, all of you. Tell Cecilia to write me as soon as she gets this, and that she did just right in telling the truth on me to the grand jury. I am saved. Pray for me, Cecilia. Good by. JAMES E. STONE.

FOSTER FEELS BAD.

Calico Charlie Is Grieved at His Creditors' Actions.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 25.—Ex-Secretary Foster makes the following statement regarding the suit begun by his creditors: "Of course I am disappointed and grieved at the action on the part of my creditors. I do not think the creditors will gain anything by this suit. I have done nothing either dishonest or dishonorable. The sale of my business blocks to Mr. Harkness was bona fide, and the books of the bank will show what was done with the proceeds. The sale of the homestead to my wife was made 10 years ago and was perfectly legal. This action on the part of the creditors defers indefinitely the settlement of my affairs, as it will mean a 10 years' lawsuit."

FRENCH ENTHUSIASM.

Nothing Is Too Good for Russia and Her Representatives.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—The city will erect a statue in honor of Russia near the Arch of Triumph. It is reported the czar will visit Paris next spring at a time coincident with the grand naval review at Genoa, in the presence of Emperor William of Germany and King Humbert of Italy.

LYONS, Oct. 25.—Over 200,000 strangers were in the city today to assist in welcoming the Russian sailors on their way to Toulon from Paris. The city was gaily decorated and the municipality expended large sums in providing entertainment for the visitors. It was with the utmost difficulty that the police kept the way clear for the Russians on the way from the station to the town hall. Many enthusiastic men and women broke through the lines, and the risk of their necks rushed up to the carriage and kissed the hands extended by the Russian officers, while the multitude kept up a continual fire of cheers for the czar and Russia. The visitors were overwhelmed with presents, including 12 most exquisite silk dresses for the czarinas, quantities of French and Russian flags of the finest silk, and 2500 silk handkerchiefs to be distributed among the Russian sailors.

A VICTIM OF OVERWORK.

NATHAN STRAUSS PUTS A BULLET IN HIS BRAIN.

He Was a Prominent Drygoods Manager and His Suicide Has Created a Great Sensation in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Nathan Strauss, local manager of the Levi Strauss dry goods house of San Francisco, shot himself in his private office this morning. He was in good health, and as far as can be learned, happy. He had a well balanced disposition, was married and lived in the Grenoble flats, Fifty-seventh street, where with several children and wife he was always supposed to be comfortable and happy. The cause of the suicide, so far as wrapped in mystery. In the office this morning there was the greatest dismay and confusion.

"Can you assign any cause for the suicide?" was asked of the chief clerk. "Oh, well, no, I don't know of any." "Was Strauss in any financial difficulties?" "Not that I know of." "Was his married life a happy one?" "I think so."

"And he was in good health?" "Oh, yes; excellent." More than this the clerk would not divulge. At the office of the attorney of Strauss it was said there was every reason to believe the latter's financial affairs were in the soundest and most prosperous condition. When Strauss reached his office at the usual hour this morning he greeted the clerk pleasantly as usual. After glancing at his mail he walked back to a room in the rear. Several porters who were working near the room found Strauss in an unconscious condition. There was a terrible wound in his temple. In the sight hand he firmly grasped a pistol.

Strauss was of an extremely nervous temperament. It is said he had no business trouble but had been more than usually busy during the last five months. The only reason his friends assign is that his mind became unbalanced from overwork. He was prominent in the dry goods district and soon after the shooting he was surrounded by inquiring merchants. The domestic life of Strauss is said to have been happy. He leaves two children.

Strauss was removed from his office to the hospital where he died shortly after noon.

CONSUL AT AMOY.

The Office Not Exactly in Charge of a Chinaman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Dr. Bedloe, formerly consul at Amoy, speaking today of the story that he left in charge of the consulate a Chinese who was making himself ridiculous by various arbitrary rulings, said: "Colonel Hoze of Virginia was appointed my successor May 19th, and after waiting two months for him I obtained leave of absence to come home in time to see the exposition. Why Hoze is not at Amoy I do not know. I placed the consulate in charge of Dr. Greenwood, the German consul. T. O. Chung was appointed my deputy and in-charge. He is a gentleman, a graduate of Yale, and would never think of calling himself consul."

An Indian Uprising.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Herald's Lima, Peru, dispatch says: News of serious importance is just received from Huancayo. It is stated the Indians are rising in revolt against the government. They are in favor of ex-President Cáceres, whose rights of citizenship were recently taken away from him by the Peruvian congress.

TRAMPS IN HARD LUCK.

A Disastrous Day for Brake Beam Tourists.

Five Killed in a Wreck at Trenton, N. J.

Several Killed in a Disaster at Harrisburg, Pa.

A Similar Accident at Stalls, Texas—A Number of Trainmen and Passengers Also Among the Victims.

By the Associated Press. TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 25.—The second section of the Chicago limited on the Pennsylvania railroad was wrecked near Lawrence station shortly after 6 o'clock tonight by running into a derailed freight train. Three unknown tramps, who were stealing a ride on the freight train, and another, named Ward McConigle of Pittsburgh, was badly injured. Daniel Mahoney, engineer, and Henry Matthews, fireman of the limited, were badly injured. Ellis Green, a passenger, and J. C. Carter, William Willis and James T. Gray, porters, were slightly injured.

Five tramps are believed to have been killed in the wreck. One of the survivors says there were at least 15 on the train, but the cars are so badly piled up it will take another day to get at the correct number of killed. Three passenger coaches are in the ditch, and how the passengers escaped is a mystery. On board the train are said to have been Archbishop Corrigan, Comptroller Meyers and General Horace Porter. They and a great number of passengers were taken back to Philadelphia.

HORRIBLY MANGLED.

Four Men Killed in a Train Wreck at Harrisburg, Pa.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 25.—Four men were killed in a wreck on the Pennsylvania road in this city this evening. A loaded freight train going east was boarded at Market street by five men. Two squares away the cars jumped the track and crashed into a west-bound train of empty cars. The car in which the men were sitting was held in the middle of the grinding mass and four were instantly killed and one injured. It is almost impossible to identify three of the dead, owing to being crushed out of recognition. The fourth is known to be Richard Doyle of Pittsburgh. They were well dressed and the man injured says they came from Illinois and Ohio, and had families. Frank Ward of Burlington was the only man who escaped. He says Frederick Gimmel was one of the men killed. The cars loaded with oil and lumber were wrecked and the contents destroyed, and six empty cars smashed.

GRAND TRUNK VICTIMS.

Only Six of the Burned Bodies Remains Unidentified.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Oct. 24.—The body of another victim of the Grand Trunk of New York, Robert Colegrove of London, Ont., was also found among the dead. This leaves six unidentified still. At the inquest today Conductor Scott and Engineer Wooley refused to answer questions, protesting that by so doing they would incriminate themselves.

A DISASTER IN TEXAS.

Two Tramps Killed and Several Others Fatally Injured.

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 25.—An east-bound local freight and a west-bound California freight collided at Stella tonight. Two unknown tramps were killed outright. John Door, of Luling, was also killed. G. Colbert also received injuries which will result fatally. A man who claims to be from Omaha, but refused to divulge his name, was also badly injured.

SUGAR TRUST CASE.

Examiner Beck's Report Ready to be Filed.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—The report of James M. Beck, examiner in the famous sugar trust case, is ready to file in the United States circuit court. The proceedings were brought by the United States to declare the trust invalid. The proceedings were grounded on the purchase of the four Philadelphia refineries and the increase of the capital of the American Sugar Refining company by $25,000,000 with which to secure the refineries. The defendants in the case included all the prominent sugar men in the country. The examiner makes no recommendations, but merely recites the facts in the case. Among the witnesses examined were John E. Searles, jr., E. O. Knight, jr., and many others prominent in the sugar trust. The most important was John E. Searles, jr., who made the contract on behalf of the trust. The report will be taken up in court in November.

THE BRAZILIAN REVOLT.

The Situation at Rio More Strained Than Ever.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Herald's Montevideo dispatch says: The situation in Rio is more strained than ever. The latest advices confirm the news of the escape of the Uruguay, which boldly steamed past Fort Santa Cruz. The Brazilians are still in port with steam up, and the Republica is waiting for her to come out and fight. It is currently reported tonight that the Brazilian river squadron has declared in favor of Meilo.

LYNCHING TALKED OF.

Excitement Over an Unprovoked Murder at Winfield, Kan.

WINFIELD, Kan., Oct. 25.—Much excitement prevails tonight over the unprovoked killing this afternoon of Capt. H. H. Silvard, an old settler, well known throughout the state, and a lynching is not improbable. Captain Silvard, while acting as a peace officer, undertook to arrest Morgan Wright, a young tough, and Kid Morton, a joint keeper. A gang of toughs congregated and a general fight ensued. During the melee someone, supposed to have been Morton, fired a shot at Silvard. The latter fell, dying almost instantly from a wound in the head. Other officers succeeded in placing Morton and Wright in jail. Excitement runs high tonight, and lynching is openly talked of.

WILL COME OFF ANYHOW.

The Corbett-Mitchell Fight to Take Place Somewhere.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—It has been practically decided that the Corbett-Mitchell fight will come off anyhow. Mitchell held a conference with Brady, Corbett's manager. It has not been decided where the fight will take place, but it is thought some southern city will be the scene. It will probably be on a continental stage as that decided on when it was thought the contest would be held at Coney Island. Mitchell left for Philadelphia immediately after his talk with Brady and will go into training at once.

STANTON'S BAD BREAK.

AN AMERICAN NAVAL OFFICER'S UNWARRANTED ACT.

The Admiral of the American Squadron at Rio Relieved of His Command for Saluting the Rebel Admiral's Flag.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A cablegram from Berlin printed this morning stated that a dispatch to the Nord Deutsche Zeitung, from Rio de Janeiro, said the American naval commander exchanged visits and salutes with Admiral Meilo of the insurgent fleet. Secretary Herbert was loth to believe the statements are correct and expressed his doubts. If Admiral Stanton merely exchanged an ordinary unofficial visit on business matters with Admiral Meilo, the secretary would not have been surprised, nor probably would he have taken any further notice of it, as it is said at the navy department this would not be improper, but the secretary saw at once the serious and unfortunate nature of the reported action by Admiral Stanton, and how it might be construed by the lawful government of Brazil. He, therefore, lost no time in promptly cabling to Rio de Janeiro for all the facts in the case. He received a reply from Admiral Stanton stating this officer saluted the flag of Admiral Meilo, commanding the insurgent fleet.

The salute was unauthorized by any instructions the admiral received. It is an unfriendly act to a friendly power, and the secretary of the navy, after consulting with the president and the secretary of state, issued an order detaching Admiral Stanton from the command of his squadron, and turning it over to Captain Picking, the next officer in rank.

Secretary Herbert expresses surprise that an officer of Admiral Stanton's experience and standing should commit such a blunder, and his prompt action was taken with the purpose of announcing to the world that the United States government has taken no steps to refuse recognition to the legally constituted Brazilian government.

IN THE ASSOCIATION.

The New York World Forsakes the United Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The New York World and the New York Evening World have signed an agreement to join the Associated Press and the service began tonight. The retirement of these papers from the United Press has caused great alarm in the ranks of the opposition, following as it does as closely upon like action on the part of the New York Staats Zeitung and the New York Evening Post, and there is every reason for expecting further important acquisitions to the Associated Press in the immediate future.

GROSS MISMANAGEMENT.

A Movement on Foot to Oust the Reading Receivers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Lawyer Isaac L. Rice said this afternoon that at a secret meeting of holders of Reading securities last night he presented a bill of complaint containing 75 counts against the Reading receivers, charging gross mismanagement, etc., and that efforts are now being made to get the Reading into the latest coal deal. It was the unanimous opinion of the meeting that this should form the basis for an application for the removal of the receivers.

THE END DRAWING NEAR.

Repeal of the Sherman Act Not Far Off.

Voting May Be Completed by Saturday.

An Early Adjournment of Congress Probable.

Action on the Chinese Bill Will Be Deferred Till the Regular Session—Grover Greatly Gratified.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The prospect at the close of the session of the senate this evening was favorable to voting on the amendments to the repeal bill by Friday. Senator Jones will conclude tomorrow, and Senators Teller, Martin, Allen and Stewart each desire to talk. So far as learned there will be no other speeches, and when the last of these is concluded, voting will be the next thing in order.

Later inquiry confirms the prediction heretofore made that some of the amendments will receive a sufficient vote to insure their adoption, but it is possible that none of them will receive so large a vote as will be recorded in opposition to the bill. The reason for this is found in the fact that the silver men do not expect any of them to carry, and therefore consider it unnecessary to attempt to have any of them adopted. The majority of the free coinage men are of the opinion that nothing can be agreed upon that would be advantageous to silver, and many of them announce their intention of voting only for the free coinage amendment, and of giving no countenance to any of the other amendments.

The Republicans have abandoned all idea of introducing an amendment as a party measure. Sherman thinks authority should be given for bonds, but sees difficulty in getting such a repeal bill through at this time, and will in all probability not attempt it.

AN EARLY ADJOURNMENT.

It is believed if the amendments can be taken up early Friday, the final vote can be reached Saturday and the bill sent to the house for action. When the house shall have acted upon the bill, there is very little doubt now that an adjournment will be taken. So general is the desire on the part of the members to get away that it would be next to impossible to hold a quorum of either house in Washington, even should it be attempted.

At one time it was believed that an effort to pass the bill for the amendment of the Chinese exclusion act would be made, but the probability is averted. Senator Perkins of California asked the members of the committee on foreign relations to postpone the report on the bill until White of California was able to take part in its discussion, and he is led to believe the request will be granted. White is detained in California by important business. Perkins says there is a sufficient appropriation carried by the Geary law to send the high-binders and Chinese gamblers out of the country, and he thinks there will be no great injury to any one if they are exported before the proposed change in the law is made.

GROVER IS MUCH GRATIFIED.

President Cleveland is very much gratified at the turn affairs have taken in the senate, though he has believed all along that the unconditional repeal bill would pass. The president will have no suggestions to make as to adjournment or recess, but he is anxious to have the bill extending the time in which China men could register pass before the dissolution of congress. The impression at the White House is that no message will be sent in until the regular session in December.

WHAT CAUSED THE CAVE.

The arguments advanced by the administration Democratic leaders which caused such a sudden about-face in the position of the anti-repeal Democrats yesterday, were that, up to the present time they had by no act given countenance to filibustering; had made no speeches for delay, but had come to the front and helped to make a quorum during the long night sessions. To continue the fight longer they must take an active part in filibustering, which it was urged, they could not afford to do. Such a course would only result in giving the Democratic party a very black eye, as it would appear their course was prompted by a desire to defeat the administration measure already endorsed by the Democratic house. They were informed they would not have a corporal's guard with them in such a course, and that the party could not be held responsible for any such disgrace as it would bring on the senate. This had the desired effect.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS.

Some doubts are expressed as to whether a vote will be reached on the bill as soon as expected, immediately after the collapse of the filibuster, as it is found more of the amendments of which notice has been given will actually be introduced than was expected. Some of these will doubtless give rise to considerable debates. The silver men count on getting more votes for some of these amendments than on the vote on the bill itself.

The Faulkner, Squire and Quay amendments met with most favor. The 20 to 1 and 16 to 1 coinage amendments, it is expected, will catch a number of votes which will finally be cast in favor of repeal, especially the 16 to 1 ratio, where the Populists are concerned. There is some talk to the effect that the Republican repealers will unite with the silver men on some of the amendments and put them through, but in such cases it is likely they will lose as
